MEMNON,

LA SAGESSE HUMAINE.

Préface de l'Éditeur

Longchamp dit que Memnon est de 1746; mais on a vu que c'était d'abord sous ce titre qu'avait été imprimé Zadig; et il est à croire que Longchamp, qui n'a rédigé ses Mémoires que long-temps après, aura confondu les deux ouvrages. Par la raison même que Voltaire avait donné en 1747 un Memnon, il est à présumer que ce n'est pas immédiatement après qu'il aura publié un autre ouvrage sous le même titre. En admettant la nécessité de l'intervalle entre deux ouvrages différents du même auteur, mais ayant le même titre, cet intervalle ne peut s'étendre au-delà de 1750, puisque c'est la date que porte le tome IX de l'édition de Dresde des Oeuvres de Voltaire. C'est sous la même date qu'a été publié le Recueil de pièces en vers et en prose, par l'auteur de la tragédie de Sémiramis, 1750, in-12. P. Clément, auteur des Cinq Années littéraires, dit dans sa quarante-sixième lettre, datée du 13 janvier 1750, qu'il n'y a pas quinze jours que le petit conte de Memnon est échappé à son auteur.

AVERTISSEMENT DE L'AUTEUR[1]

Nous tromper dans nos entreprises,
C'est à quoi nous sommes sujets;
Le matin je fais des projets,
Et le long du jour, des sottises.

Ces petits vers conviennent assez à un grand nombre de raisonneurs; et c'est une chose assez plaisante de voir un grave directeur d'âmes finir par un procès criminel, conjointement avec un banqueroutier[2]. A ce propos, nous réimprimons ici ce petit conte, qui est ailleurs; car il est bon qu'il soit partout.

[1] Voltaire, dans la quatrième partie de ses Questions sur l'Encyclopédie, en 1771, avait un article : CONFiance EN SOI-MÊME, qui n'était autre chose que le conte de Memnon, précédé de quatre vers et de quelques lignes de prose, que les éditeurs de Kehl ont intitulés: Avertissement de l'auteur. B.

[2] Billard, et l'abbé Grizel, fameux directeur de consciences. K. — Sur ces deux personnages, voyez la note des Stances à Saurin (dans les Poésies). B.

LA SAGESSE HUMAINE.

Memnon conçut un jour le projet insensé d'être parfaitement sage. Il n'y a guère d'hommes à qui cette folie n'ait quelquefois passé par la tête. Memnon se dit à lui-même: Pour être très sage, et par conséquent très heureux, il n'y a qu'à être sans passions; et rien n'est plus aisé, comme on sait. Premièrement je n'aimerai jamais de femme; car, en voyant une beauté parfaite, je me dirai à moi-même: Ces joues-là se rideront un jour; ces beaux yeux seront bordés de rouge; cette gorge ronde deviendra plate et pendante; cette belle tête deviendra chauve. Or je n'ai qu'à la voir à présent des mêmes yeux dont je la verrai alors, et assurément cette tête ne fera pas tourner la mienne.

En second lieu je serai toujours sobre; j'aurai beau être tenté par la bonne chère, par des vins délicieux, par la séduction de la société; je n'aurai qu'à me représenter les suites des excès, une tête pesante, un estomac embarrassé, la perte de la raison, de la santé, et du temps, je ne mangerai alors que pour le besoin; ma santé sera toujours égale, mes idées toujours pures et lumineuses. Tout cela est si facile, qu'il n'y a aucun mérite à y parvenir.

Ensuite, disait Memnon, il faut penser un peu à ma fortune; mes désirs sont modérés; mon bien est solidement placé sur le receveur-général des finances de Ninive; j'ai de quoi vivre dans l'indépendance: c'est là le plus grand des biens. Je ne serai jamais dans la cruelle nécessité de faire ma cour: je n'envierai personne, et personne ne m'enviera. Voilà qui est encore très aisé. J'ai des amis, continuait-il, je les conserverai, puisqu'ils n'auront rien à me disputer. Je n'aurai jamais d'humeur avec eux, ni eux avec moi; cela est sans difficulté.

