[Shortly after the Chicago fire, there appeared a dismal-looking photograph card of this celebrated bovine, on the reverse of which was printed this remarkable legend:

CONTENTS

"ORIGIN OF THE CHICAGO FIRE. MRS. LEARY'S COW.

"ORIGIN OF THE CHICAGO FIRE.

"On the other side of this card will be found a life-like picture of Mrs. Leary and the cow that kicked over the lamp that caused the great fire in Chicago.

"Mrs. Leary got her living by selling milk; she had five cows, and kept them in her barn on De Koven street, on the west side of the river. A neighbor woman called on her for a pint of milk at nine o'clock Sunday night, October 8th, and Mrs. Leary, having sold all she had, went to the barn with her lamp to make a further draft on her best cow. The cow, as seen by the picture, being a spirited animal, became indignant at the attempt, kicked over the lamp, setting the barn on fire, and thus inaugurated the greatest fire the world has ever seen."

MRS. LEARY'S COW.

HIS is the Cow, at the Leary back gate,
Where she stood on the night of October the 8,

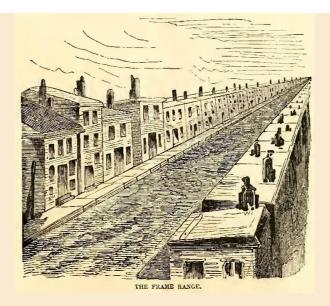

With her old crumpled horn and belligerent hoof, Warning all "neighbor women" to keep well aloof. Ah! this is the cow with the crumpled horn That kicked over the lamp that set fire to the barn That caused the Great Fire in Chicago!

The Paradise whither insurance men turned;
But from which they now bring sad faces away,
Sorely vexed with the losses they're called on to pay,
Since the fire-fiend encircled the city that day.
And they swear at the cow with the crumpled horn
That kicked over the lamp that set fire to the barn
That caused the Great Fire in Chicago!

Original Size

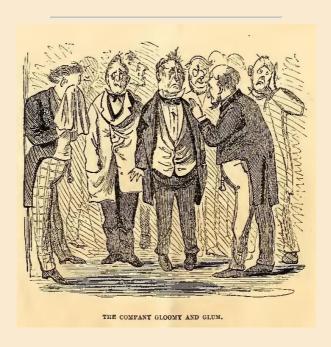

HIS is the Frame Range of best northern pine,
The banquet on which hungry flames love to dine,
Which agents so oft manage not to decline,
But write (in their slop-bowls) a "moderate line,"
Because—don't you see—the commish is so fine.

Original Size

Ha! this is the range which delighted to carry
The passenger flames o'er the devil's own ferry,
And utilize mischief by spreading it faster
Than men could compete with the fearful disaster.
How sad and how strange are the memories now
Which hang round the heels of that old Leary cow—
That wretched old cow with the crumpled horn
That kicked over the lamp that set fire to the barn
That caused the Great Fire in Chicago!

HIS is the Company, gloomy and glum,
Which admits that it has some few (?) losses, yes *some!*But its officers think their best motto is "mum,"
As they stroke their gray chins and look wise and sing dumb;

Original Size

While inside they are praying, "Good Lord, please deliver Our souls from the fear of old Miller's receiver."

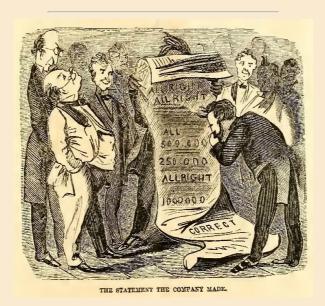

And they view with the most acrimonious hate

That regurgitant cow at O'Leary's back gate,

As she stood on the night of October the 8,

When she kicked at the lamp that set fire to the barn

HIS is the Statement the Company made:
(Directors and Officers thickly arrayed,
To soften the jar as they strike the up grade,
Where the millions of losses will have to be paid.)
"Our agency records, we deeply regret,
Are burned at Chicago, are out in the wet,
Or else there is, h—m, there is some slight impediment,
Some something-or-other, some sand or some sediment
Has got in the keyhole, disordered the lock,
Or razeed the dividends, watered the stock,
Or some trifling thing not yet quite in sight;
But the Company, sir, is all right, is all right;

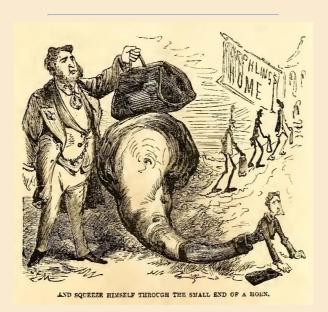

Original Size

Our surplus is safe, and our stock is intact,
Our losses are all reinsured—why, in fact,
We never, in all our official career,
Felt more gay and festive, more full of good cheer.
Just put up the rates and go on with the biz,
These losses will all be arranged with a whiz.
The thing we will have straightened out in a jiffy,
And the next that you'll hear will be ten per cent, divvy."
But you ought to have seen them when, in the back room,
They poured out anathemas like a mill-flume
On that old Leary cow with the crumpled horn
That kicked over the lamp that set fire to the barn
That caused the Great Fire in Chicago!

