THE VAMPIRE CAT

[3]

SCENE. At R. is a dressing table, upon it a steel mirror, toilet articles, and two lighted candles with ornate shades. R. U. a section of shoji leads to another room, this section is now closed. At R. C. a large section of shoji is open, giving a view of the garden. To the R. of this entrance is a small shrine and Buddha. At L. of the room is a sleeping mat and head rest. By the head rest a lantern, now unlighted. Down L. is an open section of shoji leading to the PRINCE'S apartments. Just above it stands a screen. As the curtain rises the PRINCE is standing R. C. looking out into the garden. RUITEN is down R. and BUZEN slightly above him. BUZEN crosses L.

PRINCE. [Comes down between RUITEN and BUZEN.]

Settle for me tonight
My sicknesses and my fears—
[To BUZEN.] Settle them for me,
Sir Buzen, councillor crafty.
[To RUITEN.] Settle them for me,
Priest Ruiten, the prayerful.

RUITEN. So are we trying in all ways
Thy pain to relieve
Yet nought seems availing.

PRINCE. Wracked is my body
With tortures unending
Born of the dreams
That are surging forever
Backward and forward
Thru my brain, weary.

BUZEN. [Indicating door L.] Around thy bed each night
Have I placed thy samurai
In number one hundred

To guard thy sleep—

RUITEN. Zealously have I prayed
In the temple called "Miyo In,"
And during the night hours
Have knelt at thy house shrine
Praying to Buddha, the lord of the world.

[4]

PRINCE. Yet have I not slept
Entirely untortured.
Slow are thy prayers
In fruit bearing.

RUITEN. Slow because contending with evil—
[Approaches Prince.]
With evil in form strange and subtle.
Over this house hangs a spirit
Ne'er resting and ready always for dire deeds.

PRINCE. Such a spirit there must be—but what?

RUITEN. Evil takes many forms but the form of a cat
Is favored by many devils.

PRINCE. [Startled, the others watch him closely.] A cat—aye, truly
And if a cat stalked here
That evil thing must we kill.

RUITEN. Yet such is their power malignant
That they take other forms than the forms of cats
Even human forms.

PRINCE. Ha!—And the spirit that visits me?
Mayhap that—
Only twice hath it failed of its visit.

BUZEN. And those lost visits, when?

PRINCE. The last two nights.

BUZEN. [Swelling with pride.] Then, oh Prince, the cure may be found.

Better than prayers is the cure [Eyeing RUITEN.]
For prayers have not ears—have not eyes—
Have not weapons—better than prayers is it.

PRINCE. Tell me this cure. It is grudged, Sir Priest?

RUITEN. [Bowing.] A cure for my lord could not be grudged.

PRINCE. Well spoken. Say on, Sir Buzen.

BUZEN. First I must beg clemency
For thy hundred samurai
For faithful they are to the bone, yet—

PRINCE. Yet? Why clemency? For what?

BUZEN. On guard, they slept.

PRINCE. Slept?

BUZEN. Aye. Soundly as though deep in saki.

PRINCE. And none roused?

BUZEN. They were as dead
From shortly after the hour of ten
Until dawning.
Awakening they knew they had slept
Yet knew not when the poppy was thrown in their eyes.

Even as one man none knew
And were deep amazed and full of shame.
Each night it was the same.

PRINCE. [Angrily.] So, they slept.

While I, on my couch,
Through the hours writhed—
Writhed and twisted—
Weakening ever—
Not sleep, yet dreaming—
Oh, horrible dreams.

RUITEN. Of what were these horrible dreams?
What was their substance?

PRINCE. [Mystified at the memory.] There would come a soft stealing—
As of draperies hushed and lifted
For silence in walking;

[5]

Like soft, silken draperies
Wrapped about stealthy limbs.
Then a shape clothed for sleep
As women are clothed—
Sinuous and vague in movement,
Then taking form slowly—
The form—a lie!—a lie! [Covers his face and goes upstage.]