Ayant fait ainsi son petit plan de sagesse dans sa chambre, Memnon mit la tête à la fenêtre. Il vit deux femmes qui se promenaient sous des platanes auprès de sa maison. L'une était vieille, et paraissait ne songer à rien; l'autre était jeune, jolie, et semblait fort occupée. Elle soupirait, elle pleurait, et n'en avait que plus de grâces. Notre sage fut touché, non pas de la beauté de la dame (il était bien sûr de ne pas sentir une telle faiblesse), mais de l'affliction où il la voyait. Il descendit, il aborda la jeune Ninivienne dans le dessein de la consoler avec sagesse. Cette belle personne lui conta, de l'air le plus naïf et le plus touchant, tout le mal que lui faisait un oncle qu'elle n'avait point; avec quels artifices il lui avait enlevé un bien qu'elle n'avait jamais possédé, et tout ce qu'elle avait à craindre de sa violence. Vous me paraisez un homme de si bon conseil, lui dit-elle, que si vous aviez la condescendance de venir jusque chez moi, et d'examiner mes affaires, je suis sûre que vous me tireriez du cruel embarras où je suis. Memnon n'hésita pas à la suivre, pour examiner sagement ses affaires, et pour lui donner un bon conseil.

La dame affligée le mena dans une chambre parfumée, et le fit asseoir avec elle poliment sur un large sofa, où ils se tenaient tous deux les jambes croisées vis-à-vis l'un de l'autre. La dame parla en baissant les yeux, dont il échappait quelquefois des larmes, et qui en se relevant rencontraient toujours les regards du sage Memnon. Ses discours étaient pleins d'un attendrissement qui redoublait toutes les fois qu'ils se regardaient. Memnon prenait ses affaires extrêmement à cœur, et se sentait de moment en moment la plus grande envie d'obliger une personne si honnête et si malheureuse. Ils cessèrent insensiblement, dans la chaleur de la conversation, d'être vis-à-vis l'un de l'autre. Leurs jambes ne furent plus croisées. Memnon la conseilla de si près, et lui donna des avis si tendres, qu'ils ne pouvaient ni l'un ni l'autre parler d'affaires, et qu'ils ne savaient plus où ils en étaient.

Comme ils en étaient là, arrive l'oncle, ainsi qu'on peut bien le penser: il était armé de la tête aux pieds; et la première chose qu'il dit fut qu'il allait tuer, comme de raison, le sage Memnon et sa nièce; la dernière qui lui échappa fut qu'il pouvait pardonner pour beaucoup d'argent. Memnon fut obligé de donner tout ce qu'il avait. On était heureux dans ce temps-là d'en être quitte à si bon marché; l'Amérique n'était pas encore découverte, et les dames affligées n'étaient pas à beaucoup près si dangereuses qu'elles le sont aujourd'hui.

Memnon, honteux et désespéré, rentra chez lui: il y trouva un billet qui l'invitait à dîner avec quelques uns de ses intimes amis. Si je reste seul chez moi, dit-il, j'aurai l'esprit occupé de ma triste aventure, je ne mangerai point; je tomberai malade; il vaut mieux aller faire avec mes amis intimes un repas frugal. J'oublierai, dans la douceur de leur société, la sottise que j'ai faite ce matin. Il va au rendez-vous; on le trouve un peu chagrin. On le fait boire pour dissiper sa tristesse. Un peu de vin pris modérément est un remède pour l'âme et pour le corps. C'est ainsi que pense le sage Memnon; et il s'enivre. On lui propose de jouer après le repas. Un jeu réglé avec des amis est un passe-temps honnête. Il joue; on lui gagne tout ce qu'il a dans sa bourse, et quatre fois autant sur sa parole. Une dispute s'élève sur le jeu, on s'échauffe: l'un de ses amis intimes lui jette à la tête un cornet, et lui crève un oeil. On rapporte chez lui le sage Memnon ivre, sans argent, et ayant un oeil de moins.