Original Size

HIS is November, a month from the fire;
And the ascertained losses reach higher and higher.
As the figures go up the long faces go down,
Till the month-ago-boaster appears like a clown.
The trick of deception is voted a sham;
The people say fraud, and the agents say ————,
And the grim old receivers call round for the keys,
The assets, the papers, the books, if you please.

Original Size

Of all unwelcome things that this world ever saw,
The bitterest is a compulsory craw.
For a large-swelling dignity, proud and high born,
Who claims that his status is bright as the morn,
To get down and meekly acknowledge the corn,
And squeeze himself through the small end of a horn,
Suggests that a little less premature crowing,
A little more system, a little more knowing,
Some better kept books and more accurate showing,
Are best, in the long run, for our underwriters,
To save them the sneers and the jeers of backbiters,

The scoffs of the public, the quips of the writers, And a toss from the cow with the crumpled horn That kicked over the lamp that set fire to the barn That caused the Great Fire in Chicago!

Original Size

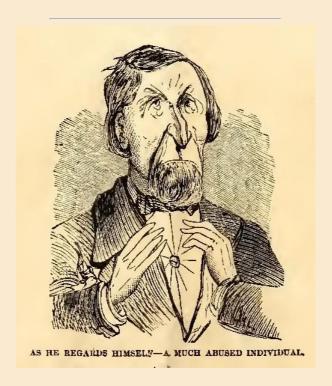

HIS is the Claimant, so pure and so mild, With his heart and his manners as bland as a child, Whose amiability never is riled, And whose modest demands with his loss proofs are filed. His property cost, as he shows from his deeds, A sum which ten thousand times over exceeds The mite of insurance for which he now pleads. His goods, to be sure, they were mostly sold out; His building within was a shell, and without Was veneered with cheap stone, or thin iron, or grout; But his word, bless my soul! who could harbor a doubt, Its truthfulness or its exactness about? So he pockets his funds, and he rolls up his eyes, This mild-mannered man, with a cheerful surprise; And he rubs his two hands with an innocent glee, Which would do, I am sure, your heart good for to see, As he blesses the cow with the crumpled horn That kicked over the lamp that set fire to the barn That caused the Great Fire in Chicago!

HIS is an Adjuster! Now open your eyes.
A man who the trade of rapacity plies!

AN ADJUSTER, (AS THE CLAIMANT REGARDS HIM.)

He will cut down your claims, he will cut up your proofs, He will riddle your case through its warps and its woofs. And search all your houses from cellars to roofs For a sliver by which he may fasten a quibble And curtail your claim to a bite or a nibble. And then when you think he is ready for payment He will make you regret you were ever a claimant, By charging you discount for those sixty days, Or vexing you further with needless delays. These awful adjusters! they should be ashamed To ply a vocation so loudly defamed.

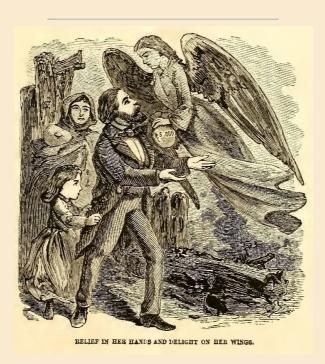

Original Size

"What's the good of insurance if not to pay losses? And why all these questions, and bothers and crosses? And why are we hampered and why are we checked?
Insurers can claim (if you'll only reflect)
No rights which it is not our right to reject;
No rights which the people are bound to respect.
They must smile and be patient, and out with their purses,
And take what we give them, our kicks or our curses;
Bow down to the cow with the old crumpled horn
That kicked over the lamp that set fire to the barn
That caused the Great Fire in Chicago!"

HIS is Insurance. Now, satire, farewell!

