PREFACE.

1. The earliest edition of Hamlet appeared in 1603, with the following title-page:

The | Tragicall Historie of | Hamlet | Prince of Denmarke | By William Shakespeare. | As it hath beene diverse times acted by his Highnesse ser-| uants in the Cittie of London: as also in the two V-| niuersities of Cambridge and Oxford, and else-where | At London printed for N: L. and Iohn Trundell. | 1603.

We refer to it as (Q_1) .

A copy of this edition belonged to Sir Thomas Hanmer, though he does not appear to have mentioned it in his notes to Shakespeare or in his correspondence, and its existence was not known till his library came into the possession of Sir E. H. Bunbury in 1821. In a copy of the Reprint of 1825, now at Barton, Sir E. H. Bunbury wrote the following note:

'The only copy of this edition of Hamlet (1603) which is known to be in existence was found by me in the Library at Barton when it came into my possession in 1821. The Hamlet was bound up with ten others of the small 4to editions of Shakespeare's Plays (1598 to 1603) and with The Two Noble Kinsmen (1634). Most of these were complete. I sold the volume in Dec. 1824 for £180 to Messrs Payne and Foss, who resold it to the Duke of Devonshire for £230.'

This copy wanted the last leaf containing the 22 concluding lines. A second copy, wanting the title-page but otherwise perfect, was discovered in 1856 by Mr W. H. Rooney of Dublin. 'It was bought,' says Mr Timmins, 'by Mr Rooney from a student of Trinity College, Dublin, who had brought it from Nottinghamshire with his other books. After reprinting the last leaf, Mr Rooney sold the pamphlet to Mr Boone for £70, from whom Mr J. O. Halliwell bought it for £120, and it is now in the British Museum.'

We have reprinted this edition, and recorded in foot-notes the few discrepancies which are found between the two copies.

An extremely accurate reprint was made from the Devonshire copy in 1825, and it was lithographed in facsimile, with the addition of the missing leaf, in 1858, under the direction of Mr Collier and at the expense of the Duke. In 1860 Mr J. Allen, Junr., reprinted this edition and the Quarto of 1604, placing the corresponding passages as nearly as possible on opposite pages, with a preface by Mr Samuel Timmins.

The edition of 1603 is obviously a very imperfect reproduction of the play, and there is every reason to believe that it was printed from a manuscript surreptitiously obtained. This manuscript may have been compiled in the first instance from short hand notes taken during the representation, but there are many errors in the printed text which seem like errors of a copyist rather than of a hearer. Compare for example lines 37, 38 of Scene III. of our Reprint, p. 205, with the corresponding lines of the more perfect drama as it was printed in the Quarto of 1604, Act I. Scene 3, lines 73, 74, p. 26.

In the Quarto of 1603 the passage runs thus:

And they of France of the chiefe rancke and station Are of a most select and generall chiefe in that:

In that of 1604:

'And they in Fraunce of the best ranck and station, Or of a most select and generous, chiefe in that:'

It is clear that the corruption in both passages is due to an error in the transcript from which both were copied. Probably the author had originally written:

'And they in France of the best rank and station Are most select and generous in that:'

and then given between the lines or in the margin, 'of,' 'chief', meaning these as alternative readings for 'in' and 'best' in the first line. The transcriber by mistake inserted them in the second line. A few lines above both Quartos give 'courage' for 'comrade,' a mistake due undoubtedly to the eye and not to the ear.

We believe then that the defects of the manuscript from which the Quarto of 1603 was printed had been in part at least supplemented by a reference to the authentic copy in the library of the theatre. Very probably the man employed for this purpose was some inferior actor or servant, who would necessarily work in haste and by stealth, and in any case would not be likely to work very conscientiously for the printer or bookseller who was paying him to deceive his masters.

The Quarto of 1604, which we call Q_2 , has the following title-page:

THE | Tragicall Historie of | Hamlet, | Prince of Denmarke. | By William Shakespeare. | Newly imprinted and enlarged to almost as much | againe as it was, according to the true and perfect | Coppie. | At London, | Printed by I. R. for N. L.

and are to be sold at his | shoppe vnder Saint Dunstons Church in | Fleetstreet. 1604.

The printer 'I. R.' was no doubt, as Mr Collier says, James Roberts, who had made an entry in the books of the Stationers' company as early as July 26, 1602, of 'A booke, The Revenge of Hamlett prince of Denmarke, as yt was latelie acted by the Lord Chamberleyn his servantes.'

For some unknown reason the projected edition was delayed, and in the mean time the popularity of the play encouraged N. L., i.e. Nicholas Ling, and the other publisher, Trundell, to undertake a surreptitious edition.

In the interval between the two editions Shakespeare seems to have changed the names of some of his Dramatis Personæ, substituting 'Polonius' for 'Corambis' and 'Reynaldo' for 'Montano.' He may also have changed the order of one or two scenes, and here and there erased or inserted a few lines, but we think that no substantial change was made, and that the chief differences between (Q_1) and Q_2 are only such as might be expected between a bona fide, and a mala fide, transcription.

The Quarto of 1605, which we call Q_3 , is not, properly speaking, a new edition, being printed from the same forms as Q_2 , and differing from it no more than one copy of the same edition may differ from another. The title-page differs only in the date, where 1605 is substituted for 1604.

Another Quarto, our Q_4 , printed in 1611, bears a title-page which does not substantially differ from that of Q_3 , except that it is said to be:

'Printed for Iohn Smethwicke, and are to be sold at his shoppe | in Saint Dunstons Church-yeard in Fleetstreet. | Under the Diall. 1611. |'

Another Quarto, without date, is said on the title-page to be 'Newly imprinted and inlarged, according to the true | and perfect Copy lastly Printed,' and to be 'Printed by W. S. for Iohn Smethwicke.' Otherwise the title-page is identical with that of Q_4 . Mr Collier supposes this undated Quarto to have been printed in 1607, because there is an entry in the Stationers' books of that year and no edition with that date is known to exist. We are convinced however that the undated Quarto was printed from that of 1611, and we have therefore called it Q_5 .

Another Quarto, printed 'by R. Young for John Smethwicke,' was published in 1637. This we call Q_6 . It is printed from Q_5 , though the spelling is considerably modernized and the punctuation amended.

The symbol Qq signifies the agreement of Q2, Q3, Q4, Q5 and Q6.

Besides these, several editions, usually known as Players' Quartos, were printed at the end of the seventeenth and beginning of the following century. Of these we have had before us during our collation, editions of 1676, 1685, 1695 and 1703. These we call respectively Q(1676), Q(1685), Q(1695) and Q(1703). We have given all readings which seemed in any way remarkable, though we need scarcely say that the changes made in these editions have no authority whatever. It is however worthy of notice that many emendations usually attributed to Rowe and Pope are really derived from one or other of these Players' Quartos. When we give a reading as belonging to one of these Quartos, it is to be understood that it occurs there for the first time and that all the subsequent Quartos adopt it.

The text of Hamlet given in the Folio of 1623 is not derived from any of the previously existing Quartos, but from an independent manuscript. Many passages are found in the Folio which do not appear in any of the Quartos. On the other hand many passages found in the Quartos are not found in the Folio. It is to be remarked that several of those which appear in the Folio and not in the Quarto of 1604 or its successors, are found in an imperfect form in the Quarto of 1603, and therefore are not subsequent additions. Both the Quarto text of 1604 and the Folio text of 1623 seem to have been derived from manuscripts of the play curtailed, and curtailed differently, for purposes of representation. Therefore in giving in our text all the passages from both Folio and Quarto we are reproducing, as near as may be, the work as it was originally written by Shakespeare, or rather as finally retouched by him after the spurious edition of 1603.

We have been unable to procure a copy of the Quarto edition of this play, edited in 1703 by 'the accurate Mr John Hughs' (Theobald's Shakespeare Restored, p. 26), and have therefore quoted the readings of it on Theobald's authority. It is different from the Players' Quarto of 1703, and is not mentioned in Bohn's edition of Lowndes's Bibliographer's Manual. No copy of it exists in the British Museum, the Bodleian, the library of the Duke of Devonshire, the Capell collection, or any other to which we have had access.

We have to thank Dr C. M. Ingleby for the loan of several editions of Hamlet which we should otherwise have had difficulty in procuring.

2. King Lear first appeared in 1608. In this year there were two editions in Quarto. One bears the following title:

M. William Shakespeare, $\mid HIS \mid$ True Chronicle History of the life \mid and death of King Lear, and his \mid three Daughters. \mid With the unfortunate life of EDGAR, \mid sonne and heire to the Earle of Glocester, and \mid his sullen and assumed humour of TOM \mid of Bedlam. \mid As it was plaid before the Kings Maiesty at White-Hall, vp- \mid on S. Stephens night, in Christmas Hollidaies. \mid By his Maiesties Seruants, playing vsually at the \mid Globe on the Banck-side. \mid Printed for Nathaniel Butter. \mid 1608. \mid

The printer's device is that of J. Roberts.

This we have called Q_1 . In the few instances in which there are differences between Capell's copy and that in the Duke of Devonshire's library, we have distinguished the readings as those of Q_1 (Cap.) and Q_1 (Dev.) respectively. Through the kindness of Sir S. Morton Peto and Mr Lilly, we have been enabled to collate two other copies, but without discovering any variations from that in the Capell collection.

In the same year another Quarto edition of this play was issued by the same publisher. Its title is as follows:

M. William Shak-speare: |HIS| True Chronicle Historie of the life and | death of King LEAR and his three | Daughters. | With the vnfortunate life of Edgar, sonne | and heire to the Earle of Gloster, and his | sullen and assumed humor of | TOM of Bedlam: | As it was played before the Kings Maiestie at Whitehall vpon | S. Stephans night in Christmas Hollidayes. | By his Maiesties seruants playing vsually at the Gloabe | on the Bancke-side. | LONDON,| Printed for Nathaniel Butter, and are to be sold at his shop in Pauls | Church-yard at the signe of the Pide Bull neere | S^t. Austins Gate. 1608. |

We have called this Q_2 . In the six copies we have collated there are a large number of very curious and important variations. To distinguish them we have made use of the following notation.

- 1. Q_2 (Cap.) The copy in Capell's collection.
- 2. Q_2 (Dev.) The copy in the Library of the Duke of Devonshire.
- 3. Q₂ (Mus. per.) A perfect copy in the British Museum (C. 34. K. 18).
- 4. Q_2 (Mus. imp.) An imperfect copy (wanting title) in the British Museum (C. 34. K. 17); formerly in the possession of Mr Halliwell.
- 5. Q_2 (Bodl. 1). A copy in the Bodleian Library (Malone 35), with the title, but wanting the last leaf
- 6. Q₂ (Bodl. 2). A copy in the Bodleian Library (Malone 37), wanting title but having the last leaf.

It has been supposed in consequence of statements made by Malone and Boswell that a third edition of King Lear was published in 1608. We shall show that there is no evidence for this. In the Variorum Shakespeare (II. 652), edited by Boswell in 1821, three Quartos are described, which are distinguished in the notes to the play by the letters A, B, C, respectively. The first of these is a copy of Q_2 , quoted by us as Q_2 (Bodl. 1); the second is a copy of Q_1 ; and the third, which is in reality another copy of Q_2 and is quoted by us as Q_2 (Bodl. 2), is described as follows:

"Title the same as the two former, except that like the first it begins at signature B: and like the second, has no reference to the place of sale."

This statement of Boswell's is taken from a note in Malone's handwriting prefixed to the copy in question, which we transcribe.

"This copy of King Lear differs in some particulars from the two others in Vol. IV.

"The title-page of it is the same as the second of those copies, that is, it has no direction to the place of sale, and the first signat. is B,—notwithstanding which there are minute diversities; thus, in this copy in H_3 verso, we have 'A foole vsurps my bed'; in the other whose first signature is also B, we find—'My foote usurps my body', and in the copy without any direction to the place of sale (whose first signature is A) 'My foote usurps my head'."

Now it is a little remarkable that at present the copy has no title-page at all, and there is no trace of the title-page having been removed since the volume has been in its present condition. The probability is that the title was originally wanting and that one had been supplied from a copy of Q_1 before it came into Malone's hands, and that while it was in this condition he wrote the above note upon it. It was then sent to be bound in a volume with other quartos, and the title may have been lost at the binder's, or may have been intentionally removed as not belonging to the book. That alterations were made by the binder is evident from the fact that the copy to which Malone refers as the second of those in Vol. IV. is in reality the first. Malone, writing his note when Vol. IV. was arranged for binding, described the then order of the plays, which must afterwards have been altered. In any case, however Malone's statement is to be accounted for, it is quite clear that Boswell must have described the Quarto after it was bound, when the title could not have existed.

We have said that Boswell quotes the three Quartos of Lear, now in the Bodleian, by the letters A, B, C, respectively. In doing so, however, he is not consistent. We record his mistakes that others may not be misled by them. Bearing in mind therefore that $A = Q_2$ (Bodl. 1), $B = Q_1$, and $C = Q_2$ (Bodl. 2), we find in Act II. Scene 2 (Vol. X. p. 97) 'Quarto B, ausrent; Quarto A, reads unreverent.' Here B and A should change places. In Act III. Scene 7 (p. 188), 'Quarto A omits roguish:' for A read C. In Act IV. Scene 2 (p. 199), for 'Quartos B and C, the whistling,' read 'Quarto C' alone. In Act IV. Scene 6 (p. 220) B and A should again be interchanged. In Act V. Scene 3 (p. 277), 'Quarto A omits this line'; for A read B. It will be seen from these instances that A has been in turn made to represent three different copies.

The differences in various copies of Q_2 are accounted for by supposing that the corrections were made before the sheets were all worked off, and that the corrected and uncorrected sheets were bound up indiscriminately. It will be observed that the readings of the uncorrected sheets of Q_2 agree for the most part with those of Q_1 , and this led us to the conclusion which had previously been arrived at by Capell and also by J. P. Kemble, that the edition which we have called Q_1 was the earlier of the two printed in the same year. But upon collating a copy of Q_2 in the Bodleian, which we have called Q_2 (Bodl. 1), we found evidence which points to an opposite conclusion. In Kent's soliloquy (II. 2. 160) that copy, as will be seen in our notes, reads, which of course is an accidental corruption, by displacement of the type, of 'myrackles' (i.e. 'miracles') the true reading. In the corrected copies of Q2 this is altered, apparently by the printer's conjecture, to 'my wracke', which is also the reading of Q1. Throughout the sheet in which this occurs the readings of Q1 agree with the corrected copies of Q2, and had it not been for the instance quoted, we might have supposed that the corrections in the latter were made from Q_1 . But the corruption 'my rackles' for 'miracles' must have come from the original MS., and 'my wracke' is only a conjectural emendation, so that the order of succession in this sheet at least appears to be the following. First the uncorrected copy of Q2, then the same corrected, and lastly Q_1 . On the other hand it is remarkable that Q_1 , if printed from Q_2 at all, must have been printed from a copy made up, with the exception just mentioned from II. 1. 128 to II. 4. 133, and another containing from IV. 6. 224 to V. 3. 64, of uncorrected sheets. Another hypothesis which might be made is that Q_1 and Q_2 were printed from the same manuscript, and that the printer of Q_1 corrupted 'miracles' into 'my wracke', while the printer of Q_2 made it 'my rackles', which was afterwards altered by a reference to Q_1 . The question, however, is very difficult to decide, and at most is one rather of bibliographical curiosity than of critical importance. We may mention that, without giving the reasons for his conclusion, Jennens, in his edition of Lear in 1770, quotes as the 1st Quarto that which we have called Q₂ and vice versa.

A third Quarto, which we have called Q_3 , was printed very carelessly page for page from Q_1 and published in 1655.

In the first Folio King Lear was printed from an independent manuscript, and its text is on the whole much superior to that of the Quartos. Each however supplies passages which are wanting in the other.

Capell appears to have prepared the play for press in the first instance from Pope's first edition. The manuscript readings and stage directions, marked in his copy of that edition but not adopted in his own, we have quoted as 'Capell MS'.

3. Othello was first printed in Quarto in 1622 with the following title:

The | Traggedy of Othello, | The Moore of Venice. | As it hath beene diverse times acted at the | Globe, and at the Black-Friers, by | his Maiesties Servants. | Written by William Shakespeare. | LONDON, | Printed by N. O. for Thomas Walkley, and are to be sold at his | shop, at the Eagle and Child, in Brittans Bursse. | 1622. |

To this edition which we call Q₁, the following preface was affixed by the publisher:

The Stationer to the Reader.

To set forth a booke without an Epistle, were like to the old English prouerbe, A blew coat without a badge, & the Author being dead, I thought good to take that piece of worke vpon mee: To commend it, I will not, for that which is good, I hope every man will commend, without intreaty: and I am the bolder, because the Authors name is sufficient to vent his worke. Thus leaving every one to the liberty of iudgement: I have ventered to print this Play, and leave it to the generall censure.

Yours,

Thomas Walkley.

This first Quarto contains many oaths and expletives, which in all the later editions are altered or omitted. This shows that the MS. from which it was printed had not been recently used as an acting copy. Many passages are omitted in Q_1 , by accident or design, and some which we find only in the later editions look like afterthoughts of the author.

The title-page of the second Quarto is letter for letter the same as the first, except that it has the following imprint:

LONDON, | Printed by A. M. for Richard Hawkins, and are to be sold at | his shoppe in Chancery-Lane, neere Sergeants-Inne. | 1630. |

Of this Quarto, which we term Q2, Mr Collier says: 'It was unquestionably printed from a manuscript different from that used for the Quarto of 1622, or for the Folio of 1623.' But after a minute comparison of the two it appears to us clear that the Quarto of 1630 must have been printed from a copy of the Quarto of 1622, which had received additions and corrections in manuscript. The resemblances between the two are too close to allow of any other supposition. These additions and corrections, though agreeing for the most part with the first Folio, which had appeared in the interval, were derived from an independent source.

The third Quarto, which we refer to as Q_3 , was printed from the second, and is called 'The Fourth Edition.' It has the following imprint:

LONDON, | Printed for William Leak at the Crown in Fleet- | street, between the two Temple Gates, 1655 |

Jennens, in his edition of Othello, published in 1773, was not aware of the existence of the Quarto of 1630, and quotes as the readings of the second Quarto those of the edition of 1655.

An edition in Quarto, without date, is quoted by Capell on the authority of Pope; but on reference to Pope's list it appears that, though he has omitted the date, he refers to the Quarto of 1622, which contains the publisher's preface.

The kindness of Sir S. Morton Peto has enabled us to consult a copy of the first Quarto in the library at Chipstead, which, in cases where its readings differ from those of the copies in the Capell and Devonshire collections, we have distinguished as Q_1 (Chip.) A Players' Quarto of 1695, for the use of which, as well as for other acts of kindness, we have to thank Sir Charles Bunbury, is quoted as Q (1695).

In the Addenda we have given some readings which we had not previously seen from an anonymous tract published in 1752, with the title, Miscellaneous Observations on the Tragedy of Hamlet, Prince of Denmark. The rest are chiefly from books which have been published since the greater part of our volume was struck off.

Ber. Who's there?[2][3]
Fran. Nay, answer me: stand, and unfold yourself.[3]
Ber. Long live the king![3]
Fran. Bernardo?[3][4]
Ber. He.[3]
Fran. You come most carefully upon your hour. [5]
Ber. 'Tis now struck twelve; get thee to bed, Francisco. [6]
Fran. For this relief much thanks: 'tis bitter cold,
And I am sick at heart.
Ber. Have you had quiet guard?
Fran. Not a mouse stirring.
Ber. Well, good night. [7]
If you do meet Horatio and Marcellus, [7][8]
The rivals of my watch, bid them make haste. [7][8]
Fran. I think I hear them. Stand, ho! Who is there?[9]

Last night of all, When yound same star that's westward from the pole^[24] Had made his course to illume that part of heaven^[25] Where now it burns, Marcellus and myself, The bell then beating one,—[26]Enter Ghost. Mar. Peace, break thee off; look, where it comes again![27] Ber. In the same figure, like the king that's dead. Mar. Thou art a scholar; speak to it, Horatio. Ber. Looks it not like the king? mark it, Horatio. [28] Hor. Most like: it harrows me with fear and wonder. [29] Ber. It would be spoke to. Mar. Question it, Horatio.[30] Hor. What art thou, that usurp'st this time of night, [31] Together with that fair and warlike form In which the majesty of buried Denmark Did sometimes march? by heaven I charge thee, speak!^[32] Mar. It is offended. Ber. See, it stalks away! Hor. Stay! speak, speak! I charge thee, speak! [33] [Exit Ghost. Mar. 'Tis gone, and will not answer. Ber. How now, Horatio! you tremble and look pale: Is not this something more than fantasy? What think you on't?[34] Hor. Before my God, I might not this believe^[35] Without the sensible and true avouch^[36] Of mine own eyes. Mar. Is it not like the king? Hor. As thou art to thyself: Such was the very armour he had on^[37] When he the ambitious Norway combated; [38] So frown'd he once, when, in an angry parle, He smote the sledded Polacks on the ice.[39] 'Tis strange. [40] Mar. Thus twice before, and jump at this dead hour, [41] With martial stalk hath he gone by our watch. [42] Hor. In what particular thought to work I know not; [43] But, in the gross and scope of my opinion, [44] This bodes some strange eruption to our state. Mar. Good now, sit down, and tell me, he that knows, [45] Why this same strict and most observant watch So nightly toils the subject of the land, [46] And why such daily cast of brazen cannon, [47] And foreign mart for implements of war;

'5	Why such impress of shipwrights, whose sore task Does not divide the Sunday from the week; ^[48] What might be toward, that this sweaty haste Doth make the night joint-labourer with the day: ^[49] Who is't that can inform me?
;0	Hor. That can I; At least the whisper goes so. Our last king, Whose image even but now appear'd to us, Was, as you know, by Fortinbras of Norway, Thereto prick'd on by a most emulate pride, [50]
5	Dared to the combat; in which our valiant Hamlet— ^[51] For so this side of our known world esteem'd him— Did slay this Fortinbras; who by a seal'd compact, ^[52]
0	Well ratified by law and heraldry, ^[53] Did forfeit, with his life, all those his lands ^[54] Which he stood seized of, to the conqueror: ^[55] Against the which, a moiety competent Was gaged by our king; which had return'd ^[56]
ı.	To the inheritance of Fortinbras, Had he been vanquisher; as, by the same covenant ^[57] And carriage of the article design'd, ^[58]
15	His fell to Hamlet. Now, sir, young Fortinbras, ^[59] Of unimproved mettle hot and full, ^[60] Hath in the skirts of Norway here and there Shark'd up a list of lawless resolutes, ^{[61][62]}
00	For food and diet, to some enterprise ^[62] That hath a stomach in't: which is no other— ^[63] As it doth well appear unto our state— ^[64] But to recover of us, by strong hand
05	And terms compulsatory, those foresaid lands ^[65] So by his father lost: and this, I take it, Is the main motive of our preparations, The source of this our watch and the chief head Of this post-haste and romage in the land.
10	Ber. I think it be no other but e'en so:[66][67] Well may it sort, that this portentous figure[66] Comes armed through our watch, so like the king[66] That was and is the question of these wars.[66]
15	Hor. A mote it is to trouble the mind's eye. [66][68] In the most high and palmy state of Rome, [66][69] A little ere the mightiest Julius fell, [66] The graves stood tenantless, and the sheeted dead [66][70] Did squeak and gibber in the Roman streets: [66][71]
20	As stars with trains of fire and dews of blood, [66][72][73] Disasters in the sun; and the moist star, [66][74][73] Upon whose influence Neptune's empire stands, [66] Was sick almost to doomsday with eclipse: [66] And even the like precurse of fierce events, [66][75] As harbingers preceding still the fates [66][76]
25	And prologue to the omen coming on, ^{[66][77]} Have heaven and earth together demonstrated ^[66] Unto our climatures and countrymen. ^{[66][78]}
	Re-enter Ghost.
30	But soft, behold! lo, where it comes again! I'll cross it, though it blast me. Stay, illusion! ^[79] If thou hast any sound, or use of voice, Speak to me: ^[80] If there be any good thing to be done, ^[80] That may to thee do ease and grace to me, ^[81]
	Speak to me: ^[81] If thou art privy to thy country's fate,

35	Which, happily, foreknowing may avoid, [82][83] O, speak! [82] Or if thou hast uphoarded in thy life Extorted treasure in the womb of earth, For which, they say, you spirits oft walk in death, [84] Speak of it: stay, and speak! [The cock crows.] Stop it, March	cellus. ^[85]
40	Mar. Shall I strike at it with my partisan? ^[86]
	Hor. Do, if it will not stand. ^{[87][88]}
	Ber. 'Tis here! ^[87]
	Hor. 'Tis here! ^[87]
45	Mar. 'Tis gone! We do it wrong, being so majestical, To offer it the show of violence; For it is, as the air, invulnerable, [90] And our vain blows malicious mockery.	[Exit Ghost. ^{[87][89]}
	Ber. It was about to speak, when the cock crew.
50	Hor. And then it started like a guilty thing Upon a fearful summons. I have heard, The cock, that is the trumpet to the morn, [91] Doth with his lofty and shrill-sounding throat Awake the god of day, and at his warning, [92] Whether in sea or fire, in earth or air, [92]
55	The extravagant and erring spirit hies ^{[92][93]} To his confine: and of the truth herein ^[92] This present object made probation.
60	Mar. It faded on the crowing of the cock. ^[94] Some say that ever 'gainst that season comes ^[95] Wherein our Saviour's birth is celebrated, The bird of dawning singeth all night long: ^[96] And then, they say, no spirit dare stir abroad, ^[97] The nights are wholesome, then no planets strike, No fairy takes nor witch hath power to charm, ^[98] So hallow'd and so gracious is the time. ^[99]
65	Hor. So have I heard and do in part believe it. But look, the morn, in russet mantle clad, Walks o'er the dew of yon high eastward hill:[100] Break we our watch up; and by my advice,[101]
70	Let us impart what we have seen to-night Unto young Hamlet; for, upon my life, [102] This spirit, dumb to us, will speak to him: Do you consent we shall acquaint him with it, [103] As needful in our loves, fitting our duty?
75	Mar. Let's do't, I pray; and I this morning know ^[104] Where we shall find him most conveniently.	[Exeunt. ^[105]
	Scene II. A room of state in the cas
	Flourish, Enter the King, Oueen, Hamlet, Polonius, L.	AFRTES

Flourish. Enter the King, Queen, Hamlet, Polonius, Laertes, Voltimand, Cornelius, Lords, and Attendants. [106]

King. Though yet of Hamlet our dear brother's death^[107] The memory be green, and that it us befitted^[107][108] To bear our hearts in grief and our whole kingdom^[109] To be contracted in one brow of woe, Yet so far hath discretion fought with nature That we with wisest sorrow think on him, Together with remembrance of ourselves. Therefore our sometime sister, now our queen,^[110] The imperial jointress to this warlike state,^[111] Have we, as 'twere with a defeated joy,—

With an auspicious and a dropping eye, [112]
With mirth in funeral and with dirge in marriage,
In equal scale weighing delight and dole,—
Taken to wife: nor have we herein barr'd
Your better wisdoms, which have freely gone
With this affair along. For all, our thanks. [113]
Now follows, that you know, young Fortinbras, [114]
Holding a weak supposal of our worth,
Or thinking by our late dear brother's death
Our state to be disjoint and out of frame,
Colleagued with this dream of his advantage, [115]
He hath not fail'd to pester us with message,
Importing the surrender of those lands
Lost by his father, with all bonds of law, [116]
To our most valiant brother. So much for him. [117]
Now for ourself, and for this time of meeting:[118]
Thus much the business is: we have here writ
To Norway, uncle of young Fortinbras,—
Who, impotent and bed-rid, scarcely hears<sup>[119]</sup>
Of this his nephew's purpose,—to suppress
His further gait herein; in that the levies, [120]
The lists and full proportions, are all made
Out of his subject: and we here dispatch<sup>[121]</sup>
You, good Cornelius, and you, Voltimand, [122]
For bearers of this greeting to old Norway,<sup>[123]</sup>
Giving to you no further personal power<sup>[124]</sup>
To business with the king more than the scope [124]
Of these delated articles allow.[125]
Farewell, and let your haste commend your duty.[126]
Cor. } In that and all things will we show our duty.<sup>[127]</sup>
Vol. }
King. We doubt it nothing: heartily farewell. [128]
                                              [Exeunt Voltimand and Cornelius.
And now, Laertes, what's the news with you?[129]
You told us of some suit; what is't, Laertes?
You cannot speak of reason to the Dane,
And lose your voice: what wouldst thou beg, Laertes, [130]
That shall not be my offer, not thy asking?<sup>[131]</sup>
The head is not more native to the heart, [132]
The hand more instrumental to the mouth,
Than is the throne of Denmark to thy father. [133]
What wouldst thou have, Laertes?
Laer. My dread lord,[134]
Your leave and favour to return to France.
From whence though willingly I came to Denmark,
To show my duty in your coronation.
Yet now, I must confess, that duty done,
My thoughts and wishes bend again toward France<sup>[135]</sup>
And bow them to your gracious leave and pardon.
King. Have you your father's leave? What says Polonius?[136]
Pol. He hath, my lord, wrung from me my slow leave [137][138][139]
By laboursome petition, and at last<sup>[138][139][140]</sup>
Upon his will I seal'd my hard consent:[139]
I do beseech you, give him leave to go.
King. Take thy fair hour, Laertes; time be thine, [141]
And thy best graces spend it at thy will![141][142]
But now, my cousin Hamlet, and my son,—[143]
Ham. [Aside] A little more than kin, and less than kind. [144]
King. How is it that the clouds still hang on you?

Ham. Not so, my lord; I am too much i' the sun. [145]
                       Queen Good Hamlet, cast thy nighted colour off,[146]
                       And let thine eve look like a friend on Denmark.
                       Do not for ever with thy vailed lids<sup>[147]</sup>
                       Seek for thy noble father in the dust:
                       Thou know'st 'tis common; all that lives must die, [148]
                       Passing through nature to eternity.
                       Ham. Ay, madam, it is common.
                       Queen. If it be,
                       Why seems it so particular with thee?
                       Ham. Seems, madam! nay, it is; I know not 'seems.'
                       'Tis not alone my inky cloak, good mother,<sup>[149]</sup>
                       Nor customary suits of solemn black,
                       Nor windy suspiration of forced breath,
                       No, nor the fruitful river in the eye,
                       Nor the dejected haviour of the visage,
                       Together with all forms, moods, shapes of grief, [150]
                       That can denote me truly: these indeed seem,<sup>[151]</sup>
                       For they are actions that a man might play:
                       But I have that within which passes show:[152]
                       These but the trappings and the suits of woe.
                       King. 'Tis sweet and commendable in your nature, Hamlet, [153]
                       To give these mourning duties to your father:
                       But, you must know, your father lost a father,
                       That father lost, lost his, and the survivor bound<sup>[154]</sup>
                       In filial obligation for some term
                       To do obsequious sorrow: but to persever<sup>[155]</sup>
                       In obstinate condolement is a course<sup>[156]</sup>
                       Of impious stubbornness; 'tis unmanly grief: [156][157]
                       It shows a will most incorrect to heaven,
                       A heart unfortified, a mind impatient, [158]
                       An understanding simple and unschool'd:
                       For what we know must be and is as common
                       As any the most vulgar thing to sense,
                       Why should we in our peevish opposition
00
                       Take it to heart? Fie! 'tis a fault to heaven,
                       A fault against the dead, a fault to nature,
                       To reason most absurd, whose common theme<sup>[159]</sup>
                       Is death of fathers, and who still hath cried,
05
                       From the first corse till he that died to-day, [160]
                       'This must be so.' We pray you, throw to earth
                       This unprevailing woe, and think of us<sup>[161]</sup>
                       As of a father: for let the world take note, [162]
                       You are the most immediate to our throne,
                       And with no less nobility of love [163][164]
                       Than that which dearest father bears his son<sup>[164]</sup>
                       Do I impart toward you. For your intent<sup>[164][165]</sup>
                       In going back to school in Wittenberg,[166]
                       It is most retrograde to our desire:[167]
15
                       And we beseech you, bend you to remain<sup>[168]</sup>
                       Here in the cheer and comfort of our eye,
                       Our chiefest courtier, cousin and our son.
                       Queen. Let not thy mother lose her prayers, Hamlet:[169]
                       I pray thee, stay with us; go not to Wittenberg. [170]
2.0
                       Ham. I shall in all my best obey you, madam.[171]
                       King. Why, 'tis a loving and a fair reply: [172]
                       Be as ourself in Denmark. Madam, come;
                       This gentle and unforced accord of Hamlet
                       Sits smiling to my heart: in grace whereof,<sup>[173]</sup>
                       No jocund health that Denmark drinks to-day,

Ham. O, that this too too solid flesh would melt.[177]
30
                       Thaw and resolve itself into a dew!
                       Or that the Everlasting had not fix'd
                       His canon 'gainst self-slaughter! O God! God! [178]
                       How weary, stale, flat and unprofitable<sup>[179]</sup>
                       Seem to me all the uses of this world!<sup>[180]</sup> 35
                       Fie on't! ah fie! 'tis an unweeded garden, [181]
                       That grows to seed; things rank and gross in nature
                       Possess it merely. That it should come to this![182]
                       But two months dead! nay, not so much, not two:
                       So excellent a king; that was, to this, [183]
40
                       Hyperion to a satyr: so loving to my mother, [183][184]
                       That he might not beteem the winds of heaven<sup>[185]</sup>
                       Visit her face too roughly. Heaven and earth![186]
                       Must I remember? why, she would hang on him. [186][187]
                       As if increase of appetite had grown
45
                       By what it fed on: and yet, within a month—[188]
                       Let me not think on't—Frailty, thy name is woman!—[189]
                       A little month, or ere those shoes were old<sup>[190]</sup>
                       With which she follow'd my poor father's body, [191]
                       Like Niobe, all tears:—why she, even she,—[192]
50
                       O God! a beast, that wants discourse of reason,[193]
                       Would have mourn'd longer,—married with my uncle, [194]
                       My father's brother, but no more like my father<sup>[195]</sup>
                       Than I to Hercules: within a month;
                       Ere yet the salt of most unrighteous tears<sup>[196]</sup>

                       It is not, nor it cannot come to good:
                       But break, my heart, for I must hold my tongue! [199]
                                         Enter Horatio, Marcellus, and Bernardo.
                       Hor. Hail to your lordship!
                       Ham. I am glad to see you well:[200][201]

                       Horatio,—or I do forget myself.[201][202]
                       Hor. The same, my lord, and your poor servant ever. [203]
                       Ham. Sir, my good friend; I'll change that name with you: [204]
                       And what make you from Wittenberg, Horatio?
                       Marcellus?[205]
                       Mar. My good lord?[206]
                       Ham. I am very glad to see you. [To Ber.] Good even, sir. [207]
                       But what, in faith, make you from Wittenberg?<sup>[208]</sup>
                       Hor. A truant disposition, good my lord. [209]
70
                       Ham. I would not hear your enemy say so, [210]
                       Nor shall you do my ear that violence, [211]
                       To make it truster of your own report<sup>[212]</sup>
                       Against yourself: I know you are no truant.
                       But what is your affair in Elsinore?<sup>[213]</sup>
                       We'll teach you to drink deep ere you depart.[214]
                       Hor. My lord, I came to see your father's funeral.

Ham. I prethee, do not mock me, fellow-student;^[215] I think it was to see my mother's wedding.^[216]

Hor. Indeed, my lord, it follow'd hard upon. [217] 80 Ham. Thrift, thrift, Horatio! the funeral baked-meats Did coldly furnish forth the marriage tables. Would I had met my dearest foe in heaven Or ever I had seen that day, Horatio![218] My father!—methinks I see my father. Hor. O where, my lord? 85 Ham. In my mind's eye, Horatio.[219] Hor. I saw him once; he was a goodly king. [220] Ham. He was a man, take him for all in all, [220][221] I shall not look upon his like again. [222] Hor. My lord, I think I saw him yesternight. 90 Ham. Saw? Who?[223] Hor. My lord, the king your father. Ham. The king my father! Hor. Season your admiration for a while [224] With an attent ear, till I may deliver. [225] Upon the witness of these gentlemen, This marvel to you. 95 Ham. For God's love, let me hear.[226] Hor. Two nights together had these gentlemen. Marcellus and Bernardo, on their watch, In the dead vast and middle of the night, [227] Been thus encounter'd. A figure like your father, 00 Armed at point exactly, cap-a-pe, [228] Appears before them, and with solemn march Goes slow and stately by them: thrice he walk'd^[229] By their oppress'd and fear-surprised eyes,[230] Within his truncheon's length; whilst they, distill'd^[231] 0.5 Almost to jelly with the act of fear, [232] Stand dumb, and speak not to him. This to me In dreadful secrecy impart they did; [233] And I with them the third night kept the watch: Where, as they had deliver'd, both in time, [234] 10 Form of the thing, each word made true and good, The apparition comes: I knew your father; [235] These hands are not more like. Ham. But where was this? Mar. My lord, upon the platform where we watch'd. Ham. Did you not speak to it? Hor. My lord, I did,[236] :15 But answer made it none: yet once methought^[237] It lifted up its head and did address^[238] Itself to motion, like as it would speak: [239] But even then the morning cock crew loud, And at the sound it shrunk in haste away And vanish'd from our sight. 20 Ham. 'Tis very strange. Hor. As I do live, my honour'd lord, 'tis true, [240] And we did think it writ down in our duty^[241] To let you know of it.[242] Ham. Indeed, indeed, sirs, but this troubles me. [243] Hold you the watch to-night?

                       Hor. Nay, very pale.
                       Ham. And fix'd his eyes upon you?
                       Hor. Most constantly.

Mar. } We do, my lord. [244]

Scene III. A room in Polonius's house.

Enter Laertes and Ophelia. [268]

Laer. My necessaries are embark'd: farewell:<sup>[269]</sup> And, sister, as the winds give benefit And convoy is assistant, do not sleep,<sup>[270]</sup> But let me hear from you.

Oph. Do you doubt that?

Laer. For Hamlet, and the trifling of his favour, [271] Hold it a fashion, and a toy in blood, A violet in the youth of primy nature, [272] Forward, not permanent, sweet, not lasting, [273] The perfume and suppliance of a minute; [274] No more.

Oph. No more but so?

Laer. Think it no more:[275] For nature crescent does not grow alone^[276] In thews and bulk; but, as this temple waxes, [277] The inward service of the mind and soul^[278] Grows wide withal. Perhaps he loves you now; And now no soil nor cautel doth besmirch^[279] The virtue of his will: but you must fear, [280] His greatness weigh'd, his will is not his own; [281] For he himself is subject to his birth: [282] He may not, as unvalued persons do. [283] Carve for himself, for on his choice depends^[284] The safety and health of this whole state, [285] And therefore must his choice be circumscribed Unto the voice and yielding of that body Whereof he is the head. Then if he says he loves you, [286] It fits your wisdom so far to believe it As he in his particular act and place^[287] May give his saying deed; which is no further Than the main voice of Denmark goes withal. Then weigh what loss your honour may sustain, [288] If with too credent ear you list his songs, [289] Or lose your heart, or your chaste treasure open^[290] To his unmaster'd importunity.[291] Fear it, Ophelia, fear it, my dear sister, And keep you in the rear of your affection, [292] Out of the shot and danger of desire. The chariest maid is prodigal enough, If she unmask her beauty to the moon: Virtue itself 'scapes not calumnious strokes: The canker galls the infants of the spring^[293] Too oft before their buttons be disclosed. [294] And in the morn and liquid dew of youth Contagious blastments are most imminent. Be wary then; best safety lies in fear: Youth to itself rebels, though none else near.

Oph. I shall the effect of this good lesson keep,^[295] As watchman to my heart. But, good my brother,^[296] Do not, as some ungracious pastors do,
Show me the steep and thorny way to heaven,^[297] Whilst, like a puff'd and reckless libertine,^[298] Himself the primrose path of dalliance treads^[299] And recks not his own rede.^[300]

 $\it Laer.$ O, fear me not. I stay too long: but here my father comes.

A double blessing is a double grace; [302]
                      Occasion smiles upon a second leave.
                      Pol. Yet here, Laertes! Aboard, aboard, for shame![303]
                      The wind sits in the shoulder of your sail,
                      And you are stay'd for. There; my blessing with thee! [304]
                      And these few precepts in thy memory
                      Look thou character. Give thy thoughts no tongue. [305]
                      Nor any unproportion'd thought his act.
                      Be thou familiar, but by no means vulgar.
                      Those friends thou hast, and their adoption tried, [306]
                      Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel, [307]
                      But do not dull thy palm with entertainment<sup>[308]</sup>
                      Of each new-hatch'd, unfledged comrade. Beware [309]
                      Of entrance to a quarrel; but being in,
                      Bear't, that th' opposed may beware of thee. [310]
                      Give every man thy ear, but few thy voice:[311]
                      Take each man's censure, but reserve thy judgement.
                      Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy,
                      But not express'd in fancy; rich, not gaudy:
                      For the apparel oft proclaims the man;
                      And they in France of the best rank and station
                      Are of a most select and generous chief in that. [312]
                      Neither a borrower nor a lender be:[313]
                      For loan oft loses both itself and friend,[314]
                      And borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry. [315]
                      This above all: to thine own self be true,
                      And it must follow, as the night the day, [316]
                      Thou canst not then be false to any man.
                      Farewell: my blessing season this in thee![317]
                      Laer. Most humbly do I take my leave, my lord. [318]
                      Pol. The time invites you; go, your servants tend. [319]
                      Laer. Farewell, Ophelia, and remember well
                      What I have said to you.
                      Oph. 'Tis in my memory lock'd, [320]
                      And you yourself shall keep the key of it.
                      Laer. Farewell.
                                                                                            [Exit.[321]
                      Pol. What is't, Ophelia, he hath said to you?[322]
                      Oph. So please you, something touching the Lord Hamlet. [323]
                      Pol. Marry, well bethought:
                      'Tis told me, he hath very oft of late
                      Given private time to you, and you yourself
                      Have of your audience been most free and bounteous:
                      If it be so—as so 'tis put on me,
                      And that in way of caution—I must tell you,
                      You do not understand yourself so clearly
                      As it behoves my daughter and your honour.
                      What is between you? give me up the truth.[324]
                      Oph. He hath, my lord, of late made many tenders
00
                      Of his affection to me.
                      Pol. Affection! pooh! you speak like a green girl, [325]
                      Unsifted in such perilous circumstance. [326]
                      Do you believe his tenders, as you call them?
                      Oph. I do not know, my lord, what I should think.
05
                      Pol. Marry, I'll teach you: think yourself a baby, [327]
                      That you have ta'en these tenders for true pay, [328]
                      Which are not sterling. Tender yourself more dearly; [329]
                      Or-not to crack the wind of the poor phrase,

Running it thus—you'll tender me a fool. [330]

Why, what should be the fear?[397] I do not set my life at a pin's fee; [398] And for my soul, what can it do to that, Being a thing immortal as itself?^[399] It waves me forth again: I'll follow it. Ham. Haste me to know't, that I, with wings as swift [435]
As meditation or the thoughts of love, [436]
May sweep to my revenge.[437]
Ghost. I find thee apt:
And duller shouldst thou be than the fat weed<sup>[438][439]</sup>
That roots itself in ease on Lethe wharf.[440]
Wouldst thou not stir in this. Now, Hamlet, hear:[440]
'Tis given out that, sleeping in my orchard, [441]
A serpent stung me; so the whole ear of Denmark<sup>[442]</sup>
Is by a forged process of my death
Rankly abused: but know, thou noble youth, [443]
The serpent that did sting thy father's life<sup>[444]</sup>
Now wears his crown.
Ham. O my prophetic soul![445]
My uncle![445][446]
Ghost. Ay, that incestuous, that adulterate beast, [447]
With witchcraft of his wit, with traitorous gifts,—[448]
O wicked wit and gifts, that have the power<sup>[449]</sup>
So to seduce!—won to his shameful lust<sup>[450]</sup>
The will of my most seeming-virtuous queen:[451]
O Hamlet, what a falling-off was there![452]
From me, whose love was of that dignity
That it went hand in hand even with the vow
I made to her in marriage; and to decline<sup>[453]</sup>
Upon a wretch, whose natural gifts were poor
To those of mine![454][455]
But virtue, as it never will be moved, [454]
Though lewdness court it in a shape of heaven,
So lust, though to a radiant angel link'd, [456]
Will sate itself in a celestial bed<sup>[457][458]</sup>
And prey on garbage. [457][459]
But, soft! methinks I scent the morning air; [460]
Brief let me be. Sleeping within my orchard, [461]
My custom always of the afternoon, [462]
Upon my secure hour thy uncle stole, [463]
With juice of cursed hebenon in a vial, [464]
And in the porches of my ears did pour<sup>[465]</sup>
The leperous distilment; whose effect<sup>[466]</sup>
Holds such an enmity with blood of man<sup>[466]</sup>
That swift as quicksilver it courses through
The natural gates and alleys of the body; [467]
And with a sudden vigour it doth posset<sup>[468]</sup>
And curd, like eager droppings into milk, [469]
The thin and wholesome blood: so did it mine;
And a most instant tetter bark'd about, [470]
Most lazar-like, with vile and loathsome crust,
All my smooth body.
Thus was I, sleeping, by a brother's hand

                       Of life, of crown, of queen, at once dispatch'd:[471]
                       Cut off even in the blossoms of my sin, [472]
                       Unhousel'd, disappointed, unanel'd: [473]
                       No reckoning made, but sent to my account
                       With all my imperfections on my head: [474]
                       O, horrible! O, horrible! most horrible! [475]
                       If thou hast nature in thee, bear it not;
                       Let not the royal bed of Denmark be
                       A couch for luxury and damned incest.
                       But, howsoever thou pursuest this act, [476]
                       Taint not thy mind, nor let thy soul contrive<sup>[477]</sup>
                       Against thy mother aught: leave her to heaven,
                       And to those thorns that in her bosom lodge,
                       To prick and sting her. Fare thee well at once!
                       The glow-worm shows the matin to be near, [478]
                       And 'gins to pale his uneffectual fire:
10
                       Adieu, adieu, adieu! remember me.
                                                                                               [Exit.[479]
                       Ham. O all you host of heaven! O earth! what else?
                       And shall I couple hell? O, fie! Hold, hold, my heart: [480]
                       And you, my sinews, grow not instant old,
                       But bear me stiffly up. Remember thee![481][482]
                       Ay, thou poor ghost, while memory holds a seat<sup>[483]</sup>
                       In this distracted globe. Remember thee! [482]
                       Yea, from the table of my memory
                       I'll wipe away all trivial fond records,
00
                       All saws of books, all forms, all pressures past, [484]
                       That youth and observation copied there:
                       And thy commandment all alone shall live
                       Within the book and volume of my brain,
                       Unmix'd with baser matter: yes, by heaven![485]
                       O most pernicious woman![486]
                       0 villain, villain, smiling, damned villain!
                       My tables,—meet it is I set it down.[487][488]
                       That one may smile, and smile, and be a villain; [488]

                       So, uncle, there you are. Now to my word: [488]
                       It is 'Adieu, adieu! remember me.' [488] [490] [491]
                       I have sworn't. [488][490][492]

                       Mar. Illo, ho, ho, my lord![496]

                       Mar. How is't, my noble lord?
                       Hor. What news, my lord?[498]
                       Ham. O, wonderful![499]
                       Hor. Good my lord, tell it.
                       Ham. No; you will reveal it. [500]
                       Hor. Not I, my lord, by heaven.
                       Mar. Nor I, my lord.
20
                       Ham. How say you, then; would heart of man once think it? [501]

Hor.} Ay, by heaven, my lord.
                      Mar.}
                      Ham. There's ne'er a villain dwelling in all Denmark<sup>[503][504]</sup>
                      But he's an arrant knave. [504][505]
25
                      Hor. There needs no ghost, my lord, come from the grave<sup>[506]</sup>
                      To tell us this. [506][507]
                      Ham. Why, right; you are i' the right;
                      And so, without more circumstance at all,
                      I hold it fit that we shake hands and part:
                      You, as your business and desire shall point you; [508]
30
                      For every man hath business and desire, [509]
                      Such as it is; and for my own poor part, [510]
                      Look you, I'll go pray. [511]
                      Hor. These are but wild and whirling words, my lord. [512]
                      Ham. I'm sorry they offend you, heartily; [513]
                      Yes, faith, heartily, [514]
35
                      Hor. There's no offence, my lord.
                      Ham. Yes, by Saint Patrick, but there is, Horatio, [515]
                      And much offence too. Touching this vision here, [516]
                      It is an honest ghost, that let me tell you:
                      For your desire to know what is between us,
40
                      O'ermaster't as you may. And now, good friends, [517]
                      As you are friends, scholars and soldiers,
                      Give me one poor request.
                      Hor. What is't, my lord? we will. [518]
                      Ham. Never make known what you have seen to-night.
                      Mar. My lord, we will not.
                      Ham. Nay, but swear't.
                      Hor. In faith. [519][520]
45
                      My lord, not I.[520]
                      Mar. Nor I, my lord, in faith.
                      Ham. Upon my sword.
                      Mar. We have sworn, my lord, already. [521]
                      Ham. Indeed, upon my sword, indeed. [522]
                      Ghost. [Beneath] Swear. [523]
50
                      Ham. Ah, ha, boy! say'st thou so? art thou there, true-penny?[524][525]
                      Come on: you hear this fellow in the cellarage: [524][526]
                      Consent to swear.
                      Hor. Propose the oath, my lord. [527]
                      Ham. Never to speak of this that you have seen, [528]
                      Swear by my sword.
                      Ghost. [Beneath] Swear. [529]
                      Ham. Hic et ubique? then we'll shift our ground. [530]
                      Come hither, gentlemen, [531]
                      And lay your hands again upon my sword: [531]
                      Never to speak of this that you have heard, [531][532]
60
                      Swear by my sword. [531]
                      Ghost. [Beneath] Swear. [529][533]

Ham. Well said, old mole! canst work i' the earth so fast?[534] A worthy pioner! Once more remove, good friends. [535] Hor. O day and night, but this is wondrous strange! Ham. And therefore as a stranger give it welcome. [536] There are more things in heaven and earth, Horatio, Than are dreamt of in your philosophy. [They swear.] So, gentlemen, [554] With all my love I do commend me to you: [555] And what so poor a man as Hamlet is May do, to express his love and friending to you, [556] God willing, shall not lack. Let us go in together; [557] And still your fingers on your lips, I pray. [558] The time is out of joint: O cursed spite, That ever I was born to set it right!^[559] Nay, come, let's go together. ACT II.