Il cuve un peu son vin; et dès qu'il a la tête plus libre, il envoie son valet chercher de l'argent chez le receveur-général des finances de Ninive pour payer ses intimes amis: on lui dit que son débiteur a fait le matin une banqueroute frauduleuse qui met en alarme cent familles. Memnon, outré va à la cour avec un emplâtre sur l'oeil et un placet à la main pour demander justice au roi contre le banqueroutier. Il rencontre dans un salon plusieurs dames qui portaient toutes d'un air aisé des cerceaux de vingt-quatre pieds de circonférence. L'une d'elles, qui le connaissait un peu, dit en le regardant de côté: Ah, l'horreur! Une autre, qui le connaissait davantage, lui dit: Bonsoir, monsieur Memnon; mais vraiment, monsieur Memnon, je suis fort aise de vous voir; à propos, monsieur Memnon, pourquoi avez-vous perdu un oeil? Et elle passa sans attendre sa réponse. Memnon se cacha dans un coin, et attendit le moment où il put se jeter aux pieds du monarque. Ce moment arriva. Il baissa trois fois la terre, et présenta son placet. Sa gracieuse majesté le reçut très favorablement, et donna le mémoire à un de ses satrapes pour lui en rendre compte. Le satrape tire Memnon à part, et lui dit d'un air de hauteur, en ricanant amèrement: Je vous trouve un plaisant borgne, de vous adresser au roi plutôt qu'à moi, et encore plus plaisant d'oser demander justice contre un honnête banqueroutier que j'honore de ma protection, et qui est le neveu d'une femme de chambre de ma maîtresse. Abandonnez cette affaire-là, mon ami, si vous voulez conserver l'oeil qui vous reste.

Memnon, ayant ainsi renoncé le matin aux femmes, aux excès de table, au jeu, à toute querelle, et surtout à la cour, avait été avant la nuit trompé et volé par une belle dame, s'était enivré, avait joué, avait eu une querelle, s'était fait crever un oeil, et avait été à la cour, où l'on s'était moqué de lui.

Pétrifié d'étonnement et navré de douleur, il s'en retourne la mort dans le coeur. Il veut rentrer chez lui; il y trouve des huissiers qui démeublaient sa maison de la part de ses créanciers. Il reste presque évanoui sous un platane; il y rencontre la belle dame du matin, qui se promenait avec son cher oncle, et qui éclata de rire en voyant Memnon avec son emplâtre. La nuit vint; Memnon se coucha sur de la paille auprès des murs de sa maison. La fièvre le saisit; il s'endormit dans l'accès, et un esprit céleste lui apparut en songe.

Il était tout resplendissant de lumière. Il avait six belles ailes, mais ni pieds, ni tête, ni queue, et ne ressemblait à rien. Qui es-tu? lui dit Memnon. Ton bon génie, lui répondit l'autre. Rends-moi donc mon oeil, ma santé, ma maison^[3], mon bien, ma sagesse, lui dit Memnon. Ensuite il lui conta comment il avait perdu tout cela en un jour. Voilà des aventures qui ne nous arrivent jamais dans le monde que nous habitons, dit l'esprit. Et quel monde habitez-vous? dit l'homme affligé. Ma patrie, répondit-il, est à cinq cents millions de lieues du soleil, dans une petite étoile auprès de Sirius, que tu vois d'ici. Le beau pays! dit Memnon: quoi! vous n'avez point chez vous de coquines qui trompent un pauvre homme, point d'amis intimes qui lui gagnent son argent et qui lui crèvent un oeil, point de banqueroutiers, point de satrapes qui se moquent de vous en vous refusant justice? Non, dit l'habitant de l'étoile, rien de tout cela. Nous ne sommes jamais trompés par les femmes, parceque nous n'en avons point; nous ne fesons point d'excès de table, parceque nous ne mangeons point; nous n'avons point de banqueroutiers, parcequ'il n'y a chez nous ni or ni argent; on ne peut nous crever les yeux, parceque nous n'avons point de corps à la façon des vôtres; et les satrapes ne nous font jamais d'injustice, parce que dans notre petite étoile tout le monde est égal.

[3] C'est d'après les éditions de 1750 que je rétablis ici les mots ma maison. B.