RUITEN. The form?

PRINCE. [Turns.] O Toyo!

RUITEN.

BUZEN. [Rubbing their hands.] Ah!

PRINCE. [Comes down R., RUITEN and BUZEN are together a little L.]

Came she to me—
Leaned o'er me—
Caressed me
Yet soothed not.
Her lips to mine—
Her lips but not sweet.
Then here on my throat
Would she place them
And all my life seemed to smother—
Out of me flowed the life-blood
In a deep stream
Like a tide
Forced by the gods,
Against its will,
To flow far away and yet farther.

BUZEN. So does a vampire
Sucking her victim
Draw from him
His blood and his marrow.

PRINCE. Guard thy words!—
As my strength ebbed
She drew back
Red-lipped and smiling,
Smiling and laughing
Though her laughter was silent.
Then with a final shimmer
Of silent silks she vanished—
So was it done.

RUITEN. So always the dream?
If dream it were.

PRINCE. The dream—I think yet it was a dream—
So was it always.

BUZEN. But the last two nights?

PRINCE. Came she as usual
Flowing over the floor
Like a spectre enrobed
And beautified.
But as she bent o'er me
She paused as if startled
And, slowly gazing about,
Turned and was gone.
Last night she paused
As if speaking to someone
Though I could see no one.

[7]

BUZEN. But the cause of her turning?

RUITEN. Turned she startled—
Turned she slowly—
Turned she wonderingly?

PRINCE. Slowly, as if she felt
A strange presence.

RUITEN. Feared she?

PRINCE. She left me.

BUZEN. But trembling or calm?

PRINCE. Calmly, as from a thing hated
And more powerful than she
Whom she would not rouse to action.

BUZEN. [Rubbing his hands.] Good.

PRINCE. What is good?

BUZEN. That which thou speakest of.

PRINCE. How so?

BUZEN. [Comes forward towards the Prince.] It proves that I have humbly succeeded—[Grudgingly.] Through the help of another, 'tis true—
But yet succeeded in bringing my lord honorable help.

RUITEN. Indeed it is so.

PRINCE. Say on, very wise councillor.

BUZEN. [Puffing up.] Without more words than are fit

This then is the way of the cure.

When long had thine illness ravaged and worn thee

And many nights had you tossed by weird visions enthralled,

No cures affecting, no prayers availing thee

[Glances at RUITEN.]

Then counselled I with thy wise ones—

And, too, with Priest Ruiten—

RUITEN. I, you should name first,

For without my prayers your wisdom was nought.

BUZEN. To continue briefly.

All our heads together brought no solution—

PRINCE. True, true.

BUZEN. [Bowing.] Humbly I acknowledge my head
Empty and brainless.

Yet even from idiots lips

Wisdom oft falls unexpected

And therefore more wonderful.

Now it is told in old tales

Of how Iyaiyasu met—

RUITEN. Short, abrupt is thy tale.

PRINCE. The cure, Sir Buzen,

The hour passes.

BUZEN. [Bowing.] I crave honorable leniency.

To be brief—

PRINCE. Aye, brief.

BUZEN. Discouraged and sick at heart

At the sufferings of my great lord,

I was retiring to my room

By way of the garden

And the hour was the Hour of the Fox.

I heard a splashing in the pool

And drawing near

Saw a young soldier washing.

I spoke to him asking,

"Who art thou?"

"Retainer to my Lord Nabeshima,

Prince of Hizen," he answered.

Then talked I with him. Of thy sickness

We talked. And he was ashamed of thy samurai's sleeping.

He begged to be allowed to guard thy sleep

Also for, being a common soldier, it was not permitted.

So earnestly talked he that I promised to consult With the other councillors and see what could be done.

"So tell me your name, young sir," I said.

"Ito Soda is my name, honorable sir,

And for your kind words I thank you."

So I consulted and the result was

We granted his request.