Scene I. A room in Polonius's house.

Enter Polonius and Reynaldo. [560]

Pol. Give him this money and these notes, Reynaldo. [561][562]

Rey. I will, my lord.

Pol. You shall do marvellous wisely, good Reynaldo, [562][563] Before you visit him, to make inquire [564] Of his behaviour.

Rey. My lord, I did intend it.

Pol. Marry, well said, very well said. Look you, sir, [565] Inquire me first what Danskers are in Paris, [566] And how, and who, what means, and where they keep, What company, at what expense, and finding [567] By this encompassment and drift of question That they do know my son, come you more nearer [568] Than your particular demands will touch it: [568] Take you, as 'twere, some distant knowledge of him, As thus, 'I know his father and his friends, [569] And in part him: 'do you mark this, Reynaldo? [562]

Rev. Ay, very well, my lord.

Pol. 'And in part him; but,' you may say, 'not well: But if't be he I mean, he's very wild,^[570] Addicted so and so;' and there put on him What forgeries you please; marry, none so rank As may dishonour him; take heed of that; But, sir, such wanton, wild and usual slips As are companions noted and most known To youth and liberty.

Rev. As gaming, my lord.

Pol. Ay, or drinking, fencing, swearing, quarrelling, [571][572] Drabbing: you may go so far. [571]

Rey. My lord, that would dishonour him.

Pol. Faith, no; as you may season it in the charge. [573]
You must not put another scandal on him, [574]
That he is open to incontinency; [575]
That's not my meaning: but breathe his faults so quaintly
That they may seem the taints of liberty,
The flash and outbreak of a fiery mind,
A savageness in unreclaimed blood, [576][577]
Of general assault. [576]

Rev. But, my good lord,—[578]

Pol. Wherefore should you do this?

Rey. Ay, my lord, [579][580] I would know that. [579]

Pol. Marry, sir, here's my drift,
And I believe it is a fetch of warrant:^[581]
You laying these slight sullies on my son,^[582]
As 'twere a thing a little soil'd i' the working,^[583]
Mark you,^{[584][585]}
Your party in converse, him you would sound,^{[584][586]}

Having ever seen in the prenominate crimes<sup>[587]</sup>
The youth you breathe of guilty, be assured<sup>[588]</sup>
He closes with you in this consequence; [589]
'Good sir,' or so, or 'friend,' or 'gentleman,'[590]
According to the phrase or the addition<sup>[591]</sup>
Of man and country.
Rey. Very good, my lord.
Pol. And then, sir, does he this—he does—what was I<sup>[592][593]</sup> about to say? By the mass, I was about to say something: [592][594] where did I leave?<sup>[592]</sup>
Rey. At 'closes in the consequence,' at 'friend or so,' [595] and 'gentleman.' [595]
Pol. At 'closes in the consequence,' ay, marry; [596]
He closes with you thus: 'I know the gentleman; [597]
I saw him yesterday, or t'other day, [598]
Or then, or then, with such, or such, and, as you say, [599]
There was a' gaming, there o'ertook in's rouse. [600]
There falling out at tennis: or perchance. [601]
'I saw him enter such a house of sale,'[602]
Videlicet, a brothel, or so forth. [603]
See you now;[603]
Your bait of falsehood takes this carp of truth: [604]
And thus do we of wisdom and of reach,
With windlasses and with assays of bias, [605]
By indirections find directions out: [606]
So, by my former lecture and advice, [607]
Shall you my son. You have me, have you not?
Rey. My lord, I have.
Pol. God be wi' ye; fare ye well. [608]
Rev. Good my lord![609]
Pol. Observe his inclination in yourself. [610]
Rev. I shall, my lord.
Pol. And let him ply his music.
Rev. Well, my lord.
Pol. Farewell!
                                                                   [Exit Reynaldo.
                              Enter Ophelia. [611]
                       How now, Ophelia! what's the matter?
Oph. O, my lord, my lord, I have been so affrighted!<sup>[612]</sup>
Pol. With what, i' the name of God?[613]
Oph. My lord, as I was sewing in my closet, [614]
Lord Hamlet, with his doublet all unbraced, [615]
No hat upon his head, his stockings foul'd, [616]
Ungarter'd and down-gyved to his ancle: [617]
Pale as his shirt, his knees knocking each other,
And with a look so piteous in purport
As if he had been loosed out of hell
To speak of horrors, he comes before me. [618]
Pol. Mad for thy love?
Oph. My lord, I do not know,[619]
But truly I do fear it. [619]

Oph. He took me by the wrist and held me hard; [620] Then goes he to the length of all his arm, And with his other hand thus o'er his brow, He falls to such perusal of my face
As he would draw it. Long stay'd he so; [621]
At last, a little shaking of mine arm, [622]
And thrice his head thus waving up and down, He raised a sigh so piteous and profound [623]
As it did seem to shatter all his bulk [624]
And end his being: that done, he lets me go; [625]
And with his head over his shoulder turn'd, [626]
He seem'd to find his way without his eyes;
For out o' doors he went without their helps, [627]
And to the last bended their light on me.

Pol. Come, go with me: I will go seek the king. [628] This is the very ecstasy of love; Whose violent property fordoes itself [629] And leads the will to desperate undertakings As oft as any passion under heaven [630] That does afflict our natures. I am sorry. What, have you given him any hard words of late?

Oph. No, my good lord, but, as you did command, I did repel his letters and denied His access to me.

Pol. That hath made him mad.

I am sorry that with better heed and judgement^[631]
I had not quoted him: I fear'd he did but trifle^[632]
And meant to wreck thee; but beshrew my jealousy!^[633]
By heaven, it is as proper to our age^[634]
To cast beyond ourselves in our opinions
As it is common for the younger sort

To lack discretion. Come, go we to the king: [635]

This must be known; which, being kept close, might move^[636] More grief to hide than hate to utter love.^[637]

Come. [Exeunt. [638]

Scene II. A room in the castle.

Flourish. Enter King, Queen, Rosencrantz, Guildenstern, and Attendants. [639]

King. Welcome, dear Rosencrantz and Guildenstern![640][641] Moreover that we much did long to see you, The need we have to use you did provoke Our hasty sending. Something have you heard [642] Of Hamlet's transformation; so call it, [643] Sith nor the exterior nor the inward man^[644] Resembles that it was. What it should be, More than his father's death, that thus hath put him So much from th' understanding of himself, I cannot dream of: I entreat you both, [645] That, being of so young days brought up with him And sith so neighbour'd to his youth and haviour, [646] That you vouchsafe your rest here in our court Some little time: so by your companies To draw him on to pleasures, and to gather So much as from occasion you may glean, [647] Whether aught to us unknown afflicts him thus, [648] That open'd lies within our remedy. [649]

Queen. Good gentlemen, he hath much talk'd of you, And sure I am two men there are not living^[650] To whom he more adheres. If it will please you To show us so much gentry and good will^[651]

As to expend your time with us awhile [652] For the supply and profit of our hope, Your visitation shall receive such thanks^[653] As fits a king's remembrance. Ros. Both your majesties Might, by the sovereign power you have of us, [654] Put your dread pleasures more into command Than to entreaty. Guil. But we both obey, [655] And here give up ourselves, in the full bent To lay our service freely at your feet, [656] To be commanded. [657] King. Thanks, Rosencrantz and gentle Guildenstern. [640][641] $\it Queen.$ Thanks, Guildenstern and gentle Rosencrantz: [640][641] And I beseech you instantly to visit My too much changed son. Go, some of you, [658] And bring these gentlemen where Hamlet is. [659] Guil. Heavens make our presence and our practices Pleasant and helpful to him! Queen. Ay, amen! [Exeunt Rosencrantz, Guildenstern, and some Attendants. [660] Enter Polonius. Pol. The ambassadors from Norway, my good lord, Are joyfully return'd. King. Thou still hast been the father of good news. Pol. Have I, my lord? I assure my good liege, [661] I hold my duty as I hold my soul, Both to my God and to my gracious king: [662] And I do think, or else this brain of mine Hunts not the trail of policy so sure [663] As it hath used to do, that I have found [664] The very cause of Hamlet's lunacy. King. O, speak of that; that do I long to hear. [665] Pol. Give first admittance to the ambassadors; My news shall be the fruit to that great feast. [666] King. Thyself do grace to them, and bring them in. [Exit Polonius. [667] He tells me, my dear Gertrude, he hath found^[668] The head and source of all your son's distemper. Queen. I doubt it is no other but the main; His father's death and our o'erhasty marriage. [669] King. Well, we shall sift him. Re-enter Polonius, with Voltimand and Cornelius. Welcome, my good friends![670] Say, Voltimand, what from our brother Norway?^[671] Volt. Most fair return of greetings and desires. Upon our first, he sent out to suppress His nephew's levies, which to him appear'd^[672] To be a preparation 'gainst the Polack, [673] But better look'd into, he truly found It was against your highness: whereat grieved, That so his sickness, age and impotence

	Was falsely borne in hand, sends out arrests On Fortinbras; which he, in brief, obeys, Receives rebuke from Norway, and in fine
0	Makes vow before his uncle never more To give the assay of arms against your majesty. Whereon old Norway, overcome with joy,
'5	Gives him three thousand crowns in annual fee ^[674] And his commission to employ those soldiers, So levied as before, against the Polack: ^[673]
	With an entreaty, herein further shown, That it might please you to give quiet pass Through your dominions for this enterprise, ^[676]	[Giving a paper. ^[675]
	On such regards of safety and allowance As therein are set down. ^[677]
0	King. It likes us well,
	And at our more consider'd time we'll read, ^[678] Answer, and think upon this business. ^[679] Meantime we thank you for your well-took labour:
	Go to your rest; at night we'll feast together: [680]
	Most welcome home!	[Exeunt Voltimand and
5	Pol. This business is well ended. ^[681]	Cornelius.
	My liege, and madam, to expostulate What majesty should be, what duty is,
	Why day is day, night night, and time is time,
10	Were nothing but to waste night, day and time.
,0	Therefore, since brevity is the soul of wit ^[682] And tediousness the limbs and outward flourishes, ^[683]
	I will be brief. Your noble son is mad:
	Mad call I it; for, to define true madness, [684]
	What is't but to be nothing else but mad? ^[685] But let that go.
15	Queen. More matter, with less art.
	Pol. Madam, I swear I use no art at all.
	That he is mad, 'tis true: 'tis true 'tis pity, ^[686] And pity 'tis 'tis true: a foolish figure; ^[687]
	But farewell it, for I will use no art. ^[688]
00	Mad let us grant him then: and now remains That we find out the gaves of this effect [689]
	That we find out the cause of this effect, [689] Or rather say, the cause of this defect, For this effect defective comes by cause:
05	Thus it remains and the remainder thus. $[690][691]$ Perpend. $[690][692]$
	I have a daughter,—have while she is mine,— ^[693]
	Who in her duty and obedience, mark,	[604]
	Hath given me this: now gather and surmise. 'To the celestial, and my soul's idol, the most beautified Ophelia,'—[695]	[Reads. ^[694]
10	That's an ill phrase, a vile phrase; 'beautified' is a vile phrase: but you shall hear. Thus:	[Reads. ^{[697][698]}
	'In her excellent white bosom, these,' &c. [697][699]	[Reads.
	Queen. Came this from Hamlet to her?
15	Pol. Good madam, stay awhile; I will be faithful. 'Doubt thou the stars are fire;	[Reads. ^[700]
13	Doubt that the sun doth move;
	Doubt truth to be a liar;
	But never doubt I love. 'O dear Ophelia, I am ill at these numbers; I have not 20	art to reckon my groans: but that I love thee best, O most	;
	best, believe it. Adieu. 'Thine evermore, most dear lady, whilst this machine is to him, Hamlet.'[701]
25	This in obedience hath my daughter shown me; ^[702]
25	And more above, hath his solicitings, [703] As they fell out by time, by means and place,

King. But how hath she^[704] Received his love?^[704] Pol. What do you think of me? King. As of a man faithful and honourable. Pol. I would fain prove so. But what might you think, [705] When I had seen this hot love on the wing,—[706] As I perceived it, I must tell you that, Before my daughter told me,—what might you, Or my dear majesty your queen here, think, [707] If I had play'd the desk or table-book, [708] Or given my heart a winking, mute and dumb, [709] Or look'd upon this love with idle sight; What might you think? No, I went round to work, And my young mistress thus I did bespeak: [710] 40 'Lord Hamlet is a prince, out of thy star;^[711] This must not be: and then I prescripts gave her, [712] That she should lock herself from his resort, [713] Admit no messengers, receive no tokens. Which done, she took the fruits of my advice;^[714] And he repulsed, a short tale to make. [714][715] Fell into a sadness, then into a fast. [716] Thence to a watch, thence into a weakness, [717][718] Thence to a lightness, and by this $declension^{[718][719]}$ Into the madness wherein now he raves^[720] And all we mourn for.^[721] King. Do you think this? Queen. It may be, very like. [722] Pol. Hath there been such a time, I'ld fain know that, [723] That I have positively said "tis so," When it proved otherwise? King. Not that I know. Pol. [Pointing to his head and shoulder] Take this from this, if this be otherwise:[724] If circumstances lead me, I will find Where truth is hid, though it were hid indeed Within the centre. King. How may we try it further?^[725] Pol. You know, sometimes he walks four hours together^{[726][727]} Here in the lobby. [726] 60 Queen. So he does, indeed. [728] Pol. At such a time I'll loose my daughter to him: Be you and I behind an arras then; [729][730] Mark the encounter: if he love her not, [729] And be not from his reason fall'n thereon, Let me be no assistant for a state, But keep a farm and carters.^[731] King. We will try it. Queen. But look where sadly the poor wretch comes reading. [732] Pol. Away, I do beseech you, both away: [733] I'll board him presently. [Exeunt King, Queen, and Attendants.

Enter Hamlet, reading.[734]

All given to mine ear.

70 O, give me leave: how does my good Lord Hamlet?^[735] Ham. Well, God-a-mercy. Pol. Do you know me, my lord? Ham. Excellent well; you are a fishmonger. [736] Pol. Not I, my lord. Ham. Then I would you were so honest a man. 75 Pol. Honest, my lord!^[737] Ham. Ay, sir; to be honest, as this world goes, is to [738] be one man picked out of ten thousand. [738][739] Pol. That's very true, my lord. 80 Ham. For if the sun breed maggots in a dead dog, [740] being a god kissing carrion—Have you a daughter?^[741] Pol. I have, my lord. Ham. Let her not walk i' the sun: conception is a blessing; but as your daughter may conceive,—friend, look^[742] 85 to't. Pol. [Aside] How say you by that? Still harping on [743] my daughter: yet he knew me not at first; he said I was a^{[743][744][745]} fishmonger: he is far gone: and truly in my vouth $I^{[743][745][746][747]}$ suffered much extremity for love; very near this. I'll^{[743][746][748]} 90 speak to him again. What do you read, my lord?[743][746][749] Ham. Words, words, words. Pol. What is the matter, my lord?^[749] Ham. Between who?^[750] Pol. I mean, the matter that you read, my lord. [751] 95 Ham. Slanders, sir: for the satirical roque says here that [752] old men have grey beards, that their faces are wrinkled, their eyes purging thick amber and plum-tree gum, and [753] that they have a plentiful lack of wit, together with most^[754] weak hams: all which, sir, though I most powerfully and :00 potently believe, yet I hold it not honesty to have it thus set down; for yourself, sir, shall grow old as I am, if like a^[755] crab you could go backward. Pol. [Aside] Though this be madness, yet there is [756][757][758] method in't. Will you walk out of the air, my lord?^[757] 0.5 Ham. Into my grave. [759] Pol. Indeed, that's out of the air. [Aside] How pregnant [760][761] sometimes his replies are! a happiness that often madness^{[760][762]} hits on, which reason and sanity could not so prosperously [760][763][764] be delivered of. I will leave him, and suddenly contrive [760][764][765][766] the means of meeting between him and my daughter. My^{[760][766][767]} 10 honourable lord, I will most humbly take my leave of you. [760][767] Ham. You cannot, sir, take from me any thing that I^[768] will more willingly part withal: except my life, except my [769][770] life, except my life, [770] 15 Pol. Fare you well, my lord. Ham. These tedious old fools!

Enter Rosencrantz and Guildenstern. [771]

Pol. You go to seek the Lord Hamlet; there he is. [772]
                        Ros. [To Polonius] God save you, sir!
                                                                                         [Exit Polonius.[773]
                        Guil. My honoured lord![774]
20
                        Ros. My most dear lord!
                        Ham. My excellent good friends! How dost thou, Guildenstern?<sup>[775]</sup>
                        Ah. Rosencrantz! Good lads, how do you both?<sup>[776]</sup>
                        Ros. As the indifferent children of the earth.
                        Guil. Happy, in that we are not over-happy; [777]
                        On Fortune's cap we are not the very button. [777][778]
                        Ham. Nor the soles of her shoe?<sup>[779]</sup>
                        Ros. Neither, my lord.
                        Ham. Then you live about her waist, or in the middle<sup>[780]</sup> of her favours?[781]
:30
                        Guil. Faith, her privates we. [782]
                        Ham. In the secret parts of Fortune? O, most true;
                        she is a strumpet. What's the news?<sup>[783]</sup>
                        Ros. None, my lord, but that the world's grown honest. [784]
                        Ham. Then is doomsday near: but your news is not<sup>[785]</sup> true. Let me question more in particular: what have you, [786] my good friends, deserved at the hands of Fortune, that she<sup>[786]</sup> sends you to prison hither?<sup>[786]</sup>
35
                        Guil. Prison, my lord!<sup>[786]</sup>
                        Ham. Denmark's a prison. [786]
40
                        Ros. Then is the world one. [786]
                        Ham. A goodly one; in which there are many confines, [786] wards and dungeons, Denmark being one o' the worst. [786][787]
                        Ros. We think not so, my lord. [786]
                        Ham. Why, then 'tis none to you; for there is nothing [786][788] either good or bad, but thinking makes it so: to me it is a [786][788] 45
                        prison [786]
                        Ros. Why, then your ambition makes it one; 'tis too<sup>[786]</sup> narrow for your mind. [786]
                        Ham. O God, I could be bounded in a nut-shell and [786]
50 count myself a king of infinite space, were it not that I<sup>[786]</sup> have bad dreams.[786][789]
                        Guil. Which dreams indeed are ambition; for the very<sup>[786]</sup> substance of the ambitious is merely the shadow of a dream.<sup>[786]</sup>
                        Ham. A dream itself is but a shadow. [786]
:55
                        Ros. Truly, and I hold ambition of so airy and light a [786] quality that it is but a shadow's shadow. [786]
                        Ham. Then are our beggars bodies, and our monarchs [786] and outstretched heroes the beggars' shadows. Shall we to [786] the court? for, by my fay, I cannot reason. [786][790]

60 Ros. Guil. We'll wait upon you. [786][791] Ham. No such matter: I will not sort you with the rest^[786] of my servants; for, to speak to you like an honest man, I^[786] am most dreadfully attended. But, in the beaten way of [786] friendship, what make you at Elsinore?^{[792][793]} Ros. To visit you, my lord; no other occasion. 65 Ham. Beggar that I am, I am even poor in thanks; but^[794] I thank you: and sure, dear friends, my thanks are too dear a halfpenny. Were you not sent for? Is it your own^[795] inclining? Is it a free visitation? Come, deal justly with me: [796] 70 come, come; nay, speak. Guil. What should we say, my lord? Ham. Why, any thing, but to the purpose. You were [797] sent for; and there is a kind of confession in your looks, [798] which your modesties have not craft enough to colour: I :75 know the good king and gueen have sent for you. Ros. To what end, my lord? Ham. That you must teach me. But let me conjure you, by the rights of our fellowship, by the consonancy of our [799] youth, by the obligation of our ever-preserved love, and by [800] 80 what more dear a better proposer could charge you withal, be [801] even and direct with me, whether you were sent for, or no. [802] Ros. [Aside to Guil.] What say you? [803] Ham. [Aside] Nay then, I have an eye of you.—If you^{[804][805]} love me, hold not off.[804] 85 Guil. My lord, we were sent for. Ham. I will tell you why; so shall my anticipation prevent your discovery, and your secrecy to the king and queen^{[806][807]} moult no feather. I have of late—but wherefore I know not—lost^{[807][808]} all my mirth, foregone all custom of exercises; and indeed^[809] 90 it goes so heavily with my disposition that this goodly^[810] frame, the earth, seems to me a sterile promontory; this most excellent canopy, the air, look you, this brave o'erhanging^[811] firmament, this majestical roof fretted with golden fire, why, [812] it appears no other thing to me than a foul and pestilent^[813] 95 congregation of vapours. What a piece of work is a man! [814] how noble in reason! how infinite in faculty! in form and [815][816] moving how express and admirable! in action how like an [816] angel! in apprehension how like a god! the beauty of the [816] world! the paragon of animals! And yet, to me, what is this 00 quintessence of dust? man delights not me; no, nor woman^[817] neither, though by your smiling you seem to sav so. [818] Ros. My lord, there was no such stuff in my thoughts. Ham. Why did you laugh then, when I said 'man^[819] delights not me'? 0.5 Ros. To think, my lord, if you delight not in man, what lenten entertainment the players shall receive from you: [820] we coted them on the way; and hither are they coming, to [821] offer you service. Ham. He that plays the king shall be welcome; his 10 majesty shall have tribute of me; the adventurous knight^[822] shall use his foil and target; the lover shall not sigh gratis; [823] the humourous man shall end his part in peace: the clown^[824] shall make those laugh whose lungs are tickled o' the sere, [824][825] and the lady shall say her mind freely, or the blank verse^[826] 15 shall halt for't. What players are they? Ros. Even those you were wont to take such delight^[827] in, the tragedians of the city.^[828] Ham. How chances it they travel? their residence, [829] both in reputation and profit, was better both ways. [830] 20 Ros. I think their inhibition comes by the means of the [831][832] late innovation.[831][833] Ham. Do they hold the same estimation they did when [834] I was in the city? are they so followed? Ros. No, indeed, are they not. [835] 25 Ham. How comes it? do they grow rusty?[836] Ros. Nay, their endeavour keeps in the wonted pace: [836] but there is, sir, an eyrie of children, little evases, that crv^{[836][837]} out on the top of question and are most tyranically clapped [836][838] for't: these are now the fashion, and so berattle the common^{[836][839]} 30 stages—so they call them—that many wearing rapiers^{[836][840]} are afraid of goose-guills, and dare scarce come thither. [836] Ham. What, are they children? who maintains 'em?[836][841] how are they escoted? Will they pursue the quality no [836] longer than they can sing? will they not say afterwards, if [836] 35 they should grow themselves to common players,—as it is [836][842] most like, if their means are no better,—their writers do them^{[836][843]} wrong, to make them exclaim against their own succession?[836][844] Ros. Faith, there has been much to do on both sides, [836] and the nation holds it no sin to tarre them to controversy:[836] 40 there was for a while no money bid for argument unless^[836] the poet and the player went to cuffs in the question.^[836] Ham. Is't possible?[836] Guil. O, there has been much throwing about of brains.^[836] Ham. Do the boys carry it away?[836] Ros. Ay, that they do, my lord; Hercules and his load too. [836][845] 45 Ham. It is not very strange; for my uncle is king of [846] Denmark, and those that would make mows at him while [847] my father lived, give twenty, forty, fifty, a hundred ducats^[848] a-piece, for his picture in little. 'Sblood, there is something^[849] 50 in this more than natural, if philosophy could find it out. [850] [Flourish of trumpets within. Guil. There are the players.^[851] Ham. Gentlemen, you are welcome to Elsinore. Your^[793] hands, come then: the appurtenance of welcome is fashion^[852] and ceremony: let me comply with you in this garb, lest[853][854] my extent to the players, which, I tell you, must show^{[854][855]} 55 fairly outwards, should more appear like entertainment^[856] than yours. You are welcome: but my uncle-father and aunt-mother are deceived. Guil. In what, my dear lord? Ham. I am but mad north-north-west: when the wind 60 is southerly I know a hawk from a handsaw. [857]

${\it Enter}$ Polonius.

	Pol. Well be with you, gentlemen! ^[858]
65	Ham. Hark you, Guildenstern; and you too: at each ^[859] ear a hearer: that great baby you see there is not yet out ^[860] of his swaddling clouts. ^[861]
	Ros. Happily he's the second time come to them; for $[862]$ they say an old man is twice a child.
70	Ham. I will prophesy he comes to tell me of the ^[863] players; mark it. You say right, sir: o'Monday morning; ^[864] 'twas so, indeed. ^[865]
	Pol. My lord, I have news to tell you.
	Ham. My lord, I have news to tell you. When Roscius ^[866] was an actor in Rome,— ^[867]
	Pol. The actors are come hither, my lord.
75	Ham. Buz, buz!
	Pol. Upon my honour,—[868]
	Ham. Then came each actor on his ass,— $[869]$
80	Pol. The best actors in the world, either for tragedy, comedy, history, pastoral, pastoral-comical, historical-pastoral, [870] tragical-historical, tragical-comical-historical-pastoral, [870][871] scene individable, or poem unlimited: Seneca cannot be too ^[872] heavy, nor Plautus too light. For the law of writ and the ^{[873][874][875]} liberty these are the only men. [873][875]
85	Ham. O Jephthah, judge of Israel, what a treasure ^{[876][877]} hadst thou!
	Pol. What a treasure had he, my lord? ^[878]
	Ham. Why, ^[879] 'One fair daughter, and no more, ^[879] The which he loved passing well.' ^[879]
90	Pol. [Aside] Still on my daughter. ^[880]
	Ham. Am I not i' the right, old Jephthah?
	Pol. If you call me Jephthah, my lord, I have a daughter ^{[881][882]} that I love passing well. ^[881]
	Ham. Nay, that follows not. ^[881]
95	Pol. What follows, then, my lord?
	Ham. Why,[883]
00	'As by lot, God wot,' ^[883] and then, you know, ^[884] 'It came to pass, as most like it was,'— ^[884] the first row of the pious chanson will show you more; ^[885] for look, where my abridgement comes. ^[886]
	Enter four or five Players.
05	You are welcome, masters; welcome, all. I am glad to see ^[887] thee well. Welcome, good friends. O, my old friend! Why ^{[888][889]} thy face is valanced since I saw thee last; comest thou to ^{[889][890]} beard me in Denmark? What, my young lady and mistress! By'r lady, your ladyship is nearer to heaven than ^[891] when I saw you last, by the altitude of a chopine. Pray ^[892]
	- · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·

God, your voice, like a piece of uncurrent gold, be not cracked within the ring. Masters, you are all welcome. :10 We'll e'en to 't like French falconers, fly at any thing we^[893] see: we'll have a speech straight: come, give us a taste of your quality; come, a passionate speech. First Play. What speech, my good lord?[894][895] Ham. I heard thee speak me a speech once, but it was :15 never acted; or, if it was, not above once; for the play, I remember, pleased not the million; 'twas caviare to the general: [896] but it was—as I received it, and others, whose judgements [897] in such matters cried in the top of mine—an excellent play, well digested in the scenes, set down with as much modesty 20 as cunning. I remember, one said there were no sallets in [898] the lines to make the matter savoury, nor no matter in the phrase that might indict the author of affection; but called [899] it an honest method, as wholesome as sweet, and by very [900] much more handsome than fine. One speech in it I chiefly [900][901] :25 loved: 'twas Æneas' tale to Dido; and thereabout of it especially,^[902] where he speaks of Priam's slaughter: if it live in [903] your memory, begin at this line; let me see, let me see; 'The rugged Pyrrhus, like th' Hyrcanian beast,'—[904] It is not so: it begins with 'Pyrrhus.' [905] 'The rugged Pyrrhus, he whose sable arms, :30 Black as his purpose, did the night resemble [906] When he lay couched in the ominous horse, [907] Hath now this dread and black complexion smear'd^[908] With heraldry more dismal: head to foot^[909] :35 Now is he total gules; horridly trick'd^[910] With blood of fathers, mothers, daughters, sons, Baked and impasted with the parching streets,^[911] That lend a tyrannous and a damned light^{[912][913]} To their lord's murder: roasted in wrath and fire, [913][914] 40 And thus o'er-sized with coagulate gore, [915] With eyes like carbuncles, the hellish Pyrrhus^[916] Old grandsire Priam seeks.' So, proceed you. [917] Pol'Fore God, my lord, well spoken, with good accent 45 and good discretion. First Play. 'Anon he finds him^[894] Striking too short at Greeks; his antique sword, [918] Rebellious to his arm, lies where it falls, [919] Repugnant to command: unequal match'd, [920] :50 Pyrrhus at Priam drives; in rage strikes wide; But with the whiff and wind of his fell sword The unnerved father falls. Then senseless Ilium, [921] Seeming to feel this blow, with flaming top^[922] Stoops to his base, and with a hideous crash^[923] :55 Takes prisoner Pyrrhus' ear: for, lo! his sword, [924] Which was declining on the milky head Of reverend Priam, seem'd i' the air to stick: [925] So, as a painted tyrant, Pyrrhus stood. [926] And like a neutral to his will and matter, [927][928] 60 Did nothing.[928] But as we often see, against some storm, A silence in the heavens, the rack stand still, [929] The bold winds speechless and the orb below [930] As hush as death, anon the dreadful thunder :65 Doth rend the region, so after Pyrrhus' pause^{[924][931]} Aroused vengeance sets him new a-work; [932] And never did the Cyclops' hammers fall^[933] On Mars's armour, forged for proof eterne, [934] With less remorse than Pyrrhus' bleeding sword [924]

:70	Now falls on Priam. Out, out, thou strumpet, Fortune! All you gods, [935] In general synod take away her power, Break all the spokes and fellies from her wheel, [936]
:75	And bowl the round nave down the hill of heaven As low as to the fiends!'
	Pol. This is too long. ^[937]
	Ham. It shall to the barber's, with your beard. Prithee, [938] say on: he's for a jig or a tale of bawdry, or he sleeps: say on: come to Hecuba.
:80	First Play. 'But who, O, who had seen the mobled queen—'[939][940][941]
	Ham. 'The mobled queen?' [940][942]
	Pol. That's good; 'mobled queen' is good. ^[943]
:85	First Play. 'Run barefoot up and down, threatening the flames ^[944] With bisson rheum; a clout upon that head ^[945] Where late the diadem stood; and for a robe, About her lank and all o'er-teemed loins, A blanket, in the alarm of fear caught up: ^[946]
:90	Who this had seen, with tongue in venom steep'd 'Gainst Fortune's state would treason have pronounced: ^[947] But if the gods themselves did see her then, When she saw Pyrrhus make malicious sport
	In mincing with his sword her husband's limbs, ^[948] The instant burst of clamour that she made, Unless things mortal move them not at all, ^[949]
95	Would have made milch the burning eyes of heaven ^[950] And passion in the gods.' ^[951]
	Pol. Look, whether he has not turned his colour and [952] has tears in's eyes. Prithee, no more. [953]
.00	Ham. 'Tis well; I'll have thee speak out the rest of this ^[954] soon. Good my lord, will you see the players well bestowed? ^[955] Do you hear, let them be well used, for they are the abstract ^[956] and brief chronicles of the time: after your death you were better have a bad epitaph than their ill report while you live. ^[957]
	Pol. My lord, I will use them according to their desert. ^[958]
-05	Ham. God's bodykins, man, much better: use every ^[959] man after his desert, and who shall 'scape whipping? Use ^{[958][960]} them after your own honour and dignity: the less they deserve, the more merit is in your bounty. Take them in.
	Pol. Come, sirs.
10	Ham. Follow him, friends: we'll hear a play to-morrow.
	[Exit Polonius with all the Players but the First. [961]
	Dost thou hear me, old friend; can you play the Murder of $[962]$ Gonzago? $[963]$
	First Play. Ay, my lord.
15	Ham. We'll ha't to-morrow night. You could, for a ^{[961][964][965]} need, study a speech of some dozen or sixteen lines, which ^{[965][966]} I would set down and insert in't, could you not? ^[967]
	First Play. Ay, my lord.
-20	Ham. Very well. Follow that lord; and look you ^[961] mock him not. [Exit First Player.] My good friends, I'll ^[968] leave you till night: you are welcome to Elsinore. ^[969]

	Ros. Good my lord! ^[970]
	Ham. Ay, so, God be wi' ye! [Exeunt Rosencrantz and Guildenstern alone. [971]	.] Now I am
	O, what a rogue and peasant slave am I! Is it not monstrous that this player here,
25	But in a fiction, in a dream of passion, ^[972]
	Could force his soul so to his own conceit ^[973]
	That from her working all his visage wann'd; [974]
	Tears in his eyes, distraction in's aspect, [975]
20	A broken voice, and his whole function suiting ^[976]
30	With forms to his conceit? and all for nothing! ^[977] For Hecuba! ^[978]
	What's Hecuba to him, or he to Hecuba, [979]
	That he should weep for her? What would he do,
35	Had he the motive and the cue for passion ^[980] That I have? He would drown the stage with tears
	And cleave the general ear with horrid speech,
	Make mad the guilty and appal the free, [981]
	Confound the ignorant, and amaze indeed
4.0	The very faculties of eyes and ears. [982][983]
40	Yet I, [982][984][985]
	A dull and muddy-mettled rascal, peak, [984][985][986]
	Like John-a-dreams, unpregnant of my cause, [985][987]
	And can say nothing; no, not for a king, ^[985] Upon whose property and most dear life
45	A damn'd defeat was made. Am I a coward? ^[988]
	Who calls me villain? breaks my pate across?[988]
	Plucks off my beard, and blows it in my face? ^[988]
	Tweaks me by the nose? gives me the lie i' the throat, [988]
	As deep as to the lungs? who does me this?[988]
50	Ha! ^[989]
	'Swounds, I should take it: for it cannot be ^[990]
	But I am pigeon-liver'd and lack gall
	To make oppression bitter, or ere this [991]
55	I should have fatted all the region kites ^[992] With this clavely offel, bloody, boundy villain [993]
	With this slave's offal: bloody, bawdy villain! ^[993] Remorseless, treacherous, lecherous, kindless villain! ^[994]
	O, vengeance! [995]
	Why, what an ass am I! This is most brave, [996]
	That I, the son of a dear father murder'd, [997]
60	Prompted to my revenge by heaven and hell,
	Must, like a whore, unpack my heart with words,
	And fall a-cursing, like a very drab, [998][999]
	A scullion![998][999]
65	Fie upon't! foh! About, my brain! Hum, I have heard ^{[998][1000]}
103	That guilty creatures, sitting at a play, [998][1001] Have by the very cunning of the scene
	Been struck so to the soul that presently ^[1002]
	They have proclaim'd their malefactions;
	For murder, though it have no tongue, will speak
70	With most miraculous organ. I'll have these players ^[1003]
	Play something like the murder of my father Before mine uncle: I'll observe his looks;
	I'll tent him to the quick: if he but blench, ^[1004]
	I know my course. The spirit that I have seen ^[1005]
75	May be the devil; and the devil hath power ^[1006]
	To assume a pleasing shape; yea, and perhaps
	Out of my weakness and my melancholy,
	As he is very potent with such spirits, Abuses me to damn me. I'll have grounds
80	More relative than this. The play's the thing
	Wherein I'll catch the conscience of the king.	[Exit.

ACT III.

Scene I. A room in the castle.

Enter King, Queen, Polonius, Ophelia, Rosencrantz, and Guildenstern. [1007]

King. And can you, by no drift of circumstance, [1008] Get from him why he puts on this confusion, [1009] Grating so harshly all his days of quiet With turbulent and dangerous lunacy?

Ros. He does confess he feels himself distracted, But from what cause he will by no means speak.^[1010]

Guil. Nor do we find him forward to be sounded;^[1011] But, with a crafty madness, keeps aloof,^[1011] When we would bring him on to some confession^[1011] Of his true state.^[1011]

Queen. Did he receive you well?[1011][1012]

Ros. Most like a gentleman.

Guil. But with much forcing of his disposition.

Ros. Niggard of question, but of our demands^[1013] Most free in his reply.^[1013]

Queen. Did you assay $him^{[1014][1015]}$ To any pastime? $^{[1014][1016]}$

Ros. Madam, it so fell out that certain players^[1017] We o'er-raught on the way: of these we told him,^[1018] And there did seem in him a kind of joy To hear of it: they are about the court,^[1019] And, as I think, they have already order This night to play before him.

Pol. 'Tis most true:

And he beseech'd me to entreat your majesties To hear and see the matter.

King. With all my heart; and it doth much content me^[1020] To hear him so inclined.^[1020] Good gentlemen, give him a further edge,^[1020] And drive his purpose on to these delights.^{[1020][1021]}

Ros. We shall, my lord.

[Exeunt Rosencrantz and Guildenstern.

King. Sweet Gertrude, leave us too; [1022]
For we have closely sent for Hamlet hither, [1023]
That he, as 'twere by accident, may here [1024][1025]
Affront Ophelia: [1024][1026]
Her father and myself, lawful espials, [1026][1027]
Will so bestow ourselves that, seeing unseen, [1028]
We may of their encounter frankly judge, [1029]
And gather by him, as he is behaved,
If't be the affliction of his love or no [1030]
That thus he suffers for.