Memnon lui dit alors: Monseigneur, sans femme et sans dîner, à quoi passez-vous votre temps? A veiller, dit le génie, sur les autres globes qui nous sont confiés: et je viens pour te consoler. Hélas! reprit Memnon, que ne veniez-vous la nuit passée pour m'empêcher de faire tant de folies? J'étais auprès d'Assan, ton frère ainé, dit l'être céleste. Il est plus à plaindre que toi. Sa gracieuse majesté le roi des Indes, à la cour duquel il a l'honneur d'être, lui a fait crever les deux yeux pour une petite indiscrétion, et il est actuellement dans un cachot, les fers aux pieds et aux mains. C'est bien la peine, dit Memnon, d'avoir un bon génie dans une famille, pour que de deux frères, l'un soit borgne, l'autre aveugle, l'un couché sur la paille, l'autre en prison. Ton sort changera, reprit l'animal de l'étoile. Il est vrai que tu seras toujours borgne; mais, à cela près, tu seras assez heureux, pourvu que tu ne fasses jamais le sot projet d'être parfaitement sage. C'est donc une chose à laquelle il est impossible de parvenir? s'écria Memnon en soupirant. Aussi impossible, lui répliqua l'autre, que d'être parfaitement habile, parfaitement fort, parfaitement puissant, parfaitement heureux. Nous-mêmes, nous en sommes bien loin. Il y a un globe où tout cela se trouve; mais dans les cent mille millions de mondes qui sont dispersés dans l'étendue tout se suit par degrés. On a moins de sagesse et de plaisir dans le second que dans le premier, moins dans le troisième que dans le second, ainsi du reste jusqu'au dernier, où tout le monde est complètement fou. J'ai bien peur, dit Memnon, que notre petit globe terraqué ne soit précisément les Petites-Maisons de l'univers dont vous me faites l'honneur de me parler. Pas tout-à-fait, dit l'esprit; mais il en approche: il faut que tout soit en sa place. Eh mais! dit Memnon, certains poètes^[4], certains philosophes^[5], ont donc grand tort de dire que tout est bien? Ils ont grande raison, dit le philosophe de là-haut, en considérant l'arrangement de l'univers entier. Ah! je ne croirai cela, répliqua le pauvre Memnon, que quand je ne serai plus borgne.

Information about Project Gutenberg (one page)

We produce about two million dollars for each hour we work. The time it takes us, a rather conservative estimate, is fifty hours to get any eBook selected, entered, proofread, edited, copyright searched and analyzed, the copyright letters written, etc. Our projected audience is one hundred million readers. If the value per text is nominally estimated at one dollar then we produce $2 million dollars per hour in 2002 as we release over 100 new text files per month: 1240 more eBooks in 2001 for a total of 4000+. We are already on our way to trying for 2000 more eBooks in 2002. If they reach just 1-2% of the world's population then the total will reach over half a trillion eBooks given away by year's end.

The Goal of Project Gutenberg is to Give Away 1 Trillion eBooks! This is ten thousand titles each to one hundred million readers, which is only about 4% of the present number of computer users.

Here is the briefest record of our progress (* means estimated):

If you do not agree to abide by all the terms of this agreement, you must cease using and return or destroy all copies of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works in your possession. If you paid a fee for obtaining a copy of or access to a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work and you do not agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement, you may obtain a refund from the person or entity to whom you paid the fee as set forth in paragraph 1.E.8.

1.B. "Project Gutenberg" is a registered trademark. It may only be used on or associated in any way with an electronic work by people who agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement. There are a few things that you can do with most Project Gutenberg™ electronic works even without complying with the full terms of this agreement. See paragraph 1.C below. There are a lot of things you can do with Project Gutenberg™ electronic works if you follow the terms of this agreement and help preserve free future access to Project Gutenberg™ electronic works. See paragraph 1.E below.

1.C. The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation ("the Foundation" or PGLAF), owns a compilation copyright in the collection of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works. Nearly all the individual works in the collection are in the public domain in the United States. If an individual work is unprotected by copyright law in the United States and you are located in the United States, we do not claim a right to prevent you from copying, distributing, performing, displaying or creating derivative works based on the work as long as all references to Project Gutenberg are removed. Of course, we hope that you will support the Project Gutenberg™ mission of promoting free access to electronic works by freely sharing Project Gutenberg™ works in compliance with the terms of this agreement for keeping the Project Gutenberg™ name associated with the work. You can easily comply with the terms of this agreement by keeping this work in the same format with its attached full Project Gutenberg™ License when you share it without charge with others.

1.D. The copyright laws of the place where you are located also govern what you can do with this work. Copyright laws in most countries are in a constant state of change. If you are outside the United States, check the laws of your country in addition to the terms of this agreement before downloading, copying, displaying, performing, distributing or creating derivative works based on this work or any other Project Gutenberg™ work. The Foundation makes no representations concerning the copyright status of any work in any country other than the United States.