PRINCE. And he, too, has watched the two nights past?

RUITEN. Aye, and he slept not

Though the samurai were heavy with sleep-fumes.

BUZEN. I will tell.

[8]

[9]

RUITEN. [Elbows BUZEN out of the way and comes forward.] You are honorably hoarse.

He slept not, as I say—

PRINCE. How kept he awake?
Since many slept spell-bound
How broke he the spell?

RUITEN. With him he brought Oiled paper and laid it
Down on the matting
Sitting upon it.
When o'er his eyes sleep stole
And wearily weighted them
He drew out his sharp dirk
And in his thigh thrust it
By pain driving the poppy fumes off.
Ever and again he twisted
The dirk in the raw wound
And the thick blood-drops
Soiled not the matting
Because of the oiled paper.

PRINCE. Indeed this is no common soldier,
This Ito Soda.

BUZEN. Indeed not—

RUITEN. To continue—[Retires upstage, disgruntled.]

BUZEN. [Pushing forward.] As I was saying, oh
Prince,

His eyes never closed.
During the Reign of the Rat
He heard, in this room, O Toyo
Tossing and moaning
As if in great fear of something
She could not escape from.
Even at the same moment
As the beginnings of her moanings
Came a cat-call from the garden—
Then nearer—then ghostly paddings
As of padded claws on matting,
And an evil presence seemed hovering
And lurking near in the darkness.
O Toyo gave a low scream—than all was silence.
Soon she came stealthily
Through the shoji—cat-like her step—
Glassy her eyes—
Claw-like her hands—
Bent she over you with curled lips—
Then she turned, even as you have said,
And, seeing a waking watcher,
Left as she came.

[10]

RUITEN. [Comes down.] The second night of Ito
Soda's watching

She threatened him in low words
But he made as to stab her
And she melted before him
Laughing a little.
And he heard the rustle of her garments
As she regained this room
Though he saw not her passage hither.

PRINCE. Thicker with each word the horror about me.

[Turns away to R.] Doubts to beliefs—beliefs to actions—

Love unto hate. [Turns to them almost pleadingly.]

Tell me it is not O Toyo.

BUZEN. I questioned her maid, Kashiku,
And found that O Toyo's couch
Was empty even at the time
Of the weird visit to thee.

PRINCE. [Overwhelmed.] So, it was O Toyo!
In the soul of a flower, a demon—
On the sweet lips, poison.

BUZEN. There is only one course—
 RUITEN. The one road—
 PRINCE. And I take it!
 BUZEN. [Moves toward door L.] The samurai are gathered.
 PRINCE. Summon Ito Soda. [BUZEN exits L.]
 RUITEN. Hard is the fate of man
 Here on this dark earth.
 Many the shapes and the shadows
 Stalking abroad. [11]
 Yet ever the gentle Buddha
 From the Lotus Fields watches
 And guards every life that lives.
 PRINCE. [Puts one hand on RUITEN'S shoulder.]
 Priest, have not many
 Vampires bleeding them
 And dream it is another thing?
 RUITEN. The soul is often a vampire to the body.
 PRINCE. And that evil thing must we kill.
 ITO SODA. [Enters L., kneels before the PRINCE.
 RUITEN takes up R. a little and BUZEN re- entering after ITO SODA goes up C.]
 Honorable Prince, humbly I answer thy summons.
 PRINCE. Rise, Ito Soda.
 Faithful beyond words art thou,
 This know I as all hath been told me.
 No longer call thyself a common soldier
 But a samurai of the Prince of Hizen.
 And the two swords will I give thee on the morrow.
 ITO SODA. On my knees I humbly thank thee.
 [Rises.]
 PRINCE. Now time presses.
 O Toyo will be coming
 In from the garden.
 As usual shall the hundred sleepy samurai
 Guard my couch. Let Ito Soda
 Remain here hidden and watchful.
 When O Toyo rises to enter my chamber—
 Your dirk is sharp, Ito Soda?
 ITO SODA. [Draws dirk.] As a moonbeam on a cold
 night.
 PRINCE. And you know how to use it.
 ITO SODA. I will place this screen, thus. [Goes to screen L. and opens it so as to form a hiding place between the sleeping mat and the door
L.]
 So will I wait the moment.
 PRINCE. So be it. It is a good plan
 And on the one road. Let us about it. [Exits L.
followed by BUZEN and RUITEN. ITO SODA goes behind the screen. O TOYO is heard singing in the garden.] [12]
 O TOYO. [Outside.] Moonlit convulvus
 Through the night hours
 Wan are their faces
 Ghostly sweet.
 Richer by daylight
 Drinking of sunshine
 As thirsty souls drink
 At a shrine.
 Fair are the faces
 Glassed in the quiet pools
 Maidens low-bending
 Vain ones.
 [The singing stops abruptly.] Kashiku, is not that a cat
 Stealing stealthily there?
 She snarls—quick—[O TOYO enters B. C. quickly and very frightened, turns and looks back, hurries KASHIKU in. KASHIKU follows much less disturbed at any fear of a cat than over her mistress' fright.]