Queen. I shall obey you: And for your part, Ophelia, I do wish^[1031] That your good beauties be the happy cause^[1032]

Of Hamlet's wildness: so shall I hope your virtues^[1032][1033] Will bring him to his wonted way again, [1034] To both your honours. Oph. Madam, I wish it may. [Exit Oueen. Pol. Ophelia, walk you here. Gracious, so please you, [1035] We will bestow ourselves. [To Ophelia] Read on this book; [1036] That show of such an exercise may colour Your loneliness. We are oft to blame in this,—[1037]'Tis too much proved—that with devotion's visage And pious action we do sugar o'er^[1038] The devil himself. King. [Aside] O, 'tis too true![1039] How smart a lash that speech doth give my conscience! The harlot's cheek, beautied with plastering art, Is not more ugly to the thing that helps it Than is my deed to my most painted word: O heavy burthen! Pol. I hear him coming: let's withdraw, my lord. [1040] [Exeunt King and Polonius. Enter Hamlet. [1041] Ham. To be, or not to be: that is the question: Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer The slings and arrows of outrageous fortune,[1042] Or to take arms against a sea of troubles,[1043] And by opposing end them? To die: to sleep; [1044][1045] No more; and by a sleep to say we end[1045][1046]The heart-ache, and the thousand natural shocks That flesh is heir to, 'tis a consummation^[1047] Devoutly to be wish'd. To die, to sleep:[1048] To sleep: perchance to dream: ay, there's the rub; For in that sleep of death what dreams may come, When we have shuffled off this mortal coil, [1049] Must give us pause: there's the respect^[1050] That makes calamity of so long life; [1050] For who would bear the whips and scorns of time, [1051] The oppressor's wrong, the proud man's contumely, [1052] The pangs of despised love, the law's delay, [1053] The insolence of office, and the spurns That patient merit of the unworthy takes, When he himself might his quietus make^[1054] With a bare bodkin? who would fardels bear,[1055] To grunt and sweat under a weary life, [1056] But that the dread of something after death, The undiscover'd country from whose bourn^[1057] No traveller returns, puzzles the will, [1058] And makes us rather bear those ills we have Than fly to others that we know not of? Thus conscience does make cowards of us all, [1059] And thus the native hue of resolution^[1060] Is sicklied o'er with the pale cast of thought,[1061] And enterprises of great pitch and moment^[1062] With this regard their currents turn awry^[1063] And lose the name of action. Soft you now![1064] The fair Ophelia! Nymph, in thy orisons [1065] Be all my sins remember'd. Oph. Good my lord,[1066] How does your honour for this many a day? Ham. I humbly thank you: well, well, well. [1067] Oph. My lord, I have remembrances of yours,

That I have longed long to re-deliver; [1068] I pray you, now receive them. Ham. No, not I:[1069][1070] I never gave you aught.[1070] Oph. My honour'd lord, you know right well you did; [1071] And with them words of so sweet breath composed As made the things more rich: their perfume lost.[1072] 00 Take these again; for to the noble mind Rich gifts wax poor when givers prove unkind. There, my lord. Ham. Ha, ha! are you honest? Oph. My lord?^[1073] 05 Ham. Are you fair? Oph. What means your lordship? Ham. That if you be honest and fair, your honesty^{[1074][1075]} should admit no discourse to your beauty. [1075] Oph. Could beauty, my lord, have better commerce^[1076] 10 than with honesty?[1077] Ham. Ay, truly; for the power of beauty will sooner transform honesty from what it is to a bawd than the force of honesty can translate beauty into his likeness: this was^[1078] sometime a paradox, but now the time gives it proof. $I^{[1079]}$ 15 did love you once. Oph. Indeed, my lord, you made me believe so. Ham. You should not have believed me; for virtue cannot so inoculate our old stock but we shall relish of it:[1080] I loved you not.[1081] 20 Oph. I was the more deceived. Ham. Get thee to a nunnery: why wouldst thou be a [1082] breeder of sinners? I am myself indifferent honest; but yet I could accuse me of such things that it were better my mother had not borne me: I am very proud, revengeful, 25 ambitious; with more offences at my beck than I have [1083] thoughts to put them in, imagination to give them shape, [1084] or time to act them in. What should such fellows as I do crawling between heaven and earth? We are arrant knaves^[1085] all; believe none of us. Go thy ways to a nunnery. [1086] 30 Where's your father? Oph. At home, my lord. Ham. Let the doors be shut upon him, that he may [1087]play the fool no where but in's own house. Farewell.[1087][1088] Oph. O, help him, you sweet heavens! 35 Ham. If thou dost marry, I'll give thee this plague for [1089] thy dowry: be thou as chaste as ice, as pure as snow, thou shalt not escape calumny. Get thee to a nunnery, go: farewell.^[1090] Or, if thou wilt needs marry, marry a fool; for wise men know well enough what monsters you make of them. 40 To a nunnery, go; and guickly too. Farewell. [1091] Oph. O heavenly powers, restore him![1092] Ham. I have heard of your paintings too, well enough; [1093] God hath given you one face, and you make yourselves^[1094] another: you jig, you amble, and you lisp, and nick-name^[1095]

That suck'd the honey of his music vows, ^[1106] Now see that noble and most sovereign reason, ^[1107] Like sweet bells jangled, out of tune and harsh; ^[1108]
That unmatch'd form and feature of blown youth ^[1109] Blasted with ecstasy: O, woe is me, To have seen what I have seen, see what I see! ^[1110]
Re-enter King and Polonius.
King. Love! his affections do not that way tend; [1111] Nor what he spake, though it lack'd form a little, [1112] Was not like madness. There's something in his soul [1113] O'er which his melancholy sits on brood, And I do doubt the hatch and the disclose Will be some danger: which for to prevent, [1114] I have in quick determination Thus set it down:—he shall with speed to England, [1115] For the demand of our neglected tribute: Haply the seas and countries different With variable objects shall expel This something-settled matter in his heart, [1116] Whereon his brains still beating puts him thus [1117][1118] From fashion of himself. What think you on 't? [1117]
Pol. It shall do well: but yet do I believe ^{[1119][1120]} The origin and commencement of his grief ^{[1119][1121]} Sprung from neglected love. How now, Ophelia! ^[1122] You need not tell us what Lord Hamlet said; We heard it all. My lord, do as you please; ^[1123] But, if you hold it fit, after the play, Let his queen mother all alone entreat him To show his grief: let her be round with him; ^[1124] And I'll be placed, so please you, in the ear ^[1125] Of all their conference. If she find him not, To England send him, or confine him where Your wisdom best shall think.
King. It shall be so: Madness in great ones must not unwatch'd go. [E.	xeunt. ^[1126]
Scene II. A hall in the castle.
Enter Hamlet and Players.[1127]

Ham. Speak the speech, I pray you, as I pronounced^[1128] it to you, trippingly on the tongue: but if you mouth it, as^[1129] many of your players do, I had as lief the town-crier spoke^[1130] my lines. Nor do not saw the air too much with your^[1131] hand, thus; but use all gently: for in the very torrent, tempest, and, as I may say, whirlwind of your passion, you^[1132] must acquire and beget a temperance that may give it smoothness. O, it offends me to the soul to hear a robustious^[1133] periwig-pated fellow tear a passion to tatters, to very^[1134] rags, to split the ears of the groundlings, who, for the most^[1135] part, are capable of nothing but inexplicable dumb-shows and noise: I would have such a fellow whipped for o'er-doing^[1136]

Termagant; it out-herods Herod: pray you, avoid it.
First Play. I warrant your honour.[1137]
Ham. Be not too tame neither, but let your own discretion be your tutor: suit the action to the word, the word<sup>[1138]</sup> to the action; with this special observance, that you o'er-step<sup>[1139]</sup> not the modesty of nature: for any thing so overdone [1140] is from the purpose of playing, whose end, both at the first<sup>[1141]</sup> and now, was and is, to hold, as 'twere, the mirror up to nature; to show virtue her own feature, scorn her own<sup>[1142]</sup> image, and the very age and body of the time his form and [1143] pressure. Now this overdone or come tardy off, though [1144][1145] it make the unskilful laugh, cannot but make the judicious<sup>[1145]</sup> grieve; the censure of the which one must in your allowance [1146] o'erweigh a whole theatre of others. O, there be[1147] players that I have seen play, and heard others praise, and [1148] that highly, not to speak it profanely, that neither having [1149] the accent of Christians nor the gait of Christian, pagan, [1150] nor man, have so strutted and bellowed, that I have thought<sup>[1150]</sup>[1151] some of nature's journeymen had made men, and not made[1152] them well, they imitated humanity so abominably.
First Play. I hope we have reformed that indifferently [1137] with us. sir.[1153]
Ham. O, reform it altogether. And let those that play your clowns speak no more than is set down for them: for there be of them that will themselves laugh, to set on some<sup>[1154]</sup> quantity of barren spectators to laugh too, though in the [1155] mean time some necessary question of the play be then to be considered: that's villanous, and shows a most pitiful ambition in the fool that uses it. Go, make you ready.
                                                                 [Exeunt Players.
            Enter Polonius, Rosencrantz, and Guildenstern. [1156]
How now, my lord! will the king hear this piece of work?<sup>[1157]</sup>
Pol. And the queen too, and that presently.[1158]
Ham. Bid the players make haste. [Exit Polonius.][1159]
Will you two help to hasten them?
Ros. Guil. We will, my lord.
                                   [Exeunt Rosencrantz and Guildenstern.[1160]
Ham. What ho! Horatio!
                             Enter Horatio.[1161]
Hor. Here, sweet lord, at your service.[1162]
Ham. Horatio, thou art e'en as just a man
As e'er my conversation coped withal. [1163]
Hor. O, my dear lord,—[1164]
Ham. Nay, do not think I flatter;
For what advancement may I hope from thee,
That no revenue hast but thy good spirits, [1165]
To feed and clothe thee? Why should the poor be flatter'd?[1166]
No, let the candied tongue lick absurd pomp, [1167]
And crook the pregnant hinges of the knee [1168]
Where thrift may follow fawning. Dost thou hear?[1169]
Since my dear soul was mistress of her choice.[1170]
And could of men distinguish, her election<sup>[1171]</sup>
Hath seal'd thee for herself: for thou hast been<sup>[1171]</sup>

What did you enact? ^[1196] Pol. I did enact Julius Cæsar: I was killed i' the Capitol; ^[1197] Brutus killed me. Ham. It was a brute part of him to kill so capital a calf there. Be the players ready? Ros. Ay, my lord; they stay upon your patience. ^[1198] Queen. Come hither, my dear Hamlet, sit by me. ^[1199] Ham. No, good mother, here's metal more attractive. ^[1200]
King. How fares our cousin Hamlet? ^[1190] Ham. Excellent, i' faith; of the chameleon's dish: I eat ^[1191] [1192] the air, promise-crammed: you cannot feed capons so. ^[1191] King. I have nothing with this answer, Hamlet; these ^[1191] words are not mine. ^[1191] Ham. No, nor mine now. [To Polonius] My lord, you ^[1191] [1193] played once i' the university, you say? ^[1191] [1194] Pol. That did I, my lord, and was accounted a good ^[1195] actor. Ham. What did you enact? ^[1196] Pol. I did enact Julius Cæsar: I was killed i' the Capitol; ^[1197] Brutus killed me. Ham. It was a brute part of him to kill so capital a calf there. Oph. No, my lord.
                      Ham. I mean, my head upon your lap?[1203][1204]
                      Oph. Ay, my lord. [1203]
                      Ham. Do you think I meant country matters?[1205]
10
                      Oph. I think nothing, my lord.
                      Ham. That's a fair thought to lie between maids' legs. [1206]
                      Oph. What is, my lord?
                      Ham. Nothing.
                      Oph. You are merry, my lord.[1207]
                      Ham. Who. I?
15
                      Oph. Ay, my lord.
                      Ham. O God, your only jig-maker. What should a<sup>[1208]</sup> man do but be merry? for, look you, how cheerfully my mother looks, and my father died within 's two hours. [1209]
                      Oph. Nay, 'tis twice two months, my lord.[1210]
20
                      Ham. So long? Nay, then, let the devil wear black, for [1211][1212]
                      I'll have a suit of sables. O heavens! die two months ago, [1212][1213] and not forgotten yet? Then there's hope a great man's memory may outlive his life half a year: but, by'r lady, he<sup>[1214][1215]</sup>

                                        Hautboys play. The dumb-show enters.
                     Enter a King and a Queen very lovingly; the Queen embracing him, and he her. She kneels, and makes show of protestation unto him.
                         He takes her up, and declines his head upon her neck: lays him down upon a bank of flowers: she, seeing him asleep, leaves him.
                         Anon comes in a fellow, takes off his crown, kisses it, and pours poison in the King's ears, and exit. The Queen returns; finds the King dead, and makes passionate action. The Poisoner, with some two or three Mutes, comes in again, seeming to lament with her.
                         The dead body is carried away. The Poisoner wooes the Queen with gifts: she seems loath and unwilling awhile, but in the end accepts his love.[1217]

                      Oph. Belike this show imports the argument of the play.
                                                 Enter Prologue.[1219]
                      Ham. We shall know by this fellow: the players cannot [1220] keep counsel; they'll tell all.[1221]
                      Oph. Will he tell us what this show meant?<sup>[1222]</sup>
35
                      Ham. Ay, or any show that you'll show him: be not you<sup>[1223]</sup>

Ham. Is this a prologue, or the posy of a ring?^[1225] Oph. 'Tis brief, my lord. Ham. As woman's love. Enter two Players, King and Queen.[1226] P.~King. Full thirty times hath Phœbus' cart gone round [1227][1228][1229] Neptune's salt wash and Tellus' orbed ground. [1228][1230] And thirty dozen moons with borrowed sheen^[1231] About the world have times twelve thirties been,[1232] Since love our hearts and Hymen did our hands Unite commutual in most sacred bands.[1233] P. Queen. So many journeys may the sun and moon^[1234] Make us again count o'er ere love be done! But, woe is me, you are so sick of late, So far from cheer and from your former state, [1235] That I distrust you. Yet, though I distrust, Discomfort you, my lord, it nothing must: [1236] For women's fear and love holds quantity, [1236][1237] In neither aught, or in extremity.[1238] Now, what my love is, proof hath made you know, [1239] And as my love is sized, my fear is so:[1240] Where love is great, the littlest doubts are fear, [1241][1242] Where little fears grow great, great love grows there. [1241] P. King. Faith. I must leave thee, love, and shortly too: My operant powers their functions leave to do:[1243] And thou shalt live in this fair world behind,[1244] Honour'd, beloved; and haply one as kind^[1245] For husband shalt thou—[1246] P. Queen. O, confound the rest! Such love must needs be treason in my breast: In second husband let me be accurst! None wed the second but who kill'd the first.[1247] Ham. [Aside] Wormwood, wormwood. [1248] P. Queen. The instances that second marriage move [1249] Are base respects of thrift, but none of love: [1250] A second time I kill my husband dead. [1251] When second husband kisses me in bed. P. King. I do believe you think what now you speak,[1252] But what we do determine oft we break. Purpose is but the slave to memory, Of violent birth but poor validity:[1253] Which now, like fruit unripe, sticks on the tree. [1254] But fall unshaken when they mellow be. Most necessary 'tis that we forget To pay ourselves what to ourselves is debt: What to ourselves in passion we propose, The passion ending, doth the purpose lose. The violence of either grief or $iov^{[1255]}$ Their own enactures with themselves destroy:[1256] Where joy most revels, grief doth most lament; Grief joys, joy grieves, on slender accident.[1257] This world is not for ave, nor 'tis not strange^[1258] That even our loves should with our fortunes change, For 'tis a question left us yet to prove, Whether love lead fortune or else fortune love. [1259] The great man down, you mark his favourite flies; [1260] The poor advanced makes friends of enemies: And hitherto doth love on fortune tend:[1261] For who not needs shall never lack a friend. [1262] And who in want a hollow friend doth try

:10	P. Queen. Nor earth to me give food nor heaven light! ^[1266] Sport and repose lock from me day and night! To desperation turn my trust and hope! ^[1267] An anchor's cheer in prison be my scope! ^[1267] [1268] Each opposite, that blanks the face of joy, Meet what I would have well and it destroy! Both here and hence pursue me lasting strife, If, once a widow, ever I be wife! ^[1269]
	Ham. If she should break it now![1270]
:15	P. King. 'Tis deeply sworn. Sweet, leave me here awhile; [1271] My spirits grow dull, and fain I would beguile The tedious day with sleep.	[Sleeps. ^[1272]
	P. Queen. Sleep rock thy brain; And never come mischance between us twain!	[Exit . ^[1273]
	Ham. Madam, how like you this play?[1274]
20	Queen. The lady doth protest too much, methinks. ^[1275]
	Ham. O, but she'll keep her word.
	King. Have you heard the argument? Is there no offence in t?
25	Ham. No, no, they do but jest, poison in jest; no offence i' the world. [1276]
	King. What do you call the play?
:30	Ham. The Mouse-trap. Marry, how? Tropically. [1277] This play is the image of a murder done in Vienna: Gonzago [1278] is the duke's name; his wife, Baptista: you shall see [1279] anon; 'tis a knavish piece of work: but what o' that? your [1280] majesty, and we that have free souls, it touches us not: let [1281] the galled jade wince, our withers are unwrung. [1282]	3]
	Enter Lucianus.[1283]
	This is one Lucianus, nephew to the king. ^[1284]
:35	Oph. You are as good as a chorus, my lord.[1285]
	Ham. I could interpret between you and your love, if I could see the puppets dallying.
	Oph. You are keen, my lord, you are keen.
	Ham. It would cost you a groaning to take off my edge. [1286]
	Oph. Still better, and worse. ^[1287]
40	Ham. So you must take your husbands. Begin, murderer; [1288][1 pox, leave thy damnable faces, and begin. Come: [1289][1290] the croaking raven doth bellow for revenge. [1291]	289]
4 5	Luc. Thoughts black, hands apt, drugs fit, and time agreeing; [12] Confederate season, else no creature seeing; [1293] Thou mixture rank, of midnight weeds collected, With Hecate's ban thrice blasted, thrice infected, [1294] Thy natural magic and dire property, [1295]	92]

On wholesome life usurp immediately.

                       the love of Gonzago's wife.
                       Oph. The king rises.

55
                       Queen. How fares my lord?

                       Ham. Ah, ha! Come, some music! come, the recorders!
                               For if the king like not the comedy, [1314]
                               Why then, belike, he likes it not, perdy.

                       Guil. The king, sir.—[1317]
                       Ham. Ay, sir, what of him?[1318]
                       Guil. Is in his retirement marvellous distempered.
                       Ham. With drink, sir?
                       Guil. No, my lord, rather with choler. [1319]

Ham. Your wisdom should show itself more richer to [1320] signify this to the doctor; for, for me to put him to his purgation ^[1321] would perhaps plunge him into far more choler. ^[1322]

195	Guil. Good my lord, put your discourse into some ^[1323] frame, and start not so wildly from my affair. ^{[1323][1324]}
	Ham. I am tame, sir: pronounce.
	Guil. The queen, your mother, in most great affliction of spirit, hath sent me to you.
	Ham. You are welcome. ^[1325]
000	Guil. Nay, good my lord, this courtesy is not of the right breed. If it shall please you to make me a wholesome answer, I will do your mother's commandment: if not, your pardon and my return shall be the end of my business. ^[1326]
	Ham. Sir, I cannot.
05	Guil. What, my lord? ^[1327]
	Ham. Make you a wholesome answer; my wit's diseased: ^[1328] but, sir, such answer as I can make, you shall command; ^[1329] or rather, as you say, my mother: therefore no ^[1330] more, but to the matter: my mother, you say,— ^[1331]
10	Ros. Then thus she says; your behaviour hath struck ^[1332] her into amazement and admiration.
	Ham. O wonderful son, that can so astonish a mother! ^[1333] But is there no sequel at the heels of this mother's admiration? ^[1334] Impart. ^[1335]
15	Ros. She desires to speak with you in her closet, ere you go to bed.
	Ham. We shall obey, were she ten times our mother. Have you any further trade with us?
	Ros. My lord, you once did love me.
20	Ham. So I do still, by these pickers and stealers. ^[1336]
	Ros. Good my lord, what is your cause of distemper? you do surely bar the door upon your own liberty, if you ^[1337] deny your griefs to your friend.
	Ham. Sir, I lack advancement.
25	Ros. How can that be, when you have the voice of the king himself for your succession in Denmark?
	Ham. Ay, sir, but 'while the grass grows,'—the proverb ^[1338] is something musty.
	Re-enter Players with recorders.[1339]
30	O, the recorders! let me see one. To withdraw with you:—[1340] why do you go about to recover the wind of me, as if you would drive me into a toil?
	Guil. O, my lord, if my duty be too bold, my love is ^[1341] too unmannerly. ^[1341]
35	Ham. I do not well understand that. Will you play upon this pipe?
	Guil. My lord, I cannot. ^[1342]
	Ham. I pray you.
	Guil. Believe me, I cannot.

	Ham. I do beseech you. ^[1343]
40	Guil. I know no touch of it, my lord. [1344]
	Ham. It is as easy as lying: govern these ventages ^[1345] with your fingers and thumb, give it breath with your ^[1346] mouth, and it will discourse most eloquent music. Look ^[13] you, these are the stops.
45	Guil. But these cannot I command to any utterance of harmony; I have not the skill.
350	Ham. Why, look you now, how unworthy a thing you make of me! You would play upon me; you would seem ^[13] to know my stops; you would pluck out the heart of my mystery; you would sound me from my lowest note to the top of my compass: and there is much music, excellent ^[13] voice, in this little organ; yet cannot you make it speak. ^[13] 'Sblood, do you think I am easier to be played on than a ^[1] pipe? 	Pol. It is backed like a weasel.[1361][1362]
	Ham. Or like a whale? ^[1363]
65	Pol. Very like a whale.

	'Tis now the very witching time of night, When churchyards yawn, and hell itself breathes out ^[1369] Contagion to this world: now could I drink hot blood, ^[1370] And do such bitter business as the day ^[1371]]]
75	Would quake to look on. Soft! now to my mother. [1372] O heart, lose not thy nature; let not ever [1373] The soul of Nero enter this firm bosom: Let me be cruel, not unnatural: [1374]
80	I will speak daggers to her, but use none; ^[1375] My tongue and soul in this be hypocrites;

                                   [Exeunt Rosencrantz and Guildenstern.[1398]
                               Enter Polonius.
Pol. My lord, he's going to his mother's closet:
Behind the arras I'll convey myself,
To hear the process; I'll warrant she'll tax him home: [1399]
And, as you said, and wisely was it said,
'Tis meet that some more audience than a mother,
Since nature makes them partial, should o'erhear
The speech, of vantage. Fare you well, my liege: [1400]
I'll call upon you ere you go to bed,
And tell you what I know.
King. Thanks, dear my lord.[1401]
                                                                    [Exit Polonius.
O, my offence is rank, it smells to heaven;
It hath the primal eldest curse upon't,[1402]
A brother's murder. Pray can I not, [1403][1404]
Though inclination be as sharp as will:[1404][1405]
My stronger guilt defeats my strong intent,[1406]
And like a man to double business bound,
I stand in pause where I shall first begin,
And both neglect. What if this cursed hand [1407]
Were thicker than itself with brother's blood,
Is there not rain enough in the sweet heavens
To wash it white as snow? Whereto serves mercy
But to confront the visage of offence?
And what's in prayer but this twofold force,
To be forestalled ere we come to fall,
Or pardon'd being down? Then I'll look up;[1408]
My fault is past. But O, what form of prayer<sup>[1409]</sup>
Can serve my turn? 'Forgive me my foul murder?' [1410]
That cannot be, since I am still possess'd
Of those effects for which I did the murder, [1411]

My crown, mine own ambition and my queen. May one be pardon'd and retain the offence?[1412] In the corrupted currents of this world^[1413] Offence's gilded hand may shove by justice, [1414] And oft 'tis seen the wicked prize itself^[1415] Buys out the law: but 'tis not so above; There is no shuffling, there the action lies In his true nature, and we ourselves compell'd[1416] Even to the teeth and forehead of our faults To give in evidence. What then? what rests? Try what repentance can: what can it not? Yet what can it when one can not repent?[1417] O wretched state! O bosom black as death! O limed soul, that struggling to be free Art more engaged! Help, angels! make assay![1418] Bow, stubborn knees, and, heart with strings of steel.[1419] Be soft as sinews of the new-born babe! All may be well. [Retires and kneels. [1420] Enter Hamlet. Ham. Now might I do it pat, now he is praying; [1421] And now I'll do't: and so he goes to heaven:[1422] And so am I revenged. That would be scann'd: [1423] A villain kills my father; and for that, I, his sole son, do this same villain $send^{[1424]}$ To heaven.[1425] O, this is hire and salary, not revenge. [1426] He took my father grossly, full of bread, [1427] With all his crimes broad blown, as flush as May:[1428] And how his audit stands who knows save heaven? But in our circumstance and course of thought, 'Tis heavy with him: and am I then revenged,[1429] To take him in the purging of his soul, When he is fit and season'd for his passage?[1430] No.[1431] Up, sword, and know thou a more horrid hent:[1432] When he is drunk asleep, or in his rage, [1433] Or in the incestuous pleasure of his bed; [1434] At game, a-swearing, or about some $act^{[1435]}$ That has no relish of salvation in 't; Then trip him, that his heels may kick at heaven^[1436] And that his soul may be as damn'd and black As hell, whereto it goes. My mother stays: This physic but prolongs thy sickly days. [Exit. King. [Rising] My words fly up, my thoughts remain below:[1437] Words without thoughts never to heaven go. [Exit. Scene IV. The Oueen's closet. Enter Queen and Polonius. [1438] Pol. He will come straight. Look you lay home to him:[1439] Tell him his pranks have been too broad to bear with. [1440] And that your grace hath screen'd and stood between^[1441] Much heat and him. I'll sconce me even here.[1442] Pray you, be round with him. Ham. [Within] Mother, mother, mother![1443] Queen. I'll warrant you; fear me not. Withdraw, $I^{[1444][1445][1446]}$ hear him coming.[1445] [Polonius hides behind the arras. Enter Hamlet.[1447] Ham. Now, mother, what's the matter?

Queen. Hamlet, thou hast thy father much offended.
Ham. Mother, you have my father much offended.
Queen. Come, come, you answer with an idle tongue.
Ham. Go, go, you question with a wicked tongue. [1448]
Queen. Why, how now, Hamlet!
Ham. What's the matter now?[1449]
Queen. Have you forgot me?
Ham. No, by the rood, not so:
You are the queen, your husband's brother's wife;
And—would it were not so!—you are my mother. [1450]
Queen. Nay, then, I'll set those to you that can speak. [1451]
Ham. Come, come, and sit you down; you shall not budge; [1452]
You go not till I set you up a glass[1453][1454]
Where you may see the inmost part of you.[1454][1455]
Queen. What wilt thou do? thou wilt not murder me?
Help, help, ho![1456][1457]
Pol. [Behind] What, ho! help, help, help![1457][1458]
Ham. [Drawing] How now! a rat? Dead, for a ducat, dead![1457]
                                        [Makes a pass through the arras.[1459]
Pol. [Behind] O, I am slain!
                                                                [Falls and dies.
Queen. O me, what hast thou done?[1460]
Ham. Nay, I know not: is it the king?[1461]
Queen. O, what a rash and bloody deed is this![1462]
Ham. A bloody deed! almost as bad, good mother,
As kill a king, and marry with his brother.
Queen. As kill a king!
Ham. Ay, lady, 'twas my word. [1463]
                                    [Lifts up the arras and discovers Polonius.
Thou wretched, rash, intruding fool, farewell![1464]
I took thee for thy better: take thy fortune; [1465]
Thou find'st to be too busy is some danger.
Leave wringing of your hands: peace! sit you down,
And let me wring your heart: for so I shall,
If it be made of penetrable stuff;
If damned custom have not brass'd it so.[1466]
That it be proof and bulwark against sense.[1467]
Queen. What have I done, that thou darest wag thy tongue
In noise so rude against me?
Ham. Such an act
That blurs the grace and blush of modesty,
Calls virtue hypocrite, takes off the rose<sup>[1468]</sup>
From the fair forehead of an innocent love,
And sets a blister there; makes marriage vows<sup>[1469]</sup>
As false as dicers' oaths: O, such a deed
As from the body of contraction plucks
The very soul, and sweet religion makes
A rhapsody of words: heaven's face doth glow; [1470][1471]
Yea, this solidity and compound mass, [1471][1472]
With tristful visage, as against the doom,[1473]

0	Is thought-sick at the act.
	Queen. Ay me, what act, [1474][1475] That roars so loud and thunders in the index? [1475]
	Ham. Look here, upon this picture, and on this, The counterfeit presentment of two brothers.
5	See what a grace was seated on this brow; ^[1476] Hyperion's curls, the front of Jove himself,
	An eye like Mars, to threaten and command; [1477] A station like the herald Mercury
0	New-lighted on a heaven-kissing hill; [1478] A combination and a form indeed, [1479] Where every god did seem to set his seal
	To give the world assurance of a man: This was your husband. Look you now, what follows:
5	Here is your husband; like a mildew'd ear, [1480] Blasting his wholesome brother. Have you eyes? [1481] Could you on this fair mountain leave to food
	Could you on this fair mountain leave to feed, And batten on this moor? Ha! have you eyes? ^[1482] You cannot call it love, for at your age
0	The hey-day in the blood is tame, it's humble, [1483] And waits upon the judgement: and what judgement
	Would step from this to this? Sense sure you have, [1484][1485] Else could you not have motion: but sure that sense [1485][1486]
	Is apoplex'd: for madness would not err,[1485] Nor sense to ecstasy was ne'er so thrall'd[1485]
5	But it reserved some quantity of choice, [1485] To serve in such a difference. What devil was t [1485]
	That thus hath cozen'd you at hoodman-blind? ^[1487] Eyes without feeling, feeling without sight, [1488]
0	Ears without hands or eyes, smelling sans all, [1488] Or but a sickly part of one true sense [1488]
	Could not so mope. [1488][1489] O shame! where is thy blush? Rebellious hell, [1489][1490] If thou canst mutine in a matron's bones, [1491]
35	To flaming youth let virtue be as wax And melt in her own fire: proclaim no shame
	When the compulsive ardour gives the charge, [1492] Since frost itself as actively doth burn, And reason panders will. [1493]
	Queen. O Hamlet, speak no more:
0	Thou turn'st mine eyes into my very soul, ^[1494] And there I see such black and grained spots ^[1495]
	As will not leave their tinct. ^[1496]
	Ham. Nay, but to live In the rank sweat of an enseamed bed,[1497]
	Stew'd in corruption, honeying and making love Over the nasty sty,—
15	Queen. O, speak to me no more; ^[1498] These words like daggers enter in my ears; ^[1499] No more, sweet Hamlet!
	Ham. A murderer and a villain; A slave that is not twentieth part the tithe ^[1500] Of your precedent lord; a vice of kings;
00	A cutpurse of the empire and the rule, [1501] That from a shelf the precious diadem stole And put it in his pocket!
	Queen. No more![1502]
	Ham. A king of shreds and patches—

Save me, and hover o'er me with your wings, [1504]
                      You heavenly guards! What would your gracious figure?[1505]
05
                      Queen. Alas, he's mad![1506]
                      Ham. Do you not come your tardy son to chide,
                      That, lapsed in time and passion, lets go by [1507]
                      The important acting of your dread command?
                      O, sav![1508]
10
                      Ghost. Do not forget: this visitation
                      Is but to whet thy almost blunted purpose.
                      But look, amazement on thy mother sits:
                      O, step between her and her fighting soul:[1509]
                      Conceit in weakest bodies strongest works:
                      Speak to her, Hamlet.
                      Ham. How is it with you, lady?
15
                      Queen. Alas, how is't with you,
                      That you do bend your eye on vacancy<sup>[1510]</sup>
                      And with the incorporal air do hold discourse?[1511]
                      Forth at your eyes your spirits wildly peep;
20
                      And, as the sleeping soldiers in the alarm,
                      Your bedded hairs, like life in excrements, [1512]
                      Start up and stand an end. O gentle son. [1513]
                      Upon the heat and flame of thy distemper
                      Sprinkle cool patience. Whereon do you look?
25
                      Ham. On him, on him! Look you, how pale he glares![1514]
                      His form and cause conjoin'd, preaching to stones,<sup>[1515]</sup>
                      Would make them capable. Do not look upon me.[1516]
                      Lest with this piteous action you convert
                      My stern effects: then what I have to do<sup>[1517]</sup>
                      Will want true colour; tears perchance for blood.
30
                      Queen. To whom do you speak this?
                      Ham. Do you see nothing there? [1518]
                      Queen. Nothing at all; yet all that is I see. [1519]
                      Ham. Nor did you nothing hear?
                      Queen. No, nothing but ourselves.
                      Ham. Why, look you there! look, how it steals away![1520]
35
                      My father, in his habit as he lived!<sup>[1521]</sup>
                      Look, where he goes, even now, out at the portal!<sup>[1522]</sup>
                                                                                            [Exit Ghost.
                      Queen. This is the very coinage of your brain:
                      This bodiless creation ecstasy<sup>[1523]</sup>
                      Is very cunning in.[1523]
                      Ham. Ecstasy![1524]
40
                      My pulse, as yours, doth temperately keep time,
                      And makes as healthful music: it is not madness
                      That I have utter'd: bring me to the test, [1525]
                      And I the matter will re-word, which madness<sup>[1526]</sup>
                      Would gambol from. Mother, for love of grace, [1527]
                      Lay not that flattering unction to your soul, [1528]
45
                      That not your trespass but my madness speaks:
                      It will but skin and film the ulcerous place,
                      Whiles rank corruption, mining all within, [1529]
                      Infects unseen. Confess yourself to heaven;
50
                      Repent what's past, avoid what is to come, [1530]
                      And do not spread the compost on the weeds.[1531]
                      To make them ranker. Forgive me this my virtue, [1532][1533][1534]

For in the fatness of these pursy times [1533][1535]
                       Virtue itself of vice must pardon bea. [1533]
                       Yea, curb and woo for leave to do him good. [1533][1536]
55
                       Queen. O Hamlet, thou hast cleft my heart in twain. [1537]
                       Ham. O, throw away the worser part of it,[1538]
                       And live the purer with the other half.[1539]
                       Good night: but go not to my uncle's bed; [1540]
60
                       Assume a virtue, if you have it not.
                       That monster, custom, who all sense doth eat,[1541][1542]
                       Of habits devil, is angel yet in this, [1541][1542]
                       That to the use of actions fair and good^{[1541]}
                       He likewise gives a frock or livery, [1541]
                       That aptly is put on. Refrain to-night, [1541][1543]
65
                       And that shall lend a kind of easiness
                       To the next abstinence; the next more easy; [1544]
                       For use almost can change the stamp of nature, [1544][1545]
                       And either ... the devil, or throw him out^{[1544][1546]}
70
                       With wondrous potency. Once more, good night:[1544]
                       And when you are desirous to be blest,
                       I'll blessing beg of you. For this same lord,
                                                                             [Pointing to Polonius.[1547]
                       I do repent: but heaven hath pleased it so, [1548]
                       To punish me with this, and this with me. [1549]
                       That I must be their scourge and minister.
75
                       I will bestow him, and will answer well
                       The death I gave him. So, again, good night.
                       I must be cruel, only to be kind:[1550]
                       Thus bad begins, and worse remains behind.[1550][1551]
                       One word more, good lady.[1552]
                       Queen. What shall I do?
80
                       Ham. Not this, by no means, that I bid you do:
                       Let the bloat king tempt you again to bed; [1553]
                       Pinch wanton on your cheek, call you his mouse;
                       And let him, for a pair of reechy kisses,
85
                       Or paddling in your neck with his damn'd fingers,
                       Make you to ravel all this matter out, [1554]
                       That I essentially am not in madness,
                       But mad in craft. 'Twere good you let him know;
                       For who, that's but a queen, fair, sober, wise,
90
                       Would from a paddock, from a bat, a gib, [1555]
                       Such dear concernings hide? who would do so?[1556]
                       No, in despite of sense and secrecy,
                       Unpeg the basket on the house's top,
                       Let the birds fly, and like the famous ape,
95
                       To try conclusions, in the basket creep<sup>[1557]</sup>
                       And break your own neck down.
                       Queen. Be thou assured, if words be made of breath
                       And breath of life, I have no life to breathe<sup>[1558]</sup>
                       What thou hast said to me.
                       Ham. I must to England; you know that?
                       Queen. Alack, [1559][1560]
00
                       I had forgot: 'tis so concluded on.[1560][1561]
                       Ham. There's letters seal'd: and my two schoolfellows, [1562]
                       Whom I will trust as I will adders fang'd, [1562]
                       They bear the mandate; they must sweep my way, [1562]
:05
                       And marshal me to knavery. Let it work; [1562][1563]
                       For 'tis the sport to have the enginer<sup>[1562][1564]</sup>
                       Hoist with his own petar: and't shall go hard<sup>[1562][1565]</sup>

But I will delve one yard below their mines, [1562]
And blow them at the moon: O, 'tis most sweet [1562]
When in one line two crafts directly meet. [1562] [1566]
This man shall set me packing: [1567]
I'll lug the guts into the neighbour room.
Mother, good night. Indeed this counsellor [1568]
Is now most still, most secret and most grave,
Who was in life a foolish prating knave. [1569]

Come, sir, to draw toward an end with you.

Good night, mother.

ACT IV.

Scene I. A room in the castle.

Enter King, Queen, Rosencrantz, and Guildenstern. [1571]

King. There's matter in these sighs, these profound heaves:^[1572] You must translate: 'tis fit we understand them. Where is your son?

Queen. Bestow this place on us a little while.

[Exeunt Rosencrantz and Guildenstern. [1573]

Ah, mine own lord, what have I seen to-night![1574]

King. What, Gertrude? How does Hamlet?[1575]

Queen. Mad as the sea and wind, when both contend^[1576] Which is the mightier: in his lawless fit,^[1577] Behind the arras hearing something stir, Whips out his rapier, cries 'a rat, a rat!'^[1578] And in this brainish apprehension kills^[1579] The unseen good old man.

King. O heavy deed!

It had been so with us, had we been there:^[1580]
His liberty is full of threats to all,
To you yourself, to us, to every one.
Alas, how shall this bloody deed be answer'd?^[1581]
It will be laid to us, whose providence
Should have kept short, restrain'd and out of haunt,^[1582]
This mad young man: but so much was our love,
We would not understand what was most fit,
But, like the owner of a foul disease,
To keep it from divulging, let it feed^[1583]
Even on the pith of life. Where is he gone?

Queen. To draw apart the body he hath kill'd: O'er whom his very madness, like some ore^[1584] Among a mineral of metals base,^[1585] Shows itself pure; he weeps for what is done.^[1586]

King. O Gertrude, come away!^[1587]
The sun no sooner shall the mountains touch,
But we will ship him hence: and this vile deed^[1588]
We must, with all our majesty and skill,
Both countenance and excuse. Ho, Guildenstern!

Re-enter Rosencrantz and Guildenstern. [1589]

Friends both, go join you with some further aid:^[1590]
Hamlet in madness hath Polonius slain,
And from his mother's closet hath he dragg'd him:^[1591]
Go seek him out; speak fair, and bring the body
Into the chapel. I pray you, haste in this.

[Exeunt Rosencrantz and Guildenstern. [1592]

Come, Gertrude, we'll call up our wisest friends;
And let them know, both what we mean to do, [1593]
And what's untimely done.... [1594]
Whose whisper o'er the world's diameter [1594]
As level as the cannon to his blank [1594]
Transports his poison'd shot, may miss our name [1594][1595]
And hit the woundless air. O, come away! [1594]

Scene II. Another room in the castle.

Enter Hamlet.[1596]

Ham. Safely stowed.

Ros. } [Within] Hamlet! Lord Hamlet! [1597] Guil.}

Ham. But soft, what noise? who calls on Hamlet?^[1598] O, here they come.

Enter Rosencrantz and Guildenstern. [1599]

Ros. What have you done, my lord, with the dead body?

Ham. Compounded it with dust, whereto 'tis kin. [1600]

Ros. Tell us where 'tis, that we may take it thence And bear it to the chapel.

Ham. Do not believe it.

Ros. Believe what?

Ham. That I can keep your counsel and not mine own. Besides, to be demanded of a sponge! what replication^[1601] should be made by the son of a king?

Ros. Take you me for a sponge, my lord?

Ham. Ay, sir; that soaks up the king's countenance, his rewards, his authorities. But such officers do the king best service in the end: he keeps them, like an ape, in the corner of his jaw; first mouthed, to be last swallowed: when he needs what you have gleaned, it is but squeezing you, and, sponge, you shall be dry again.

Ros. I understand you not, my lord.

Ham. I am glad of it: a knavish speech sleeps in a foolish ear.

Ros. My lord, you must tell us where the body is, and go with us to the king.

Ham. The body is with the king, but the king is $not^{[1603]}$ with the body. The king is a thing—[1604]

Guil. A thing, my lord?[1605]

Ham. Of nothing: bring me to him. Hide fox, and [1606][1607] all after.

[Exeunt.[1607]

Scene III. Another room in the castle.

Enter King, attended.[1608]

King. I have sent to seek him, and to find the body. [1609] How dangerous is it that this man goes loose!
Yet must not we put the strong law on him: [1610]
He's loved of the distracted multitude,
Who like not in their judgement, but their eyes;
And where 'tis so, the offender's scourge is weigh'd, [1611]
But never the offence. To bear all smooth and even, [1612]
This sudden sending him away must seem Deliberate pause: diseases desperate grown
By desperate appliance are relieved,
Or not at all.

Enter Rosencrantz.[1613]

How now! what hath befall'n? Ros. Where the dead body is bestow'd, my lord, We cannot get from him. King. But where is he? Ros. Without, my lord; guarded, to know your pleasure. King. Bring him before us. Ros. Ho, Guildenstern! bring in my lord. Enter Hamlet and Guildenstern. [1614] King. Now, Hamlet, where's Polonius? Ham. At supper. King. At supper! where? Ham. Not where he eats, but where he is eaten: a^[1615] certain convocation of politic worms are e'en at him. Your [1616] worm is your only emperor for diet: we fat all creatures else to fat us, and we fat ourselves for maggots: your fat^[1617] king and your lean beggar is but variable service, two^[1618] dishes, but to one table: that's the end. [1619] King. Alas, alas![1620] Ham. A man may fish with the worm that hath eat of [1620] a king, and eat of the fish that hath fed of that worm. [1620][1621] King. What dost thou mean by this? Ham. Nothing but to show you how a king may go a progress through the guts of a beggar. [1622] King. Where is Polonius? Ham. In heaven; send thither to see: if your messenger find him not there, seek him i' the other place yourself. But indeed, if you find him not within this month, you^[1623] shall nose him as you go up the stairs into the lobby. King. Go seek him there. [To some Attendants. Ham. He will stay till you come. [1624] [Exeunt Attendants. King. Hamlet, this deed, for thine especial safety, [1626] [1625] Which we do tender, as we dearly grieve For that which thou hast done, must send thee hence With fiery quickness: therefore prepare thyself;[1627] The bark is ready and the wind at help, [1628] The associates tend, and every thing is bent^[1629] For England. Ham. For England? King. Ay, Hamlet. Ham. Good.[1630] King. So is it, if thou knew'st our purposes. Ham. I see a cherub that sees them. But, come; for [1631] England! Farewell, dear mother. King. Thy loving father, Hamlet. Ham. My mother: father and mother is man and wife; man and wife is one flesh, and so, my mother. [1632] Come, for England! [Exit. King. Follow him at foot; tempt him with speed aboard; [1633]

Away! for every thing is seal'd and done
That else leans on the affair: pray you, make haste. [1634]
                                        [Exeunt Rosencrantz and Guildenstern.
And, England, if my love thou hold'st at aught-
As my great power thereof may give thee sense,
Since yet thy cicatrice looks raw and red
After the Danish sword, and thy free awe
Pays homage to us—thou mayst not coldly set<sup>[1635]</sup>
Our sovereign process; which imports at full,
By letters congruing to that effect,<sup>[1636]</sup>
The present death of Hamlet. Do it, England;
For like the hectic in my blood he rages,
And thou must cure me: till I know 'tis done.
Howe'er my haps, my joys were ne'er begun.
                                                                       [Exit.[1637]
                    Scene IV. A plain in Denmark.
         Enter Fortinbras, a Captain and Soldiers, marchina.[1638]
For. Go, captain, from me greet the Danish king; [1639]
Tell him that by his license Fortinbras
Craves the conveyance of a promised march<sup>[1640]</sup>
Over his kingdom. You know the rendezvous.[1641]
If that his majesty would aught with us,
We shall express our duty in his eye; [1642]
And let him know so.
Cap. I will do't, my lord.
For. Go softly on.[1643]
                                          [Exeunt Fortinbras and Soldiers. [1643]
         Enter Hamlet, Rosencrantz, Guildenstern, and others.[1643]
                                      [1644]
Ham. Good sir, whose powers are these?[1643][1645]
Cap. They are of Norway, sir.[1643][1645][1646]
Ham. How purposed, sir, I pray you?[1643][1645][1647]
Cap. Against some part of Poland. [1643][1645][1648]
Ham. Who commands them, sir?[1643][1645]
Cap. The nephew to old Norway, Fortinbras.[1645][1649]
Ham. Goes it against the main of Poland, sir,[1645]
Or for some frontier?[1645]
Cap. Truly to speak, and with no addition, [1645][1650]
We go to gain a little patch of ground<sup>[1645]</sup>
That hath in it no profit but the name. [1645]
To pay five ducats, five, I would not farm it;[1645][1651]
Nor will it yield to Norway or the Pole<sup>[1645]</sup>
A ranker rate, should it be sold in fee. [1645][1652]
Ham. Why, then the Polack never will defend it.[1645]
Cap. Yes, it is already garrison'd. [1645][1653]
Ham. Two thousand souls and twenty thousand ducats [1645][1654][1655]
Will not debate the question of this straw:[1645][1655]
This is the imposthume of much wealth and peace, [1645]
That inward breaks, and shows no cause without<sup>[1645]</sup>
Why the man dies. I humbly thank you, sir. [1645]

                                                [Exeunt all but Hamlet.[1645][1657]
How all occasions do inform against me, [1645]
And spur my dull revenge! What is a man,[1645]
If his chief good and market of his time<sup>[1645]</sup>
Be but to sleep and feed? a beast, no more. [1645]
Sure, he that made us with such large discourse, [1645]
Looking before and after, gave us not<sup>[1645]</sup>
That capability and god-like reason<sup>[1645]</sup>
To fust in us unused. Now, whether it be^{[1645][1658]}
Bestial oblivion, or some craven scruple<sup>[1645]</sup>
Of thinking too precisely on the event,—[1645]
A thought which, quarter'd, hath but one part wisdom<sup>[1645]</sup>
And ever three parts coward,—I do not know<sup>[1645][1659]</sup>
Why yet I live to say 'this thing's to do.' [1645][1659]
Sith I have cause, and will, and strength, and means, [1645]
To do't. Examples gross as earth exhort me: [1645]
Witness this army, of such mass and charge, [1645]
Led by a delicate and tender prince, [1645]
Whose spirit with divine ambition puff'd<sup>[1645]</sup>
Makes mouths at the invisible event, [1645]
Exposing what is mortal and unsure<sup>[1645]</sup>
To all that fortune, death and danger dare, [1645]
Even for an egg-shell. Rightly to be great<sup>[1645][1660]</sup>
Is not to stir without great argument, [1645][1660][1661]
But greatly to find quarrel in a straw<sup>[1645]</sup>
When honour's at the stake. How stand I then,[1645]
That have a father kill'd, a mother stain'd, [1645]
Excitements of my reason and my blood, [1645]
And let all sleep, while to my shame I see^{[1645]}
The imminent death of twenty thousand men, [1645][1662]
That for a fantasy and trick of fame<sup>[1645]</sup>
Go to their graves like beds, fight for a plot^{[1645][1663]}
Whereon the numbers cannot try the cause, [1645]
Which is not tomb enough and continent<sup>[1645]</sup>
To hide the slain? O, from this time forth. [1645][1664]
My thoughts be bloody, or be nothing worth!
                                                                         [Exit.[1645]
               Scene V. Elsinore. A room in the castle.
                Enter Queen, Horatio, and a Gentleman. [1665]
Queen. I will not speak with her.
Gent. She is importunate, indeed distract:[1666][1667]
Her mood will needs be pitied. [1667]
Queen. What would she have?
Gent. She speaks much of her father, says she hears<sup>[1666]</sup>
There's tricks i' the world, and hems and beats her heart,
Spurns enviously at straws; speaks things in doubt,
That carry but half sense: her speech is nothing,
Yet the unshaped use of it doth move
The hearers to collection; they aim at it,[1668]
And botch the words up fit to their own thoughts; [1669]
Which, as her winks and nods and gestures yield them, [1670]
Indeed would make one think there might be thought, [1671]

Though nothing sure, yet much unhappily.