For the woes which the fire-stricken city befel,

Must have rung like the clang of a destiny knell,

Original Size

Through the years of prostration and clog and delay, Which would drag unsupportable all the sad way, Through which her redemption and rising must lay, Had Insurance not sped, like an angel that brings Relief in her hands and delight on her wings. All honor we give to the craft that we love; It has for its motto the word from above; The word spoken erst by omnipotent love. The burdens of each in Insurance we bear, And its benefits all its participants share.

1.F.

- 1.F.1. Project Gutenberg volunteers and employees expend considerable effort to identify, do copyright research on, transcribe and proofread works not protected by U.S. copyright law in creating the Project Gutenberg[™] collection. YOU AGREE THAT YOU HAVE NO REMEDIES FOR NEGLIGENCE, STRICT LIABILITY, BREACH OF WARRANTY OR BREACH OF CONTRACT EXCEPT THOSE PROVIDED IN PARAGRAPH 1.F.3. YOU AGREE THAT THE FOUNDATION, THE TRADEMARK OWNER, AND ANY DISTRIBUTOR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT WILL NOT BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR ACTUAL, DIRECT, INDIRECT, CONSEQUENTIAL, PUNITIVE OR INCIDENTAL DAMAGES EVEN IF YOU GIVE NOTICE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGE.

Section 2. Information about the Mission of Project Gutenberg[™]

Project Gutenberg $^{\text{TM}}$ is synonymous with the free distribution of electronic works in formats readable by the widest variety of computers including obsolete, old, middle-aged and new computers. It exists because of the efforts of hundreds of volunteers and donations from people in all walks of life.

Volunteers and financial support to provide volunteers with the assistance they need are critical to reaching Project Gutenberg $^{\text{\tiny TM}}$'s goals and ensuring that the Project Gutenberg $^{\text{\tiny TM}}$ collection will remain freely available for generations to come. In 2001, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation was created to provide a secure and permanent future for Project Gutenberg $^{\text{\tiny TM}}$ and future generations. To learn more about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation and how your efforts and donations can help, see Sections 3 and 4 and the Foundation information page at www.gutenberg.org.

Section 3. Information about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) educational corporation organized under the laws of the state of Mississippi and granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service. The Foundation's EIN or federal tax identification number is 64-6221541. Contributions to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation are tax deductible to the full extent permitted by U.S. federal laws and your state's laws.

The Foundation's business office is located at 809 North 1500 West, Salt Lake City, UT 84116, (801) 596-1887. Email contact links and up to date contact information can be found at the Foundation's website and official page at www.gutenberg.org/contact

Section 4. Information about Donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

Project GutenbergTM depends upon and cannot survive without widespread public support and donations to carry out its mission of increasing the number of public domain and licensed works that can be freely distributed in machine-readable form accessible by the widest array of equipment including outdated equipment. Many small donations ($1 to $5,000) are particularly important to maintaining tax exempt status with the IRS.

The Foundation is committed to complying with the laws regulating charities and charitable donations in all 50 states of the United States. Compliance requirements are not uniform and it takes a considerable effort, much paperwork and many fees to meet and keep up with these requirements. We do not solicit donations in locations where we have not received written confirmation of compliance. To SEND DONATIONS or determine the status of compliance for any particular state visit www.gutenberg.org/donate.

While we cannot and do not solicit contributions from states where we have not met the solicitation requirements, we know of no prohibition against accepting unsolicited donations from donors in such states who approach us with offers to donate.

International donations are gratefully accepted, but we cannot make any statements concerning tax treatment of donations received from outside the United States. U.S. laws alone swamp our small staff.

Please check the Project Gutenberg web pages for current donation methods and addresses. Donations are accepted in a number of other ways including checks, online payments and credit card donations. To donate, please visit: www.gutenberg.org/donate

Section 5. General Information About Project Gutenberg™ electronic works

Professor Michael S. Hart was the originator of the Project Gutenberg $^{\text{\tiny TM}}$ concept of a library of electronic works that could be freely shared with anyone. For forty years, he produced and distributed Project Gutenberg $^{\text{\tiny TM}}$ eBooks with only a loose network of volunteer support.

Project Gutenberg $^{\text{TM}}$ eBooks are often created from several printed editions, all of which are confirmed as not protected by copyright in the U.S. unless a copyright notice is included. Thus, we do not necessarily keep eBooks in compliance with any particular paper edition.

Most people start at our website which has the main PG search facility: www.gutenberg.org.

This website includes information about Project Gutenberg $^{\text{TM}}$, including how to make donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, how to help produce our new eBooks, and how to subscribe to our email newsletter to hear about new eBooks.