KASHIKU. [*Shuts the shoji R. C. and comes to O
TOYO.*] You are all atremble.

O TOYO. Quick, let me be safe in slumber.
[Crosses to dressing table.]

KASHIKU. [Follows her and attends to her hair while O TOYO kneels before the glass.] Several nights lately have I heard my lady moaning
As though even in sleep were she troubled.
The worry over your honorable lord hath disturbed thee.

O TOYO. Your ears are over keen.
I am happy when I sleep.
How can I moan, being happy?
You are dull.

KASHIKU. Perhaps it was the wind or the echo of my lord's moaning.

O TOYO. Moaning or was it singing?
I would it were singing
For singing is sweeter
On the lips of those dying.

KASHIKU. Dying?

O TOYO. When those whom we love are passing—
Even under our hands are passing—
And our love weans them from life
And our kisses suck out the blood-life,
Then would we touch them no more,
Then would we kiss them no more,
But a power greater than we
And a power that we fear
Forces us on in our love-killing.

KASHIKU. There is in your voice a vibration, as even the winds in the pine-tops
When, in the autumn, they echo the summer's death-song;
There is in your eyes a strange light as if the soul of another
Looked out from your curtaining lashes and dimmed the sweet light there abiding.
Oh, mistress, surely you are different than what you once were.

O TOYO. [Crosses C. slowly.] Even now comes the hour and the struggle
And I do the bidding of that which is in me.
How I hate the feel of his flesh
Quivering under my lips
And the loathsome taste of the blood-drops Thick on my lips that would soothe him and cannot.

KASHIKU. Can anything soothe more than thy lips,
More than the lips that love him?
I cannot understand the words of your saying.
You are happy and tearful all in a moment,
Your soul seems a sky full of sunshine and clouds.
[Coming to her.] Even now as my hand touches
you, you are trembling.

Is it the cat that crept upon us
Whose shape still affrights you?

O TOYO. Thou hast said it—My soul is as thou sayest.
My dreams are sweet and again bitter.
Once came a dream horrible above all dreams.

KASHIKU. What dream, my lady?

O TOYO. The night when you found me there on the floor.
Do you remember?

KASHIKU. Well. You were all distraught and the bosom of your gown

[14]

Was torn open and you clutched your throat
As if you were wounded there. But there was no mark.

And you let wild words fall from your lips
And none knew their meaning.

O TOYO. The Prince and I walked in the garden
And there at the shoji I left him.

As I entered
There entered
With me a spirit
And its breath fell upon me—
Dumb my tongue in my mouth
And frozen my marrow.
Suddenly it leapt upon me
And as I fell downward
Flashed the spirit into mine eyes—
A cat, two-tailed and hairy—
And its teeth sank in my throat here—
Can you see a mark? [Exposes her throat to KASHIKU.]