[Exit.[1645]

Cap. God be wi' you, sir.

Each toy seems prologue to some great amiss:[1676]
So full of artless jealousy is guilt, [1676]
It spills itself in fearing to be spilt. [1676][1677]
                     Re-enter Gentleman, with Ophelia.
Oph. Where is the beauteous majesty of Denmark?
Queen. How now, Ophelia![1678]
Oph. [Sings] How should I your true love know<sup>[1679][1680]</sup>
              From another one?[1680]
            By his cockle hat and staff<sup>[1680]</sup>
              And his sandal shoon.[1680][1681]
Queen. Alas, sweet lady, what imports this song?
Oph. Say you? nay, pray you, mark.[1682]
[Sings] He is dead and gone, lady, [1683][1684][1685]
              He is dead and gone;[1684][1685]
            At his head a grass-green turf, [1685][1686]

Queen. Nay, but, Ophelia,- Oph. Pray you, mark.

Queen. Alas, look here, my lord.
Oph. [Sings] Larded with sweet flowers; [1689]
            Which bewept to the grave did go<sup>[1690]</sup>
              With true-love showers.[1691]

they ask you what it means, say you this:
[Sings] To-morrow is Saint Valentine's day, [^{[1697][1698][1699]}]
              All in the morning betime, [1698][1700]
            And I a maid at your window, [1698]
              To be your Valentine.[1698]
            Then up he rose, and donn'd his clothes, [1701][1702]
              And dupp'd the chamber-door;[1701][1703]
            Let in the maid, that out a maid^{[1701][1704]}
              Never departed more.[1701]
King. Pretty Ophelia!
Oph. Indeed, la, without an oath, I'll make an end on't:[1705]
[Sings] By Gis and by Saint Charity, [1706][1707]

                      When sorrows come, they come not single spies, [1720]
                      But in battalions! First, her father slain: [1721]
                      Next, your son gone; and he most violent author
                      Of his own just remove: the people muddied,
                      Thick and unwholesome in their thoughts and whispers, [1722]
                      For good Polonius' death; and we have done but greenly, [1723]
                      In hugger-mugger to inter him: poor Ophelia[1724]
                      Divided from herself and her fair judgement,
                      Without the which we are pictures, or mere beasts: [1725]
                      Last, and as much containing as all these,
                      Her brother is in secret come from France,
                      Feeds on his wonder, keeps himself in clouds, [1726]
                      And wants not buzzers to infect his ear<sup>[1727]</sup>
                      With pestilent speeches of his father's death;
                      Wherein necessity, of matter beggar'd, [1728]

                      The ocean, overpeering of his list,
                      Eats not the flats with more impetuous haste<sup>[1736]</sup>

                      And, as the world were now but to begin, [1738]
                      Antiquity forgot, custom not known, [1738]

                      Caps, hands and tongues applaud it to the clouds, [1742]
                      'Laertes shall be king, Laertes king!'[1743]
                      Queen. How cheerfully on the false trail they cry!

Laer. I pray you, give me leave.

Laer. I thank you: keep the door. O thou vile king.[1749][1750]
Give me my father![1749]
Queen. Calmly, good Laertes.
Laer. That drop of blood that's calm proclaims me bastard; [1751]
Cries cuckold to my father; brands the harlot
Even here, between the chaste unsmirched brow<sup>[1752]</sup>
Of my true mother.
King. What is the cause, Laertes,
That thy rebellion looks so giant-like?
Let him go, Gertrude; do not fear our person:
There's such divinity doth hedge a king,
That treason can but peep to what it would,[1753]
Acts little of his will. Tell me, Laertes, [1754]
Why thou art thus incensed: let him go, Gertrude: [1755]
Speak, man.
Laer. Where is my father?
King. Dead.
Oueen. But not by him. [1756]
King. Let him demand his fill.
Laer. How came he dead? I'll not be juggled with:
To hell, allegiance! vows, to the blackest devil![1757]
Conscience and grace, to the profoundest pit![1758]
I dare damnation: to this point I stand, [1758]
That both the worlds I give to negligence,
Let come what comes; only I'll be revenged
Most throughly for my father.
King. Who shall stay you?
Laer. My will, not all the world:[1759]
And for my means, I'll husband them so well,
They shall go far with little. [1760]
King. Good Laertes.[1761]
If you desire to know the certainty<sup>[1761]</sup>
Of your dear father's death, is't writ in your revenge, [1762]
That, swoopstake, you will draw both friend and foe, [1763]
Winner and loser?[1764]
Laer. None but his enemies.
King. Will you know them then?[1765]
Laer. To his good friends thus wide I'll ope my arms; [1766]
And, like the kind life-rendering pelican, [1767]
Repast them with my blood.[1768]
King. Why, now you speak
Like a good child and a true gentleman.
That I am guiltless of your father's death,
And am most sensibly in grief for it, [1769]
It shall as level to your judgement pierce<sup>[1770]</sup>
As day does to your eye.
Danes. [Within] Let her come in.

Ere we were two days old at sea, a pirate of very warlike appointment gave us chase. Finding ourselves too slow of sail, we put on a compelled valour: and in the grapple I boarded them: on the instant^[1826] they got clear of our ship; so I alone became their prisoner. They have dealt with me like thieves of mercy: but they knew what they did; I am to do a good turn^[1827] for them. Let the king have the letters I have sent; and repair thou to me with as much speed as thou wouldest^[1828] fly death. Rosencrantz and Guildenstern hold their course for England: of them I have much to tell thee. Farewell.[1831] 'He that thou knowest thine, Hamlet.'[1832] Come, I will make you way for these your letters; [1833] And do't the speedier, that you may direct me [Exeunt.[1834] To him from whom you brought them.

Scene VII. Another room in the castle. [1835]

Enter King and Laertes.

King. Now must your conscience my acquittance seal, And you must put me in your heart for friend,

Sith you have heard, and with a knowing ear,
That he which hath your noble father slain<sup>[1836]</sup>
Pursued my life.
Laer. It well appears: but tell me
Why you proceeded not against these feats,[1837]
So crimeful and so capital in nature, [1838]
As by your safety, wisdom, all things else, [1839]
You mainly were stirr'd up.
King. O, for two special reasons, [1840]
Which may to you perhaps seem much unsinew'd, [1841]
But yet to me they're strong. The queen his mother<sup>[1842]</sup>
Lives almost by his looks; and for myself-
My virtue or my plague, be it either which—[1843]
She's so conjunctive to my life and soul, [1844]
That, as the star moves not but in his sphere,
I could not but by her. The other motive,
Why to a public count I might not go,
Is the great love the general gender bear him;
Who, dipping all his faults in their affection,
Would, like the spring that turneth wood to stone, [1845]
Convert his gyves to graces; so that my arrows, [1846]
Too slightly timber'd for so loud a wind, [1847]
Would have reverted to my bow again<sup>[1848]</sup>
And not where I had aim'd them.[1849]
Laer. And so have I a noble father lost; [1850]
A sister driven into desperate terms,
Whose worth, if praises may go back again, [1851]
Stood challenger on mount of all the age<sup>[1852]</sup>
For her perfections: but my revenge will come. [1853]
King. Break not your sleeps for that: you must not think<sup>[1854]</sup>
That we are made of stuff so flat and dull
That we can let our beard be shook with danger<sup>[1855]</sup>
And think it pastime. You shortly shall hear more: [1856]
I loved your father, and we love ourself; [1857]
And that, I hope, will teach you to imagine—[1858]
                      Enter a Messenger, with letters.
How now! what news?[1859]
Mess. Letters, my lord, from Hamlet:
This to your majesty; this to the queen. [1860]
King. From Hamlet! who brought them?[1861]
Mess. Sailors, my lord, they say; I saw them not:
They were given me by Claudio; he received them
Of him that brought them.
King. Laertes, you shall hear them. [1862]
Leave us.
                                                                 [Exit Messenger.

[Reads] 'High and mighty, You shall know I am set[1864] naked on your kingdom. To-morrow shall I beg leave<sup>[1865]</sup> to see your kingly eyes: when I shall, first asking your<sup>[1866][1867]</sup> pardon thereunto, recount the occasion of my sudden and [1866][1868][1869] more strange return.[1869]
                                             'HAMLET.'[1870]
What should this mean? Are all the rest come back?
Or is it some abuse, and no such thing?<sup>[1871]</sup>
Laer. Know you the hand?
King. Tis Hamlet's character. 'Naked!'[1872][1873]

And in a postscript here, he says 'alone.'[1872][1873]
Can you advise me?[1872][1874]
Laer. I'm lost in it, my lord. But let him come: [1875]
It warms the very sickness in my heart,
That I shall live and tell him to his teeth, [1876]
'Thus didest thou.' [1877]
King. If it be so, Laertes,—[1878]
As how should it be so? how otherwise?—[1878][1879]
Will you be ruled by me?[1878]
Laer. Ay, my lord;[1880][1881]
So you will not o'errule me to a peace. [1880]
King. To thine own peace. If he be now return'd, [1882]
As checking at his voyage, and that he means<sup>[1883]</sup>
No more to undertake it, I will work him
To an exploit now ripe in my device, [1884]
Under the which he shall not choose but fall:
And for his death no wind of blame shall breathe;
But even his mother shall uncharge the practice,
And call it accident.[1885]
Laer. My lord, I will be ruled;[1886][1887]
The rather, if you could devise it so<sup>[1886]</sup>
That I might be the organ.[1886][1888]
King. It falls right.[1886]
You have been talk'd of since your travel much,[1886]
And that in Hamlet's hearing, for a quality [1886]
Wherein, they say, you shine: your sum of parts<sup>[1886]</sup>
Did not together pluck such envy from him, [1886]
As did that one, and that in my regard [1886]
Of the unworthiest siege.[1886]
Laer. What part is that, my lord?[1886]
King. A very riband in the cap of youth. [1886][1889]
Yet needful too; for youth no less becomes<sup>[1886]</sup>
The light and careless livery that it wears<sup>[1886]</sup>
Than settled age his sables and his weeds,[1886]
Importing health and graveness. Two months since, [1886][1890]
Here was a gentleman of Normandy:—[1891]
I've seen myself, and served against, the French, [1892]
And they can well on horseback: but this gallant<sup>[1893]</sup>
Had witchcraft in't; he grew unto his seat,[1894]
And to such wondrous doing brought his horse
As had he been incorpsed and demi-natured<sup>[1895]</sup>
With the brave beast: so far he topp'd my thought<sup>[1896]</sup>
That I, in forgery of shapes and tricks,
Come short of what he did.[1897]
Laer. A Norman was't?
King. A Norman.
Laer. Upon my life, Lamond.
King. The very same. [1898]
Laer. I know him well: he is the brooch indeed
And gem of all the nation.[1899]
King. He made confession of you, [1900]
And gave you such a masterly report,
For art and exercise in your defence,
And for your rapier most especial,[1901]

00	That he cried out, 'twould be a sight indeed ^[1902] If one could match you: the scrimers of their nation. ^[1903] He swore, had neither motion, guard, nor eye, ^[1903] If you opposed them. Sir, this report of his ^[1903] Did Hamlet so envenom with his envy ^[1905] That he could nothing do but wish and beg Your sudden coming o'er, to play with him. ^[1906] Now, out of this—
	Laer. What out of this, my lord?
	King. Laertes, was your father dear to you? ^[1907] Or are you like the painting of a sorrow, A face without a heart?
10	Laer. Why ask you this?
15	King. Not that I think you did not love your father, But that I know love is begun by time, [1908] And that I see, in passages of proof, Time qualifies the spark and fire of it. There lives within the year flame of lave [1909]
13	There lives within the very flame of love ^[1909] A kind of wick or snuff that will abate it; ^{[1909][1910]}
	And nothing is at a like goodness still, [1909] For goodness, growing to a plurisy, [1909][1911]
20	Dies in his own too much: that we would do ^{[1909][1912]}
20	We should do when we would; for this 'would' changes ^{[1909][1913]} And hath abatements and delays as many ^[1909]
	As there are tongues, are hands, are accidents, [1909][1914] And then this 'should' is like a spendthrift sigh, [1909][1913][1915] That hurts by easing. But, to the quick o' the ulcer: [1909]
25	Hamlet comes back: what would you undertake, [1916] To show yourself your father's son in deed [1917] More than in words?
	Laer. To cut his throat i' the church.
	King. No place indeed should murder sanctuarize; [1918] Revenge should have no bounds. But, good Laertes, 55 If this did blast in proof. Soft! let me see:[1932] We'll make a solemn wager on your cunnings: [1933] I ha't:[1934][1935] When in your motion you are hot and dry—[1935][1936] As make your bouts more violent to that end—[1937] 60 And that he calls for drink, I'll have prepared him^[1938] A chalice for the nonce; whereon but sipping, [1939] If he by chance escape your venom'd stuck, [1940] Our purpose may hold there. But stay, what noise? Enter Queen.[1941] How now, sweet queen![1942] 65 Queen. One woe doth tread upon another's heel,[1943] So fast they follow: your sister's drown'd, Laertes.[1944] Laer. Drown'd! O, where? Queen. There is a willow grows aslant a brook, [1945] That shows his hoar leaves in the glassy stream; [1946] 70 There with fantastic garlands did she come^[1947] Of crow-flowers, nettles, daisies, and long purples, That liberal shepherds give a grosser name, [1948] But our cold maids do dead men's fingers call them: [1949] There, on the pendent boughs her coronet weeds^[1950] 75 Clambering to hang, an envious sliver broke; [1951] When down her weedy trophies and herself^[1952] Fell in the weeping brook. Her clothes spread wide, And mermaid-like awhile they bore her up:[1953] Which time she chanted snatches of old tunes, [1954] 80 As one incapable of her own distress, Or like a creature native and indued^[1955] Unto that element: but long it could not be Till that her garments, heavy with their drink, [1956] Pull'd the poor wretch from her melodious lay^[1957] To muddy death. 85 Laer. Alas, then she is drown'd![1958] Queen. Drown'd, drown'd. Laer. Too much of water hast thou, poor Ophelia, And therefore I forbid my tears: but yet It is our trick; nature her custom holds, 90 Let shame say what it will: when these are gone, The woman will be out. Adieu, my lord: I have a speech of fire that fain would blaze,[1959] But that this folly douts it. [Exit.[1960] King. Let's follow, Gertrude: How much I had to do to calm his rage![1961] 95 Now fear I this will give it start again; Therefore let's follow. [Exeunt. FOOTNOTES: [1571] ACT IV. ACT V.

Scene I. A churchyard.

Enter two Clowns, with spades, &c.[1962]

First Clo. Is she to be buried in Christian burial that [1963][1964] wilfully seeks her own salvation?

Sec. Clo. I tell thee she is; and therefore make her^{[1965][1966]} grave straight: the crowner hath sat on her, and finds it Christian burial.

First Clo. How can that be, unless she drowned herself^{[1963][1967]} in her own defence?

Sec. Clo. Why, 'tis found so. [1965]

First Clo. It must be 'se offendendo;' it cannot be else. [1968] For here lies the point: if I drown myself wittingly, it argues an act: and an act hath three branches; it is, to act, to [1969] do, and to perform: argal, she drowned herself wittingly. [1970]

Sec. Clo. Nay, but hear you, goodman delver.[1971]

First Clo. Give me leave. Here lies the water; good:^[1972] here stands the man; good: if the man go to this water and^[1973] drown himself, it is, will he, nill he, he goes; mark you^[1974] that; but if the water come to him and drown him, he^[1975] drowns not himself: argal, he that is not guilty of his own death shortens not his own life.

Sec. Clo. But is this law?

First Clo. Ay, marry, is't; crowner's quest law.

Sec. Clo. Will you ha' the truth on't? If this had not^[1976] been a gentlewoman, she should have been buried out o'^[1977] Christian burial.

First Clo. Why, there thou say'st: and the more pity that ^[1978] great folk should have countenance in this world to drown or hang themselves, more than their even Christian. Come, ^[1979] my spade. There is no ancient gentlemen but gardeners, ^[1980] ditchers and grave-makers: they hold up Adam's profession.

Sec. Clo. Was he a gentleman?

First Clo. A' was the first that ever bore arms.[1981]

Sec. Clo. Why, he had none. [1982]

First Clo. What, art a heathen? How dost thou understand^{[1982][1983]} the Scripture? The Scripture says Adam digged:^[1982] could he dig without arms? I'll put another question^[1982] to thee: if thou answerest me not to the purpose, confess^[1984] thyself—^[1985]

Sec. Clo. Go to.

First Clo. What is he that builds stronger than either the mason, the shipwright, or the carpenter?

Sec. Clo. The gallows-maker; for that frame outlives a^[1986] thousand tenants.

First Clo. I like thy wit well, in good faith: the gallows does well; but how does it well? it does well to those that

:5 do ill: now, thou dost ill to say the gallows is built stronger than the church: argal, the gallows may do well to thee. To't again, come. Sec. Clo. 'Who builds stronger than a mason, a shipwright, or a carpenter?'^[1987] First Clo. Ay, tell me that, and unyoke. 0 Sec. Clo. Marry, now I can tell. First Clo. To't. Sec. Clo. Mass. I cannot tell. Enter Hamlet and Horatio, afar off.[1988] First Clo. Cudgel thy brains no more about it, for your .5 dull ass will not mend his pace with beating, and when you are asked this question next, say 'a grave-maker:' the houses that he makes last till doomsday. Go, get thee to [1989][1990] Yaughan; fetch me a stoup of liquor. [Exit Sec. Clown. [1990][1991] [He digs, and sings. In youth, when I did love, did love, 0 Methought it was very sweet, To contract, O, the time, for-a my behove, [1992] O, methought, there-a was nothing-a meet.[1993] Ham. Has this fellow no feeling of his business, that [1994][1995] he sings at grave-making?[1995] 5 Hor. Custom hath made it in him a property of easiness. [1996] Ham. 'Tis e'en so: the hand of little employment hath the daintier sense. [1997] First Clo. [Sings] But age, with his stealing steps, [1998][1999] 0 Hath claw'd me in his clutch,[1999][2000] And hath shipped me intil the land, [1999][2001] As if I had never been such. [2002] [Throws up a skull. Ham. That skull had a tongue in it, and could sing once: how the knave jowls it to the ground, as if it were [2003] 5 Cain's jaw-bone, that did the first murder! It might be [2004] the pate of a politician, which this ass now o'er-reaches: [2005] one that would circumvent God, might it not?[2006] Hor. It might, my lord. Ham. Or of a courtier, which could say 'Good morrow, sweet lord! How dost thou, sweet lord?' This might^[2007] :0 be my lord such-a-one, that praised my lord such-a-one's [2008] horse, when he meant to beg it; might it not?[2009] Hor. Av. my lord. Ham. Why, e'en so: and now my Lady Worm's; [2010] :5 chapless, and knocked about the mazzard with a sexton's [2011] spade: here's fine revolution, an we had the trick to see't. [2012] Did these bones cost no more the breeding, but to play at loggats with 'em? mine ache to think on't.[2013] First Clo. [Sings] A pick-axe, and a spade, a spade, [1998] 0 For and a shrouding sheet:[2014] O, a pit of clay for to be made For such a guest is meet.

Ham. There's another: why may not that be the skull^[2016] of a lawyer? Where be his quiddities now, his quillets, his [2017] cases, his tenures, and his tricks? why does he suffer this 15 rude knave now to knock him about the sconce with a dirty^[2018] shovel, and will not tell him of his action of battery? Hum! [2019] This fellow might be in 's time a great buyer of land, with his statutes, his recognizances, his fines, his double vouchers, 00 his recoveries: is this the fine of his fines and the recovery^[2020] of his recoveries, to have his fine pate full of fine dirt? will^{[2020][2021]} his vouchers vouch him no more of his purchases, and double^{[2022][2023]} ones too, than the length and breadth of a pair of indentures?^[2023] The very conveyances of his lands will hardly lie in [2024] this box; and must the inheritor himself have no more, ha? 05 Hor. Not a jot more, my lord. Ham. Is not parchment made of sheep-skins? Hor. Ay, my lord, and of calf-skins too. [2025] Ham. They are sheep and calves which seek out assurance^[2026] in that. I will speak to this fellow. Whose grave's 10 this, sirrah?^[2027] First Clo. Mine, sir. [2028] [Sings] O, a pit of clay for to be made [2028][2029]For such a guest is meet. [2030] 15 Ham. I think it be thine indeed, for thou liest in't. [2031] First Clo. You lie out on't, sir, and therefore 'tis not^[2032] yours: for my part, I do not lie in't, and yet it is mine. [2033] Ham. Thou dost lie in't, to be in't and say it is thine: 'tis for the dead, not for the quick; therefore thou liest. 2.0 First Clo. 'Tis a quick lie, sir; 'twill away again, from [2034] me to you. Ham. What man dost thou dig it for? First Clo. For no man, sir, Ham. What woman then? First Clo. For none, neither. 25 Ham. Who is to be buried in 't? First Clo. One that was a woman, sir; but, rest her soul, she's dead. Ham. How absolute the knave is! we must speak by 30 the card, or equivocation will undo us. By the Lord, [2035] Horatio, this three years I have taken note of it; the age^[2036] is grown so picked that the toe of the peasant comes so^[2037] near the heel of the courtier, he galls his kibe. How long^[2038] hast thou been a grave-maker?[2039] 35 First Clo. Of all the days i' the year, I came to't that [2040] day that our last king Hamlet o'ercame Fortinbras. [2041] Ham. How long is that since? First Clo. Cannot you tell that? every fool can tell that: it was that very day that young Hamlet was born; [2042] 40 he that is mad, and sent into England. [2043] Ham. Ay, marry, why was he sent into England? First Clo. Why, because a' was mad: a' shall recover [2044] his wits there; or, if a' do not, 'tis no great matter there. [2044][2045]

                        First Clo. 'Twill not be seen in him there; there the [2046]
                        men are as mad as he.[2046]
                        Ham. How came he mad?
                        First Clo. Very strangely, they say.
                        Ham. How 'strangely'?
50
                        First Clo. Faith, e'en with losing his wits.
                        Ham. Upon what ground?
                        First Clo. Why, here in Denmark: I have been sexton<sup>[2047]</sup> here, man and boy, thirty years. [2048]
                        Ham. How long will a man lie i' the earth ere he rot?
55
                        First Clo. I'faith, if a' be not rotten before a' die—as<sup>[2049][2050]</sup> we have many pocky corses now-a-days, that will scarce<sup>[2051]</sup> hold the laying in—a' will last you some eight year or nine<sup>[2051]</sup> year: a tanner will last you nine year. [2052]
                        Ham. Why he more than another?
60
                        First Clo. Why, sir, his hide is so tanned with his trade<sup>[2053]</sup> that a' will keep out water a great while; and your water is [2054]
                        a sore decayer of your whoreson dead body. Here's a skull<sup>[2055]</sup> now: this skull has lain in the earth three and twenty years. [2055][2056]
                        Ham. Whose was it?
65
                        First Clo. A whoreson mad fellow's it was: whose do<sup>[2057]</sup> you think it was?[2057]
                        Ham. Nay, I know not.
                        First Clo. A pestilence on him for a mad rogue! a'[2058] poured a flagon of Rhenish on my head once. This same<sup>[2059]</sup> 70 skull, sir, was Yorick's skull, the king's jester. [2059][2060]
                        Ham. This?
                        First Clo. E'en that.
                        Ham. Let me see. [Takes the skull.] Alas, poor<sup>[2061]</sup>
                        Yorick! I knew him, Horatio: a fellow of infinite jest, of 75 most excellent fancy: he hath borne me on his back a<sup>[2062]</sup> thousand times; and now how abhorred in my imagination<sup>[2063][2064]</sup> it is! my gorge rises at it. Here hung those lips that I<sup>[2064]</sup> have kissed I know not how oft. Where be your gibes now? your gambols? your songs? your flashes of merriment, [2065]
80 that were wont to set the table on a roar? Not one<sup>[2066]</sup> now, to mock your own grinning? quite chop-fallen? Now<sup>[2067]</sup> get you to my lady's chamber, and tell her, let her paint<sup>[2068]</sup> an inch thick, to this favour she must come; make her<sup>[2069]</sup> laugh at that. Prithee, Horatio, tell me one thing.
                        Hor. What's that, my lord?
85
                        Ham. Dost thou think Alexander looked o' this fashion [2070]
                        i' the earth?
                        Hor. E'en so.
                                                                                             [Puts down the

                        Hor. E'en so, my lord.
                        Ham. To what base uses we may return, Horatio![2072]

Ham. Why?

till he find it stopping a bung-hole?^[2073] Hor. 'Twere to consider too curiously, to consider so. 95 Ham. No, faith, not a jot; but to follow him thither [2074]with modesty enough and likelihood to lead it: as thus: [2075] Alexander died, Alexander was buried, Alexander returneth^[2076] into dust; the dust is earth; of earth we make loam; [2077] and why of that loam, whereto he was converted, might^[2078] they not stop a beer-barrel? 00 Imperious Cæsar, dead and turn'd to clay, [2079] Might stop a hole to keep the wind away: O, that that earth, which kept the world in awe, Should patch a wall to expel the winter's flaw![2080] But soft! but soft! aside: here comes the king. 0.5 Enter Priests, &c. in procession; the Corpse of Ophelia, LAERTES and Mourners following; King, Queen, their trains, & $c^{[2081]}$ The queen, the courtiers: who is this they follow?^[2082] And with such maimed rites? This doth betoken^[2083] The corse they follow did with desperate hand Fordo its own life: 'twas of some estate. [2084] Couch we awhile, and mark. 10 [Retiring with Horatio.[2085] Laer. What ceremony else?[2086] Ham. That is Laertes, a very noble youth: mark. [2087] Laer. What ceremony else? First Priest. Her obsequies have been as far enlarged $^{[2088][2089]}$ 15 As we have warranty: her death was doubtful: [2090] And, but that great command o'ersways the order, She should in ground unsanctified have lodged^[2091] Till the last trumpet; for charitable prayers, [2092] Shards, flints and pebbles should be thrown on her:[2093] 20 Yet here she is allow'd her virgin crants, [2094] Her maiden strewments and the bringing home^[2095] Of bell and burial. Laer. Must there no more be done?[2096] First Priest. No more be done: [2088] We should profane the service of the dead 25 To sing a requiem and such rest to her^[2097] As to peace-parted souls. Laer. Lay her i' the earth: [2098] And from her fair and unpolluted flesh May violets spring! I tell thee, churlish priest, A ministering angel shall my sister be, When thou liest howling. 30 Ham. What, the fair Ophelia! Queen. [Scattering flowers] Sweets to the sweet: farewell![2099] I hoped thou shouldst have been my Hamlet's wife; [2100] I thought thy bride-bed to have deck'd, sweet maid, And not have strew'd thy grave. Laer. O, treble woe^[2101] 35 Fall ten times treble on that cursed head^[2102] Whose wicked deed thy most ingenious sense^[2103] Deprived thee of! Hold off the earth awhile, Till I have caught her once more in mine arms:

Why may not imagination trace the noble dust of Alexander,

40	Now pile your dust upon the quick and dead, Till of this flat a mountain you have made To o'ertop old Pelion or the skyish head ^[2105] Of blue Olympus. ^[2106] [2107]
4 5	Ham. [Advancing] What is he whose grief ^[2107] Bears such an emphasis? whose phrase of sorrow ^[2108] Conjures the wandering stars and makes them stand Like wonder-wounded hearers? This is I, ^[2109] Hamlet the Dane.	[Leaps into the
	Laer. The devil take thy soul!	grave.
	[Gra	ppling with him. ^[2110]
:50	Ham. Thou pray'st not well. ^[2111] I prithee, take thy fingers from my throat; ^[2111] For, though I am not splenitive and rash, ^[2112] Yet have I in me something dangerous, ^[2113] Which let thy wisdom fear. Hold off thy hand. ^[2114]
	King. Pluck them asunder.
	Queen. Hamlet, Hamlet!
	All. Gentlemen,—
	Hor. Good my lord, be quiet.
	[The Attendants part them, and they o	come out of the grave. [2115]
:55	Ham. Why, I will fight with him upon this theme ^[2116] Until my eyelids will no longer wag.
	Queen. O my son, what theme?
	Ham. I loved Ophelia: forty thousand brothers Could not, with all their quantity of love, [2117] Make up my sum. What wilt thou do for her?
60	King. O, he is mad, Laertes.
	Queen. For love of God, forbear him.
	Ham. 'Swounds, show me what thou'lt do: ^[2118] Woo't weep? woo't fight? woo't fast? woo't tear thyself? ^[2] Woo't drink up eisel? eat a crocodile? ^[2119] [2121]	119][2120]
65	I'll do't. Dost thou come here to whine? ^[2122]
	To outface me with leaping in her grave? ^[2123] Be buried quick with her, and so will I:
	And, if thou prate of mountains, let them throw Millions of acres on us, till our ground,
70	Singeing his pate against the burning zone, [2124]
	Make Ossa like a wart! Nay, an thou'lt mouth, ^[2125] I'll rant as well as thou.
	Queen. This is mere madness: [2126][2127]
	And thus awhile the fit will work on him; ^[2128]
:75	Anon, as patient as the female dove ^{[2127][2129]} When that her golden couplets are disclosed, ^[2130]
	His silence will sit drooping.
	Ham. Hear you, sir;
	What is the reason that you use me thus? I loved you ever: but it is no matter; ^[2131]
80	Let Hercules himself do what he may, The cat will mew, and dog will have his day.	[Exit . ^[2132]
	King. I pray thee, good Horatio, wait upon him.	[EXIT. LEGIS
		[Exit Horatio. ^[2133]

[To Laertes] Strengthen your patience in our last night's speech;^[2134] We'll put the matter to the present push.
Good Gertrude, set some watch over your son.
This grave shall have a living monument:
An hour of quiet shortly shall we see;^[2135]
Till then, in patience our proceeding be.

[Exeunt.^[2136]

Scene II. A hall in the castle. [2137]

Enter Hamlet and Horatio.

Ham. So much for this, sir: now shall you see the other; [2138] You do remember all the circumstance? [2139]

Hor. Remember it, my lord!

Ham. Sir, in my heart there was a kind of fighting, That would not let me sleep: methought I lay^[2140] Worse than the mutines in the bilboes. Rashly, ^{[2141][2142]} And praised be rashness for it, let us know, ^{[2142][2143][2144][2145]} Our indiscretion sometime serves us well^{[2144][2145][2146]} When our deep plots do pall; and that should learn us^{[2144][2147]} There's a divinity that shapes our ends, ^[2144] Rough-hew them how we will. ^[2144]

Hor. That is most certain.

Ham. Up from my cabin,
My sea-gown scarf'd about me, in the dark^[2148]
Groped I to find out them; had my desire,^[2149]
Finger'd their packet, and in fine withdrew
To mine own room again; making so bold,^[2150]
My fears forgetting manners, to unseal^[2151]
Their grand commission; where I found, Horatio,—
O royal knavery!—an exact command,^[2153]
Larded with many several sorts of reasons,^[2154]
Importing Denmark's health and England's too,
With, ho! such bugs and goblins in my life,^[2155]
That, on the supervise, no leisure bated,
No, not to stay the grinding of the axe,^[2156]
My head should be struck off.^[2157]

Hor. Is't possible?

Ham. Here's the commission: read it at more leisure. But wilt thou hear now how I did proceed?^[2158]

Hor. I beseech vou.[2159]

Ham. Being thus be-netted round with villanies,—[2160][2161] Or I could make a prologue to my brains, [2160][2162] They had begun the play,—I sat me down; [2160][2163] Devised a new commission; wrote it fair: I once did hold it, as our statists do, A baseness to write fair, and labour'd much [2164] How to forget that learning; but, sir, now It did me yeoman's service: wilt thou know [2165] The effect of what I wrote? [2166]

Hor. Ay, good my lord.

Ham. An earnest conjuration from the king,
As England was his faithful tributary,
As love between them like the palm might flourish,
[2167]
As peace should still her wheaten garland wear
And stand a comma 'tween their amities,
[2168]
And many such-like 'As'es of great charge,
[2169]
That, on the view and knowing of these contents,
[2170]
Without debatement further, more or less,

He should the bearers put to sudden death,<sup>[2171]</sup>
Not shriving-time allow'd. [2172]
Hor. How was this seal'd?
Ham. Why, even in that was heaven ordinant.[2173]
I had my father's signet in my purse.
Which was the model of that Danish seal:
Folded the writ up in the form of the other;<sup>[2174]</sup>
Subscribed it; gave't the impression; placed it safely, [2175]
The changeling never known. Now, the next day<sup>[2176]</sup>
Was our sea-fight; and what to this was sequent<sup>[2177]</sup>
Thou know'st already.[2178]
Hor. So Guildenstern and Rosencrantz go to't.[2179]
Ham. Why, man, they did make love to this employment; [2180]
They are not near my conscience; their defeat<sup>[2181]</sup>
Does by their own insinuation grow: [2182]
'Tis dangerous when the baser nature comes<sup>[2183]</sup>
Between the pass and fell incensed points<sup>[2184]</sup>
Of mighty opposites.
Hor. Why, what a king is this!
Ham. Does it not, thinks't thee, stand me now upon—[2185]
He that hath kill'd my king, and whored my mother; [2186]
Popp'd in between the election and my hopes; [2187]
Thrown out his angle for my proper life, [2188]
And with such cozenage—is't not perfect conscience, [2189]
To quit him with this arm? and is't not to be damn'd, [2190][2191]
To let this canker of our nature come<sup>[2190]</sup>
In further evil?[2190][2192]
Hor. It must be shortly known to him from England<sup>[2190]</sup>
What is the issue of the business there. [2190]
Ham. It will be short: the interim is mine; [2190][2193][2194]
And a man's life's no more than to say 'One.'[2190][2193][2195]
But I am very sorry, good Horatio, [2190][2193]
That to Laertes I forgot myself; [2190]
For, by the image of my cause, I see<sup>[2190]</sup>
The portraiture of his: I'll court his favours: [2190][2196]
But, sure, the bravery of his grief did put me<sup>[2190]</sup>
Into a towering passion. [2190]
Hor. Peace! who comes here?[2190][2197]
                                  Enter Osric.
Osr. Your lordship is right welcome back to Denmark. [2198][2199]
Ham. I humbly thank you, sir. Dost know this water-fly?[2200][2201]
Hor. No, my good lord. [2201]
Ham. Thy state is the more gracious, for 'tis a vice to [2201] know him. He hath much land, and fertile: let a beast be<sup>[2201]</sup> lord of beasts, and his crib shall stand at the king's mess:[2201]
'tis a chough, but, as I say, spacious in the possession of dirt.<sup>[2201]</sup>[2202] Osr. Sweet lord, if your lordship were at leisure, I<sup>[2203]</sup> should impart a thing to you from his majesty.
Ham. I will receive it, sir, with all diligence of spirit. [2204]
Put your bonnet to his right use; 'tis for the head. [2205]
Osr. I thank your lordship, it is very hot. [2206]

Ham. No, believe me, 'tis very cold; the wind is northerly.
                        Osr. It is indifferent cold, my lord, indeed.
15
                        Ham. But yet methinks it is very sultry and hot, or my<sup>[2207][2208]</sup> complexion—[2208]
                        Osr. Exceedingly, my lord; it is very sultry, as 'twere,—I<sup>[2209]</sup> cannot tell how. But, my lord, his majesty bade me<sup>[2210]</sup> signify to you that he has laid a great wager on your head:[2211]

                        sir, this is the matter—[2212]
                        Ham. I beseech you, remember—[2213]

                        Osr. Nay, good my lord; for mine ease, in good faith. [2214]
                        Sir, here is newly come to court Laertes; believe me, an absolute<sup>[2215]</sup> 05 gentleman, full of most excellent differences, of very<sup>[2215][2216]</sup> soft society and great showing: indeed, to speak feelingly of [2215][2217] him, he is the card or calendar of gentry, for you shall find^{[2215][2218]} in him the continent of what part a gentleman would see.[2215][2219]
                        Ham. Sir, his definement suffers no perdition in you; [2215] though, I know, to divide him inventorially would dizzy the [2215][2220] 10 arithmetic of memory, and yet but yaw neither, in respect<sup>[2215][2221]</sup> of his guick sail. But in the verity of extolment, I take<sup>[2215]</sup> him to be a soul of great article, and his infusion of such<sup>[2215][2222]</sup> dearth and rareness, as, to make true diction of him, his<sup>[2215]</sup> 15 semblable is his mirror, and who else would trace him, his<sup>[2215]</sup> umbrage, nothing more. [2215]
                        Osr. Your lordship speaks most infallibly of him. [2215]
                        Ham. The concernancy, sir? why do we wrap the [2215][2223] gentleman in our more rawer breath?[2215] 20
                        Osr. Sir?[2215][2224]
                        Hor. Is't not possible to understand in another tongue?<sup>[2215][2225]</sup>
                        You will do't, sir, really. [2215][2226]
                        Ham. What imports the nomination of this gentleman? [2215]
                        Osr. Of Laertes?[2215][2227]
                        Hor. His purse is empty already; all's golden words [2215]
25 are spent.[2215]
                        Ham. Of him, sir.[2215][2228]
                        Osr. I know you are not ignorant—[2215][2229]
                        Ham. I would you did, sir; yet, in faith, if you did, it [2215] would not much approve me. Well, sir?[2215][2230] 30
                        Osr. You are not ignorant of what excellence Laertes is—[2215][2231]
                        Ham. I dare not confess that, lest I should compare<sup>[2215]</sup> with him in excellence; but, to know a man well, were to [2215][2232] know himself.[2215]
                        Osr. I mean, sir, for his weapon; but in the imputation<sup>[2215][2233]</sup> 35 laid on him by them, in his meed he's unfellowed.[2215][2234]
                        Ham. What's his weapon?
                        Osr. Rapier and dagger.

Ham. That's two of his weapons: but, well. 40 Osr. The king, sir, hath wagered with him six Barbary^[2235] horses: against the which he has imponed, as I take it, six^[2236] French rapiers and poniards, with their assigns, as girdle, hanger, and so: three of the carriages, in faith, are very [2237] dear to fancy, very responsive to the hilts, most delicate 45 carriages, and of very liberal conceit. Ham. What call you the carriages? Hor. I knew you must be edified by the margent ere^[2238] vou had done.[2238] Osr. The carriages, sir, are the hangers. [2239] 50 Ham. The phrase would be more germane to the [2240] matter if we could carry a cannon by our sides: I would [2241] it might be hangers till then. But, on: six Barbary horses^[2242] against six French swords, their assigns, and three liberal-conceited carriages; that's the French bet against the [2243][2244] 55 Danish. Why is this 'imponed,' as you call it?[2244][2245] Osr. The king, sir, hath laid, sir, that in a dozen^[2246] passes between yourself and him, he shall not exceed you^[2247] three hits: he hath laid on twelve for nine; and it would [2248] come to immediate trial, if your lordship would vouchsafe 60 the answer. Ham. How if I answer 'no'? Osr. I mean, my lord, the opposition of your person in trial. Ham. Sir, I will walk here in the hall: if it please his [2249] majesty, it is the breathing time of day with me; let the [2249][2250] 65 foils be brought, the gentleman willing, and the king hold^[2251] his purpose, I will win for him an I can; if not, I will gain^[2252] nothing but my shame and the odd hits. Osr. Shall I redeliver you e'en so?[2253] 70 Ham. To this effect, sir, after what flourish your nature [2254] will Osr. I commend my duty to your lordship. [2255] Ham. Yours, yours. [Exit Osric.] He does well to [2256] commend it himself; there are no tongues else for's turn. [2257] 75 Hor. This lapwing runs away with the shell on his^[2258] head. Ham. He did comply with his dug before he sucked^[2259] it. Thus has he—and many more of the same breed that [2260] I know the drossy age dotes on—only got the tune of the 80 time and outward habit of encounter; a kind of yesty collection, [2261][2262] which carries them through and through the most^[2261] fond and winnowed opinions; and do but blow them to [2263] their trial, the bubbles are out. [2264] Enter a Lord.[2265] Lord. My lord, his majesty commended him to you by [2265] 85 young Osric, who brings back to him, that you attend him^{[2265][2266]} in the hall: he sends to know if your pleasure hold to play^[2265] with Laertes, or that you will take longer time. [2265] Ham. I am constant to my purposes; they follow the [2265] king's pleasure: if his fitness speaks, mine is ready; now or [2265]

                       whensoever, provided I be so able as now.[2265]
                       Lord. The king and queen and all are coming down. [2265]
                       Ham. In happy time. [2265]
                       Lord. The queen desires you to use some gentle entertainment<sup>[2265]</sup>[2267] to Laertes before you fall to play. [2265][2268]
                                                                                          [Exit Lord.[2265]
95
                       Ham. She well instructs me.
                                                                                                     [2269]
                       Hor. You will lose this wager, my lord. [2270]
                       Ham. I do not think so; since he went into France, I have been in continual practice; I shall win at the odds.
                       But thou wouldst not think how ill all's here about mv<sup>[2271]</sup> 00
                       heart: but it is no matter.
                       Hor. Nay, good my lord.—[2272]
                       Ham. It is but foolery; but it is such a kind of gain-giving [2273] as would perhaps trouble a woman.[2273]
                       Hor. If your mind dislike any thing, obey it. I will<sup>[2274]</sup> 05
                       forestal their repair hither, and say you are not fit.
                       Ham. Not a whit; we defy augury: there is special<sup>[2275]</sup> providence in the fall of a sparrow. If it be now, 'tis not to<sup>[2276]</sup> come; if it be not to come, it will be now; if it be not now, yet it will come: the readiness is all; since no man has<sup>[2277][2278]</sup> 10 aught of what he leaves, what is't to leave betimes? Let be.[2278]
                                  Enter King, Queen, Laertes, and Lords, Osric and other Attendants with foils and gauntlets; a table and flagons of wine on it.[2279]
                       King. Come, Hamlet, come, and take this hand from me. [2280]
                                                            [The King puts Laertes' hand into Hamlet's.
                       Ham. Give me your pardon, sir: I've done you wrong; [2281]
                       But pardon't, as you are a gentleman. [2282]
15
                       This presence knows, [2282][2283][2284]
                       And you must needs have heard, how I am punish'd[2283][2284][2285]
                       With sore distraction. What I have done, [2283][2284][2286]
                       That might your nature, honour and exception<sup>[2284][2287]</sup>
                       Roughly awake, I here proclaim was madness. [2284]
20
                       Was't Hamlet wrong'd Laertes? Never Hamlet: [2284]
                       If Hamlet from himself be ta'en away. [2284]
                       And when he's not himself does wrong Laertes, [2284]
                       Then Hamlet does it not, Hamlet denies it. [2284]
                       Who does it then? His madness: if't be so, [2284][2288]
                       Hamlet is of the faction that is wrong'd; [2284][2289]
25
                       His madness is poor Hamlet's enemy. [2284]
                       Sir, in this audience, [2284][2290]
                       Let my disclaiming from a purposed evil
                       Free me so far in your most generous thoughts, 30
                       That I have shot mine arrow o'er the house.[2291]
                       And hurt my brother. [2292]
                       Laer. I am satisfied in nature,
                       Whose motive, in this case, should stir me most
                       To my revenge: but in my terms of honour
                       I stand aloof, and will no reconcilement,
35
                       Till by some elder masters of known honour<sup>[2293]</sup>
                       I have a voice and precedent of peace. [2294]
                       To keep my name ungored. But till that time<sup>[2295]</sup>
                       I do receive your offer'd love like love [2296]

Ham. I embrace it freely, [2297][2298]
40
                       And will this brother's wager frankly play. [2298]
                       Give us the foils. Come on. [2299]
                       Laer. Come, one for me.
                       Ham. I'll be your foil, Laertes: in mine ignorance
                       Your skill shall, like a star i' the darkest night. [2300]
                       Stick fiery off indeed.[2301]
                       Laer. You mock me, sir.
45
                       Ham. No, by this hand. [2302]
                       King. Give them the foils, young Osric. Cousin<sup>[2303][2304]</sup>
                       Hamlet.[2303]
                       You know the wager?
                       Ham. Very well, my lord; [2305][2306]
                       Your grace has laid the odds o' the weaker side. [2306][2307]
                       King. I do not fear it; I have seen you both: [2308]
50
                       But since he is better'd, we have therefore odds. [2309]
                       Laer. This is too heavy; let me see another. [2310][2311]
                       Ham. This likes me well. These foils have all a length? [2310][2312]
                                                                                  [They prepare to play.
                       Osr. Ay, my good lord.
                       King. Set me the stoups of wine upon that table.<sup>[2313]</sup>
55
                       If Hamlet give the first or second hit. [2314]
                       Or quit in answer of the third exchange, [2315]
                       Let all the battlements their ordnance fire;
                       The king shall drink to Hamlet's better breath;
                       And in the cup an union shall he throw, [2316]
60
                       Richer than that which four successive kings
                       In Denmark's crown have worn. Give me the cups; [2317]
                       And let the kettle to the trumpet speak, [2318]
                       The trumpet to the cannoneer without, [2319]
                       The cannons to the heavens, the heaven to earth, [2320]
65
                       'Now the king drinks to Hamlet.' Come, begin:[2321]
                       And you, the judges, bear a wary eye.
                       Ham. Come on, sir.
                       Laer. Come, my lord.
                                                                                        [They play.[2322]
                       Ham. One.
                       Laer. No.
                       Ham. Judgement.
                       Osr. A hit, a very palpable hit. [2323]
                       Laer. Well; again.
                       King. Stay; give me drink. Hamlet, this pearl is thine; [2324]
                       Here's to thy health.
                                                    [Trumpets sound, and cannon shot off within. [2325]
70
                                         Give him the cup.
                       Ham. I'll play this bout first; set it by awhile. [2326]
                       Come. [They play.] Another hit; what say you? [2327]

And will not wrong it.