1.E. Unless you have removed all references to Project Gutenberg:

1.E.1. This eBook is for the use of anyone anywhere in the United States and most other parts of the world at no cost and with almost no restrictions whatsoever. If an individual Project Gutenberg™ electronic work is derived from texts not protected by U.S. copyright law (does not contain a notice indicating that it is posted with permission of the copyright holder), the work can be copied and distributed to anyone in the United States without paying any fees or charges. If you are redistributing or providing access to a work with the phrase "Project Gutenberg" associated with or appearing on the work, you must comply either with the requirements of paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 or obtain permission for the use of the work and the Project Gutenberg™ trademark as set forth in paragraphs 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.3. If an individual Project Gutenberg™ electronic work is posted with the permission of the copyright holder, your use and distribution must comply with both paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 and any additional terms imposed by the copyright holder. Additional terms will be linked to the Project Gutenberg™ License for all works posted with the permission of the copyright holder found at the beginning of this work.

1.E.4. Do not unlink or detach or remove the full Project Gutenberg™ License terms from this work, or any files containing a part of this work or any other work associated with Project Gutenberg™.

However, if you provide access to or distribute copies of a Project Gutenberg™ work in a format other than "Plain Vanilla ASCII" or other format used in the official version posted on the official Project Gutenberg™ website (www.gutenberg.org), you must, at no additional cost, fee or expense to the user, provide a copy, a means of exporting a copy, or a means of obtaining a copy upon request, of the work in its original "Plain Vanilla ASCII" or other form. Any alternate format must include the full Project Gutenberg™ License as specified in paragraph 1.E.1.

1.E.7. Do not charge a fee for access to, viewing, displaying, performing, copying or distributing any Project Gutenberg™ works unless you comply with paragraph 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.8. You may charge a reasonable fee for copies of or providing access to or distributing Project

Gutenberg™ electronic works provided that:

- You pay a royalty fee of 20% of the gross profits you derive from the use of Project Gutenberg™ works calculated using the method you already use to calculate your applicable taxes. The fee is owed to the owner of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark, but he has agreed to donate royalties under this paragraph to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation. Royalty payments must be paid within 60 days following each date on which you prepare (or are legally required to prepare) your periodic tax returns. Royalty payments should be clearly marked as such and sent to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation at the address specified in Section 4, "Information about donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation."
- You provide a full refund of any money paid by a user who notifies you in writing (or by e-mail) within 30 days of receipt that s/he does not agree to the terms of the full Project Gutenberg™ License. - You provide, in accordance with paragraph 1.F.3, a full refund of any money paid for a work or a replacement copy, if a defect in the electronic work is discovered and reported to you within 90 days of receipt of the work.
- You comply with all other terms of this agreement for free distribution of Project Gutenberg™ works.

1.E.9. If you wish to charge a fee or distribute a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work or group of works on different terms than are set forth in this agreement, you must obtain permission in writing from the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the manager of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark. Contact the Foundation as set forth in Section 3 below.

1.F.

1.F.1. Project Gutenberg volunteers and employees expend considerable effort to identify, do copyright research on, transcribe and proofread works not protected by U.S. copyright law in creating the Project Gutenberg™ collection. Despite these efforts, Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, and the medium on which they may be stored, may contain "Defects," such as, but not limited to, incomplete, inaccurate or corrupt data, transcription errors, a copyright or other intellectual property infringement, a defective or damaged disk or other medium, a computer virus, or computer codes that damage or cannot be read by your equipment.

1.F.2. LIMITED WARRANTY, DISCLAIMER OF DAMAGES - Except for the "Right of Replacement or Refund" described in paragraph 1.F.3, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the owner of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark, and any other party distributing a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work under this agreement, disclaim all liability to you for damages, costs and expenses, including legal fees. YOU AGREE THAT YOU HAVE NO REMEDIES FOR NEGLIGENCE, STRICT LIABILITY, BREACH OF WARRANTY OR BREACH OF CONTRACT EXCEPT THOSE PROVIDED IN PARAGRAPH 1.F.3. YOU AGREE THAT THE FOUNDATION, THE TRADEMARK OWNER, AND ANY DISTRIBUTOR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT WILL NOT BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR ACTUAL, DIRECT, INDIRECT, CONSEQUENTIAL, PUNITIVE OR INCIDENTAL DAMAGES EVEN IF YOU GIVE NOTICE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGE.

1.F.3. LIMITED RIGHT OF REPLACEMENT OR REFUND - If you discover a defect in this electronic work within 90 days of receiving it, you can receive a refund of the money (if any) you paid for it by sending a written explanation to the person you received the work from. If you received the work on a physical medium, you must return the medium with your written explanation. The person or entity that provided you with the defective work may elect to provide a replacement copy in lieu of a refund. If you received the work electronically, the person or entity providing it to you may choose to give you a second opportunity to receive the work electronically in lieu of a refund. If the second copy is also defective, you may demand a refund in writing without further opportunities to fix the problem.