KASHIKU. The skin is as smooth as satin and perfect.

O TOYO. Then came darkness upon me—and so you found me.

So strong is the dream within me
I wonder if it be a dream or no.

KASHIKU. You had walked that evening in the garden.

O TOYO. I had rather dreamed I walked—say I dreamed it.

KASHIKU. The Prince was with—

O TOYO. Yet it was a dream, question it not.

I would go to rest peacefully.
He, too, shall rest peacefully—
I shall not kiss my lord tonight. [Crosses L.]

KASHIKU. Not kiss him?

O TOYO. I think not I shall kiss him.

I would not pain his slumbers—
He has paled so and his face is so thin.
In the night he lies like a strong flower
And a strange flower, bled of its life—
Like a strong flower weakened.
And at its sight my dreams are bitter.
But as I gaze a change comes over all things
And I hold in my hands a beautiful flower
Which I kiss with my lips
Holding my lips long to it,
Draining its sweetness.
And a cloud passes over
And on my lips are clots of blood!

KASHIKU. Such dreamings are not good.
I find the silken coverlets tossed in the morning,
Twisted and thrown about as if you slept ill.

O TOYO. It is not O Toyo who tosses them—
It is the dream O Toyo.

KASHIKU. Two nights lately have I imagined you called to me

But entering you were not here—but there with your lord soothing his sufferings.

O TOYO. Drinking at strange fountains and unknown springs—

Drinking of sacred waters sacred to unknown gods.

And as I drink another life becomes my life
And he is mine—utterly mine, at last!

KASHIKU. You frighten me—

O TOYO. Be not frightened—you have no need.

Now I shall sleep.
He, too, is sleeping. Perhaps—perhaps he is suffering.

Shall I touch him with my hands?
Perhaps he is hungry for my kisses—

- Shall I kiss him?
- KASHIKU. It were a fitting thing to kiss thy lord.
- O TOYO. You know not what you say, Kashiku.
- KASHIKU. My lady—
- O TOYO. You have not heard me say strange things, Kashiku.
- KASHIKU. I have heard—
- O TOYO. Nothing.
- KASHIKU. Nothing, my lady.
- O TOYO. Put out the lamps. [KASHIKU blows out candles on dressing table.]
- Go now, Kashiku, and do you sleep deeply,
Breathing poppies.
- KASHIKU. My lady—
- O TOYO. Go. [KASHIKU opens shoji R. and goes out shutting it after her. O TOYO crosses, too, and lies on the sleeping mat. The room is almost in total darkness.]
- O TOYO. I shall kiss him—I shall kiss him! [The lantern at the head of the sleeping mat glows more and more brightly until a cat's head appears on it. At this moment a cat-call comes from the garden. (NOTE.—If these effects cannot be gotten with no hint of the ludicrous, have the lantern glow with increasing light but use no cat's head or cat call.) With the increase of light, O TOYO has begun to moan and toss and at the moment of the cat-call she rises as in a trance and goes towards the door L. As she passes the screen ITO SODA steps out from behind it and plunges his dirk into her back; she falls with a little, stifled cry. Instantly, in utter darkness, the curtain falls.]

END OF THE PLAY.

Hageman's Make-Up Book

By MAURICE HAGEMAN

Price, 25 cents

The importance of an effective make-up is becoming more apparent to the professional actor every year, but hitherto there has been no book on the subject describing the modern methods and at the same time covering all branches of the art. This want has now been filled. Mr. Hageman has had an experience of twenty years as actor and stage-manager, and his well-known literary ability has enabled him to put the knowledge so gained into shape to be of use to others. The book is an encyclopedia of the art of making up. Every branch of the subject is exhaustively treated, and few questions can be asked by professional or amateur that cannot be answered by this admirable hand-book. It is not only the best make-up book ever published, but it is not likely to be superseded by any other. It is absolutely indispensable to every ambitious actor.