Laer. A touch, a touch, I do confess.[2328]
King. Our son shall win.
Queen. He's fat and scant of breath. [2329]
Here, Hamlet, take my napkin, rub thy brows: [2330]
The gueen carouses to thy fortune, Hamlet.
Ham. Good madam!
King. Gertrude, do not drink. [2331]
Queen. I will, my lord; I pray you, pardon me. [2332]
King. [Aside] It is the poison'd cup; it is too late. [2333]
Ham. I dare not drink yet, madam; by and by. [2334]
Oueen. Come, let me wipe thy face.
Laer. My lord, I'll hit him now. [2335]
King. I do not think't.
Laer. [Aside] And yet it is almost against my conscience. [2333][2336]
Ham. Come, for the third, Laertes: you but dally; [2337]
I pray you, pass with your best violence;
I am afeard you make a wanton of me. [2338]
Laer. Say you so? come on.
                                                                [They play.[2339]
Osr. Nothing, neither way.
Laer. Have at you now!
                       [Laertes wounds Hamlet; then, in scuffling, they change
                                     rapiers, and Hamlet wounds Laertes. [2340]
King. Part them; they are incensed.
Ham. Nay, come, again.
                                                                [The Queen falls.
Osr. Look to the queen there, ho![2341]
Hor. They bleed on both sides. How is it, my lord?<sup>[2342]</sup>
Osr. How is't, Laertes?[2343]
Laer. Why, as a woodcock to mine own springe, Osric; [2344]
I am justly kill'd with mine own treachery. [2345]
Ham. How does the queen?
King. She swounds to see them bleed. [2346]
Queen. No, no, the drink, the drink,—O my dear Hamlet,—[2347]
                                                                [Dies.[2347][2348]
The drink, the drink! I am poison'd.
Ham. O villany! Ho! let the door be lock'd: [2349]
Treachery! seek it out.
Laer. It is here, Hamlet: Hamlet, thou art slain; [2350]
No medicine in the world can do thee good, [2351]
In thee there is not half an hour of life; [2352]
The treacherous instrument is in thy hand, [2353]
Unbated and envenom'd: the foul practice<sup>[2354]</sup>
Hath turn'd itself on me; lo, here I lie, [2355]
Never to rise again: thy mother's poison'd: [2356]
I can no more: the king, the king's to blame. [2357]
Ham. The point envenom'd too! [2358][2359][2360]
Then, venom, to thy work.
                                                                 [Stabs the King.

10	All. Treason! treason!	[2358][2360]
	King. O, yet defend me, friends; I am but hurt.	[2361]
	Ham. Here, thou incestuous, murderous, damned Dane, Drink off this potion: is thy union here? [2363] Follow my mother.	[King dies. ^[2364]
(15	Laer. He is justly served; ^[2365] It is a poison temper'd by himself. ^[2365] [2366] Exchange forgiveness with me, noble Hamlet: Mine and my father's death come not upon thee, ^[2367] Nor thine on me!	[Dies . ^[2368]
(20	Ham. Heaven make thee free of it! I follow thee. ^[2369] I am dead, Horatio. Wretched queen, adieu! ^[2370] You that look pale and tremble at this chance, That are but mutes or audience to this act, ^[2371] Had I but time—as this fell sergeant, death, ^[2372]
∜25	Is strict in his arrest—O, I could tell you—[2372][2373] But let it be. Horatio, I am dead; Thou livest; report me and my cause aright ^[2374] To the unsatisfied.
	Hor. Never believe it: ^[2375] I am more an antique Roman than a Dane: ^[2376] Here's yet some liquor left.
30	Ham. As thou'rt a man, [2377][2378] Give me the cup: let go; by heaven, I'll have't. [2377][2379] O good Horatio, what a wounded name, [2380] Things standing thus unknown, shall live behind me! [2381] If thou didst ever hold me in thy heart, Absent thee from felicity awhile, [2382]
35	And in this harsh world draw thy breath in pain, To tell my story. What warlike noise is this?	[March afar off, and shot within.
	Osr. Young Fortinbras, with conquest come from Poland, [2384]	[2383]
	To the ambassadors of England gives ^[2385] [2386][2387] This warlike volley. ^[2386]
40	Ham. O, I die, Horatio; The potent poison quite o'er-crows my spirit: ^[2388] I cannot live to hear the news from England; But I do prophesy the election lights On Fortinbras: he has my dying voice;
45	So tell him, with the occurrents, more and less, [2389] Which have solicited. The rest is silence.	[Dies . ^[2390]
	Hor. Now cracks a noble heart. Good night, sweet prince, And flights of angels sing thee to thy rest! Why does the drum come hither?	[2391] [March within. ^[2392]
	Enter Fortinbras, and the English Ambassadors, w. colours, and Attendants. [2393]	ith drum,
	Fort. Where is this sight?
350	Hor. What is it you would see? ^[2394] If aught of woe or wonder, cease your search. ^[2395]
	Fort. This quarry cries on havoc. O proud death, [2396] What feast is toward in thine eternal cell, [2397] That thou so many princes at a shot [2398] So bloodily hast struck?
∜55	First Amb. The sight is dismal; [2399] And our affairs from England come too late:

The ears are senseless that should give us hearing. To tell him his commandment is fulfill'd, That Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are dead: Where should we have our thanks? Hor. Not from his mouth Had it the ability of life to thank you: [2400] He never gave commandment for their death.[2401] But since, so jump upon this bloody question, [2402] You from the Polack wars, and you from England, [2403] Are here arrived, give order that these bodies High on a stage be placed to the view; [2404] And let me speak to the yet unknowing world^[2405] How these things came about: so shall you hear Of carnal, bloody and unnatural acts, [2406] Of accidental judgements, casual slaughters, Of deaths put on by cunning and forced cause, [2407] And, in this upshot, purposes mistook Fall'n on the inventors' heads: all this can I Truly deliver. Fort. Let us haste to hear it, And call the noblest to the audience. [2408] For me, with sorrow I embrace my fortune: I have some rights of memory in this kingdom, [2409] Which now to claim my vantage doth invite me. [2410] Hor. Of that I shall have also cause to speak. [2411] And from his mouth whose voice will draw on more: [2412] But let this same be presently perform'd, [2413] Even while men's minds are wild; lest more mischance^[2414] On plots and errors happen. [2415] Fort. Let four captains Bear Hamlet, like a soldier, to the stage; [2416] For he was likely, had he been put on, To have proved most royally: and, for his passage, [2417] The soldiers' music and the rites of war^[2418] Speak loudly for him. Take up the bodies: such a sight as this [2419] Becomes the field, but here shows much amiss. [2420] Go, bid the soldiers shoot.

NOTES.

Note I.

Act I. Scene I. In this play the Acts and Scenes are marked in the Folios only as far as the second Scene of the second Act, and not at all in the Quartos.

NOTE II.

I. 1. 91. This and other emendations of the MS. corrector, not recorded by Mr Collier, are given on the authority of Mr Hamilton (An Enquiry into the Genuineness of the MS. Corrections in Mr J. Payne Collier's annotated Shakespeare, pp. 34—85).

NOTE III.

I. 3. 74. The following are the readings of the different editions and the emendations which have been proposed for this line:

'Are of a most select and generall chiefe in that:' (Q_1) .

'Or of a most select and generous, chiefe in that:' Q2 Q3.

'Ar of a most select and generous, cheefe in that:' Q4.

'Are of a most select and generous, chiefe in that:' Q₅ Q₆.

'Are of a most select and generous cheff in that.' Ff.

'Are most select and generous, chief in that.'

Rowe, Pope, Theobald, Hanmer, Warburton, Johnson, Capell, Steevens (1793), Rann, Caldecott, Singer, Harness, Delius, &c.

'Are most select, and generous, chief in that.' Steevens (1773).

'Are most select, and generous chief, in that.'

Steevens (1778 and 1785).

'Are of a most select and generous chief, in that.' Malone.

'Select and generous, are most choice in that.' Steevens conj.

'Are of a most select and generous choice in that.'

Collier MS., adopted by Elze, Collier, ed. 2, and Keightley.

'Are of a most select and generous sheaf in that.' Staunton.

'Are most select and generous in that.' Grant White.

'Are of a most select and generous class in that.' Bullock conj.

'Are of a most select and generous choice.' Lloyd conj.

NOTE IV.

I. 3. 109. The second and third Quartos include the words 'not ... thus' in a parenthesis. In the fourth, fifth, and sixth, the parenthesis ends at 'phrase;' an arrangement, which was adopted by Pope and corrected by Theobald at Warburton's suggestion. The Folios have no parenthesis.

NOTE V.

I. 3. 117. Malone conjectured that some epithet to 'blazes' has been omitted; and Coleridge 'did not doubt that a spondee had dropt out of the line.' He proposed either 'Go to, these blazes, daughter,' or 'these blazes, daughter, mark you.' Notes and Lectures, 1. p. 220 (ed. 1849).

NOTE VI.

I. 4. 36, 37. We have left this corrupt passage unaltered because none of the conjectures proposed appear to be satisfactory.

Rann, reading in his text:

'The dram of base Doth all the noble substance of worth out To his own scandal....'

gives some conjectures, without naming the authors, in a note thus: 'Doth all, &c. oft corrupt: oft work out: eat out: By it's own scandal.'

The first of these alterations, 'oft corrupt,' anticipates one which Mitford published as his own, and the third, 'eat out,' is borrowed from the author of 'the Revisal' (Heath).

Mr Grant White suggests that "the corruption lurks in a part of the passage hitherto unsuspected, and that 'Doth' is either a misprint of 'Hath,' or has the sense of 'accomplishes.'" Mr Keightley reads.

'The dram of evil Doth all the noble substance, out o' doubt, To his own scandal....'

marking the sentence as incomplete.

NOTE VII.

I. 4. 61. Steevens says 'The first Folio reads—remote.' We have not been able to find this reading in any copy of that edition which we have consulted. Sir Frederic Madden has kindly collated for us the four copies in the British Museum, all of which have 'remoued.' This is also the reading of Capell's copy, of Malone's, and of two others to which we have had access, and it is the reading in Mr Booth's reprint.

NOTE VIII.

I. 5. 80. 'A very learned lady,' probably Mrs Montagu, suggested to Johnson that this line 'O, horrible! O, horrible! most horrible!' should be given to Hamlet, and it is said that Garrick adopted this suggestion when he played Hamlet. Rann appears to be the first editor who put it in his text. Mr Verplanck and Mr Hudson have followed his example.

In the Quarto of 1603, (Q_1) , the Ghost says 'O horrible, most horrible!' and Hamlet interrupts with 'O God!'

NOTE IX.

I. 5. 113-116. The second Quarto followed by the rest reads thus:

'Enter Horatio, and Marcellus.

Hora. My Lord, my Lord.

Mar. Lord Hamlet.

Hora. Heauens secure him.

Ham. So be it.

Mar. Illo, ho, ho, my Lord.'

The Folios have:

'Hor. & Mar. within. My Lord, my Lord.

Enter Horatio and Marcellus.

Mar. Lord Hamlet.

Hor. Heauen secure him.

Mar. So be it.

Hor. Illo, ho, ho, my Lord.'

Capell first transferred the stage direction 'Enter Horatio and Marcellus' to follow line 117, and added the direction 'within' to all the previous speeches. In this he has been followed by Steevens (1778) and all subsequent editors. As however the first Quarto, which was taken down probably during the representation of the play, puts the words Enter Horatio, and Marcellus opposite 'My Lord, my Lord,' it is probable that they really entered at that place but were supposed, it being night-time, not to be seen by Hamlet till they were close to him.

Capell followed the Quartos in assigning 'So be it' to Hamlet.

NOTE X.

I. 5. 157-160. The second Quarto followed substantially by the rest reads thus:

'Come hether Gentlemen, And lay your hands againe vpon my sword, Sweare by my sword Neuer to speak of this that you haue heard.'

The first Folio has:

'Come hither Gentlemen, And lay your hands again upon my sword, Neuer to speake of this that you have heard: Sweare by my Sword.'

The following Folios put a full stop after 'sword' in the second line.

Capell, taking the order of words from the Quartos, arranged as three lines, thus:

'Come hither, gentlemen, and lay your hands Again upon my sword; Swear by my sword, Never to speak of this that you have heard.'

The first Quarto supports the order of the words as found in the Folio. Perhaps we might follow it and arrange the words of the Folio in three lines ending 'hands' ... 'speak' ... 'sword.'

NOTE XI.

II. 1. 79. Theobald, who is followed by Hanmer, Warburton, and Johnson, reads 'loose' for 'foul'd,' on the authority as he says of 'the elder Quartos.' It is not the reading of any of the first six, but of those of 1676, 1683, 1695 and 1703. Had Capell been aware of this, he would scarcely have designated Theobald's mistake as 'a downright falsehood.' Theobald, at the time of writing his 'Shakespeare Restored,' knew of no Quarto earlier than that of 1637 (Shakespeare Restored, p. 70), and it is just possible that some copy of this edition (Q_6), from which that of 1676 was printed, may have had the reading 'loose.' We have given in the note to III. 4. 59 an instance of different readings in two copies of Q_6 .

NOTE XII.

II. 2. 111, 112. In the Quartos Polonius's comment, 'that's an ill phrase ...,' is printed in italics like the letter, and there is some confusion in the next line. The second, third, fourth and fifth have 'but you shall heare: thus in her excellent white bosom, these &c.' The sixth puts a comma after 'heare.' In the Folios these last words are printed in Roman type as if they were part of Polonius's comment, thus: 'but you shall heare these in her excellent white bosome, these.'

Rowe printed: 'but you shall hear—These to her excellent white bosom, these—'

The succeeding editors followed Rowe, down to Capell who restored the word 'in' for 'to.' The reading and punctuation of our text was first given substantially by Jennens, and adopted by Malone.

NOTE XIII.

II. 2. 123. In the fourth and fifth Quartos the word 'Hamlet,' in italics, is by mistake printed not at the end of the letter but opposite to the first line of Polonius's speech.

NOTE XIV.

II. 2. 169. The Quartos have 'Enter Hamlet' after 'try it,' line 166, and 'Exit King and Queene' after the words 'both away,' line 168. The Folios have 'Enter Hamlet, reading on a Booke' after 'try it,' line 166, and 'Exit King & Queen' after 'presently,' line 169. The Quartos put commas at 'presently,' and 'leave,' reading 'Ile ... leave' as one line; the Folios put full stops, reading 'Oh give me leave. How does my good Lord Hamlet?' as one line.

The earlier editors down to Johnson inclusive made no change.

Capell supposed the words 'O, give me leave' to be addressed, not to Hamlet, but to the King and Queen, whose Exeunt he placed after these words. His arrangement has been followed by all subsequent editors, till we ventured, in the Globe edition, to recur to the old order. It appears to us that the words 'O, give me leave,' commencing with an exclamation, are more naturally addressed to Hamlet than to the King and Queen, with whom Polonius had been previously conversing.

Mr Dyce transferred the entrance of Hamlet to follow the Exeunt of the King and Queen, line 169. As in the first Quarto he is made to enter earlier, it is possible that he was in sight of the audience, though so intent on his book as not to observe the presence of the others.

NOTE XV.

II. 2. 564. Capell quotes 'braves' as the reading of the Quarto of 1605. His own copy has 'braines.' That in the British Museum reads 'braues.'

NOTE XVI.

III. 1. 86. In this doubtful passage we have retained the reading of the Quartos, although the players' Quartos of 1676, 1683, 1695, 1703, have, contrary to their custom, followed the Folios, which may possibly indicate that 'pith' was the reading according to the stage tradition.

NOTE XVII.

III. 2. 156, 157. Jennens prints in brackets the line of the Quartos which we have omitted, and conjectures, as Johnson had done before him, that a line is lost either before or after it, which should rhyme to 'love.' As in the Quartos the line 'For women feare too much, even as they love,' occurs at the top of a page, the omission is more likely to have been caused by a line having dropped out at the foot of the previous page. Mr Keightley marks the omission of a line after 'love.' Malone supposes that the 'Either none' of the Quartos in line 158 was the commencement of the lost line, which he suggests may have run as follows:

'Either none they feel, or an excess approve.'

Steevens proposes to retain the omitted line, reading 'lust' for 'love,' making a triplet rhyme with the preceding lines.

The Quarto probably gives us the author's first thought, incomplete, as well as the lines which he finally adopted, as they stand in the Folio. The thought will hardly bear to be expanded over four lines.

NOTE XVIII.

III. 2. 329. Mason conjectured that the words 'To withdraw with you' were spoken to the players whom Hamlet wished to get rid of, and proposed to read 'So, withdraw you,' or 'So withdraw, will you?' Malone adds the stage direction 'Taking Guil. aside.' Steevens supposes that the words 'To ... you' "may refer to some gesture which Guildenstern had used, and which, at first was interpreted by Hamlet into a signal for him to attend the speaker into another room. 'To withdraw with you?' (says he) 'Is that your meaning?'" Mr Staunton, agreeing substantially with Mason, proposes to read 'So,—[taking a recorder] withdraw with you.' He adds that the disputed words may have been intended to mark the departure of the players. Jackson (1819) proposed the same reading and explanation, adding a stage direction, 'To the Players, who exit.'

If the reading and punctuation given in our text be right, the words seem to be addressed to Guildenstern. Mr Knight, however, suggests that 'Rosencrantz and Guildenstern have intimated, by some signal, that they wish to speak with Hamlet in private.'

NOTE XIX.

III. 2. 366—371. In this passage we have followed the distribution of the Folios. In the Quartos it stands thus:

'They foole me to the top of my bent, I will come by and by, Leaue me friends. I will, say so. By and by is easily said, 'Tis now &c.'

In the Quarto of 1676 the words 'I will come ... said' are marked in inverted commas to indicate that they were omitted by the actors. Pope following the arrangement of the Quartos, reading 'I will say so' with the Quarto of 1676.

NOTE XX.

III. 4. 4. We have adopted Hanmer's correction 'sconce' for 'silence' because in the corresponding passage of the first Quarto Polonius says: 'I'le shrowde my selfe behinde the Arras.' The Quartos of 1676, 1683, 1695 and 1703 give 'I'll here conceal my self.'

In the Quarto of 1603 there is also a trace of the following speech of Hamlet, omitted in the subsequent Quartos but given in the Folios.

NOTE XXI.

III. 4. 51, 52. This speech is properly given to the Queen in the Folios, but is printed as prose. The second Quarto has:

'Quee. Ay me, what act?

Ham. That roares so low'd, and thunders in the Index, Looke heere &c.'

This is followed by the subsequent Quartos, except the sixth, which has a colon at 'Index.' Warburton adopts the distribution of the Quartos, but alters the second line thus:

'Ham. That roars so loud, it thunders to the Indies.'

NOTE XXII.

III. 4. 71. The reading 'stoop' for 'step' is found in manuscript in the margin of a copy of the Quarto of 1637, which has been kindly lent us by Dr Ingleby. The other readings in this play referred to as 'Anon. conj. MS.' or 'Anon. MS.' are from the same source.

NOTE XXIII.

IV. 1. 40—44. In the second and third Quartos these lines stand literatim as follows:

'And whats vntimely doone,
Whose whisper ore the worlds dyameter,
As leuell as the Cannon to his blanck,
Transports his poysned shot, may misse our Name,
And hit the woundlesse ayre, ô come away,
My soule &c.'

The later Quartos, including those of 1676, 1683, 1695, and 1703, spelling apart, have the same reading.

In the first Folio, followed substantially by the rest, we find only these words:

'And what's vntimely done. Oh come away, My soule &c.'

Rowe, Pope, Hanmer and Warburton followed the Folios.

Theobald first adopted the text of the Quartos. In his Shakespeare Restored, p. 108, he had suggested 'Happily, slander,' or 'Happily, rumour;' in his edition he supplied the blank thus:

'And what's untimely done. For, haply, Slander (Whose whisper &c.'

Hanmer, in his copy of Theobald's edition, erased the passage with a pen.

Johnson, and Steevens in his editions of 1773, 1778 and 1785, followed Theobald.

Capell filled the hiatus by 'So, haply, slander,' and was followed by Steevens (1793) and most modern editors. Mason seems not to have consulted Capell's edition, for in 1788 he puts forward this reading as a conjecture of his own.

Malone (1790) read: 'So viperous slander.'

Mr Staunton proposes 'Thus calumny,' but in his text follows Capell.

'Malice' or 'Envy,' in the sense in which it is often used by Shakespeare, would suit the passage as well as 'Slander.'

NOTE XXIV.

IV. 2. 1—3. The second and third Quartos begin the scene thus:

'Ham. Safely stowd, but soft, what noyse, who calls on Hamlet?

The fourth and fifth have 'softly' for 'soft.'

The Folios have:

'Ham. Safely stowed.

Gentlemen within. Hamlet, Lord Hamlet.

Ham. What noise? Who cals on Hamlet?'

In the players' Quarto of 1676, and the following editions, which otherwise adhere to the reading of the old Quartos, the words 'but soft' are omitted. They omit also 'on'.

Capell gives:

'Ham.—— Safely stow'd. But, soft;

Ros. &c. [within.] Hamlet! lord Hamlet!

HAM. What noise? who calls on Hamlet? O, here they come.'

The arrangement adopted in our text was first given by Malone.

NOTE XXV.

IV. 5. 14-16. The Quartos have:

'Hora. Twere good she were spoken with, for shee may strew Dangerous coniectures in ill breeding mindes, Let her come in.'

The Folios,

'Qu. 'Twere good she were spoken with, For she may strew dangerous coniectures In ill breeding minds. Let her come in.'

Rowe followed the Folios; Pope, Theobald, Warburton and Capell, the Quartos. Hanmer continues the lines ''Twere good ... minds' to the Gentleman who had spoken the previous lines, and gives 'Let her come in &c.' to the Queen. Johnson follows Hanmer's distribution of the speeches, but substitutes 'Hor.' for 'Gent.' in lines 2 and 4; the arrangement proposed by Blackstone. Steevens (1773) assigned the speech ''Twere good ... spilt' (14—20) to Horatio, but restored it to the Queen in his next edition. Mr Grant White follows the Folios in giving the whole Speech to the Queen, but marks ''Twere good ... minds' as spoken aside, and 'Let ... in' 'To Hor.'

NOTE XXVI.

IV. 5. 148. In the Quartos the passage is thus printed:

'A noyse within.

Enter Ophelia.

Laer. Let her come in. How now, what noyse is that?'

In the Folios:

'A noise within. Let her come in.

Enter Ophelia.

Laer. How now? what noise is that?'

Rowe followed the Folios, Pope the Quartos, reading 'Let ... that?' as one line. Theobald first transferred the stage direction, Enter Ophelia, to follow the first line of Laertes's speech.

NOTE XXVII.

IV. 5. 163. Capell was the first to print these words as not forming part of the song. In the Folios they are printed like the former lines in italics. As there is no change of type in the Quartos, it is impossible to say on which side their authority is. There is a comma after 'teare' (or 'tear') in all the Quartos and Folios, except the sixth Quarto, which has a full stop.

NOTE XXVIII.

IV. 5. 166. Ophelia's speech, or song, is printed as three lines in the Quarto, thus:

'Oph. You must sing a downe a downe, And you call him a downe a. O how the wheele becomes it, It is the false Steward that stole his Maisters daughter.'

It is printed as prose in the Folios; beginning, 'You must sing downe a-downe, &c.' There is no indication that any part was meant to be sung.

Johnson first printed 'You must sing ... call him a-down-a' in italics, as a snatch of song. Steevens (1778) put 'Down a down, as you call him a-down-a' in italics, a reading suggested by Capell's text, where 'Down' begins with a capital letter. The late Mr John Taylor, in a copy of the second Variorum edition (1813) now in the Library of Trinity College, Cambridge, has made the following note. "Ophelia gives the song without the Burthen first, and then she instructs them 'You must sing a-down a-down, and you (speaking to another) call him a-down-a."

NOTE XXIX.

IV. 5. 195. In the Folios Ophelia's song is printed in Italics, and the words 'And ... you' in Roman type, 'God buy ye' being in a separate line. In the second and third Quartos the whole is printed in Roman type, and ends thus:

'God a mercy on his soule, and of all Christians soules,

God buy you.'

We have indicated in the foot-note how the later Quartos differ from the earlier.

NOTE XXX.

IV. 7. 139. Pope in his second edition says that 'one edition has it, embaited or envenomed.' We have not been able to find this reading in any copy, but Theobald (Shakespeare Restored, p. 119) conjectured 'imbaited.' As this conjecture is not mentioned in his edition, we have here, as in other cases, recorded it as 'withdrawn.'

NOTE XXXI.

V. 1. 57, 58. Mr Collier in his first edition conjectured that 'Yaughan' might be 'a mis-spelt stage direction to inform the player that he was to yawn at this point.' Mr Staunton says, "Whether by 'Yaughan' a man or place is meant, or whether the word is a corruption, we are not qualified to determine." Mr Grant White says, "I suspect that 'Yaughan' is a misprint for 'Tavern.' But some local allusion understood at the day may lurk under it."

NOTE XXXII.

V. 2. 205, 206. The reading in the text is taken partly from the Folios and partly from the Quartos, altering however the punctuation. The second Quarto, followed substantially by the rest, has as follows:

'The readines is all, since no man of ought he leaues, knowes what ist to leaue betimes, let be.'

The first Folio, followed, except in spelling, by the rest, has:

'The readinesse is all, since no man ha's ought of what he leaues. What is't to leaue betimes?'

The Quartos of 1676, 1683, 1695 and 1703 have:

'The readiness is all, since no man of ought he leaves knows what 'tis to leave betimes, let be.'

Rowe, Pope and Theobald followed the Folios.

Hanmer:

'The readiness is all. Since no man owes aught of what he leaves, what is't to leave betimes?'

Warburton:

'The readiness is all. Since no man, of ought he leaves, knows, what is't to leave betimes? Let be.'

Johnson:

'The readiness is all. Since no man knows aught of what he leaves, what is't to leave betimes?'

Steevens (1773, 1778, 1785) and Rann adopt the reading of Johnson, adding the words 'Let be.'

Warburton's reading was followed by Capell, Malone, Steevens (1793), the Editors of the three Variorum Shakespeares, 1803, 1813, 1821, Singer, Harness and Mr Collier.

Caldecott first adopted the reading given in our text. Mr Grant White follows him.

Becket would substitute 'has thought' for 'has aught.'

Mr Keightley prints thus, marking the sentence as unfinished:

'The readiness is all. Since no man, of aught he leaves, knows what it is to leave betimes.... Let be.'

NOTE XXXIII.

V. 2. 290. Mr Staunton says, "The exclamation 'Ho!' meaning stop, should perhaps be addressed to the combatants, and not, as it is always printed, to those who are to raise the Queen."

The Tragicall Historie of HAMLET Prince of Denmarke.

[Sc. 1.]

Enter two Centinels.

1. Stand: who is that?

2. Tis I.

- 1. O you come most carefully vpon your watch,
- 2. And if you meete Marcellus and Horatio, The partners of my watch, bid them make haste.
- 1. I will: See who goes there.

Enter Horatio and Marcellus.

Hor. Friends to this ground.

Mar. And leegemen to the Dane, O farewell honest souldier, who hath releeued you?

1. Barnardo hath my place, giue you good night.

Mar. Holla, Barnardo.

2. Say, is Horatio there?

Hor. A peece of him.

2. Welcome Horatio, welcome good Marcellus.

Mar. What hath this thing appear'd againe to night.

2. I have seene nothing.

Mar. Horatio sayes tis but our fantasie, And wil not let beliefe take hold of him, Touching this dreaded sight twice seene by vs, Therefore I haue intreated him a long with vs To watch the minutes of this night, That if againe this apparition come, He may approoue our eyes, and speake to it.

Hor. Tut, t'will not appeare.

2. Sit downe I pray, and let vs once againe Assaile your eares that are so fortified, What we haue two nights seene.

Hor. Wel, sit we downe, and let vs heare Bernardo speake of this.

2. Last night of al, when yonder starre that's westward from the pole, had made his course to Illumine that part of heauen. Where now it burnes, The bell then towling one.

Enter Ghost.

Mar. Breake off your talke, see where it comes againe.

2. In the same figure like the King that's dead,

Mar. Thou art a scholler, speake to it Horatio.

2. Lookes it not like the king?

Hor. Most like, it horrors mee with feare and wonder.

2. It would be spoke to.

Mar. Question it Horatio.

2. See, it stalkes away.

Hor. Stay, speake, speake, by heauen I charge thee speake.

Mar. Tis gone and makes no answer.

2. How now Horatio, you tremble and looke pale, Is not this something more than fantasie? What thinke you on't?

Hor. Afore my God, I might not this beleeue, without the sensible and true auouch of my owne eyes.

Mar. Is it not like the King?

Hor. As thou art to thy selfe, Such was the very armor he had on, When he the ambitious Norway combated. So frownd he once, when in an angry parle He smot the sleaded pollax on the yce, Tis strange.

Mar. Thus twice before, and iump at this dead hower, With Marshall stalke he passed through our watch.

Hor. In what particular to worke, I know not, But in the thought and scope of my opinion, This bodes some strange eruption to the state.

Mar. Good, now sit downe, and tell me he that knowes Why this same strikt and most obseruant watch, So nightly toyles the subject of the land, And why such dayly cost of brazen Cannon And forraine marte, for implements of warre, Why such impresse of ship-writes, whose sore taske Does not divide the sunday from the weeke: What might be toward that this sweaty march Doth make the night ioynt labourer with the day, Who is't that can informe me?

Hor. Mary that can I, at least the whisper goes so, Our late King, who as you know was by Forten-Brasse Thereto prickt on by a most emulous cause, dared to The combate, in which our valiant Hamlet, For so this side of our knowne world esteemed him, Did slay this Fortenbrasse, Who by a seale compact well ratified, by law And heraldrie, did forfeit with his life all those His lands which he stoode seazed of by the conqueror, Against the which a moity competent, Was gaged by our King: Now sir, yong Fortenbrasse, Of inapproued mettle hot and full, Hath in the skirts of Norway here and there, Sharkt vp a sight of lawlesse Resolutes For food and diet to some enterprise, That hath a stomacke in't: and this (I take it) is the Chiefe head and ground of this our watch.

Enter the Ghost.

But loe, behold, see where it comes againe, Ile crosse it, though it blast me: stay illusion, If there be any good thing to be done, That may doe ease to thee, and grace to mee, Speake to mee.

If thou art priuy to thy countries fate, Which happly foreknowing may preuent, O speake to me, Or if thou hast extorted in thy life,

Or hoorded treasure in the wombe of earth, For which they say you Spirites oft walke in death, speake to me, stay and speake, speake, stoppe it Marcellus.

2. Tis heere. exit Ghost.

Hor. Tis heere.

Marc. Tis gone, O we doe it wrong, being so maiesticall, to offer it the shew of violence, For it is as the ayre invelmorable, And our vaine blowes malitious mockery.

2. It was about to speake when the Cocke crew.

Hor. And then it faded like a guilty thing, Vpon a fearefull summons: I have heard The Cocke, that is the trumpet to the morning, Doth with his earely and shrill crowing throate, Awake the god of day, and at his sound, Whether in earth or ayre, in sea or fire, The strauagant and erring spirite hies To his confines, and of the trueth heereof This present object made probation.

Marc. It faded on the crowing of the Cocke, Some say, that euer gainst that season comes, Wherein our Sauiours birth is celebrated, The bird of dawning singeth all night long, And then they say, no spirite dare walke abroade, The nights are wholesome, then no planet frikes, No Fairie takes, nor Witch hath powre to charme, So gratious, and so hallowed is that time.

Hor. So haue I heard, and doe in parte beleeue it: But see the Sunne in russet mantle clad, Walkes ore the deaw of yon his mountaine top, Breake we our watch vp, and by my aduise, Let vs impart what wee haue seene to night Vnto yong Hamlet: for vpon my life This Spirite dumbe to vs will speake to him: Do you consent, wee shall acquaint him with it, As needefull in our loue, fitting our duetie?

Marc. Lets doo't I pray, and I this morning know, Where we shall finde him most conveniently.

Enter King, Queene, Hamlet, Leartes, Corambis, and the two Ambassadors, with Attendants.

King Lordes, we here haue writ to Fortenbrasse, Nephew to olde Norway, who impudent And bed-rid, scarcely heares of this his Nephews purpose: and Wee heere dispatch Yong good Cornelia, and you Voltemar For bearers of these greetings to olde Norway, giving to you no further personall power To businesse with the King, Then those related articles do shew: Farewell, and let your haste commend your dutie.

King. And now princely Sonne Hamlet,
What meanes these sad and melancholy moodes?
For your intent going to Wittenberg,
Wee hold it most vnmeet and vnconuenient,
Being the Ioy and halfe heart of your mother.
Therefore let mee intreat you stay in Court,
All Denmarkes hope our coosin and dearest Sonne.

Ham. My lord, ti's not the sable sute I weare: No nor the teares that still stand in my eyes, Nor the distracted hauiour in the visage, Nor all together mixt with outward semblance, Is equall to the sorrow of my heart, Him haue I lost I must of force forgoe, These but the ornaments and sutes of woe.

King This shewes a louing care in you, Sonne Hamlet, But you must thinke your father lost a father, That father dead, lost his, and so shalbe vntill the Generall ending. Therefore cease laments, It is a fault gainst heauen, fault gainst the dead, A fault gainst nature, and in reasons Common course most certaine, None liues on earth, but hee is borne to die.

Que. Let not thy mother loose her praiers Hamlet, Stay here with vs, go not to Wittenberg.

Ham. O that this too much grieu'd and sallied flesh Would melt to nothing, or that the vniuersall Globe of heauen would turne al to a Chaos! O God within two moneths; no not two: maried, [2423] Mine vncle: O let me not thinke of it. My fathers brother: but no more like My father, then I to Hercules. Within two months, ere yet the salt of most Vnrighteous teates had left their flushing In her galled eyes: she married, O God, a beast Deuoyd of reason would not have made Such speede: Frailtie, thy name is Woman, Why she would hang on him, as if increase Of appetite had growne by what it looked on. O wicked wicked speede, to make such Dexteritie to incestuous sheetes, Ere vet the shooes were olde. The which she followed my dead fathers corse Like Nyobe, all teares: married, well it is not, Nor it cannot come to good: But breake my heart, for I must holde my tongue.

Enter Horatio and Marcellus.

Hor. Health to your Lordship.

Ham. I am very glad to see you, (Horatio) or I much forget my selfe.

Hor. The same my Lord, and your poore seruant euer.

Ham. O my good friend, I change that name with you: but what make you from Wittenberg Horatio?

Marcellus.

Exit.

Marc. My good Lord. Ham. I am very glad to see you, good euen sirs: But what is your affaire in Elsenoure? :5 Weele teach you to drinke deepe ere you depart. Hor. A trowant disposition, my good Lord. Ham. Nor shall you make mee truster Of your owne report against your selfe: 10 Sir, I know you are no trowant: But what is your affaire in Elsenoure? Hor. My good Lord, I came to see your fathers funerall. Ham. O I pre thee do not mocke mee fellow studient, I thinke it was to see my mothers wedding. Hor. Indeede my Lord, it followed hard vpon. Ham. Thrift, thrift, Horatio, the funerall bak't meates Did coldly furnish forth the marriage tables, Would I had met my deerest foe in heauen Ere euer I had seene that day Horatio; 00 O my father, my father, me thinks I see my father, Hor. Where my Lord? Ham. Why, in my mindes eye Horatio. Hor. I saw him once, he was a gallant King. Ham. He was a man, take him for all in all, I shall not looke vpon his like againe. Hor. My Lord, I thinke I saw him yesternight, Ham. Saw, who? Hor. My Lord, the King your father. Ham. Ha, ha, the King my father ke you. Hor. Ceasen your admiration for a while 10 With an attentiue eare, till I may deliuer, Vpon the witnesse of these Gentlemen This wonder to you. Ham. For Gods love let me heare it. 15 Hor. Two nights together had these Gentlemen, Marcellus and Bernardo, on their watch, In the dead vast and middle of the night. Beene thus incountered by a figure like your father, Armed to povnt, exactly Capapea Appeares before them thrise, he walkes 20 Before their weake and feare oppressed eies. Within his tronchions length, While they distilled almost to gelly. With the act of feare stands dumbe, And speake not to him: this to mee 2.5 In dreadfull secresie impart they did. And I with them the third night kept the watch, Where as they had deliuered forme of the thing. Each part made true and good, 30 The Apparition comes: I knew your father, These handes are not more like. Ham. Tis very strange. Hor. As I do liue, my honord lord, tis true, And wee did thinke it right done, 35 In our dutie to let you know it. Ham. Where was this?

Mar. My Lord, vpon the platforme where we watched.

	Ham. Did you not speake to it?
40	Hor. My Lord we did, but answere made it none, Yet once me thought it was about to speake, And lifted vp his head to motion, Like as he would speake, but even then
45	The morning cocke crew lowd, and in all haste, It shruncke in haste away, and vanished Our sight.
	Ham. Indeed, indeed sirs, but this troubles me: Hold you the watch to night?
	All We do my Lord.
	Ham. Armed say ye?
50	All Armed my good Lord.
	Ham. From top to toe?
	All. My good Lord, from head to foote.
	Ham. Why then saw you not his face?
	Hor. O yes my Lord, he wore his beuer vp.
55	Ham. How look't he, frowningly?
	Hor. A countenance more in sorrow than in anger.
	Ham. Pale, or red?
	Hor. Nay, verie pal
	Ham. And fixt his eies vpon you.
60	Hor. Most constantly.
	Ham. I would I had beene there.
	Hor. It would a much amazed you.
	Ham. Yea very like, very like, staid it long?
65	Hor. While one with moderate pace Might tell a hundred.
	Mar. O longer, longer.
	Ham. His beard was grisleld, no.
	Hor. It was as I haue seene it in his life, A sable siluer.
70	Ham. I wil watch to night, perchance t'wil walke againe.
	Hor. I warrant it will.
75 80	Ham. If it assume my noble fathers person, Ile speake to it, if hell it selfe should gape, And bid me hold my peace, Gentlemen, If you haue hither consealed this sight, Let it be tenible in your silence still, And whatsoeuer else shall chance to night, Giue it an vnderstanding, but no tongue, I will requit your loues, so fare you well, Vpon the platforme, twixt eleuen and twelue,
00	Ile visit you.	ovount
	All. Our duties to your honor. Ham, O your loves, your loves, as mine to you	exeunt.
85	Ham. O your loues, your loues, as mine to you, Farewell, my fathers spirit in Armes, Well, all's not well. I doubt some foule play, Would the night were come, Till then, sit still my soule, foule deeds will rise
	Though all the world orewhelme them to mens eies.	Exit.

Enter Leartes and Ofelia.

Leart. My necessaries are inbarkt, I must aboord, But ere I part, marke what I say to thee: I see Prince Hamlet makes a shew of loue Beware Ofelia, do not trust his vowes, Perhaps he loues you now, and now his tongue, Speakes from his heart, but yet take heed my sister, The Chariest maide is prodigall enough, If she vnmaske hir beautie to the Moone. Vertue it selfe scapes not calumnious thoughts, Belieu't Ofelia, therefore keepe a loofe Lest that he trip thy honor and thy fame.

Ofel. Brother, to this I haue lent attentiue eare, And doubt not but to keepe my honour firme, But my deere brother, do not you Like to a cunning Sophister, Teach me the path and ready way to heauen, While you forgetting what is said to me, Your selfe, like to a carelesse libertine Doth giue his heart, his appetite at ful, And little recks how that his honour dies.

Lear. No, feare it not my deere Ofelia, Here comes my father, occasion smiles vpon a second leaue.

Enter Corambis.

Cor. Yet here Leartes? aboord, aboord, for shame, The winde sits in the shoulder of your saile, And you are staid for, there my blessing with thee And these few precepts in thy memory. "Be thou familiar, but by no meanes vulgare: "Those friends thou hast, and their adoptions tried, "Graple them to thee with a hoope of steele, "But do not dull the palme with entertaine, "Of euery new vnfleg'd courage, "Beware of entrance into a quarrell; but being in, "Beare it that the opposed may beware of thee, "Costly thy apparrell, as thy purse can buy. Ham. The ayre bites shrewd; it is an eager and An nipping winde, what houre i'st?

Hor. I think it lacks of twelue.

[Sc. iv.]

Sound Trumpets.

Mar. No, t'is strucke.

Hor. Indeed I heard it not, what doth this mean my lord?

Ham. O the king doth wake to night, & takes his rowse, Keepe wassel, and the swaggering vp-spring reeles, And as he dreames, his draughts of renish downe, The kettle, drumme, and trumpet, thus bray out, The triumphes of his pledge.

Hor. Is it a custome here?

Ham. I mary i'st and though I am Natiue here, and to the maner borne, It is a custome, more honourd in the breach, Then in the observance.

Enter the Ghost.

Hor. Looke my Lord, it comes.

Ham. Angels and Ministers of grace defend vs, Be thou a spirite of health, or goblin damn'd, Bring with thee ayres from heauen, or blasts from hell: Be thy intents wicked or charitable, Thou commest in such questionable shape, That I will speake to thee, Ile call thee Hamlet, King, Father, Royall Dane, O answere mee, let mee not burst in ignorance, But say why thy canonizd bones hearsed in death Haue burst their ceremonies: why thy Sepulcher, In which wee saw thee quietly interr'd. Hath burst his ponderous and marble lawes, To cast thee vp againe: what may this meane, That thou, dead corse, againe in compleate steele, Reuissets thus the glimses of the Moone, Making night hideous, and we fooles of nature, So horridely to shake our disposition, With thoughts beyond the reaches of our soules? Say, speake, wherefore, what may this meane?

Hor. It beckons you, as though it had something To impart to you alone.

Mar. Looke with what courteous action It waves you to a more removed ground, But do not go with it.

Hor. No, by no meanes my Lord.

Ham. It will not speake, then will I follow it.

Hor. What if it tempt you toward the flood my Lord. That beckles ore his bace, into the sea, And there assume some other horrible shape, Which might depriue your soueraigntie of reason, And driue you into madnesse: thinke of it.

Ham. Still am I called, go on, ile follow thee. Hor. My Lord, you shall not go. Ham. Why what should be the feare? I do not set my life at a pinnes fee, And for my soule, what can it do to that? Being a thing immortall, like it selfe. Go on, ile follow thee. Mar. My Lord be rulde, you shall not goe. .5 Ham. My fate cries out, and makes each pety Artiue As hardy as the Nemeon Lyons nerue, Still am I cald, vnhand me gentlemen; By heaven ile make a ghost of him that lets me, 0 Away I say, go on, ile follow thee. Hor. He waxeth desperate with imagination. Mar. Something is rotten in the state of Denmarke. Hor. Haue after; to what issue will this sort? Mar. Lets follow, tis not fit thus to obey him. exit. Enter Ghost and Hamlet. Ham. Ile go no farther, whither wilt thou leade me? :5 Ghost Marke me. Ham. I will. Ghost I am thy fathers spirit, doomd for a time To walke the night, and all the day Confinde in flaming fire, 0 Till the foule crimes done in my dayes of Nature Arepurged and burnt away. Ham. Alas poore Ghost. Ghost Nav pitty me not, but to my vnfolding Lend thy listning eare, but that I am forbid To tell the secrets of my prison house I would a tale vnfold, whose lightest word Would harrow vp thy soule, freeze thy yong blood, Make thy two eyes like stars start from their spheres, Thy knotted and combined locks to part, 0 And each particular haire to stand on end Like guils vpon the fretfull Porpentine, But this same blazon must not be, to eares of flesh and blood Hamlet, if euer thou didst thy deere father loue. :5 Ham. O God. Gho. Reuenge his foule, and most vnnaturall murder: Ham. Murder. Ghost Yea, murder in the highest degree, As in the least tis bad, 10 But mine most foule, beastly, and vnnaturall. Ham. Haste me to knowe it, that with wings as swift as meditation, or the thought of it, may sweepe to my reuenge. Ghost O I finde thee apt, and duller shouldst thou be Then the fat weede which rootes it selfe in ease 15 On Lethe wharffe: briefe let me be. Tis giuen out, that sleeping in my orchard, A Serpent stung me; so the whole eare of Denmarke Is with a forged Prosses of my death rankely abusde: But know thou noble Youth: he that did sting Thy fathers heart, now weares his Crowne. 00 Ham. O my prophetike soule, my vncle! my vncle!