1.F.4. Except for the limited right of replacement or refund set forth in paragraph 1.F.3, this work is provided to you 'AS-IS', WITH NO OTHER WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR ANY PURPOSE.

1.F.5. Some states do not allow disclaimers of certain implied warranties or the exclusion or limitation of certain types of damages. If any disclaimer or limitation set forth in this agreement violates the law of the state applicable to this agreement, the agreement shall be interpreted to make the maximum disclaimer or limitation permitted by the applicable state law. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this agreement shall not void the remaining provisions.

1.F.6. INDEMNITY - You agree to indemnify and hold the Foundation, the trademark owner, any agent or employee of the Foundation, anyone providing copies of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works in accordance with this agreement, and any volunteers associated with the production, promotion and distribution of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, harmless from all liability, costs and expenses, including legal fees, that arise directly or indirectly from any of the following which you do or cause to occur: (a) distribution of this or any Project Gutenberg™ work, (b) alteration, modification, or additions or deletions to any Project Gutenberg™ work, and (c) any Defect you cause.

Section 2. Information about the Mission of Project Gutenberg™

Project Gutenberg™ is synonymous with the free distribution of electronic works in formats readable by the widest variety of computers including obsolete, old, middle-aged and new computers. It exists because of the efforts of hundreds of volunteers and donations from people in all walks of life.

Volunteers and financial support to provide volunteers with the assistance they need are critical to reaching Project Gutenberg™'s goals and ensuring that the Project Gutenberg™ collection will remain freely available for generations to come. In 2001, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation was created to provide a secure and permanent future for Project Gutenberg™ and future generations. To learn more about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation and how your efforts and donations can help, see Sections 3 and 4 and the Foundation information page at www.gutenberg.org.

Section 3. Information about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) educational corporation organized under the laws of the state of Mississippi and granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service. The Foundation's EIN or federal tax identification number is 64-6221541. Contributions to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation are tax deductible to the full extent permitted by U.S. federal laws and your state's laws.

The Foundation's business office is located at 809 North 1500 West, Salt Lake City, UT 84116, (801) 596-1887. Email contact links and up to date contact information can be found at the Foundation's website and official page at www.gutenberg.org/contact

Section 4. Information about Donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

Project Gutenberg™ depends upon and cannot survive without widespread public support and donations to carry out its mission of increasing the number of public domain and licensed works that can be freely distributed in machine-readable form accessible by the widest array of equipment including outdated equipment. Many small donations ($1 to $5,000) are particularly important to maintaining tax exempt status with the IRS.

The Foundation is committed to complying with the laws regulating charities and charitable donations in all 50 states of the United States. Compliance requirements are not uniform and it takes a considerable effort, much paperwork and many fees to meet and keep up with these requirements. We do not solicit donations in locations where we have not received written confirmation of compliance. To SEND DONATIONS or determine the status of compliance for any particular state visit www.gutenberg.org/donate.

While we cannot and do not solicit contributions from states where we have not met the solicitation requirements, we know of no prohibition against accepting unsolicited donations from donors in such states who approach us with offers to donate.

International donations are gratefully accepted, but we cannot make any statements concerning tax treatment of donations received from outside the United States. U.S. laws alone swamp our small staff.

Please check the Project Gutenberg web pages for current donation methods and addresses. Donations are accepted in a number of other ways including checks, online payments and credit card donations. To donate, please visit: www.gutenberg.org/donate

Section 5. General Information About Project Gutenberg™ electronic works

Professor Michael S. Hart was the originator of the Project Gutenberg™ concept of a library of electronic works that could be freely shared with anyone. For forty years, he produced and distributed Project Gutenberg™ eBooks with only a loose network of volunteer support.

Project Gutenberg™ eBooks are often created from several printed editions, all of which are confirmed as not protected by copyright in the U.S. unless a copyright notice is included. Thus, we do not necessarily keep eBooks in compliance with any particular paper edition.

Most people start at our website which has the main PG search facility: www.gutenberg.org.

This website includes information about Project Gutenberg™, including how to make donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, how to help produce our new eBooks, and how to subscribe to our email newsletter to hear about new eBooks.