1.B. “Project Gutenberg” is a registered trademark. It may only be used on or associated in any way with an electronic work by people who agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement. There are a few things that you can do with most Project Gutenberg™ electronic works even without complying with the full terms of this agreement. See paragraph 1.C below. There are a lot of things you can do with Project Gutenberg™ electronic works if you follow the terms of this agreement and help preserve free future access to Project Gutenberg™ electronic works. See paragraph 1.E below.

1.C. The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation (“the Foundation” or PGLAF), owns a compilation copyright in the collection of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works. Nearly all the individual works in the collection are in the public domain in the United States. If an individual work is unprotected by copyright law in the United States and you are located in the United States, we do not claim a right to prevent you from copying, distributing, performing, displaying or creating derivative works based on the work as long as all references to Project Gutenberg are removed. Of course, we hope that you will support the Project Gutenberg™ mission of promoting free access to electronic works by freely sharing Project Gutenberg™ works in compliance with the terms of this agreement for keeping the Project Gutenberg™ name associated with the work. You can easily comply with the terms of this agreement by keeping this work in the same format with its attached full Project Gutenberg™ License when you share it without charge with others.

1.D. The copyright laws of the place where you are located also govern what you can do with this work. Copyright laws in most countries are in a constant state of change. If you are outside the United States, check the laws of your country in addition to the terms of this agreement before downloading, copying, displaying, performing, distributing or creating derivative works based on this work or any other Project Gutenberg™ work. The Foundation makes no representations concerning the copyright status of any work in any country other than the United States.

1.E. Unless you have removed all references to Project Gutenberg:

1.E.1. The following sentence, with active links to, or other immediate access to, the full Project Gutenberg™ License must appear prominently whenever any copy of a Project Gutenberg™ work (any work on which the phrase “Project Gutenberg” appears, or with which the phrase “Project Gutenberg” is associated) is accessed, displayed, performed, viewed, copied or distributed:

This eBook is for the use of anyone anywhere in the United States and most other parts of the world at no cost and with almost no restrictions whatsoever. You may copy it, give it away or re-use it under the terms of the Project Gutenberg License included with this eBook or online at www.gutenberg.org. If you are not located in the United States, you will have to check the laws of the country where you are located before using this eBook.

1.E.2. If an individual Project Gutenberg™ electronic work is derived from texts not protected by U.S. copyright law (does not contain a notice indicating that it is posted with permission of the copyright holder), the work can be copied and distributed to anyone in the United States without paying any fees or charges. If you are redistributing or providing access to a work with the phrase "Project Gutenberg" associated with or appearing on the work, you must comply either with the requirements of paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 or obtain permission for the use of the work and the Project Gutenberg™ trademark as set forth in paragraphs 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.3. If an individual Project Gutenberg™ electronic work is posted with the permission of the copyright holder, your use and distribution must comply with both paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 and any additional terms imposed by the copyright holder. Additional terms will be linked to the Project Gutenberg™ License for all works posted with the permission of the copyright holder found at the beginning of this work.

1.E.4. Do not unlink or detach or remove the full Project Gutenberg™ License terms from this work, or any files containing a part of this work or any other work associated with Project Gutenberg™.

1.E.5. Do not copy, display, perform, distribute or redistribute this electronic work, or any part of this electronic work, without prominently displaying the sentence set forth in paragraph 1.E.1 with active links or immediate access to the full terms of the Project Gutenberg™ License.

1.E.6. You may convert to and distribute this work in any binary, compressed, marked up, nonproprietary or proprietary form, including any word processing or hypertext form. However, if you provide access to or distribute copies of a Project Gutenberg™ work in a format other than "Plain Vanilla ASCII" or other format used in the official version posted on the official Project Gutenberg™ website (www.gutenberg.org), you must, at no additional cost, fee or expense to the user, provide a copy, a means of exporting a copy, or a means of obtaining a copy upon request, of the work in its original "Plain Vanilla ASCII" or other form. Any alternate format must include the full Project Gutenberg™ License as specified in paragraph 1.E.1.