05	Ghost Yea he, that incestuous wretch, wonne to his will O wicked will, and gifts! that haue the power So to seduce my most seeming vertuous Queene, But vertne, as it neuer will be moued, Though Lewdnesse court it in a shape of heauen, So Lust, though to a radiant angle linckt,	with gifts,
10	Would fate it selfe from a celestiall bedde, And prey on garbage: but soft, me thinkes I sent the mornings ayre, briefe let me be, Sleeping within my Orchard, my custome alwayes In the after noone, vpon my secure houre Thy vncle came, with iuyce of Hebona
15	In a viall, and through the porches of my eares Did powre the leaprous distilment, whose effect Hold such an enmitie with blood of man, That swift as quickesiluer, it posteth through The naturall gates and allies of the body,
20	And turnes the thinne and wholesome blood Like eager dropings into milke. And all my smoothe body, barked, and tetterd ouer. Thus was I sleeping by a brothers hand Of Crowne, of Queene, of life, of dignitie
25	At once depriued, no reckoning made of, But sent vnto my graue, With all my accompts and sinnes vpon my head, O horrible, most horrible!
	Ham. O God!
30	Ghost If thou hast nature in thee, beare it not, But howsoeuer, let not thy heart Conspire against thy mother aught, Leaue her to heauen,
35	And to the burthen that her conscience beares. I must be gone, the Glo-worme shewes the Martin To be neere, and gin's to pale his vneffectuall fire: Hamlet adue, adue, adue: remember me.	[Exit
40	Ham. O all you hoste of heauen! O earth, what else? And shall I couple hell; remember thee? Yes thou poore Ghost; from the tables Of my memorie, ile wipe away all sawes of Bookes, All triuiall fond conceites That euer youth, or else observance noted, And thy remembrance, all alone shall sit.
45	Yes, yes, by heauen, a damnd pernitious villaine, Murderons, bawdy, smiling damned villaine, (My tables) meet it is I set it downe, That one may smile, and smile, and be a villayne; At least I am sure, it may be so in Denmarke .
50	So vncle, there you are, there you are. Now to the words; it is adue adue: remember me, Soe t'is enough I haue sworne.
	Hor. My lord, my lord.	Enter. Horatio, and Marcellus.
	Mar. Lord Hamlet.	Mai cenus.
	Hor. Ill, lo, lo, ho, ho.
55	Mar. Ill, lo, lo, so, ho, so, come boy, come.
	Hor. Heauens secure him.
	Mar. How i'st my noble lord?
	Hor. What news my lord?
	Ham. O wonderfull, wonderful.
60	Hor. Good my lord tel it.
	Ham. No not I, you'l reueale it.
	Hor. Not I my Lord by heauen.
	Mar. Nor I my Lord.

Ham. How say you then? would hart of man 65 Once thinke it? but you'l be secret. Both. I by heauen, my lord. Ham. There's neuer a villaine dwelling in all Denmarke, But hee's an arrant knaue. Hor. There need no Ghost come from the graue to tell 70 you this. Ham. Right, you are in the right, and therefore I holde it meet without more circumstance at all, Wee shake hands and part; you as your busines And desiers shall leade you: for looke you, 75 Euery man hath busines, and desires, such As it is, and for my owne poore parte, ile go pray. Hor. These are but wild and wherling words, my Lord. Ham. I am sory they offend you; hartely, yes faith hartily. Hor. Ther's no offence my Lord. 80 Ham. Yes by Saint Patrike but there is Horatio. And much offence too, touching this vision, It is an honest ghost, that let mee tell you, For your desires to know what is betweene vs, Or'emaister it as you may: 85 And now kind frends, as yon are frends, Schollers and gentlmen, Grant mee one poore request. Both. What i'st my Lord? Ham. Neuer make known what you have seene to night 90 Both. My Lord, we will not. Ham. Nay but sweare. Hor. In faith my Lord not I. Mar. Nor I my Lord in faith. Ham. Nay vpon my sword, indeed vpon my sword. 95 Gho. Sweare. The Gost vnder the stage. Ham. Ha, ha, come you here, this fellow in the sellerige, Here consent to sweare. Hor. Propose the oth my Lord. Ham. Neuer to speake what you have seene to night, :00 Sweare by my sword. Gost. Sweare. Ham. Hic & vbique; nay then weele shift our ground: Come hither Gentlemen, and lay your handes Againe vpon this sword, neuer to speake 05 Of that which you have seene, sweare by my sword. Ghost Sweare. Ham. Well said old Mole, can'st worke in the earth? so fast, a worthy Pioner, once more remoue. Hor. Day and night, but this is wondrous strange. 10 Ham. And therefore as a stranger give it welcome, There are more things in heauen and earth Horatio, Then are Dream't of, in your philosophie, But come here, as before you neuer shall How strange or odde soere I beare my selfe, 15 As I perchance hereafter shall thinke meet,

To put an Anticke disposition on,
That you at such times seeing me, neuer shall
With Armes, incombred thus, or this head shake,
Or by pronouncing some vndoubtfull phrase,
As well well, wee know, or wee could and if we would,
Or there be, and if they might, or such ambiguous:
Giuing out to note, that you know aught of mee,
This not to doe, so grace, and mercie
At your most need helpe you, sweare

Ghost. sweare.

Ham. Rest, rest, perturbed spirit: so gentlemen, In all my loue I do commend mee to you, And what so poore a man as Hamlet may, To pleasure you, God willing shall not want, Nay come lett's go together, But stil your fingers on your lippes I pray, The time is out of ioynt, O cursed spite, That euer I was borne to set it right, Nay come lett's go together.

Enter Corambis, and Montano.

Cor. Montano, here, these letters to my sonne, And this same mony with my blessing to him, And bid him ply his learning good Montano.

Mon. I will my lord.

Cor. You shall do very well Montano, to say thus, I knew the gentleman, or know his father, To inquire the manner of his life, As thus; being amongst his acquaintance, You may say, you saw him at such a time, marke you mee, At game, or drincking, swearing, or drabbing, You may go so farre.

Mon. My lord, that will impeach his reputation.

Cor. I faith not a whit, no not a whit, Now happely hee closeth with you in the consequence, As you may bridle it not disparage him a iote. What was I a bout to say,

Mon. He closeth with him in the consequence.

Cor. I, you say right, he closeth with him thus,
This will hee say, let mee see what hee will say,
Mary this, I saw him yesterday, or tother day,
Or then, or at such a time, a dicing,
Or at Tennis, I or drincking drunke, or entring
Of a howse of lightnes viz. brothell,
Thus sir do wee that know the world, being men of reach,
By indirections, finde directions forth,
And so shall you my sonne; you ha me, ha you not?

Mon. I haue my lord.

Cor. Wel, fare you well, commend mee to him.

Mon. I will my lord.

Cor. And bid him ply his musicke

Mon. My lord I wil.

Enter, Ofelia.

Cor. Farewel, how now Ofelia, what's the news with you?

Ofe. O my deare father, such a change in nature, So great an alteration in a Prince, So pitifull to him, fearefull to mee, A maidens eye ne're looked on.

Cor. Why what's the matter my Ofelia?

Of. O yong Prince Hamlet, the only floure of Denmark, Hee is bereft of all the wealth he had. The Iewell that ador'nd his feature most Is filcht and stolne away, his wit's bereft him, Hee found mee walking in the gallery all alone, There comes hee to mee, with a distracted looke, His garters lagging downe, his shooes vntide, And fixt his eyes so stedfast on my face, As if they had vow'd, this is their latest object. Small while he stoode, but gripes me by the wrist, And there he holdes my pulse till with a sigh He doth vnclaspe his holde, and parts away Silent, as is the mid time of the night: And as he went, his eie was still on mee, For thus his head ouer his shoulder looked, He seemed to finde the way without his eies: For out of doores he went without their helpe, And so did leaue me.

Cor. Madde for thy loue, What haue you given him any crosse wordes of late?

Ofelia I did repell his letters, deny his gifts, As you did charge me.

Cor. Why that hath made him madde:
By heau'n t'is as proper for our age to cast
Beyond our selues, as t'is for the yonger sort
To leaue their wantonnesse. Well, I am sory
That I was so rash: but what remedy?
Lets to the King, this madnesse may prooue,
Though wilde a while, yet more true to thy loue.

Enter King and Queene, Rossencraft, and Gilderstone.

King Right noble friends, that our deere cosin Hamlet Hath lost the very heart of all his sence, It is most right, and we most sory for him: Therefore we doe desire, euen as you tender Our care to him, and our great loue to you, That you will labour but to wring from him The cause and ground of his distemperancie. Doe this, the king of Denmarke shal be thankefull.

Ros. My Lord, whatsoeuer lies within our power Your maiestie may more commaund in wordes Then vse perswasions to your liege men, bound By loue, by duetie, and obedience.

Guil. What we may doe for both your Maiesties To know the griefe troubles the Prince your sonne, We will indeuour all the best we may, So in all duetie doe we take our leaue.

King Thankes Guilderstone, and gentle Rossencraft.

 $\it Que.$ Thankes Rossencraft, and gentle Gilderstone.

Enter Corambis and Ofelia.

Cor. My Lord, the Ambassadors are ioyfully Return'd from Norway.

King Thou still hast beene the father of good news.

Cor. Haue I my Lord? I assure your grace, I holde my duetie as I holde my life, Both to my God, and to my soueraigne King: And I beleeue, or else this braine of mine Hunts not the traine of policie so well As it had wont to doe, but I haue found The very depth of Hamlets lunacie.

Queene God graunt he hath.

[Sc. vi.]

King Now Voltemar, what from our brother Norway? Volt. Most faire returnes of greetings and desires, Vpon our first he sent forth to suppresse His nephews leuies, which to him appear'd To be a preparation gainst the Polacke: But better look't into, he truely found It was against your Highnesse, whereat grieued, That so his sickenesse, age, and impotence, Was falsely borne in hand, sends out arrests On Fortenbrasse, which he in briefe obays, Receives rebuke from Norway: and in fine, Makes vow before his vncle, neuer more To give the assay of Armes against your Maiestie, Whereon olde Norway ouercome with ioy, Giues him three thousand crownes in annuall fee, And his Commission to employ those souldiers, So leuied as before, against the Polacke, With an intreaty heerein further shewne, That it would please you to give quiet passe Through your dominions, for that enterprise On such regardes of safety and allowances As therein are set downe. King It likes vs well, and at fit time and leasure Weele reade and answere these his Articles, Meane time we thanke you for your well Tooke labour: go to your rest, at night weele feast togither: Right welcome home. exeunt Ambassadors. Cor. This busines is very well dispatched. Now my Lord, touching the yong Prince Hamlet, Certaine it is that hee is madde: mad let vs grant him then: Now to know the cause of this effect, Or else to say the cause of this defect, For this effect defective comes by cause. Oueene Good my Lord be briefe. Cor. Madam I will: my Lord, I haue a daughter, Haue while shee's mine: for that we thinke Is surest, we often loose: now to the Prince. My lord, but note this letter, The which my daughter in obedience Deliuer'd to my handes. King Reade it my Lord. Cor. Marke my Lord. Doubt that in earth is fire. Doubt that the starres doe moue, Doubt trueth to be a liar, But doe not doubt I loue. To the beautifull Ofelia: Thine euer the most vnhappy Prince Hamlet. My Lord, what doe you thinke of me? I, or what might you thinke when I sawe this? King As of a true friend and a most louing subject. Cor. I would be glad to prooue so. Now when I saw this letter, thus I bespake my maiden: Lord Hamlet is a Prince out of your starre, And one that is vneguall for your loue: Therefore I did commaund her refuse his letters, Deny his tokens, and to absent her selfe. Shee as my childe obediently obey'd me. Now since which time, seeing his love thus cross'd. Which I tooke to be idle, and but sport. He straitway grew into a melancholy, From that vnto a fast, then vnto distraction, Then into a sadnesse, from that vnto a madnesse, And so by continuance, and weakenesse of the braine

Into this frensie, which now possesseth him: And if this be not true, take this from this.

King Thinke you t'is so? Cor. How? so my Lord, I would very faine know That thing that I have saide t'is so, positively, And it hath fallen out otherwise. 00 Nay, if circumstances leade me on, Ile finde it out, if it were hid As deepe as the centre of the earth. King. How should wee trie this same? Cor. Mary my good lord thus, 05 The Princes walke is here in the galery, There let Ofelia, walke vntill hee comes: Your selfe and I will stand close in the study, There shall you heare the effect of all his hart, And if it proue any otherwise then loue, 10 Then let my censure faile an other time. King. see where hee comes poring vppon a booke. Enter Hamlet. Cor. Madame, will it please your grace To leaue vs here? Que. With all my hart. exit. 15 Cor. And here Ofelia, reade you on this booke, And walke aloofe, the King shal be vnseene. Ham. To be, or not to be, I there's the point, To Die, to sleepe, is that all? I all: 20 No, to sleepe, to dreame, I mary there it goes, For in that dreame of death, when wee awake, And borne before an euerlasting Iudge, From whence no passenger euer retur'nd, The vndiscouered country, at whose sight 25 The happy smile, and the accursed damn'd. But for this, the iovfull hope of this, Whol'd beare the scornes and flattery of the world, Scorned by the right rich, the rich curssed of the poore? The widow being oppressed, the orphan wrong'd, 30 The taste of hunger, or a tirants raigne, And thousand more calamities besides, To grunt and sweate vnder this weary life, When that he may his full Quietus make, With a bare bodkin, who would this indure, But for a hope of something after death? Which pusles the braine, and doth confound the sence, 35 Which makes vs rather beare those euilles we haue, Than flie to others that we know not of. I that, O this conscience makes cowardes of vs all, Lady in thy orizons, be all my sinnes remembred. Ofel. My Lord, I have sought opportunitie, which now 40 I haue, to redeliuer to your worthy handes, a small remembrance, such tokens which I haue received of you. Ham. Are you faire? Ofel. My Lord. 45 Ham. Are you honest? Ofel. What meanes my Lord? Ham. That if you be faire and honest, Your beauty should admit no discourse to your honesty. Ofel. My Lord, can beauty haue better priviledge than 50 with honesty? Ham. Yea mary may it; for Beauty may transforme Honesty, from what she was into a bawd: Then Honesty can transforme Beauty: This was sometimes a Paradox.

55 But now the time giues it scope. I neuer gaue you nothing. Ofel. My Lord, you know right well you did, And with them such earnest vowes of loue, As would have moou'd the stoniest breast alive, 60 But now too true I finde. Rich giftes waxe poore, when givers grow vnkinde. Ham. I neuer loued you. Ofel. You made me beleeue you did. Ham. O thou shouldst not a beleeued me! Go to a Nunnery goe, why shouldst thou 65 Be a breeder of sinners? I am my selfe indifferent honest, But I could accuse my selfe of such crimes It had beene better my mother had ne're borne me, O I am very prowde, ambitious, disdainefull, With more sinnes at my becke, then I have thoughts 70 To put them in, what should such fellowes as I Do, crawling between heauen and earth? To a Nunnery goe, we are arrant knaues all, Beleeue none of vs, to a Nunnery goe. 75 Ofel. O heauens secure him! Ham. Wher's thy father? Ofel. At home my lord. Ham. For Gods sake let the doores be shut on him, He may play the foole no where but in his 80 Owne house: to a Nunnery goe. Ofel. Help him good God. Ham. If thou dost marry, Ile give thee This plague to thy dowry: Be thou as chaste as yce, as pure as snowe, 85 Thou shalt not scape calumny, to a Nunnery goe. Ofel. Alas, what change is this? Ham. But if thou wilt needes marry, marry a foole, For wisemen know well enough, What monsters you make of them, to a Nunnery goe. 90 Ofel. Pray God restore him. Ham. Nay, I have heard of your paintings too, God hath giuen you one face, And you make your selues another, You fig, and you amble, and you nickname Gods creatures, 95 Making your wantonnesse, your ignorance, A pox, t'is scuruy, Ile no more of it, It hath made me madde: Ile no more marriages, All that are married but one, shall liue, The rest shall keepe as they are, to a Nunnery goe, 00 To a Nunnery goe. exit. Ofe. Great God of heauen, what a guicke change is this? The Courtier, Scholler, Souldier, all in him, All dasht and splinterd thence, O woe is me, To a seene what I have seene, see what I see. exit. King Loue? No, no, that's not the cause, Some deeper thing it is that troubles him. [Sc. vII.] Cor. Wel, something it is: my Lord, content you a while, I will my selfe goe feele him: let me worke, Enter King and Ile try him euery way: see where he comes, Corambis. Send you those Gentlemen, let me alone To finde the depth of this, away, be gone. exit King. Now my good Lord, do you know me? Enter Hamlet.

Ham. Yea very well, y'are a fishmonger.

0 Cor. Not I my Lord. Ham. Then sir, I would you were so honest a man, For to be honest, as this age goes, Is one man to be pickt out of tenne thousand. Cor. What doe you reade my Lord? Ham. Wordes, wordes. Cor. What's the matter my Lord? Ham. Betweene who? Cor. I meane the matter you reade my Lord. Ham. Mary most vile heresie: For here the Satyricall Satyre writes, That olde men haue hollow eyes, weake backes, Grey beardes, pittifull weake hammes, gowty legges, All which sir, I most potently belieue not: For sir, your selfe shalbe olde as I am, :5 If like a Crabbe, you could goe backeward. Cor. How pregnant his replies are, and full of wit: Yet at first he tooke me for a fishmonger: All this comes by loue, the vemencie of loue, And when I was yong, I was very idle, And suffered much extasie in loue, very neere this: :0 Will you walke out of the aire my Lord? Ham. Into my graue. Cor. By the masse that's out of the aire indeed, Very shrewd answers, 5 My lord I will take my leaue of you. Enter Gilderstone, and Rossencraft. Ham. You can take nothing from me sir, I will more willingly part with all, Olde doating foole. Cor. You seeke Prince Hamlet, see, there he is. exit. Gil. Health to your Lordship. Ham. What, Gilderstone, and Rossencraft, Welcome kinde Schoole-fellowes to Elsanoure. Gil. We thanke your Grace, and would be very glad You were as when we were at Wittenberg. Ham. I thanke you, but is this visitation free of :5 Your selues, or were you not sent for? Tell me true, come, I know the good King and Queene Sent for you, there is a kinde of confession in your eye: Come, I know you were sent for. 0 Gil. What say you? Ham. Nay then I see how the winde sits, Come, you were sent for. Ross. My lord, we were, and willingly if we might, Know the cause and ground of your discontent. Ham. Why I want preferment. Ross. I thinke not so my lord. Ham. Yes faith, this great world you see contents me not, No nor the spangled heavens, nor earth, nor sea, No nor Man that is so glorious a creature, 0 Contents not me, no nor woman too, though you laugh. Gil. My lord, we laugh not at that. Ham. Why did you laugh then,

When I said, Man did not content mee? Gil. My Lord, we laughed, when you said, Man did not content you. :5 What entertainement the Players shall haue, We boorded them a the way: they are comming to you. Ham. Players, what Players be they? Ross. My Lord, the Tragedians of the Citty, Those that you tooke delight to see so often. 'n Ham. How comes it that they trauell? Do they grow restie? Gil. No my Lord, their reputation holds as it was wont. Ham. How then? Gil. Yfaith my Lord, noueltie carries it away, For the principall publike audience that 5 Came to them, are turned to private playes, And to the humour of children. Ham. I doe not greatly wonder of it, For those that would make mops and moes At my vncle, when my father lived, 0 Now give a hundred, two hundred pounds For his picture: but they shall be welcome, He that playes the King shall have tribute of me, The ventrous Knight shall vse his foyle and target, :5 The louer shall sigh gratis, The clowne shall make them laugh That are tickled in the lungs, or the blanke verse shall halt for't, And the Lady shall have leave to speake her minde freely. The Trumpets sound, Enter Corambis. Do you see yonder great baby? 10 He is not yet out of his swadling clowts. Gil. That may be, for they say an olde man Is twice a childe. Ham. Ile prophecie to you, hee comes to tell mee a the Players, You say true, a monday last, t'was so indeede. 15 Cor. My lord, I haue news to tell you. Ham. My Lord, I have newes to tell you: When Rossios was an Actor in Rome. Cor. The Actors are come hither, my lord. Ham. Buz. buz. 00 Cor. The best Actors in Christendome, Either for Comedy, Tragedy, Historie, Pastorall, Pastorall, Historicall, Historicall, Comicall, Comicall historicall. Pastorall. Tragedy historicall: Seneca cannot be too heavy, nor Plato too light: 05 For the law hath writ those are the onely men. Ha. O Iepha Iudge of Israel! what a treasure hadst thou? Cor. Why what a treasure had he my lord? Ham. Why one faire daughter, and no more,

Cor. A, stil harping a my daughter! well my Lord, If you call me Iepha, I hane a daughter that I loue passing well.

Ham. Nay that followes not.

Cor. What followes then my Lord?

The which he loued passing well.

Ham. Why by lot, or God wot, or as it came to passe,

And so it was, the first verse of the godly Ballet Wil tel you all: for look you where my abridgement comes: Welcome maisters, welcome all, Enter players. What my olde friend, thy face is vallanced 20 Since I saw thee last, com'st thou to beard me in Denmarke? My yong lady and mistris, burlady but your Ladiship is growne by the altitude of a chopine higher than you were: Pray God sir your voyce, like a peece of vncurrant Golde, be not crack't in the ring: come on maisters, 25 Weele euen too't, like French Falconers, Flie at any thing we see, come, a taste of your Quallitie, a speech, a passionate speech. Players What speech my good lord? Ham. I heard thee speake a speech once, 30 But it was neuer acted: or if it were, Neuer aboue twice, for as I remember, It pleased not the vulgar, it was cauiary To the million: but to me And others, that received it in the like kinde. Cried in the toppe of their judgements, an excellent play, 35 Set downe with as great modestie as cunning: One said there was no sallets in the lines to make the sauory, But called it an honest methode, as wholesome as sweete. Come, a speech in it I chiefly remember 40 Was Æneas tale to Dido, And then especially where he talkes of Princes slaughter, If it liue in thy memory beginne at this line, Let me see. The rugged Pyrrus, like th'arganian beast: No t'is not so, it begins with Pirrus: 45 O I haue it. The rugged Pirrus, he whose sable armes, Blacke as his purpose did the night resemble, When he lay couched in the ominous horse, 50 Hath now his blacke and grimme complexion smeered With Heraldry more dismall, head to foote, Now is he totall guise, horridely tricked With blood of fathers, mothers, daughters, sonnes, Back't and imparched in calagulate gore, Rifted in earth and fire, olde grandsire Pryam seekes: So goe on. Cor. Afore God, my Lord, well spoke, and with good accent. Play. Anone he finds him striking too short at Greeks, His antike sword rebellious to his Arme, Lies where it falles, vnable to resist. 60 Pyrrus at Pryam driues, but all in rage. Strikes wide, but with the whiffe and winde Of his fell sword, th' unnerued father falles. Cor. Enough my friend, t'is too long. 65 Ham. It shall to the Barbers with your beard: A pox, hee's for a ligge, or a tale of bawdry, Or else he sleepes, come on to Hecuba, come. Play. But who, O who had seene the mobiled Queene? Cor. Mobled Queene is good, faith very good. 70 Play. All in the alarum and feare of death rose vp, And o're her weake and all ore-teeming loynes, a blancket And a kercher on that head, where late the diademe stoode, Who this had seene with tongue inuenom'd speech, Would treason have pronounced, For if the gods themselves had seene her then. 75 When she saw Pirrus with malitious strokes, Mincing her husbandes limbs, It would have made milch the burning eyes of heauen, And passion in the gods. 80 Cor. Looke my lord if he hath not changed his colour,

And hath teares in his eyes: no more good heart, no more.

Will you see the Players well bestowed, I tell you they are the Chronicles 85 And briefe abstracts of the time, After your death I can tell you, You were better haue a bad Epiteeth, Then their ill report while you liue. Cor. My lord, I will vse them according to their deserts. 90 Ham. O farre better man, vse euery man after his deserts, Then who should scape whipping? Vse them after your owne honor and dignitie, The lesse they deserve, the greater credit's yours. Cor. Welcome my good fellowes. exit. 95 Ham. Come hither maisters, can you not play the murder of Gonsago? Players Yes my Lord. Ham. And could'st not thou for a neede study me Some dozen or sixteene lines, 00 Which I would set downe and insert? Players Yes very easily my good Lord. Ham. T'is well, I thanke you: follow that lord: And doe you heare sirs? take heede you mocke him not. Gentlemen, for your kindnes I thanke you, 05 And for a time I would desire you leaue me. Gil. Our loue and duetie is at your commaund. Exeunt all but Hamlet. Ham. Why what a dunghill idiote slaue am I? Why these Players here draw water from eyes: For Hecuba, why what is Hecuba to him, or he to Hecuba? 10 What would he do and if he had my losse? His father murdred, and a Crowne bereft him, He would turne all his teares to droppes of blood, Amaze the standers by with his laments, Strike more then wonder in the judicial eares, Confound the ignorant, and make mute the wise, 15 Indeede his passion would be generall. Yet I like to an asse and Iohn a Dreames, Hauing my father murdred by a villaine, Stand still, and let it passe, why sure I am a coward: 20 Who pluckes me by the beard, or twites my nose, Giue's me the lie i'th throate downe to the lungs, Sure I should take it, or else I haue no gall, Or by this I should a fatted all the region kites With this slaues offell, this damned villaine, 25 Treacherous, bawdy, murderous villaine: Why this is braue, that I the sonne of my deare father, Should like a scalion, like a very drabbe Thus raile in wordes. About my braine, I have heard that guilty creatures sitting at a play, 30 Hath, by the very cunning of the scene, confest a murder Committed long before. This spirit that I have seene may be the Diuell, And out of my weakenesse and my melancholy, As he is very potent with such men, 35 Doth seeke to damne me, I will have sounder proofes, The play's the thing, Wherein I'le catch the conscience of the King. exit. Enter the King, Queene, and Lordes. King Lordes, can you by no meanes finde

Ham. T'is well, t'is very well, I pray my lord,

Gil. My lord, we have done all the best we could,

You being so neere in loue, euen from his youth, Me thinkes should gaine more than a stranger should.

The cause of our sonne Hamlets lunacie?

[Sc. vIII.]

To wring from him the cause of all his griefe, But still he puts vs off, and by no meanes Would make an answere to that we exposde.

Ross. Yet was he something more inclin'd to mirth Before we left him, and I take it, He hath giuen order for a play to night, At which he craues your highnesse company.

King With all our heart, it likes vs very well: Gentlemen, seeke still to increase his mirth, Spare for no cost, our coffers shall be open, And we vnto your selues will still be thankefull.

Both In all wee can, be sure you shall commaund.

Queene Thankes gentlemen, and what the Queene of Denmarke May pleasure you, be sure you shall not want.

Gil. Weele once againe vnto the noble Prince.

King Thanks to you both: Gertred you'l see this play.

Queene My lord I will, and it ioyes me at the soule He is inclin'd to any kinde of mirth.

Cor. Madame, I pray be ruled by me: And my good Soueraigne, give me leave to speake, We cannot yet finde out the very ground Of his distemperance, therefore I holde it meete, if so it please you, Else they shall not meete, and thus it is.

King What i'st Corambis?

Cor. Mary my good lord this, soone when the sports are done, Madam, send you in haste to speake with him, And I my selfe will stand behind the Arras, There question you the cause of all his griefe, And then in loue and nature vnto you, hee'le tell you all: My Lord, how thinke you on't?

King It likes vs well, Gertred, what say you?

Queene With all my heart, soone will I send for him.

Cor. My selfe will be that happy messenger, Who hopes his griefe will be reueal'd to her.

Enter Hamlet and the Players.

Ham. Pronounce me this speech trippingly a the tongue as I taught thee, Mary and you mouth it, as a many of your players do I'de rather heare a towne bull bellow, Then such a fellow speake my lines. Nor do not saw the aire thus with your hands, But give every thing his action with temperance. O it offends mee to the soule, to heare a rebustious periwig fellow, To teare a passion in totters, into very ragges, To split the eares of the ignoraut, who for the Most parte are capable of nothing but dumbe shewes and noises, players My Lorde, wee haue indifferently reformed that among vs.

I would have such a fellow whipt, for o're doing, tarmagant It out, Herodes Herod.

Ham. The better, the better, mend it all together: There be fellowes that I have seene play, And heard others commend them, and that highly too, That having neither the gate of Christian, Pagan, Nor Turke, haue so strutted and bellowed, That you would a thought, some of Natures journeymen Had made men, and not made them well, They imitated humanitie, so abhominable: Take heede, auoyde it.

Let flattery sit on those time-pleasing tongs, To glose with them that loues to heare their praise, And not with such as thou Horatio. There is a play to night, wherein one Sceane they haue Comes very neere the murder of my father, When thou shalt see that Act afoote, Marke thou the King, doe but obserue his lookes, For I mine eies will riuet to his face: And if he doe not bleach, and change at that, It is a damned ghost that we have seene, Horatio, haue a care, obserue him well. Hor. My lord, mine eies shall still be on his face, And not the smallest alteration That shall appeare in him, but I shall note it. Ham. Harke, they come. Enter King, Queene, Corambis, and other Lords. King How now son Hamlet, how fare you, shall we have a play? Ham. Yfaith the Camelions dish, not capon cramm'd, feed a the avre. I father: My lord, you playd in the Vniuersitie. Cor. That I did my L: and I was counted a good actor. Ham. What did you enact there? Cor. My lord, I did act Julius Cæsar, I was killed in the Capitoll, Brutus killed me. Ham. It was a brute parte of him, To kill so capitall a calfe. Come, be these Players ready? To lay my head in your lappe? Ofel. No my lord. 5 Ham. Vpon your lap, what do you thinke I meant contrary matters? Enter in a Dumbe Shew, the King and the Queene, he sits downe in an Arbor, she leaves him: Then enters Lucianus with poyson in a Viall, and powres it in his eares, and goes away: Then the Queene commeth and findes him dead: and goes away with the other. Ofel. What meanes this my Lord? Enter the Prologue. Ham. This is myching Mallico, that meanes my chiefe. Ofel. What doth this meane my lord? Ham. You shall heare anone, this fellow will tell you all. Ofel. Will he tell vs what this shew meanes? 10 Ham. I, or any shew you'le shew him, Be not afeard to shew, hee'le not be afeard to tell: O these Players cannot keepe counsell, thei'le tell all. Prol. For vs, and for our Tragedie, Heere stowping to your clemencie, 15 We begge your hearing patiently. Ham. I'st a prologue, or a poesie for a ring? Ofel. T'is short my Lord. Ham. As womens loue. Enter the Duke and Dutchesse. 00 Duke Full fortie yeares are past, their date is gone, Since happy time ioyn'd both our hearts as one: And now the blood that fill'd my youthfull veines, Runnes weakely in their pipes, and all the straines Of musicke, which whilome pleasde mine eare, Is now a burthen that Age cannot beare: 05 And therefore sweete Nature must pay his due, To heauen must I, and leave the earth with you. Dutchesse O say not so, lest that you kill my heart, When death takes you, let life from me depart. Duke Content thy selfe, when ended is my date, 10 Thou maist (perchance) have a more noble mate, More wise, more youthfull, and one. Dutchesse O speake no more, for then I am accurst, None weds the second, but she kils the first: A second time I kill my Lord that's dead, When second husband kisses me in bed. Ham. O wormewood, wormewood!

Duke I doe beleeue you sweete, what now you speake, But what we doe determine oft we breake, For our demises stil are ouerthrowne, Our thoughts are ours, their end's none of our owne: So thinke you will no second husband wed, But die thy thoughts, when thy first Lord is dead.

Dutchesse Both here and there pursue me lasting strife, I once a widdow, euer I be wife.

Ham. If she should breake now.

Duke T'is deepely sworne, sweete leaue me here a while, My spirites growe dull, and faine I would beguile the tedious time with sleepe.

Ham. Mouse-trap: mary how trapically: this play is The image of a murder done in guyana, Albertus Was the Dukes name, his wife Baptista,

Father, it is a knauish peece a worke: but what

A that, it toucheth not vs, you and I that have free Soules, let the galld iade wince, this is one

Ofel. Y'are very pleasant my lord.

Ham. Who I, your onlie jig-maker, why what shoulde a man do but be merry? for looke how cheerefully my mother lookes, my father died within these two houres.

Ofel. Nay, t'is twice two months, my Lord.

Ham. Two months, nay then let the diuell weare blacke, For i'le haue a sute of Sables: Iesus, two months dead, And not forgotten yet? nay then there's some Likelyhood, a gentlemans death may outliue memorie, But by my faith hee must build churches then, Or els hee must follow the olde Epitithe, With hoh, with ho, the hobi-horse is forgot.

Ofel. Your iests are keene my Lord.

Gil. My lord, your mother craues to speake with you.

Ham. We shall obey, were she ten times our mother.

Ross. But my good Lord, shall I intreate thus much?

Ham. I pray will you play vpon this pipe?

Ross. Alas my lord I cannot.

Ham. Pray will you.

Gil. I haue no skill my Lord.

Ham. Why looke, it is a thing of nothing, T'is but stopping of these holes, And with a little breath from your lips, It will giue most delicate musick.

Gil. But this cannot wee do my Lord.

Ham. Pray now, pray hartily, I beseech you.

Ross. My lord wee cannot.

Ham. Why how vnworthy a thing would you make of me? You would seeme to know my stops, you would play vpon mee, You would search the very inward part of my hart, And diue into the secreet of my soule.

Zownds do you thinke I am easier to be pla'yd
On, then a pipe? call mee what Instrument
You will, though you can frett mee, yet you can not Play vpon mee, besides, to be demanded by a spunge.

Ros. How a spunge my Lord?

Ham. I sir, a spunge, that sokes vp the kings Countenance, fauours, and rewardes, that makes His liberalitie your store house: but such as you, Do the king, in the end, best seruise; For hee doth keep you as an Ape doth nuttes, In the corner of his Iaw, first mouthes you, Then swallowes you: so when hee hath need Of you, t'is but squeesing of you, And spunge, you shall be dry againe you shall.

King O that this wet that falles vpon my face
Would wash the crime cleere from my conscience!
When I looke vp to heauen, I see my trespasse,
The earth doth still crie out vpon my fact,
Pay me the murder of a brother and a king,
And the adulterous fault I haue committed:
O these are sinnes that are vnpardonable:
Why say thy sinnes were blacker then is ieat,
Yet may contrition make them as white as snowe:
I but still to perseuer in a sinne,
It is an act gainst the vniuersall power,
Most wretched man, stoope, bend thee to thy prayer,
Aske grace of heauen to keepe thee from despaire.

[Sc. x.]

Hee kneeles, enters Hamlet

Ham. I so, come forth and worke thy last, And thus hee dies: and so am I reuenged: No, not so: he tooke my father sleeping, his sins brim full, And how his soule stoode to the state of heauen Who knowes, saue the immortall powres, And shall I kill him now. When he is purging of his soule? Making his way for heauen, this is a benefit, And not reuenge: no, get thee vp agen, When hee's at game swaring, taking his carowse, drinking, drunke, Or in the incestuous pleasure of his bed, Or at some act that hath no relish Of saluation in't, then trip him That his heeles may kicke at heauen, And fall as lowe as hel: my mother stayes, This phisicke but prolongs thy weary dayes.

Ham. I a Rat, dead for a Duckat. Rash intruding foole, farewell, I tooke thee for thy better.

Queene Hamlet, what hast thou done?

Ham. Not so much harme, good mother, As to kill a king, and marry with his brother.

Queene How! kill a king!

Ham. I a King: nay sit you downe, and ere you part, If you be made of penitrable stuffe, I'le make your eyes looke downe into your heart, And see how horride there and blacke it shews.

Queene Hamlet, what mean'st thou by these killing words?

Ham. Why this I meane, see here, behold this picture, It is the portraiture, of your deceased husband, See here a face, to outface Mars himselfe, An eye, at which his foes did tremble at, A front wherin all vertues are set downe For to adorne a king, and guild his crowne, Whose heart went hand in hand euen with that vow, He made to you in marriage, and he is dead. Murdred, damnably murdred, this was your husband, Looke you now, here is your husband, With a face like Vulcan. A looke fit for a murder and a rape, A dull dead hanging looke, and a hell-bred eie, To affright children and amaze the world: And this same haue you left to change with this. What Diuell thus hath cosoned you at hob-man blinde? A! haue you eyes and can you looke on him That slew my father, and your deere husband, To liue in the incestuous pleasure of his bed?

Queene O Hamlet, speake no more.

Ham. To leaue him that bare a Monarkes minde, For a king of clowts, of very shreads.

Queene Sweete Hamlet cease.

Ham. Nay but still to persist and dwell in sinne, To sweate vnder the yoke of infamie, To make increase of shame, to seale damnation.

Queene Hamlet, no more.

Ham. Why appetite with you is in the waine, Your blood runnes backeward now from whence it came, Who'le chide hote blood within a Virgins heart, When lust shall dwell within a matrons breast?

Queene Hamlet, thou cleaues my heart in twaine.

Ham. O throw away the worser part of it, and keepe the better.

Lest that my heart of stone yeelde to compassion,
And euery part that should assist reuenge,
Forgoe their proper powers, and fall to pitty.

Where he is eaten, a certaine company of politicke wormes are euen now at him.

Father, your fatte King, and your leane Beggar

Are but variable seruices, two dishes to one messe:

Ofelia How should I your true love know From another man?
By his cockle hatte, and his staffe,
And his sandall shoone.
White his shrowde as mountaine snowe,
Larded with sweete flowers,
That bewept to the graue did not goe
With true louers showers:
He is dead and gone Lady, he is dead and gone,
At his head a grasse greene turffe,
At his heeles a stone.

King How i'st with you sweete Ofelia?

Ofelia Well God yeeld you,
It grieues me to see how they laid him in the cold ground,
I could not chuse but weepe:
And will he not come againe?
And will he not come againe?
No, no, hee's gone, and we cast away mone,
And he neuer will come againe.
His beard as white as snowe:
All flaxen was his pole,
He is dead, he is gone,
And we cast away moane:

Lear. By whome, by heau'n I'le be resolued.

King Let him goe Gertred, away, I feare him not, There's such diuinitie doth wall a king, That treason dares not looke on.
Let him goe Gertred, that your father is murdred, T'is true, and we most sory for it, Being the chiefest piller of our state: Therefore will you like a most desperate gamster, Swoop-stake-like, draw at friend, and foe, and all?

Lear. To his good friends thus wide I'le ope mine arms, And locke them in my hart, but to his foes, I will no reconcilement but by bloud.

5 King Why now you speake like a most louing sonne: And that in soule we sorrow for for his death, Your selfe ere long shall be a witnesse, Meane while be patient, and content your selfe. Enter Ofelia as before. Lear. Who's this, Ofelia? O my deere sister! I'st possible a yong maides life, 0 Should be as mortall as an olde mans sawe? O heau'ns themselues! how now Ofelia? Ofel. Wel God a mercy, I a bin gathering of floures: Here, here is rew for you, You may call it hearb a grace a Sundayes, 5 Heere's some for me too: you must weare your rew With a difference, there's a dazie. Here Loue, there's rosemary for you For remembrance: I pray Loue remember, And there's pansey for thoughts. :0 Lear. A document in madnes, thoughts, remembrance: O God, O God! Ofelia There is fennell for you, I would a giu'n you Some violets, but they all withered, when My father died: alas, they say the owle was 5 A Bakers daughter, we see what we are, But can not tell what we shall be. For bonny sweete Robin is all my joy. Lear. Thoughts & afflictions, torments worse than hell. Ofel. Nay Loue, I pray you make no words of this now: 0 I pray now, you shall sing a downe, And you a downe a, t'is a the Kings daughter And the false steward, and if any body Aske you of any thing, say you this. To morrow is saint Valentines day, 15 All in the morning betime, And a maide at your window, To be your Valentine: The yong man rose, and dan'd his clothes, And dupt the chamber doore, 00 Let in the maide, that out a maide Neuer departed more. Nay I pray marke now, By gisse, and by saint Charitie, Away, and fie for shame: 05 Yong men will doo't when they come too't: By cocke they are too blame. Quoth she, before you tumbled me, You promised me to wed. So would I a done, by yonder Sunne, 10 If thou hadst not come to my bed. So God be with you all, God bwy Ladies. God bwy you Loue. exit Ofelia. Lear. Griefe vpon griefe, my father murdered, 15 My sister thus distracted: Cursed be his soule that wrought this wicked act. King Content you good Leartes for a time, Although I know your griefe is as a floud, Brimme full of sorrow, but forbeare a while, 2.0 And thinke already the reuenge is done On him that makes you such a haplesse sonne. Lear. You have prevail'd my Lord, a while I'le striue, To bury griefe within a tombe of wrath, Which once vnhearsed, then the world shall heare Leartes had a father he held deere. 25 King No more of that, ere many dayes be done, You shall heare that you do not dreame vpon. exeunt om.

[Sc. xiv.]

Hor. Madame, your sonne is safe arriv'de in Denmarke, This letter I euen now receiv'd of him, Whereas he writes how he escap't the danger, And subtle treason that the king had plotted, Being crossed by the contention of the windes, He found the Packet sent to the king of England, Wherein he saw himselfe betray'd to death, As at his next conversion with your grace, He will relate the circumstance at full.

Queene Then I perceive there's treason in his lookes That seem'd to sugar o're his villanie:
But I will soothe and please him for a time,
For murderous mindes are alwayes jealous,
But know not you Horatio where he is?

Hor. Yes Madame, and he hath appoynted me To meete him on the east side of the Cittie To morrow morning.

Queene O faile not, good Horatio, and withall, commend me A mothers care to him, bid him a while Be wary of his presence, lest that he Faile in that he goes about.

Hor. Madam, neuer make doubt of that: I thinke by this the news be come to court: He is arriv'de, obserue the king, and you shall Quickely finde, Hamlet being here, Things fell not to his minde.

Oueene But what became of Gilderstone and Rossencraft?

Hor. He being set ashore, they went for England, And in the Packet there writ down that doome To be perform'd on them poynted for him: And by great chance he had his fathers Seale, So all was done without discouerie.

Queene Thankes be to heauen for blessing of the prince, Horatio once againe I take my leaue, With thowsand mothers blessings to my sonne.

Horat. Madam adue.

Enter King and Leartes.

King. Hamlet from England! is it possible? What chance is this? they are gone, and he come home.

Lear. O he is welcome, by my soule he is: At it my iocund heart doth leape for ioy, That I shall liue to tell him, thus he dies.

King Leartes, content your selfe, be rulde by me, And you shall haue no let for your reuenge.

Lear. My will, not all the world.

King Nay but Leartes, marke the plot I haue layde, I haue heard him often with a greedy wish, Vpon some praise that he hath heard of you Touching your weapon, which with all his heart, He might be once tasked for to try your cunning.

Lea. And how for this?

King Mary Leartes thus: I'le lay a wager,
Shalbe on Hamlets side, and you shall giue the oddes,
The which will draw him with a more desire,
To try the maistry, that in twelue venies
You gaine not three of him: now this being granted,
When you are hot in midst of all your play,
Among the foyles shall a keene rapier lie,
Steeped in a mixture of deadly poyson,

That if it drawes but the least dramme of blood, In any part of him, he cannot liue: This being done will free you from suspition, And not the deerest friend that Hamlet lov'de Will euer haue Leartes in suspect.

Lear. My lord, I like it well: But say lord Hamlet should refuse this match.

King I'le warrant you, wee'le put on you Such a report of singularitie,
Will bring him on, although against his will.
And lest that all should misse,
I'le haue a potion that shall ready stand,
In all his heate when that he calles for drinke,
Shall be his period and our happinesse.

Lear. T'is excellent, O would the time were come! Here comes the Queene.

King How now Gertred, why looke you heauily?

Queene O my Lord, the yong Ofelia
Hauing made a garland of sundry sortes of floures,
Sitting vpon a willow by a brooke,
The enuious sprig broke, into the brooke she fell,
And for a while her clothes spread wide abroade,
Bore the yong Lady vp: and there she sate smiling,
Euen Mermaide-like, twixt heauen and earth,
Chaunting olde sundry tunes vncapable
As it were of her distresse, but long it could not be,
Till that her clothes, being heauy with their drinke,
Dragg'd the sweete wretch to death.

Lear. So, she is drownde:
Too much of water hast thou Ofelia,
Therefore I will not drowne thee in my teares,
Reuenge it is must yeeld this heart releefe,
For woe begets woe, and griefe hangs on griefe.

Enter Clowne and an other.

Clowne I say no, she ought not to be buried In christian buriall.

2. Why sir?

Clowne Mary because shee's drownd.

2. But she did not drowne her selfe.

Clowne No, that's certaine, the water drown'd her.

2. Yea but it was against her will.

Clowne No, I deny that, for looke you sir, I stand here, If the water come to me, I drowne not my selfe: But if I goe to the water, and am there drown'd, Ergo I am guiltie of my owne death: Y'are gone, goe y'are gone sir.

2. I but see, she hath christian buriall, Because she is a great woman.

Clowne Mary more's the pitty, that great folke Should haue more authoritie to hang or drowne Themselues, more than other people: Goe fetch me a stope of drinke, but before thou Goest, tell me one thing, who buildes strongest, Of a Mason, a Shipwright, or a Carpenter?

2. Why a Mason, for he buildes all of stone, And will indure long.

Clowne That's prety, too't agen, too't agen.

2. Why then a Carpenter, for he buildes the gallowes, And that brings many a one to his long home.

Clowne Prety agen, the gallowes doth well, mary howe dooes it well? the gallowes dooes well to them that doe ill, goe get thee gone:
And if any one aske thee hereafter, say,
A Graue-maker, for the houses he buildes
Last till Doomes-day. Fetch me a stope of beere, goe.

Enter Hamlet and Horatio.

Clowne A picke-axe and a spade, A spade for and a winding sheete, Most fit it is, for t'will be made, For such a ghest most meete.

he throwes vp a shouel.

Ham. Hath this fellow any feeling of himselfe, That is thus merry in making of a graue? See how the slaue joles their heads against the earth.

Hor. My lord, Custome hath made it in him seeme nothing.

Clowne A pick-axe and a spade, a spade, For and a winding sheete,
Most fit it is for to be made,
For such a ghest most meet.

Ham. Looke you, there's another Horatio.
Why mai't not be the scull of some Lawyer?
Me thinkes he should indite that fellow
Of an action of Batterie, for knocking
Him about the pate with's shouel: now where is your Quirkes and quillets now, your vouchers and Double vouchers, your leases and free-holde,
And tenements? why that same boxe there will scarse
Holde the conueiance of his land, and must
The honor lie there? O pittifull transformance!
I prethee tell me Horatio,
Is parchment made of sheep-skinnes?

Hor. I my Lorde, and of calues-skinnes too.

Ham. Ifaith they prooue themselues sheepe and calues That deale with them, or put their trust in them. There's another, why may not that be such a ones Scull, that praised my Lord such a ones horse, When he meant to beg him? Horatio, I prethee Lets question yonder fellow. Now my friend, whose graue is this?

Clowne Mine sir.

Ham. But who must lie in it?

Clowne If I should say, I should, I should lie in my throat sir.

Ham. What man must be buried here?

Clowne No man sir.

Ham. What woman?

Clowne. No woman neither sir, but indeede One that was a woman.

Ham. An excellent fellow by the Lord Horatio,
This seauen yeares haue I noted it: the toe of the pesant,
Comes so neere the heele of the courtier,
That hee gawles his kibe, I prethee tell mee one thing,
How long will a man lie in the ground before hee rots?

Clowne Ifaith sir, if hee be not rotten before He be laide in, as we have many pocky corses, He will last you, eight yeares, a tanner Will last you eight yeares full out, or nine.

Ham. And why a tanner?

Clowne Why his hide is so tanned with his trade, That it will holde out water, that's a parlous

Deuourer of your dead body, a great soaker. :5 Looke you, heres a scull hath bin here this dozen yeare, Let me see, I euer since our last king Hamlet Slew Fortenbrasse in combat, young Hamlets father, Hee that's mad. Ham. I mary, how came he madde? 10 Clowne Ifaith very strangely, by loosing of his wittes. Ham. Vpon what ground? Clowne A this ground, in Denmarke. Ham. Where is he now? Clowne Why now they sent him to England. 15 Ham. To England! wherefore? Clowne Why they say he shall have his wittes there, Or if he haue not, t'is no great matter there, It will not be seene there. Ham. Why not there? 00 Clowne Why there they say the men are as mad as he. Ham. Whose scull was this? Clowne This, a plague on him, a madde rogues it was, He powred once a whole flagon of Rhenish of my head, Why do not you know him? this was one Yorickes scull. 05 Ham. Was this? I prethee let me see it, alas poore Yoricke I knew him Horatio, A fellow of infinite mirth, he hath caried mee twenty times vpon his backe, here hung those lippes that I haue Kissed a hundred times, and to see, now they abhorre me: Wheres 10 your iests now Yoricke? your flashes of meriment: now go to my Ladies chamber, and bid her paint her selfe an inch thicke, to this she must come Yoricke. Horatio, I prethee tell me one thing, doost thou thinke that Alexander looked 15 Hor. Euen so my Lord. Ham. And smelt thus? Hor. I my lord, no otherwise. Ham. No, why might not imagination worke, as thus of Alexander, Alexander died, Alexander was buried, Alexander became earth, of earth we make clay, and Alexander being 20 but clay, why might not time bring to passe, that he might stoppe the boung hole of a beere barrell? Imperious Cæsar dead and turnd to clay, Might stoppe a hole, to keepe the winde away. Enter King and Queene, Leartes, and other lordes, with a Priest after the coffin. 25 Ham. What funerall's this that all the Court laments? It shews to be some noble parentage: Stand by a while. Lear. What ceremony else? say, what ceremony else? Priest My Lord, we have done all that lies in vs, 30 And more than well the church can tolerate, She hath had a Dirge sung for her maiden soule: And but for fauour of the king, and you, She had beene buried in the open fieldes, Where now she is allowed christian buriall. 35 Lear. So. I tell thee churlish Priest, a ministring Angell shall my sister be, when thou liest howling.

Ham. The faire Ofelia dead!

Queene Sweetes to the sweete, farewell: I had thought to adorne thy bridale bed, faire maide, And not to follow thee vnto thy graue.

Lear. Forbeare the earth a while: sister farewell:

Leartes leapes into the graue.

Now powre your earth on, Olympus hie, And make a hill to o're top olde Pellon: Whats he that conjures so?

Hamlet leapes in after Leartes

Ham. Beholde tis I, Hamlet the Dane.

Lear. The diuell take thy soule.

Ham. O thou praiest not well, I prethee take thy hand from off my throate, For there is something in me dangerous, Which let thy wisedome feare, holde off thy hand: I lou'de Ofelia as deere as twenty brothers could: Shew me what thou wilt doe for her: Wilt fight, wilt fast, wilt pray, Wilt drinke vp vessels, eate a crocadile? Ile doot: Com'st thou here to whine? And where thou talk'st of burying thee a liue, Here let vs stand: and let them throw on vs, Whole hills of earth, till with the heighth therof, Make Oosell as a Wart.

King. Forbeare Leartes, now is hee mad, as is the sea, Anone as milde and gentle as a Doue: Therfore a while give his wilde humour scope.

Ham. What is the reason sir that you wrong mee thus? I neuer gaue you cause: but stand away, A Cat will meaw, a Dog will have a day.

Exit Hamlet and Horatio.

Queene. Alas, it is his madnes makes him thus, And not his heart, Leartes.

King. My lord, t'is so: but wee'le no longer trifle, This very day shall Hamlet drinke his last, For presently we meane to send to him, Therfore Leartes be in readynes.

Lear. My lord, till then my soule will not bee quiet.

King. Come Gertred, wee'l haue Leartes, and our sonne, Made friends and Louers, as befittes them both, Euen as they tender vs, and loue their countrie.

Queene God grant they may.

Enter Hamlet and Horatio

Ham. Beleeue mee, it greeues mee much Horatio, That to Leartes I forgot my selfe: For by my selfe me thinkes I feele his griefe, Though there's a difference in each others wrong. Enter a Bragart Gentleman. Horatio, but marke yon water-flie, The Court knowes him, but hee knowes not the Court.

Gent. Now God saue thee, sweete prince Hamlet.

Ham. And you sir: foh, how the muske-cod smels!

Gen. I come with an embassage from his maiesty to you

Ham. I shall sir giue you attention: By my troth me thinkes t'is very colde.

Ham. T'is hot me thinkes. Gent. Very swoltery hote: The King, sweete Prince, hath layd a wager on your side, 5 Six Barbary horse, against six french rapiers, With all their acoutrements too, a the carriages: In good faith they are very curiously wrought. Ham. The cariages sir, I do not know what you meane. Gent. The girdles, and hangers sir, and such like. 'n Ham. The worde had beene more cosin german to the phrase, if he could have carried the canon by his side, And howe's the wager? I vnderstand you now. Gent. Mary sir, that yong Leartes in twelue venies At Rapier and Dagger do not get three oddes of you, 5 And on your side the King hath laide, And desires you to be in readinesse. Ham. Very well, if the King dare venture his wager, I dare venture my skull: when must this be? Gent. My Lord, presently, the king, and her maiesty, :0 With the rest of the best iudgement in the Court, Are comming downe into the outward pallace. Ham. Goe tell his maiestie, I wil attend him. Gent. Beleeue me Horatio, my hart is on the sodaine Very sore, all here about. :0 Hor. My lord, forbeare the challenge then. Ham. No Horatio, not I, if danger be now, Why then it is not to come, theres a predestiuate prouidence in the fall of a sparrow: heere comes the King. Enter King, Queene, Leartes, Lordes. King Now sonne Hamlet, we have laid vpon your head, And make no question but to have the best. :5 Ham. Your majestie hath laide a the weaker side. King. We doubt it not, deliuer them the foiles. Ham. First Leartes, heere's my hand and loue, Protesting that I neuer wrongd Leartes. If Hamlet in his madnesse did amisse, That was not Hamlet, but his madnes did it, And all the wrong I e're did to Leartes, I here proclaime was madnes, therefore lets be at peace, And thinke I have shot mine arrow o're the house, And hurt my brother. Lear. Sir I am satisfied in nature, But in termes of honor I'le stand aloofe, And will no reconcilement, Till by some elder maisters of our time I may be satisfied. 0 King Giue them the foyles. Ham. I'le be your foyle Leartes, these foyles, Haue all a laught, come on sir: a hit.

Heere they play:

Ham. Iudgement.

Lear. No none.

Gent. A hit, a most palpable hit. Lear. Well, come againe. They play againe. Ham. Another. Iudgement. Lear. I, I grant, a tuch, a tuch. King Here Hamlet, the king doth drinke a health to thee Queene Here Hamlet, take my napkin, wipe thy face. King Giue him the wine. Ham. Set it by, I'le haue another bowt first, I'le drinke anone. Queene Here Hamlet, thy mother drinkes to thee. Shee drinkes. King Do not drinke Gertred: O t'is the poysned cup! Ham. Leartes come, you dally with me, I pray you passe with your most cunningst play. Lear. I! say you so? haue at you, He hit you now my Lord: And yet it goes almost against my conscience. Ham. Come on sir. They catch one anothers Rapiers, and both are wounded, Leartes falles downe, the Queene falles downe and dies. King Looke to the Queene. Queene O the drinke, the drinke, Hamlet, the drinke. Ham. Treason, ho, keepe the gates. Lords How ist my Lord Leartes? Lear. Euen as a coxcombe should, Foolishly slaine with my owne weapon: Hamlet, thou hast not in thee halfe an houre of life, The fatall Instrument is in thy hand. Vnbated and invenomed: thy mother's poysned That drinke was made for thee. Ham. The poysned Instrument within my hand? Then venome to thy venome, die damn'd villaine: Come drinke, here lies thy vnion here. The king dies. Lear. O he is justly serued: Hamlet, before I die, here take my hand, And withall, my loue: I doe forgiue thee. Leartes dies. Ham. And I thee, O I am dead Horatio, fare thee well. 00 Hor. No, I am more an antike Roman, Then a Dane, here is some poison left. Ham. Vpon my loue I charge thee let it goe, O fie Horatio, and if thou shouldst die. What a scandale wouldst thou leave behinde? 05 What tongue should tell the story of our deaths, If not from thee? O my heart sinckes Horatio, Mine eyes haue lost their sight, my tongue his vse: Farewel Horatio, heauen receiue my soule. Ham. dies. Enter Voltemar and the Ambassadors from England. Beyond what can be valued, rich or rare,
No less than life, with grace, health, beauty, honour,
As much as child e'er loved or father found; [2460]
A love that makes breath poor and speech unable;
Beyond all manner of so much I love you. [2461]
Cor. [Aside] What shall Cordelia do? Love, and be silent. [2462]
Lear. Of all these bounds, even from this line to this.
With shadowy forests and with champains rich'd, [2463][2464][2465]
With plenteous rivers and wide-skirted meads.[2464]
We make thee lady. To thine and Albany's issue<sup>[2466]</sup>
Be this perpetual. What says our second daughter, [2467]
Our dearest Regan, wife to Cornwall? Speak. [2468]
Reg. I am made of that self metal as my sister, [2469]
And prize me at her worth. In my true heart<sup>[2470]</sup>
I find she names my very deed of love; [2471]
Only she comes too short: that I profess<sup>[2471][2472]</sup>
Myself an enemy to all other joys<sup>[2471]</sup>
Which the most precious square of sense possesses, [2473]
And find I am alone felicitate<sup>[2474][2475]</sup>
In your dear highness' love. [2474]
Cor. [Aside] Then poor Cordelia! [2476][2477][2478]
And yet not so, since I am sure my love's[2479][2480]
More ponderous than my tongue. [2477][2480][2481]
Lear. To thee and thine hereditary ever
Remain this ample third of our fair kingdom,
No less in space, validity and pleasure,
Than that conferr'd on Goneril. Now, our joy, [2482][2483][2484]
Although the last, not least, to whose young love<sup>[2483][2485]</sup>
The vines of France and milk of Burgundy<sup>[2483]</sup>
Strive to be interess'd, what can you say to draw<sup>[2483][2486]</sup>
A third more opulent than your sisters? Speak. [2483][2487]
Cor. Nothing, my lord.
Lear. Nothing![2488]
Cor. Nothing.[2488]
Lear. Nothing will come of nothing: speak again. [2489]
Cor. Unhappy that I am, I cannot heave [2490][2491]
My heart into my mouth: I love your majesty<sup>[2490]</sup>
According to my bond; nor more nor less.[2490][2492]
Lear. How, how, Cordelia! mend your speech a little, [2493]
Lest it may mar your fortunes.[2494]
Cor. Good my lord,
You have begot me, bred me, loved me: I<sup>[2495][2496]</sup>

15 Return those duties back as are right fit, [2496][2497] Obey you, love you, and most honour you. Why have my sisters husbands, if they say^[2498] They love you all? Haply, when I shall wed, [2498][2499][2500] That lord whose hand must take my plight shall carry^[2500] 00 Half my love with him, half my care and duty:[2500] Sure, I shall never marry like my sisters, [2500][2501][2502] To love my father all. [2502][2503] Lear. But goes thy heart with this? Cor. Ay, good my lord. [2504] Lear. So young, and so untender? 05 Cor. So young, my lord, and true. Lear. Let it be so; thy truth then be thy dower: [2505] For, by the sacred radiance of the sun, The mysteries of Hecate, and the night; [2506] By all the operation of the orbs^[2507] From whom we do exist and cease to be; 10 Here I disclaim all my paternal care, Propinquity and property of blood, And as a stranger to my heart and me Hold thee from this for ever. The barbarous Scythian, [2508] 15 Or he that makes his generation messes^[2509] To gorge his appetite, shall to my bosom^{[2509][2510]} Be as well neighbour'd, pitied and relieved, [2510] As thou my sometime daughter. Kent. Good my liege,—[2511] Lear. Peace, Kent![2512] 2.0 Come not between the dragon and his wrath. [2512] I loved her most, and thought to set my rest On her kind nursery. Hence, and avoid my sight![2513] So be my grave my peace, as here I give Her father's heart from her! Call France. Who stirs? Call Burgundy. Cornwall and Albany, [2514] 25 With my two daughters' dowers digest this third: [2515] Let pride, which she calls plainness, marry her. I do invest you jointly with my power.[2516] Pre-eminence and all the large effects^[2517] 30 That troop with majesty. Ourself, by monthly course, [2518] With reservation of an hundred knights By you to be sustain'd, shall our abode Make with you by due turns. Only we still retain^[2519] The name and all the additions to a king; [2520][2521] The sway, revenue, execution of the rest. [2520][2522] 35 Beloved sons, be yours: which to confirm, This coronet part betwixt you. [2523] Kent. Royal Lear, Whom I have ever honour'd as my king, [2524] Loved as my father, as my master follow'd, [2525] 40 As my great patron thought on in my prayers,—[2526] Lear. The bow is bent and drawn; make from the shaft. Kent. Let it fall rather, though the fork invade^[2527] The region of my heart: be Kent unmannerly, When Lear is mad. What wouldst thou do, old man?[2528] 45 Think'st thou that duty shall have dread to speak, When power to flattery bows? To plainness honour's bound, [2529] When majesty stoops to folly. Reverse thy doom, [2530] And in thy best consideration check^[2531] This hideous rashness: answer my life my judgement, [2532]

                       Kent. My life I never held but as a pawn<sup>[2535]</sup>
                       To wage against thy enemies, nor fear to lose it, [2536]
                       Thy safety being the motive. [2537]

                       The true blank of thine eye.
                       Lear. Now, by Apollo,—
                       Kent. Now, by Apollo, king, [2538][2539]
                       Thou swear'st thy gods in vain. [2538]
                       Lear. O, vassal! miscreant!

                       Five days we do allot thee, for provision<sup>[2553]</sup>
                       To shield thee from diseases of the world, [2554]
                       And on the sixth to turn thy hated back<sup>[2555]</sup>

	Bur. Most royal majesty, ^[2571]
	I crave no more than what your highness offer'd, [2571][2572]
	Nor will you tender less. ^{[2571][2573]}
	1 Diale bl - D d. [2574]
95	Lear. Right noble Burgundy, [2574]
30	When she was dear to us, we did hold her so; [2574][2575]
	But now her price is fall'n. Sir, there she stands: [2574][2576] If aught within that little seeming substance, [2574][2577]
	Or all of it, with our displeasure pieced, [2574][2578]
	And nothing more, may fitly like your grace, [2579]
	She's there, and she is yours.
00	Bur. I know no answer.
	Lear. Will you, with those infirmities she owes, [2580]
	Unfriended, new adopted to our hate,
	Dower'd with our curse and stranger'd with our oath, ^[2581] Take her, or leave her? ^[2582]
	Take ner, or leave ner?
	Bur. Pardon me, royal sir; ^{[2583][2584]}
05	Election makes not up on such conditions. ^[2584] [2585]
	Lear. Then leave her, sir; for, by the power that made me,
	I tell you all her wealth. [To France] For you, great king, ^[2586]
	I would not from your love make such a stray,
10	To match you where I hate; therefore beseech you To avert your liking a more worthier way ^[2587]
	Than on a wretch whom nature is ashamed
	Almost to acknowledge hers.
	France. This is most strange, [2588]
	That she, that even but now was your best object, [2588][2589]
	The argument of your praise, balm of your age, [2588][2590]
15	Most best, most dearest, should in this trice of time ^{[2588][2591]}
	Commit a thing so monstrous, to dismantle [2588]
	So many folds of favour. Sure, her offence ^{[2588][2592]}
	Must be of such unnatural degree ^[2588]
20	That monsters it, or your fore-vouch'd affection [2593][2594]
120	Fall'n into taint: which to believe of her, [2594][2595]
	Must be a faith that reason without miracle ^[2596] Could never plant in me. ^[2596]
	Cor. I yet beseech your majesty,— ^{[2597][2598]}
	If for I want that glib and oily art, ^{[2598][2599]}
	To speak and purpose not, since what I well intend, [2600]
25	I'll do't before I speak,—that you make known ^[2601]
	It is no vicious blot, murder, or foulness, [2602]
	No unchaste action, or dishonour'd step, [2603]
	That hath deprived me of your grace and favour;[2604]
:30	But even for want of that for which I am richer, [2605]
130	A still-soliciting eye, and such a tongue [2606]
	As I am glad I have not, though not to have it ^[2607] Hath lost me in your liking.
	Lear. Better thou ^[2608] [2609]
	Hadst not been born than not to have pleased me better. [2609][2610]
	France. Is it but this, a tardiness in nature ^[2611]
:35	Which often leaves the history unspoke ^{[2612][2613]}
	That it intends to do? My lord of Burgundy, [2613][2614]
	What say you to the lady? Love's not love ^{[2613][2615]}
	When it is mingled with regards that stand ^{[2613][2616]}
	Aloof from the entire point. Will you have her? ^[2617]
	She is herself a dowry. [2618]

                        I shall not be his wife. [2623]

Why bastard? wherefore base?^{[2671][2674]} When my dimensions are as well compact, [2671][2675] My mind as generous and my shape as true, [2671] As honest madam's issue? Why brand they us^{[2671][2676]} With base? with baseness? bastardy? base, base?^{[2671][2677]} Who in the lusty stealth of nature take [2671]More composition and fierce quality^[2671] Than doth, within a dull, stale, tired bed, [2671][2678] Go to the creating a whole tribe of fops, [2671][2679] Got 'tween asleep and wake? Well then, [2671][2680] 5 Legitimate Edgar, I must have your land: [2671] Our father's love is to the bastard Edmund^[2671] As to the legitimate: fine word, 'legitimate!' [2671][2681] Well, my legitimate, if this letter speed^[2671] And my invention thrive, Edmund the base^{[2671][2676]} :0 Shall top the legitimate. I grow; I prosper:[2671][2682] Now, gods, stand up for bastards![2671] Enter Gloucester. [2671] Glou. Kent banish'd thus! and France in choler parted![2671][2683][2684] And the king gone to-night! subscribed his power![2671][2684][2685] Confined to exhibition! All this done [2671][2684][2686] :5 Upon the gad! Edmund, how now! what news?[2671][2684] Edm. So please your lordship, none.

Gon. You see how full of changes his age is; the observation^[2659]

[Exeunt.

[Putting up the letter.^[2687]

Glou. Why so earnestly seek you to put up that letter?^[2688] Edm. I know no news, my lord.

iO	Glou. What paper were you reading?
	Edm. Nothing, my lord.
35	Glou. No? What needed then that terrible dispatch of [2689] it into your pocket? the quality of nothing hath not such need to hide itself. Let's see: come, if it be nothing, I shall [2690] not need spectacles.
	Edm. I beseech you, sir, pardon me: it is a letter from [2691] my brother, that I have not all o'er-read; and for so much [2692] as I have perused, I find it not fit for your o'er-looking. [2693]
	Glou. Give me the letter, sir.
:0	Edm. I shall offend, either to detain or give it. The $[2694]$ contents, as in part I understand them, are to blame. $[2694][2695]$
	Glou. Let's see, let's see.
	Edm. I hope, for my brother's justification, he wrote this but as an essay or taste of my virtue. [2696]
:5	Glou. [Reads] 'This policy and reverence of age makes ^[2697] the world bitter to the best of our times; keeps our fortunes ^[2698] from us till our oldness cannot relish them. I begin to find an idle and fond bondage in the oppression of aged tyranny;
0	who sways, not as it hath power, but as it is suffered. Come ^[2699] to me, that of this I may speak more. If our father would sleep till I waked him, you should enjoy half his revenue for ever, and live the beloved of your brother, Edgar.' Hum! Conspiracy!—'Sleep till I waked him, you should ^[2700]
.5	enjoy half his revenue!'—My son Edgar! Had he a hand to write this? a heart and brain to breed it in? When ^[2701] came this to you? who brought it? ^[2702]
	Edm. It was not brought me, my lord; there's the cunning of it; I found it thrown in at the casement of my closet.
	Glou. You know the character to be your brother's?
0	Edm. If the matter were good, my lord, I durst swear it were his; but, in respect of that, I would fain think it $^{[2703][2704]}$ were not. $^{[2703]}$
	Glou. It is his. ^[2705]
15	Edm. It is his hand, my lord; but I hope his heart is $[2706]$ not in the contents.
	Glou. Hath he never heretofore sounded you in this ^[2707] business?
.0	Edm. Never, my lord: but I have heard him oft maintain ^[2708] it to be fit, that, sons at perfect age, and fathers declining, ^[2709] the father should be as ward to the son, and the ^[2710] son manage his revenue. ^[2711]
'5	Glou. O villain, villain! His very opinion in the letter! Abhorred villain! Unnatural, detested, brutish villain! worse than brutish! Go, sirrah, seek him; ay, apprehend ^[2712] him: abominable villain! Where is he?
iO	Edm. I do not well know, my lord. If it shall please ^[2713] you to suspend your indignation against my brother till you can derive from him better testimony of his intent, you ^[2714] should run a certain course; where, if you violently proceed ^[2715] against him, mistaking his purpose, it would make a great gap in your own honour and shake in pieces the heart of ^[2716] his obedience. I dare pawn down my life for him that he ^[2717] hath wrote this to feel my affection to your honour and to ^[2718]

no further pretence of danger.[2719] 5 Glou. Think you so? Edm. If your honour judge it meet, I will place you where you shall hear us confer of this and by an auricular^[2720] assurance have your satisfaction, and that without any further delay than this very evening. Glou. He cannot be such a monster—[2721] 0 Edm. Nor is not, sure. [2722] Glou. To his father, that so tenderly and entirely loves^[2722] him. Heaven and earth! Edmund, seek him out; wind me^{[2722][2723]} into him, I pray you: frame the business after your own^[2724] wisdom. I would unstate myself, to be in a due resolution. 15 Edm. I will seek him, sir, presently, convey the business^[2725] as I shall find means, and acquaint vou withal. [2726] Glou. These late eclipses in the sun and moon portend [2727][2728]no good to us: though the wisdom of nature can reason it [2729] 00 thus and thus, yet nature finds itself scourged by the sequent^[2730] effects: love cools, friendship falls off, brothers divide: in cities, mutinies; in countries, discord; in palaces, [2731] treason; and the bond cracked 'twixt son and father. This^{[2732][2733]} villain of mine comes under the prediction; there's son^[2733] 05 against father: the king falls from bias of nature; there's^[2733] father against child. We have seen the best of our time: [2733] machinations, hollowness, treachery and all ruinous disorders^[2733] follow us disquietly to our graves. Find out this [2733] villain. Edmund: it shall lose thee nothing: do it carefully. [2734] And the noble and true-hearted Kent banished! his offence, 10 [Exit.[2735] honesty! 'Tis strange. Edm. This is the excellent foppery of the world, that [2736] when we are sick in fortune—often the surfeit of our own^[2737] behaviour—we make guilty of our disasters the sun, the 15 moon and the stars: as if we were villains by necessity, [2738] fools by heavenly compulsion, knaves, thieves and treachers, [2739] by spherical predominance, drunkards, liars and adulterers, [2740] by an enforced obedience of planetary influence; and all that we are evil in, by a divine thrusting on: an admirable 20 evasion of whoremaster man, to lay his goatish disposition to the charge of a star! My father compounded^[2741] with my mother under the dragon's tail, and my nativity was under Ursa major; so that it follows I am rough and lecherous. Tut, I should have been that I am, had the [2742] 25 maidenliest star in the firmament twinkled on my bastardizing. [2743] Edgar—[2744][2745][2746] Enter Edgar. And pat he comes like the catastrophe of the old comedy: [2744][2745] my cue is villanous melancholy, with a sigh like Tom o'[2745][2747] Bedlam. O, these eclipses do portend these divisions! fa. [2745][2748][2749] sol, la. mi. [2749][2750] 30 Edg. How now, brother Edmund! what serious contemplation are you in? Edm. I am thinking, brother, of a prediction I read this other day, what should follow these eclipses.^[2727] Edg. Do you busy yourself about that?[2751] 35 Edm. I promise you, the effects he writ of succeed^[2752] unhappily; as of unnaturalness between the child and the [2753] parent; death, dearth, dissolutions of ancient amities; divisions^{[2753][2754]} in state, menaces and maledictions against king and [2753] 40 nobles; needless diffidences, banishment of friends, dissipation^[2753] of cohorts, nuptial breaches, and I know not what. [2753][2755] Edg. How long have you been a sectary astronomical?[2753] Edm. Come, come; when saw you my father last?[2753] Edg. Why, the night gone by. [2756] 45 Edm. Spake you with him? Edg. Ay, two hours together. [2757] Edm. Parted you in good terms? Found you no displeasure in him by word or countenance?[2758] Edg. None at all. 50 Edm. Bethink yourself wherein you may have offended^[2759] him: and at my entreaty forbear his presence till some^[2760] little time hath qualified the heat of his displeasure, which at this instant so rageth in him that with the mischief of [2761] your person it would scarcely allay.[2762] Edg. Some villain hath done me wrong. 55 Edm. That's my fear. I pray you, have a continent [2763] forbearance till the speed of his rage goes slower and, as $I^{[2763]}$ say, retire with me to my lodging, from whence I will fitly [2763] bring you to hear my lord speak: pray ye, go; there's my [2763][2764] 60 key: if you do stir abroad, go armed.[2763] Edg. Armed. brother![2763] Edm. Brother, I advise you to the best: go armed: $I^{[2763][2765]}$ am no honest man if there be any good meaning towards^[2766] you: I have told you what I have seen and heard; but^[2767] 65 faintly, nothing like the image and horror of it: pray you, [2767] Edg. Shall I hear from you anon? Edm. I do serve you in this business. [Exit Edgar.[2768] A credulous father, and a brother noble. 70 Whose nature is so far from doing harms That he suspects none; on whose foolish honesty My practices ride easy. I see the business. Let me, if not by birth, have lands by wit: [Exit.[2769] All with me's meet that I can fashion fit. Scene III. The Duke of Albany's palace. Enter Goneril and Oswald, her steward. [2770] Gon. Did my father strike my gentleman for chiding of his fool? Osw. Yes, madam. [2771][2772] Gon. By day and night he wrongs me; every hour [2773][2774] He flashes into one gross crime or other, [2774] That sets us all at odds: I'll not endure it: His knights grow riotous, and himself upbraids us^[2775] On every trifle. When he returns from hunting, [2776] I will not speak with him; say I am sick: If you come slack of former services, You shall do well; the fault of it I'll answer. [Horns within.[2777] Osw. He's coming, madam; I hear him.

Gon. Put on what weary negligence you please, [2778][2779] You and your fellows; I'ld have it come to question: [2778][2780] If he distaste it, let him to our sister, [2778][2781] Whose mind and mine, I know, in that are one, [2778] Not to be over-ruled. Idle old man, [2782] That still would manage those authorities^[2782] That he hath given away! Now, by my life, [2782] Old fools are babes again, and must be used^{[2782][2783]} With checks as flatteries, when they are seen abused. [2782][2784] Remember what I tell you. Osw. Very well, madam. [2785] Gon. And let his knights have colder looks among you; [2786] What grows of it, no matter; advise your fellows so: [2786][2787] I would breed from hence occasions, and I shall. [2788] That I may speak: I'll write straight to my sister, [2788][2789] [Exeunt.[2789][2790] To hold my very course. Prepare for dinner. Scene IV. A hall in the same. Enter Kent, disquised.[2791] Kent. If but as well I other accents borrow, [2792][2793] That can my speech defuse, my good intent^{[2792][2794]} May carry through itself to that full issue^[2792] For which I razed my likeness. Now, banish'd Kent. [2792][2795] If thou canst serve where thou dost stand condemn'd, [2792] So may it come, thy master whom thou lovest^{[2792][2796]} Shall find thee full of labours. [2792] Horns within. Enter Lear, Knights, and Attendants. [2797] Lear. Let me not stay a jot for dinner; go get it ready. [Exit an Attendant.] How now! what art thou?[2798] Kent. A man. sir. Lear. What dost thou profess? What wouldst thou with us? Kent. I do profess to be no less than I seem; to serve him truly that will put me in trust; to love him that is honest; to converse with him that is wise and says little; to fear^[2799] judgement; to fight when I cannot choose, and to eat no fish. Lear. What art thou? [2800] Kent. A very honest-hearted fellow, and as poor as the king. Lear. If thou be as poor for a subject as he is for a^[2801] king, thou art poor enough. What wouldst thou? [2802] Kent. Service. Lear. Who wouldst thou serve?[2803] Kent. You. Lear. Dost thou know me, fellow? Kent. No, sir; but you have that in your countenance which I would fain call master. Lear. What's that?[2804] Kent. Authority.

Lear. What services canst thou do?[2805]

Kent. I can keep honest counsel, ride, run, mar a ^[2806] curious tale in telling it, and deliver a plain message bluntly: that which ordinary men are fit for, I am qualified in, and the best of me is diligence.
Lear. How old art thou?
Kent. Not so young, sir, to love a woman for singing, [2807] nor so old to dote on her for any thing: I have years on my back forty eight.
Lear. Follow me; thou shalt serve me: if I like thee no ^{[2808][2809]} worse after dinner, I will not part from thee yet. Dinner, ^{[2809][2810]} ho, dinner! Where's my knave? my fool? Go you, and ^[2810] call my fool hither. [Exit an Attendant.
Enter Oswald. [2812]
You, you, sirrah, where's my daughter? ^[2813]
Osw. So please you,— [Exit.[2814]
Lear. What says the fellow there? Call the clotpoll ^[2815] back. [Exit a Knight.] Where's my fool, ho? I think ^[2816] the world's asleep.
Re-enter Knight. ^[2817]
How now! where's that mongrel?
Knight. He says, my lord, your daughter is not well. ^[2818]
Lear. Why came not the slave back to me when I called him?
Knight. Sir, he answered me in the roundest manner, [2819][2820] he would not.
Lear. He would not![2821]
Knight. My lord, I know not what the matter is; but, ^[2819] to my judgement, your highness is not entertained with that ceremonious affection as you were wont; there's a great abatement of kindness appears as well in the general dependants ^[2822] as in the duke himself also and your daughter.
Lear. Ha! sayest thou so?
Knight. I beseech you, pardon me, my lord, if I be ^[2819] mistaken; for my duty cannot be silent when I think your highness wronged. ^[2823]
Lear. Thou but rememberest me of mine own conception: ^[2824] I have perceived a most faint neglect of late; which I ^[2825] have rather blamed as mine own jealous curiosity than as ^[2826] a very pretence and purpose of unkindness: I will look ^[2827] further into't. But where's my fool? I have not seen him ^[2828] this two days. ^[2829]
Knight. Since my young lady's going into France, sir, [2830] the fool hath much pined away.
Lear. No more of that; I have noted it well. Go you, [2831] and tell my daughter I would speak with her. [Exit an Attendant.] [2832] Go you, call hither my fool. [Exit an Attendant.
Re-enter Oswald. [2833]
O, you sir, you, come you hither, sir: who am I, sir? ^[2834]
Osw. My lady's father.

Lear. My lady's father! my lord's knave: you whoreson dog! you slave! you cur!
                       Osw. I am none of these, my lord; I beseech your [2835][2836][2837]
                       pardon.[2835][2837]
                       Lear. Do you bandy looks with me, you rascal?
                                                                                     [Striking him.[2838]
                       Osw. I'll not be struck, my lord. [2839]
                       Kent. Nor tripped neither, you base foot-ball player. [2840]
                                                                                 [Tripping up his heels.
                       Lear. I thank thee, fellow; thou servest me, and I'll[2841] love thee.[2841]
                       Kent. Come, sir, arise, away! I'll teach you differences: [2842] away, away! If you will measure your lubber's length again, [2843] tarry: but away! go to; have you wisdom? so.[2844] [Pushes Oswald out.
                       Lear. Now, my friendly knave, I thank thee: there's [2845] earnest of thy service.
                                                                                    [Giving Kent money.
                                                                                                   [2846]
                                                    Enter Fool.
                       Fool. Let me hire him too: here's my coxcomb. [2847]
                                                                                 [Offering Kent his cap.
                       Lear. How now, my pretty knave! how dost thou?
                       Fool. Sirrah, you were best take my coxcomb.
                       Kent. Why, fool?[2848]
                       Fool. Why, for taking one's part that's out of favour: [2849] nay, an thou canst not smile as the wind sits, thou'lt catch<sup>[2850]</sup> cold shortly: there, take my coxcomb: why, this fellow hath<sup>[2851]</sup> banished two on's daughters, and done the third a blessing<sup>[2852]</sup> against his will; if thou follow him, thou must needs wear 00
                       my coxcomb. How now, nuncle! Would I had two coxcombs and two daughters![2853]
                       Lear. Why, my boy?
                       Fool. If I gave them all my living, I'ld keep my coxcombs<sup>[2854]</sup> myself. There's mine; beg another of thy daughters.
05
                       Lear. Take heed, sirrah; the whip.
                       Fool. Truth's a dog must to kennel; he must be whipped [2855] out, when Lady the brach may stand by the fire and [2856] stink.
                       Lear. A pestilent gall to me![2857]
10
                       Fool. Sirrah, I'll teach thee a speech. [2858]
                       Lear, Do. [2859]
                       Fool. Mark it, nuncle:[2860]
                               Have more than thou showest, [2861]
                               Speak less than thou knowest, [2861]
15
                               Lend less than thou owest, [2861]
                               Ride more than thou goest, [2861]
                               Learn more than thou trowest, [2861]
                               Set less than thou throwest; [2861]

20	Leave thy drink and thy whore, [2861] And keep in-a-door, [2861][2862]
	And thou shalt have more ^[2861]
	Than two tens to a score. ^[2861]
	Kent. This is nothing, fool. ^[2863]
	Fool. Then 'tis like the breath of an unfee'd lawyer, [2864]
25	you gave me nothing for't. Can you make no use of [2865] nothing, nuncle? [2866]
	Lear. Why, no, boy; nothing can be made out of nothing.
30	Fool. [To Kent] Prithee, tell him, so much the rent of [2867] his land comes to: he will not believe a fool.
	Lear. A bitter fool! ^[2868]
	Fool. Dost thou know the difference, my boy, between ^{[2868][2869]} a bitter fool and a sweet fool? ^{[2868][2870]}
	Lear. No, lad; teach me. ^[2868]
35	Fool. That lord that counsell'd thee ^{[2871][2872][2873]}
	To give away thy land, [2872][2873]
	Come place him here by me; [2872][2873]

	Lear. Dost thou call me fool, boy? ^{[2872][2875]}
45	Fool. All thy other titles thou hast given away; that ^[2872] thou wast born with. ^[2872]
	Kent. This is not altogether fool, my lord. [2872]
	Fool. No, faith, lords and great men will not let me; if [2872]
	I had a monopoly out, they would have part on't: and [2872][2876][2877]
E0	ladies too, they will not let me have all the fool to myself;[2872][2877][2878]
50	they'll be snatching. Give me an egg, nuncle, and I'll give ^{[2872][2879]} thee two crowns.
	Lear. What two crowns shall they be?
	Fool. Why, after I have cut the egg in the middle and [2880] eat up the meat, the two crowns of the egg. When thou
55	clovest thy crown i' the middle and gavest away both parts, [2881]
	thou borest thine ass on thy back o'er the dirt: thou hadst ^[2882] little wit in thy bald crown when thou gavest thy golden

	And know not how their wits to wear, [2887] Their manners are so apish.
	Lear. When were you wont to be so full of songs, sirrah?[2888]
65	Fool. I have used it, nuncle, ever since thou madest thy ^[2889] daughters thy mother: for when thou gavest them the rod ^[2890] and puttest down thine own breeches, [Singing] Then they for sudden joy did weep,[2885][2891][2892]
	And I for sorrow sung, ^[2892]

And go the fools among.[2892][2893]
Prithee, nuncle, keep a schoolmaster that can teach thy fool to lie: I would fain learn to lie.[2894]
Lear. An you lie, sirrah, we'll have you whipped. [2895] Fool. I marvel what kin thou and thy daughters are:
they'll have me whipped for speaking true, thou'lt have me<sup>[2896]</sup> whipped for lying, and sometimes I am whipped for holding [2897]
my peace. I had rather be any kind o' thing than a fool: [2898] and yet I would not be thee, nuncle; thou hast pared thy wit o' both sides and left nothing i' the middle. Here comes<sup>[2899]</sup> one o' the parings.<sup>[2898]</sup>[2900]
                                 Enter Goneril.
Lear. How now, daughter! what makes that frontlet on?[2901][2902][2903]
Methinks you are too much of late i' the frown. [2902][2904]
Fool. Thou wast a pretty fellow when thou hadst no need to care for her frowning; now thou art an O without [2905] a figure: I am better than thou art now; I am a fool, thou art nothing. [To Gon.] Yes, for sooth, I will hold my<sup>[2906]</sup> tongue; so your face bids me, though you say nothing.
        Mum, mum:[2907]
        He that keeps nor crust nor crumb, [2908]
        Weary of all, shall want some.
[Pointing to Lear] That's a shealed peascod. [2909]
Gon. Not only, sir, this your all-licensed fool, [2910][2911]
But other of your insolent retinue<sup>[2910][2912]</sup>
Do hourly carp and quarrel, breaking forth<sup>[2910]</sup>
In rank and not to be endured riots. Sir, [2910][2913]
I had thought, by making this well known unto you, [2910][2914]
To have found a safe redress; but now grow fearful, [2910]
By what yourself too late have spoke and done, [2910]
That you protect this course and put it on<sup>[2910][2915]</sup>
By your allowance; which if you should, the fault<sup>[2910][2916][2917]</sup>
Would not 'scape censure, nor the redresses sleep. [2910][2917][2918]
Which, in the tender of a wholesome weal. [2910]
Might in their working do you that offence<sup>[2910]</sup>
Which else were shame, that then necessity<sup>[2910][2919]</sup>
Will call discreet proceeding.[2910][2920]
Fool. For, you know, nuncle, [2921]
        The hedge-sparrow fed the cuckoo so long,<sup>[2922]</sup>
        That it had it head bit off by it young. [2922][2923]
So out went the candle, and we were left darkling.
Lear. Are you our daughter?
Gon. Come, sir, [2924]
I would you would make use of that good wisdom<sup>[2925][2926]</sup>
Whereof I know you are fraught, and put away<sup>[2925][2927]</sup>
These dispositions that of late transform you<sup>[2925][2928]</sup>
From what you rightly are. [2925]
Fool. May not an ass know when the cart draws the horse? Whoop, Jug! I love thee.
Lear. Doth any here know me? This is not Lear: [2929][2930]
Doth Lear walk thus? speak thus? Where are his eves?<sup>[2931]</sup>
Either his notion weakens, his discernings<sup>[2932]</sup>

Are lethargied—Ha! waking? 'tis not so.^[2933] Who is it that can tell me who I am?^{[2929][2934]}

Fool. Lear's shadow.[2935]
25
                        Lear. I would learn that; for, by the marks of sovereignty [2936][2937] knowledge and reason, I should be false persuaded [2936][2938]
                        I had daughters.[2936]
                        Fool. Which they will make an obedient father. [2936][2939][2940]
                        Lear. Your name, fair gentlewoman?[2939]
                        Gon. This admiration, sir, is much o' the savour<sup>[2941][2942]</sup> 30
                        Of other your new pranks. I do beseech you<sup>[2941]</sup>

                        As you are old and reverend, you should be wise. [2941][2944]
                        Here do you keep a hundred knights and squires; [2941][2945]

                        Men so disorder'd, so debosh'd and bold.[2941][2946]

                        Shows like a riotous inn: epicurism and lust<sup>[2941][2947]</sup>

                        And the remainder that shall still depend, [2941][2952]
                        To be such men as may be ort your age, [2941]

                        Degenerate bastard! I'll not trouble thee:[2941]
                        Yet have I left a daughter.[2941]

                        More hideous when thou show'st thee in a child
                        Than the sea-monster![2958]
                        Alb. Pray, sir, be patient. [2959][2960]
55
                        Lear. [To Gon.] Detested kite! thou liest. [2959][2961][2962]

                        That all particulars of duty know,
                        And in the most exact regard support

                        The worships of their name. O most small fault. [2963]
                        How ugly didst thou in Cordelia show!
                        That, like an engine, wrench'd my frame of nature<sup>[2964]</sup>
                        From the fix'd place, drew from my heart all love
                        And added to the gall. O Lear, Lear, Lear! [2965]

ACT II.

Scene I. The Earl of Gloucester's castle.

Enter Edmund and Curan, meeting. [3061]

Edm. Save thee, Curan. [3062]

Cur. And you, sir. I have been with your father, and [3063][3064] given him notice that the Duke of Cornwall and Regan his [3063][3065] duchess will be here with him this night. [3063][3066]

Edm. How comes that?[3062]

Cur. Nay, I know not. You have heard of the news abroad, I mean the whispered ones, for they are yet but^[3067] ear-kissing arguments?^[3068]

Edm. Not I: pray you, what are they?[3069]

Cur. Have you heard of no likely wars toward, 'twixt $^{[3070][3071][3072]}$ the Dukes of Cornwall and Albany? $^{[3070][3071][3073]}$

Edm. Not a word. [3070]

Cur. You may do then in time. Fare you well, sir.

[Exit.[3074]

Edm. The duke be here to-night? The better! best!^{[3075][3076][3077]} This weaves itself perforce into my business.^[3076] My father hath set guard to take my brother;^[3076] And I have one thing, of a queasy question,^{[3076][3078]} Which I must act: briefness and fortune, work!^{[3076][3079]} Brother, a word; descend: brother, I say!^[3076]

Enter Edgar, [3080]

My father watches: O sir, fly this place, [3076][3081]
Intelligence is given where you are hid; [3076]
You have now the good advantage of the night: [3076][3082]
Have you not spoken 'gainst the Duke of Cornwall? [3076][3083]
He's coming hither, now, i' the night, i' the haste, [3076][3084]
And Regan with him: have you nothing said [3076]
Upon his party 'gainst the Duke of Albany? [3076][3085]
Advise yourself. [3076][3086]

Edg. I am sure on't, not a word. [3076]

Edm. I hear my father coming: pardon me:^{[3076][3087]} In cunning I must draw my sword upon you:^{[3076][3087]} Draw: seem to defend yourself: now quit you well.^{[3076][3088]} Yield: come before my father. Light, ho, here!^{[3076][3089]} Fly, brother. Torches, torches! So farewell.