1.E.7. Do not charge a fee for access to, viewing, displaying, performing, copying or distributing any Project Gutenberg™ works unless you comply with paragraph 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.8. You may charge a reasonable fee for copies of or providing access to or distributing Project Gutenberg™ electronic works provided that:

- You pay a royalty fee of 20% of the gross profits you derive from the use of Project Gutenberg™ works calculated using the method you already use to calculate your applicable taxes. The fee is owed to the owner of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark, but he has agreed to donate royalties under this paragraph to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation. Royalty payments must be paid within 60 days following each date on which you prepare (or are legally required to prepare) your periodic tax returns. Royalty payments should be clearly marked as such and sent to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation at the address specified in Section 4, "Information about donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation."
- You provide a full refund of any money paid by a user who notifies you in writing (or by e-mail) within 30 days of receipt that s/he does not agree to the terms of the full Project Gutenberg™ License. You must require such a user to return or destroy all copies of the works possessed in a physical medium and discontinue all use of and all access to other copies of Project Gutenberg™ works.

- You provide, in accordance with paragraph 1.F.3, a full refund of any money paid for a work or a replacement copy, if a defect in the electronic work is discovered and reported to you within 90 days of receipt of the work.
- You comply with all other terms of this agreement for free distribution of Project Gutenberg™ works.

1.E.9. If you wish to charge a fee or distribute a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work or group of works on different terms than are set forth in this agreement, you must obtain permission in writing from the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the manager of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark. Contact the Foundation as set forth in Section 3 below.

1.F.

1.F.1. Project Gutenberg volunteers and employees expend considerable effort to identify, do copyright research on, transcribe and proofread works not protected by U.S. copyright law in creating the Project Gutenberg™ collection. Despite these efforts, Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, and the medium on which they may be stored, may contain “Defects,” such as, but not limited to, incomplete, inaccurate or corrupt data, transcription errors, a copyright or other intellectual property infringement, a defective or damaged disk or other medium, a computer virus, or computer codes that damage or cannot be read by your equipment.

1.F.2. LIMITED WARRANTY, DISCLAIMER OF DAMAGES - Except for the “Right of Replacement or Refund” described in paragraph 1.F.3, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the owner of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark, and any other party distributing a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work under this agreement, disclaim all liability to you for damages, costs and expenses, including legal fees. YOU AGREE THAT YOU HAVE NO REMEDIES FOR NEGLIGENCE, STRICT LIABILITY, BREACH OF WARRANTY OR BREACH OF CONTRACT EXCEPT THOSE PROVIDED IN PARAGRAPH 1.F.3. YOU AGREE THAT THE FOUNDATION, THE TRADEMARK OWNER, AND ANY DISTRIBUTOR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT WILL NOT BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR ACTUAL, DIRECT, INDIRECT, CONSEQUENTIAL, PUNITIVE OR INCIDENTAL DAMAGES EVEN IF YOU GIVE NOTICE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGE.

1.F.3. LIMITED RIGHT OF REPLACEMENT OR REFUND - If you discover a defect in this electronic work within 90 days of receiving it, you can receive a refund of the money (if any) you paid for it by sending a written explanation to the person you received the work from. If you received the work on a physical medium, you must return the medium with your written explanation. The person or entity that provided you with the defective work may elect to provide a replacement copy in lieu of a refund. If you received the work electronically, the person or entity providing it to you may choose to give you a second opportunity to receive the work electronically in lieu of a refund. If the second copy is also defective, you may demand a refund in writing without further opportunities to fix the problem.

1.F.4. Except for the limited right of replacement or refund set forth in paragraph 1.F.3, this work is provided to you ‘AS-IS’, WITH NO OTHER WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR ANY PURPOSE.

1.F.5. Some states do not allow disclaimers of certain implied warranties or the exclusion or limitation of certain types of damages. If any disclaimer or limitation set forth in this agreement violates the law of the state applicable to this agreement, the agreement shall be interpreted to make the maximum disclaimer or limitation permitted by the applicable state law. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this agreement shall not void the remaining provisions.

1.F.6. INDEMNITY - You agree to indemnify and hold the Foundation, the trademark owner, any agent or employee of the Foundation, anyone providing copies of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works in accordance with this agreement, and any volunteers associated with the production, promotion and distribution of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, harmless from all liability, costs and expenses, including legal fees, that arise directly or indirectly from any of the following which you do or cause to occur: (a) distribution of this or any Project Gutenberg™ work, (b) alteration, modification, or additions or deletions to any Project Gutenberg™ work, and (c) any Defect you cause.

Section 2. Information about the Mission of Project Gutenberg™

Project Gutenberg™ is synonymous with the free distribution of electronic works in formats readable by the widest variety of computers including obsolete, old, middle-aged and new computers. It exists because of the efforts of hundreds of volunteers and donations from people in all walks of life.

Volunteers and financial support to provide volunteers with the assistance they need are critical to reaching Project Gutenberg™'s goals and ensuring that the Project Gutenberg™ collection will remain freely available for generations to come. In 2001, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation was created to provide a secure and permanent future for Project Gutenberg™ and future generations. To learn more about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation and how your efforts and donations can help, see Sections 3 and 4 and the Foundation information page at www.gutenberg.org.

Section 3. Information about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) educational corporation organized under the laws of the state of Mississippi and granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service. The Foundation's EIN or federal tax identification number is 64-6221541. Contributions to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation are tax deductible to the full extent permitted by U.S. federal laws and your state's laws.

The Foundation's business office is located at 809 North 1500 West, Salt Lake City, UT 84116, (801) 596-1887. Email contact links and up to date contact information can be found at the Foundation's website and official page at www.gutenberg.org/contact

Section 4. Information about Donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

Project Gutenberg™ depends upon and cannot survive without widespread public support and donations to carry out its mission of increasing the number of public domain and licensed works that can be freely distributed in machine-readable form accessible by the widest array of equipment including outdated equipment. Many small donations ($1 to $5,000) are particularly important to maintaining tax exempt status with the IRS.

The Foundation is committed to complying with the laws regulating charities and charitable donations in all 50 states of the United States. Compliance requirements are not uniform and it takes a considerable effort, much paperwork and many fees to meet and keep up with these requirements. We do not solicit donations in locations where we have not received written confirmation of compliance. To SEND DONATIONS or determine the status of compliance for any particular state visit www.gutenberg.org/donate.

While we cannot and do not solicit contributions from states where we have not met the solicitation requirements, we know of no prohibition against accepting unsolicited donations from donors in such states who approach us with offers to donate.

International donations are gratefully accepted, but we cannot make any statements concerning tax treatment of donations received from outside the United States. U.S. laws alone swamp our small staff.

Please check the Project Gutenberg web pages for current donation methods and addresses. Donations are accepted in a number of other ways including checks, online payments and credit card donations. To donate, please visit: www.gutenberg.org/donate

Section 5. General Information About Project Gutenberg™ electronic works

Professor Michael S. Hart was the originator of the Project Gutenberg™ concept of a library of electronic works that could be freely shared with anyone. For forty years, he produced and distributed Project Gutenberg™ eBooks with only a loose network of volunteer support.

Project Gutenberg™ eBooks are often created from several printed editions, all of which are confirmed as not protected by copyright in the U.S. unless a copyright notice is included. Thus, we do not necessarily keep eBooks in compliance with any particular paper edition.

Most people start at our website which has the main PG search facility: www.gutenberg.org.

This website includes information about Project Gutenberg™, including how to make donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, how to help produce our new eBooks, and how to subscribe to our email newsletter to hear about new eBooks.