[Exit Edgar. [3076][3090]

Some blood drawn on me would beget opinion

[Wounds his arm. [3076][3091]

Of my more fierce endeavour: I have seen drunkards [3076][3092] Do more than this in sport. Father, father! [3076][3093] Stop, stop! No help? [3076]

Glou. Now, Edmund, where's the villain?[3076][3095]
Edm. Here stood he in the dark, his sharp sword out, [3076]
Mumbling of wicked charms, conjuring the moon<sup>[3076][3096]</sup>
To stand 's auspicious mistress.[3076]
Glou. But where is he?[3076]
Edm. Look, sir, I bleed.[3076]
Glou. Where is the villain, Edmund?[3076][3097]
\it Edm. Fled this way, sir. When by no means he could—[3076][3098]
Glou. Pursue him, ho!—Go after. [Exeunt some Servants.] 'By no means' what?[3076][3099]
Edm. Persuade me to the murder of your lordship; [3076]
But that I told him the revenging gods<sup>[3076][3100]</sup>
'Gainst parricides did all their thunders bend, [3076][3101]
Spoke with how manifold and strong a bond<sup>[3076]</sup>
The child was bound to the father; sir, in fine, [3076][3102]
Seeing how loathly opposite I stood<sup>[3076]</sup>
To his unnatural purpose, in fell motion<sup>[3076][3103]</sup>
With his prepared sword he charges home<sup>[3076]</sup>
My unprovided body, lanced mine arm:[3076][3104]
But when he saw my best alarum'd spirits<sup>[3076][3105]</sup>
Bold in the quarrel's right, roused to the encounter, [3076][3106]
Or whether gasted by the noise I made, [3076][3107]
Full suddenly he fled.[3076][3108]
Glou. Let him fly far:[3076]
Not in this land shall he remain uncaught; [3076]
And found—dispatch. The noble duke my master, [3076][3109]
My worthy arch and patron, comes to-night:[3076][3110]
By his authority I will proclaim it, [3076]
That he which finds him shall deserve our thanks, [3076][3111]
Bringing the murderous caitiff to the stake; [3076][3112]
He that conceals him, death. [3076][3113]
Edm. When I dissuaded him from his intent<sup>[3076]</sup>
And found him pight to do it, with curst speech<sup>[3076]</sup>
I threaten'd to discover him: he replied,[3076]
'Thou unpossessing bastard! dost thou think,<sup>[3076]</sup>
If I would stand against thee, could the reposure<sup>[3076][3114][3115]</sup>
Of any trust, virtue, or worth, in thee [3076][3114]
Make thy words faith'd? No: what I should deny—[3076][3114][3116]
As this I would; ay, though thou didst produce [3076][3117]
My very character—I'ld turn it all<sup>[3076]</sup>[3118]
To thy suggestion, plot, and damned practice: [3076][3119]
And thou must make a dullard of the world, [3076][3120]
If they not thought the profits of my death<sup>[3076]</sup>
Were very pregnant and potential spurs<sup>[3076][3121]</sup>
To make thee seek it. [3076]
Glou. Strong and fasten'd villain![3076][3122]
Would he deny his letter? I never got him. [3076][3123] [Tucket within.
Hark, the duke's trumpets! I know not why he comes.[3076][3124]
All ports I'll bar; the villain shall not 'scape; [3076]
The duke must grant me that: besides, his picture<sup>[3076]</sup>
I will send far and near, that all the kingdom<sup>[3076]</sup>
May have due note of him; and of my land, [3076][3125]
Loyal and natural boy, I'll work the means<sup>[3076]</sup>

                       Corn. How now, my noble friend! since I came hither.[3076][3127]
                       Which I can call but now, I have heard strange news. [3076][3128]

                       Reg. What, did my father's godson seek your life?[3076]
                       He whom my father named? your Edgar?[3076][3131]
                       Glou. O, lady, lady, shame would have it hid![3076][3132]

                       Corn. Nor I, assure thee, Regan. [3139][3140]
05
                       Edmund, I hear that you have shown your father<sup>[3139][3141]</sup>
                       A child-like office [3139]
                       Edm. 'Twas my duty, sir.[3142]
                       Glou. He did bewray his practice, and received[3143]
                       This hurt you see, striving to apprehend him.
                       Corn. Is he pursued?
                       Glou. Ay, my good lord. [3144]
10
                       Corn. If he be taken, he shall never more [3145]
                       Be fear'd of doing harm: make your own purpose, [3145]
                       How in my strength you please. For you, Edmund, [3145][3146]
                       Whose virtue and obedience doth this instant<sup>[3145]</sup>[3147]

                       Natures of such deep trust we shall much need:[3145][3149]
                       You we first seize on. [3145][3149]
                       Edm. I shall serve you, sir, [3150][3151]
                       Truly, however else.[3150]
                       Glou. For him I thank your grace. [3152]
                       Corn. You know not why we came to visit you,—[3153]

                       Occasions, noble Gloucester, of some poise, [3155]
                       Wherein we must have use of your advice: [3156]
                       Our father he hath writ, so hath our sister,
                       Of differences, which I least thought it fit[3157]
                       To answer from our home; the several messengers<sup>[3158]</sup>

                Scene II. Before Gloucester's castle.
                 Enter Kent and Oswald, severally. [3164]
Osw. Good dawning to thee, friend: art of this house?[3165][3166]
Kent. Ay.
Osw. Where may we set our horses?
Kent. I' the mire.[3167]
Osw. Prithee, if thou lovest me, tell me. [3168]
Kent. I love thee not.
Osw. Why then I care not for thee.
Kent. If I had thee in Lipsbury pinfold, I would make [3169] thee care for me.
Osw. Why dost thou use me thus? I know thee not.
Kent. Fellow, I know thee.
Osw. What dost thou know me for?

Kent. A knave; a rascal; an eater of broken meats; a base, proud, shallow, beggarly, three-suited, hundred-pound, [3170] filthy, worsted-stocking knave; a lily-livered, action-taking [3171] knave; a whoreson, glass-gazing, superserviceable, finical [3172] rogue; one-trunk-inheriting slave; one that wouldst be a [3173] bawd in way of good service, and art nothing but the composition of a knave, beggar, coward, pandar, and the son and heir of a mongrel bitch: one whom I will beat into [3174] clamorous whining, if thou deniest the least syllable of thy [3175] addition.

Osw. Why, what a monstrous fellow art thou, thus to [3176] rail on one that is neither known of thee nor knows thee! [3177]

Kent. What a brazen-faced varlet art thou, to deny thou knowest me! Is it two days ago since I tripped up^{[3178][3179]} thy heels and beat thee before the king? Draw, you rogue:^[3179] for, though it be night, yet the moon shines; I'll make a^[3180] sop o' the moonshine of you: draw, you whoreson cullionly^[3181] barber-monger, draw.

[Drawing his sword.
[3182]

Osw. Away! I have nothing to do with thee.

Kent. Draw, you rascal: you come with letters against^[3183] the king, and take vanity the puppet's part against the royalty of her father: draw, you rogue, or I'll so carbonado^[3184] your shanks: draw, you rascal; come your ways.^[3185]

Osw. Help, ho! murder! help!

Kent. With you, goodman boy, an you please: come, [3192]

I'll flesh you; come on, young master.<sup>[3193]</sup>
Glou. Weapons! arms! What's the matter here?[3194]
Corn. Keep peace, upon your lives; [3195]
He dies that strikes again. What is the matter?[3195][3196]
Reg. The messengers from our sister and the king. [3197]
Corn. What is your difference? speak.[3198]
Osw. I am scarce in breath, my lord.
Kent. No marvel, you have so bestirred your valour. [3199]
You cowardly rascal, nature disclaims in thee: a tailor made<sup>[3199][3200]</sup> thee.[3199]
Corn. Thou art a strange fellow: a tailor make a man?[3199][3201]
Kent. Ay, a tailor, sir: a stone-cutter or a painter<sup>[3202]</sup> could not have made him so ill, though he had been but<sup>[3203]</sup> two hours at the trade. [3204]
Corn. Speak yet, how grew your guarrel?[3205]
Osw. This ancient ruffian, sir, whose life I have spared<sup>[3206]</sup> at suit of his gray beard,—[3207]
Kent. Thou whoreson zed! thou unnecessary letter![3208]
My lord, if you will give me leave, I will tread this unbolted [3209] villain into mortar, and daub the walls of a jakes<sup>[3210]</sup> with him. Spare my gray beard, you wagtail?[3211]
Corn. Peace, sirrah![3212][3213]
You beastly knave, know you no reverence?[3212][3214]
Kent. Yes, sir; but anger hath a privilege. [3215]
Corn. Why art thou angry?
Kent. That such a slave as this should wear a sword,
Who wears no honesty. Such smiling rogues as these, [3216]
Like rats, oft bite the holy cords a-twain<sup>[3217]</sup>
Which are too intrinse to unloose; smooth every passion<sup>[3218]</sup>
That in the natures of their lords rebel; [3219]
Bring oil to fire, snow to their colder moods; [3220]
Renege, affirm, and turn their halcyon beaks<sup>[3221]</sup>
With every gale and vary of their masters, [3222]
Knowing nought, like dogs, but following.[3223][3224]
A plague upon your epileptic visage![3223]
Smile you my speeches, as I were a fool?[3223][3225]
Goose, if I had you upon Sarum plain, [3226]
I'ld drive ye cackling home to Camelot. [3227]
Corn. What, art thou mad, old fellow?[3228]
Glou. How fell you out? say that. [3228][3229]
Kent. No contraries hold more antipathy
Than I and such a knave.
Corn. Why dost thou call him knave? What is his fault?[3230]
Kent. His countenance likes me not.
Corn. No more perchance does mine, nor his, nor hers. [3231]
Kent. Sir, 'tis my occupation to be plain:
I have seen better faces in my time
Than stands on any shoulders that I see[3232]

10	Corn. This is some fellow,[3233][3234] Who, having been praised for bluntness, doth affect ^[3233] A saucy roughness, and constrains the garb ^[3233] [3235] Quite from his nature: he cannot flatter, he,—[3233][3236] An honest mind and plain,—he must speak truth! ^[3233] [3237]
15	An they will take it, so; if not, he's plain. ^{[3233][3238]} These kind of knaves I know, which in this plainness ^{[3233][3239]} Harbour more craft and more corrupter ends ^{[3233][3240]} Than twenty silly ducking observants ^{[3233][3241]} That stretch their duties nicely. ^[3233]
00	Kent. Sir, in good faith, in sincere verity, [3242] Under the allowance of your great aspect, [3243] Whose influence, like the wreath of radiant fire On flickering Phœbus' front,— Corn. What mean'st by this? [3244]
05	Kent. To go out of my dialect, which you discommend ^[3245] so much. I know, sir, I am no flatterer: he that beguiled ^[3246] you in a plain accent was a plain knave; which, for my part, I will not be, though I should win your displeasure to ^[3247] entreat me to't. ^{[3247][3248]}
	Corn. What was the offence you gave him?[3249]
10	Osw. I never gave him any: ^{[3250][3251]} It pleased the king his master very late ^{[3251][3252]} To strike at me, upon his misconstruction; ^{[3251][3253]}
15	When he, conjunct, and flattering his displeasure, [3254] Tripp'd me behind; being down, insulted, rail'd, And put upon him such a deal of man, [3255] That worthied him, got praises of the king [3255] For him attempting who was self-subdued; And in the fleshment of this dread exploit [3256] Drew on me here again. [3257]
	Kent. None of these rogues and cowards ^[3258] But Ajax is their fool. ^[3258] [3259]
20	Corn. Fetch forth the stocks! You stubborn ancient knave, you reverend braggart,[3260] We'll teach you—[3261]
25	Kent. Sir, I am too old to learn: ^[3262] Call not your stocks for me: I serve the king, ^[3262] On whose employment I was sent to you: ^[3262] [3263] You shall do small respect, show too bold malice ^[3264] Against the grace and person of my master, Stocking his messenger. ^[3265]
	Corn. Fetch forth the stocks! As I have life and honour, [3266][3267] There shall he sit till noon. [3266]
30	Reg. Till noon! till night, my lord, and all night too.[3268]
	Kent. Why, madam, if I were your father's dog, ^[3269] You should not use me so. ^[3269] [3270]
	Reg. Sir, being his knave, I will.
	Corn. This is a fellow of the self-same colour ^[3271] Our sister speaks of. Come, bring away the stocks!

Before me at this instant.

35 40	Glou. Let me beseech your grace not to do so: His fault is much, and the good king his master ^[3273] Will check him for't: your purposed low correction ^[3273] Is such as basest and contemned'st wretches ^{[3273][3274]} For pilferings and most common trespasses ^[3273] Are punish'd with: the king must take it ill, ^[3273] That he, so slightly valued in his messenger, ^{[3273][3275]} Should have him thus restrain'd. ^{[3273][3275]}
	Corn. I'll answer that.
45	Reg. My sister may receive it much more worse, [3276] To have her gentleman abused, assaulted, [3277] For following her affairs. Put in his legs. [3278]
	[Kent is put in	the stocks. ^[3279]
	Come, my good lord, away.	[Exeunt all but
	Glou. I am sorry for thee, friend; 'tis the duke's pleasure, [3281]	Gloucester and Kent. [3280]
	Whose disposition, all the world well knows,
	Will not be rubb'd nor stopp'd: I'll entreat for thee. ^[3282]
50	Kent. Pray, do not, sir: I have watch'd and travell'd hard; [3283] Some time I shall sleep out, the rest I'll whistle. [3284] A good man's fortune may grow out at heels: Give you good morrow!
	Glou. The duke's to blame in this; 'twill be ill taken.
		[Exit . ^[3285]
55	Kent. Good king, that must approve the common saw, Thou out of heaven's benediction comest ^[3286] To the warm sun! Approach, thou beacon to this under globe, ^{[3287][3288]}
60	That by thy comfortable beams I may ^[3287]
60	Peruse this letter! Nothing almost sees miracles ^{[3287][3289]}
	But misery: I know 'tis from Cordelia, [3287][3290] Who hath most fortunately been inform'd [3287][3291]
	Of my obscured course; and shall find time ^{[3287][3292][3293]}
	From this enormous state, seeking to give ^{[3287][3293][3294]}
65	Losses their remedies. All weary and o'er-watch'd, [3287][3295]
	Take vantage, heavy eyes, not to behold ^[3296]
	This shameful lodging. ^[3297] Fortune, good night: smile once more; turn thy wheel! ^[3297]
	Portune, good night: Sinne once more, turn thy wheer:

                                    But fathers that bear bags<sup>[3346][3348]</sup>
                                      Shall see their children kind. [3346][3348]
                                    Fortune, that arrant whore. [3346][3348]

                                    Ne'er turns the key to the poor. [3346][3348]
                       But, for all this, thou shalt have as many dolours for thy [3346][3349][3350] daughters as thou canst tell in a year. [3346][3349]
                       Lear. O, how this mother swells up toward my heart!
5
                       Hysterica passio, down, thou climbing sorrow, [3351]
                       Thy element's below! Where is this daughter?
                       Kent. With the earl, sir, here within. [3352][3353]
                                                                                         [Exit.[3352][3354]
                       Lear. Follow me not; stay here.
                       Gent. Made you no more offence but what you speak of?[3355]
                       Kent. None.[3356][3357]
                       How chance the king comes with so small a train? [3357][3358]
                       Fool. An thou hadst been set i' the stocks for that [3359][3360] question, thou hadst well deserved it.[3361]
                       Kent. Why, fool?
                       Fool. We'll set thee to school to an ant, to teach thee
5
                       there's no labouring i' the winter. All that follow their [3360][3362] noses are led by their eyes but blind men; and there's not [3362] a nose among twenty but can smell him that's stinking. Let<sup>[3363]</sup> go thy hold when a great wheel runs down a hill, lest it break thy neck with following it; but the great one that [3364] goes up the hill, let him draw thee after. When a wise man<sup>[3365]</sup> gives thee better counsel, give me mine again: I would have none but knaves follow it, since a fool gives it.
                               That sir which serves and seeks for gain, [3366][3367]
'5
                                 And follows but for form.[3367]
                               Will pack when it begins to rain, [3367][3368]
                                 And leave thee in the storm.[3367][3369]
                               But I will tarry; the fool will stay, [3367][3370]
                                 And let the wise man fly:[3367][3371]

                               The knave turns fool that runs away; [3367][3372]
                                 The fool no knave, perdy. [3367][3372]
                       Kent. Where learned you this, fool?
                       Fool. Not i' the stocks, fool. [3360][3373]
                                           Re-enter Lear, with Gloucester. [3374]
                       Lear. Deny to speak with me? They are sick? they are weary?[3375]
:5
                       They have travell'd all the night? Mere fetches; [3376][3377]
                       The images of revolt and flying off. [3377][3378]
                       Fetch me a better answer. [3379]

Glou. My dear lord,[3380]
                       You know the fiery quality of the duke: [3380]
                       How unremoveable and fix'd he is [3380]
10
                       In his own course.[3380]
                       Lear. Vengeance! plague! death! confusion![3380][3381]
                       Fiery? what quality? Why, Gloucester, Gloucester. [3380][3382]
                       I'ld speak with the Duke of Cornwall and his wife. [3380]
                       Glou. Well, my good lord, I have inform'd them so. [3383]
15
                       Lear. Inform'd them! Dost thou understand me, man?[3383]
                       Glou. Ay, my good lord.
                       Lear. The king would speak with Cornwall; the dear father [3384]
                       Would with his daughter speak, commands her service: [3385]
                       Are they inform'd of this? My breath and blood![3386]
00
                       'Fiery'? 'the fiery duke'? Tell the hot duke that—[3387]
                       No, but not yet: may be he is not well: [3388]
                       Infirmity doth still neglect all office<sup>[3389]</sup>
                       Whereto our health is bound; we are not ourselves<sup>[3389][3390]</sup>
                       When nature being oppress'd commands the mind[3389][3391]
05
                       To suffer with the body: I'll forbear; [3389]
                       And am fall'n out with my more headier will, [3392]
                       To take the indisposed and sickly fit<sup>[3393]</sup>
                       For the sound man. [Looking on Kent] Death on my state! wherefore [3393]
                       Should he sit here? This act persuades me^{[3393][3395]}
10
                       That this remotion of the duke and her<sup>[3393]</sup>
                       Is practice only. Give me my servant forth.[3396]
                       Go tell the duke and's wife I'ld speak with them,<sup>[3397]</sup>
                       Now, presently: bid them come forth and hear me,
                       Or at their chamber-door I'll beat the drum
15
                       Till it cry sleep to death.[3398]
                       Glou. I would have all well betwixt you.
                                                                                                [Exit.[3399]
                       Lear. O me, my heart, my rising heart! But down![3400]
                       Fool. Cry to it, nuncle, as the cockney did to the eels<sup>[3401]</sup> when she put 'em i' the paste alive; she knapped 'em o' the [3402] coxcombs with a stick, and cried 'Down, wantons, down!'
20
                       'Twas her brother that, in pure kindness to his horse, buttered<sup>[3403]</sup> his hav.
                              Re-enter Gloucester, with Cornwall, Regan, and Servants. [3404]
                       Lear. Good morrow to you both.
                       Corn. Hail to your grace!
                                                                              [Kent is set at liberty.[3405]
                       Reg. I am glad to see your highness.
25
                       Lear. Regan, I think you are; I know what reason[3406]
                       I have to think so: if thou shouldst not be glad, [3407]
                       I would divorce me from thy mother's tomb, [3408]
                       Sepulchring an adultress. [To Kent] O, are you free?[3409]
                       Some other time for that. Beloved Regan,
30
                       Thy sister's naught: O Regan, she hath tied<sup>[3410][3411]</sup>
                       Sharp-tooth'd unkindness, like a vulture, here:[3410]
                                                                                [Points to his heart.[3412]
                       I can scarce speak to thee; thou'lt not believe<sup>[3413]</sup>
                       With how depraved a quality—O Regan![3414]

35	Reg. I pray you, sir, take patience: I have hope ^[3415] You less know how to value her desert Than she to scant her duty. ^[3416]
	Lear. Say, how is that? ^[3417] [3418]
40	Reg. I cannot think my sister in the least ^[3417] Would fail her obligation: if, sir, perchance ^[3417] [3419] She have restrain'd the riots of your followers, ^[3417] 'Tis on such ground and to such wholesome end ^[3417] As clears her from all blame. ^[3417]
	Lear. My curses on her!
45	Reg. O, sir, you are old; Nature in you stands on the very verge ^{[3420][3421]} Of her confine: you should be ruled and led ^{[3420][3422]} By some discretion that discerns your state ^[3420] Better than you yourself. Therefore I pray you ^{[3420][342]} That to our sister you do make return; ^[3420] Say you have wrong'd her, sir.	23]
	Lear. Ask her forgiveness?[3424]
50	Do you but mark how this becomes the house: [3425] [Kneeling] 'Dear daughter, I confess that I am old; [3426] Age is unnecessary: on my knees I beg That you'll vouchsafe me raiment, bed and food.'	5]
	Reg. Good sir, no more; these are unsightly tricks: Return you to my sister.
55	Lear. [Rising] Never, Regan: [3427] She hath abated me of half my train; Look'd black upon me; struck me with her tongue, [3428] Most serpent-like, upon the very heart: All the stored vengeances of heaven fall [3429] On her ingrateful top! Strike her young bones, [3429][3429] You taking airs, with lameness. [3429]
60	Corn. Fie, sir, fie! ^[3431]
	Lear. You nimble lightnings, dart your blinding flames Into her scornful eyes. Infect her beauty, You fen-suck'd fogs, drawn by the powerful sun [3433] To fall and blast her pride. [3433][3434]	3432]
65	Reg. O the blest gods! so will you wish on me, [3435] When the rash mood is on. $[3435][3436]$
	Lear. No, Regan, thou shalt never have my curse: Thy tender-hefted nature shall not give [3437][3438] Thee o'er to harshness: her eyes are fierce, but thine [3438][3439]
70	Do comfort and not burn. 'Tis not in thee ^[3438] To grudge my pleasures, to cut off my train, ^[3438] To bandy hasty words, to scant my sizes, And in conclusion to oppose the bolt
75	Against my coming in: thou better know'st ^[3440] The offices of nature, bond of childhood, Effects of courtesy, dues of gratitude; ^[3441] Thy half o' the kingdom hast thou not forgot, ^[3442] Wherein I thee endow'd.
	Reg. Good sir, to the purpose.[3443]
	Lear. Who put my man i' the stocks?	[Tucket within.[3444]
	Corn. What trumpet's that?
80	Reg. I know't: my sister's: this approves her letter. [344]	5]

That she would soon be here.

Enter Oswald. [3446]

Is your lady come?

Lear. This is a slave whose easy-borrow'd pride^[3447] Dwells in the fickle grace of her he follows.^[3448] Out, varlet, from my sight!

Lear. Who stock'd my servant? Regan, I have good hope [3449] Thou didst not know on't. Who comes here?

Enter Goneril.[3450]

O heavens,

[3469]

If you do love old men, if your sweet sway^{[3451][3452]} Allow obedience, if yourselves are old, [3451][3453] Make it your cause; send down, and take my part! [3451] [To Gon.] Art not ashamed to look upon this beard? [3454] O Regan, wilt thou take her by the hand? [3455]

Gon. Why not by the hand, sir? How have I offended? All's not offence that indiscretion finds^[3456] And dotage terms so.

Lear. O sides, you are too tough; Will you yet hold? How came my man i' the stocks?^[3457]

Corn. I set him there, sir: but his own disorders^[3458] Deserved much less advancement.^[3459]

Lear. You! did you?

Reg. I pray you, father, being weak, seem so.^[3460] If, till the expiration of your month, ^[3461] You will return and sojourn with my sister, Dismissing half your train, come then to me: I am now from home and out of that provision ^[3462] Which shall be needful for your entertainment.

Lear. Return to her, and fifty men dismiss'd?

No, rather I abjure all roofs, and choose

To wage against the enmity o' the air, [3463][3464]

To be a comrade with the wolf and owl,—[3463][3465]

Necessity's sharp pinch! Return with her?

Why, the hot-blooded France, that dowerless took [3466][3467]

Our youngest born, I could as well be brought [3467]

To knee his throne, and, squire-like, pension beg [3468]

To keep base life afoot. Return with her?

Persuade me rather to be slave and sumpter

To this detested groom.

[Pointing at Oswald.

Gon. At your choice, sir.

Lear. I prithee, daughter, do not make me mad:^[3470] I will not trouble thee, my child; farewell: We'll no more meet, no more see one another: But yet thou art my flesh, my blood, my daughter; Or rather a disease that's in my flesh,^[3471] Which I must needs call mine: thou art a boil,^[3472] A plague-sore, an embossed carbuncle,^[3473][3474] In my corrupted blood. But I'll not chide thee;^[3473] Let shame come when it will, I do not call it:^[3475] I do not bid the thunder-bearer shoot,^[3476] Nor tell tales of thee to high-judging Jove:^[3477] Mend when thou canst; be better at thy leisure: I can be patient; I can stay with Regan, I and my hundred knights.

Reg. Not altogether so:[3478][3479]I look'd not for you yet, nor am provided^{[3478][3480]} For your fit welcome. Give ear, sir, to my sister; [3478][3481] 30 For those that mingle reason with your passion^{[3478][3482]} Must be content to think you old, and so—[3483] But she knows what she does. Lear. Is this well spoken?[3484] Reg. I dare avouch it, sir: what, fifty followers?[3485] 35 Is it not well? What should you need of more? Yea, or so many, sith that both charge and danger[3486]Speak 'gainst so great a number? How in one house^[3487] Should many people under two commands Hold amity? 'Tis hard, almost impossible. [3488] Gon. Why might not you, my lord, receive attendance 40 From those that she calls servants or from mine? Reg. Why not, my lord? If then they chanced to slack you, [3489] We could control them. If you will come to me, [3490] For now I spy a danger, I entreat you^[3491] 45 To bring but five and twenty: to no more [3492] Will I give place or notice. Lear. I gave you all—[3493] Reg. And in good time you gave it. Lear. Made you my guardians, my depositaries, But kept a reservation to be follow'd[3494] 50 With such a number. What, must I come to you^[3495] With five and twenty, Regan? said you so?[3496] Reg. And speak't again, my lord; no more with me. [3497] Lear. Those wicked creatures yet do look well-favour'd, [3498][3499] When others are more wicked; not being the worst^{[3498][3500]} 55 Stands in some rank of praise. [To Gon.] I'll go with thee: [3501] Thy fifty yet doth double five and twenty, And thou art twice her love. [3502] Gon. Hear me, my lord: What need you five and twenty, ten, or five, To follow in a house where twice so many Have a command to tend you? 60 Reg. What need one?[3503] Lear. O, reason not the need: our basest beggars [3504] Are in the poorest thing superfluous: Allow not nature more than nature needs, Man's life's as cheap as beast's: thou art a lady: [3505] 65 If only to go warm were gorgeous, Why, nature needs not what thou gorgeous wear'st, [3506] Which scarcely keeps thee warm. But for true need,—[3507] You heavens, give me that patience, patience I need![3508] You see me here, you gods, a poor old man. [3509] 70 As full of grief as age; wretched in both: If it be you that stirs these daughters' hearts^[3510] Against their father, fool me not so much^[3511] To bear it tamely; touch me with noble anger, [3512] And let not women's weapons, water-drops, [3513] 75 Stain my man's cheeks! No, you unnatural hags, I will have such revenges on you both^[3514] That all the world shall—I will do such things.—[3515] What they are, yet I know not, but they shall be The terrors of the earth. You think I'll weep; [3516]

80 No, I'll not weep:[3517] I have full cause of weeping; but this heart^{[3517][3518]} Shall break into a hundred thousand flaws, [3517][3519] Or ere I'll weep. O fool, I shall go mad! [Exeunt Lear, Gloucester, Kent, and Fool. [3520] Corn. Let us withdraw; 'twill be a storm. [Storm and tempest.[3521][3522] Reg. This house is little: the old man and his people^{[3522][3523]} 85 Cannot be well bestow'd. [3522][3524] Gon. 'Tis his own blame; hath put himself from rest, [3522][3525] And must needs taste his folly.[3522][3526] Reg. For his particular, I'll receive him gladly, But not one follower. 90 Gon. So am I purposed.[3527][3528] Where is my lord of Gloucester?[3528] Corn. Follow'd the old man forth: he is return'd. [3529] Re-enter Gloucester. Glou. The king is in high rage. Corn. Whither is he going?[3530][3531] Glou. He calls to horse; but will I know not whither. [3530][3532] 95 Corn. 'Tis best to give him way; he leads himself. [3533] Gon. My lord, entreat him by no means to stay. Glou. Alack, the night comes on, and the bleak winds [3534] Do sorely ruffle; for many miles about^{[3535][3536]} There's scarce a bush. [3535][3537] Reg. O, sir, to wilful men 00 The injuries that they themselves procure Must be their schoolmasters. Shut up your doors: He is attended with a desperate train; And what they may incense him to, being apt^[3538] To have his ear abused, wisdom bids fear. 05 Corn. Shut up your doors, my lord; 'tis a wild night: [3539] [Exeunt.[3540] My Regan counsels well: come out o' the storm. FOOTNOTES:

ACT III.

Scene I. A heath.

Storm still. Enter Kent and a Gentleman, meeting.[3541]

Kent. Who's there, besides foul weather?[3542]
Gent. One minded like the weather, most unquietly.
Kent. I know you. Where's the king?
Gent. Contending with the fretful elements;[3543]
Bids the wind blow the earth into the sea,
Or swell the curled waters 'bove the main, [3544]
That things might change or cease; tears his white hair, [3545]
Which the impetuous blasts, with eyeless rage, [3545]
Catch in their fury, and make nothing of; [3545]
Strives in his little world of man to out-scorn<sup>[3545][3546][3547]</sup>
The to-and-fro-conflicting wind and rain. [3545][3546][3548]
This night, wherein the cub-drawn bear would couch, [3545][3549]
The lion and the belly-pinched wolf<sup>[3545][3550]</sup>
Keep their fur dry, unbonneted he runs, [3545]
And bids what will take all. [3545]
Kent. But who is with him?
Gent. None but the fool; who labours to out-jest
His heart-struck injuries.[3551]
Kent. Sir, I do know you;
And dare, upon the warrant of my note, [3552]
Commend a dear thing to you. There is division, [3553]
Although as yet the face of it be cover'd[3554]
With mutual cunning, 'twixt Albany and Cornwall; [3555]
Who have—as who have not, that their great stars<sup>[3556]</sup>[3557]
Throned and set high?—servants, who seem no less,[3556][3558]
Which are to France the spies and speculations<sup>[3556]</sup>[3559]
Intelligent of our state; what hath been seen,[3556][3560]
Either in snuffs and packings of the dukes,[3556]
Or the hard rein which both of them have borne<sup>[3556][3561]</sup>
Against the old kind king, or something deeper, [3556]
Whereof perchance these are but furnishings,—[3556][3562]
But true it is, from France there comes a power<sup>[3563][3564]</sup>
Into this scatter'd kingdom; who already, [3564][3565][3566]
Wise in our negligence, have secret feet<sup>[3564][3565][3567]</sup>
In some of our best ports, and are at point^{[3564][3565]}
To show their open banner. Now to you:[3564][3565]
If on my credit you dare build so far<sup>[3564][3565]</sup>
To make your speed to Dover, you shall find<sup>[3564]</sup>
Some that will thank you, making just report<sup>[3564]</sup>
Of how unnatural and bemadding sorrow<sup>[3564][3568]</sup>
The king hath cause to plain.[3564][3569]
I am a gentleman of blood and breeding, [3564][3569]
And from some knowledge and assurance offer [3564][3569][3570]
This office to you.[3564][3569][3570]
Gent. I will talk further with you.[3571]
Kent. No. do not.
For confirmation that I am much more [3572]
Than my out-wall, open this purse and take

What it contains. If you shall see Cordelia,—

As fear not but you shall,—show her this ring, [3573] And she will tell you who your fellow is [3574] That yet you do not know. Fie on this storm! I will go seek the king. Gent. Give me your hand: [3575] Have you no more to say?[3575] Kent. Few words, but, to effect, more than all yet; That when we have found the king,—in which your pain^[3576] That way, I'll this,—he that first lights on him^[3576] Holla the other. [Exeunt severally. [3576][3577] Scene II. Another part of the heath. Storm still.[3578] Enter Lear and Fool. Lear. Blow, winds, and crack your cheeks! rage! blow![3579] You cataracts and hurricanoes, spout^{[3580][3581]} Till you have drench'd our steeples, drown'd the cocks![3580][3582] You sulphurous and thought-executing fires, [3580][3583] Vaunt-couriers to oak-cleaving thunderbolts, [3580][3584] Singe my white head! And thou, all-shaking thunder, [3580][3585] Smite flat the thick rotundity o' the world! [3580][3586] Crack nature's moulds, all germins spill at once^{[3580][3587]} That make ingrateful man![3580][3588] Fool. O nuncle, court holy-water in a dry house is [3589] better than this rain-water out o' door. Good nuncle, in,[3589][3590] and ask thy daughters' blessing: here's a night pities neither [3589][3591] wise man nor fool.[3589][3592] Lear. Rumble thy bellyful! Spit, fire! spout, rain![3593] Nor rain, wind, thunder, fire, are my daughters: I tax not you, you elements, with unkindness; [3594] I never gave you kingdom, call'd vou children,[3595] You owe me no subscription: then let fall^[3596][3597] Your horrible pleasure; here I stand, your slave, [3596][3598] A poor, infirm, weak and despised old man: [3596] But yet I call you servile ministers.[3596] That have with two pernicious daughters join'd^{[3596][3599]} Your high-engender'd battles 'gainst a head^{[3596][3600]} So old and white as this. O! O! 'tis foul! [3596][3601] Fool. He that has a house to put's head in has a good^[3602] head-piece. The cod-piece that will house^[3603] Before the head has any.[3603] The head and he shall louse; [3603] So beggars marry many. [3603] The man that makes his $toe^{[3603][3604]}$ What he his heart should make^{[3603][3605]} Shall of a corn cry woe, [3603][3606] And turn his sleep to wake. [3603] For there was never yet fair woman but she made mouths^[3607] in a glass. Lear. No, I will be the pattern of all patience: [3608] I will say nothing. Enter Kent. Kent. Who's there?

Fool. Marry, here's grace and a cod-piece; that's a

\it Kent. Alas, sir, are you here? things that love night [3609][3610]
Love not such nights as these; the wrathful skies<sup>[3609]</sup>
Gallow the very wanderers of the dark, [3609][3611]
And make them keep their caves: since I was man, [3609][3612]
Such sheets of fire, such bursts of horrid thunder, [3609]
Such groans of roaring wind and rain, I never<sup>[3609][3613]</sup>
Remember to have heard: man's nature cannot carry<sup>[3609]</sup>
The affliction nor the fear. [3609]
Lear. Let the great gods, [3609][3614]
That keep this dreadful pother o'er our heads, [3609][3615]
Find out their enemies now. Tremble, thou wretch, [3609]
That hast within thee undivulged crimes, [3609]
Unwhipp'd of justice: hide thee, thou bloody hand; [3609]
Thou perjured, and thou simular man of virtue<sup>[3609][3616]</sup>
That art incestuous: caitiff, to pieces shake, [3609][3617]
That under covert and convenient seeming<sup>[3609][3618]</sup>
Hast practised on man's life: close pent-up guilts,[3609][3619]
Rive your concealing continents and cry<sup>[3609][3620]</sup>
These dreadful summoners grace. I am a man<sup>[3609]</sup>
More sinn'd against than sinning. [3621]
Kent. Alack, bare-headed![3622]
Gracious my lord, hard by here is a hovel; [3622]
Some friendship will it lend you 'gainst the tempest:[3622]
Repose you there; while I to this hard house—[3622][3623]
More harder than the stones whereof 'tis raised; [3622][3624]
Which even but now, demanding after you, [3622][3625]
Denied me to come in—return, and force<sup>[3622]</sup>
Their scanted courtesy.[3622]
Lear. My wits begin to turn. [3626]
Come on, my boy: how dost, my boy? art cold?
I am cold myself. Where is this straw, my fellow?[3627]
The art of our necessities is strange, [3628]
That can make vile things precious. Come, your hovel. [3628][3629][3630]
Poor fool and knave, I have one part in my heart [3628][3630][3631]
That's sorry yet for thee. [3632]
Fool. [Singing] He that has and a little tiny wit,—[3633][3634][3635]
              With hey, ho, the wind and the rain,—[3634][3636]
            Must make content with his fortunes fit, [3634]
              For the rain it raineth every day. [3634][3637]
Lear. True, my good boy. Come, bring us to this hovel.
                                                                 [Exeunt Lear and

Fool. This is a brave night to cool a courtezan. I'll^{[3639][3640]} [3641]
speak a prophecy ere I go:[3639][3640][3642]
        When priests are more in word than matter; [3639][3643]
        When brewers mar their malt with water; [3639]
        When nobles are their tailors' tutors; [3639]
        No heretics burn'd, but wenches' suitors; [3639]
        When every case in law is right; [3639]
        No squire in debt, nor no poor knight; [3639][3644]
        When slanders do not live in tongues, [3639][3645]
        Nor cutpurses come not to throngs; [3639][3646]
        When usurers tell their gold i' the field, [3639]
        And bawds and whores do churches build:[3639]
        Then shall the realm of Albion<sup>[3639][3647]</sup>
        Come to great confusion: [3639][3647]

[Exit.[3649]

Scene III. Gloucester's castle.

Enter Gloucester and Edmund. [3650]

Glou. Alack, alack, Edmund, I like not this unnatural^[3651] dealing. When I desired their leave that I might pity him,^[3651] they took from me the use of mine own house; charged^{[3651][3652]} me, on pain of their perpetual displeasure, neither to speak^{[3651][3653]} of him, entreat for him, nor any way sustain him.^{[3651][3654]}

Edm. Most savage and unnatural![3651][3655]

Glou. Go to; say you nothing. There's a division betwixt^{[3651][3656]} the dukes, and a worse matter than that: I have received^[3651] a letter this night; 'tis dangerous to be spoken; I^[3651] have locked the letter in my closet: these injuries the king^[3651] now bears will be revenged home; there is part of a power^{[3651][3657]} already footed: we must incline to the king. I will seek^{[3651][3658]} him and privily relieve him: go you, and maintain talk^[3651] with the duke, that my charity be not of him perceived: if^[3651]] he ask for me, I am ill and gone to bed. Though I die^{[3651][3659]} for it, as no less is threatened me, the king my old master^{[3651][3660]} must be relieved. There is some strange thing toward,^{[3651][3661]} [Edmund; pray you, be careful.

Edm. This courtesy, forbid thee, shall the duke [3662][3663] Instantly know, and of that letter too: [3662] This seems a fair deserving, and must draw me [3662][3664] That which my father loses; no less than all: [3662][3665] The younger rises when the old doth fall. [Exit. [3662][3666]]

Scene IV. The heath. Before a hovel. [3667]

Enter Lear, Kent, and Fool.

Kent. Here is the place, my lord; good my lord, enter:<sup>[3668]</sup>
The tyranny of the open night's too rough<sup>[3668]</sup>[3669]
For nature to endure.

[Storm still.<sup>[3668]</sup>
[3670]

Lear. Let me alone.<sup>[3671]</sup>

Kent. Good my lord, enter here.[3671]

In such a night as this! O Regan, Goneril!

Lear. Wilt break my heart?[3672]

Kent. I had rather break mine own. Good my lord, enter.[3673]

Lear. Thou think'st 'tis much that this contentious storm<sup>[3674]</sup>
Invades us to the skin: so 'tis to thee; <sup>[3675]</sup>
But where the greater malady is fix'd
The lesser is scarce felt. Thou'ldst shun a bear, <sup>[3676]</sup>
But if thy flight lay toward the raging sea <sup>[3677]</sup>
Thou'ldst meet the bear i' the mouth. When the mind's free <sup>[3678]</sup>
The body's delicate: the tempest in my mind <sup>[3679]</sup>
Doth from my senses take all feeling else
Save what beats there. Filial ingratitude! <sup>[3680]</sup>
Is it not as this mouth should tear this hand <sup>[3681]</sup>
For lifting food to't? But I will punish home. <sup>[3682]</sup>
No, I will weep no more. In such a night <sup>[3683]</sup>
To shut me out! Pour on: I will endure. <sup>[3683]</sup>

O, that way madness lies; let me shun that;
No more of that.
Kent. Good my lord, enter here. [3685]
Lear. Prithee, go in thyself; seek thine own ease: [3686]
This tempest will not give me leave to ponder
On things would hurt me more. But I'll go in.
[To the Fool] In, boy; go first. You houseless poverty,—[3687][3688][3689]
Nay, get thee in. I'll pray, and then I'll sleep.
                                                        [Fool goes in.[3688][3690]
Poor naked wretches, wheresoe'er you are,
That bide the pelting of this pitiless storm, [3691]
How shall your houseless heads and unfed sides,
Your loop'd and window'd raggedness, defend you<sup>[3692]</sup>
From seasons such as these? O, I have ta'en
Too little care of this! Take physic, pomp;
Expose thyself to feel what wretches feel,
That thou mayst shake the superflux to them
And show the heavens more just. [3693]
Edg. [Within] Fathom and half, fathom and half![3694][3695]
Poor Tom!

Fool. Come not in here, nuncle, here's a spirit. Help<sup>[3697]</sup> me, help me![3697]
                                                                            [3696]
Kent. Give me thy hand. Who's there?[3698]
Fool. A spirit, a spirit: he says his name's poor Tom. [3699]
Kent. What art thou that dost grumble there i' the straw?[3700][3701]
Come forth.[3700]
                 Enter Edgar disguised as a madman. [3702]
Edg. Away! the foul fiend follows me! 'Through the [3703][3704][3705][3706] sharp hawthorn blows the cold wind.' Hum! go to thy^{[3704][3706][3707]} cold bed and warm thee.[3704][3708]
Lear. Hast thou given all to thy two daughters? and [3709][3710] art thou come to this?[3709]
Edg. Who gives any thing to poor Tom? whom the foul fiend hath led through fire and through flame, through [3711] ford and whirlpool, o'er bog and quagmire; that hath laid [3712] knives under his pillow and halters in his pew; set ratsbane [3713] by his porridge; made him proud of heart, to ride on [3714] a bay trotting-horse over four-inched bridges, to course his<sup>[3715]</sup> own shadow for a traitor. Bless thy five wits! Tom's [3716]
a-cold. O, do de, do de, do de. Bless thee from whirlwinds, [3716][3717] star-blasting, and taking! Do poor Tom some<sup>[3718]</sup> charity, whom the foul fiend vexes. There could I have him [Storm still.[3719]
now, and there, and there again, and there.
Lear. What, have his daughters brought him to this pass?[3720]
Couldst thou save nothing? Didst thou give them all?[3721] Fool. Nay, he reserved a blanket, else we had been all shamed.[3722]
Lear. Now, all the plagues that in the pendulous air
Hang fated o'er men's faults light on thy daughters![3723]
Kent. He hath no daughters, sir.
Lear. Death, traitor! nothing could have subdued nature
To such a lowness but his unkind daughters.
Is it the fashion that discarded fathers

Should have thus little mercy on their flesh? Judicious punishment! 'twas this flesh begot^[3724] Those pelican daughters. [3724][3725] Edg. Pillicock sat on Pillicock-hill:[3726][3727] Halloo, halloo, loo, loo![3726][3728] Fool. This cold night will turn us all to fools and madmen. Edg. Take heed o' the foul fiend: obey thy parents; [3729] keep thy word justly; swear not; commit not with man's [3730] sworn spouse; set not thy sweet heart on proud array.[3731] Tom's a-cold. Lear. What hast thou been? Edg. A serving-man, proud in heart and mind; that curled my hair; wore gloves in my cap; served the lust of [3732] my mistress' heart and did the act of darkness with her; [3733] swore as many oaths as I spake words and broke them in the sweet face of heaven: one that slept in the contriving of [3734] lust and waked to do it: wine loved I deeply, dice dearly, [3735] and in woman out-paramoured the Turk: false of heart, light of ear, bloody of hand; hog in sloth, fox in stealth, [3736] wolf in greediness, dog in madness, lion in prey. Let not the creaking of shoes nor the rustling of silks betray thy^[3737] poor heart to woman: keep thy foot out of brothels, thy^[3738] hand out of plackets, thy pen from lenders' books, and defy^[3739] the foul fiend. 'Still through the hawthorn blows the cold wind.'[3740] Says suum, mun, ha, no, nonny. [3741] Dolphin my boy, my boy, sessa! let him trot by. [Storm still.[3742] Lear. Why, thou wert better in thy grave than to answer^{[3743][3744]} 00 with thy uncovered body this extremity of the skies.[3744] Is man no more than this? Consider him well. Thou owest^{[3744][3745]} the worm no silk, the beast no hide, the sheep no wool, the [3744] cat no perfume. Ha! here's three on's are sophisticated. [3744][3746] Thou art the thing itself: unaccommodated man is no more^[3744] 05 but such a poor, bare, forked animal as thou art. Off, off, [3744] you lendings! come, unbutton here.[3744] [Tearing off his clothes.[3747] Fool. Prithee, nuncle, be contented; 'tis a naughty night^[3748] to swim in. Now a little fire in a wild field were like an [3749] old lecher's heart, a small spark, all the rest on's body cold. [3750] 10 Look, here comes a walking fire. Enter Gloucester, with a torch.[3751] Edg. This is the foul fiend Flibbertigibbet: he begins at [3752] curfew and walks till the first cock; he gives the web and [3753][3754] the pin, squints the eye and makes the hare-lip: mildews^[3754][3755] the white wheat and hurts the poor creature of earth.^[3756] Saint Withold footed thrice the 'old; [3757][3758] 15 He met the night-mare and her nine-fold; [3757][3759] Bid her alight, [3757][3760] And her troth plight, [3757][3761] And aroint thee, witch, aroint thee![3757][3762] 20 Kent.                        Lear. First let me talk with this philosopher.
                       What is the cause of thunder?
                       Kent. Good my lord, take his offer; go into the house. [3785]
                       Lear. I'll talk a word with this same learned Theban. [3786][3787]

                       What is your study?[3786]
                       Edg. How to prevent the fiend and to kill vermin.
                       Lear. Let me ask you one word in private. [3788]
                       Kent. Importune him once more to go, my lord: [3789][3790]
                       His wits begin to unsettle.[3789]
                                                                                       [Storm still [3791]

                       He said it would be thus, poor banish'd man!
                       Thou say'st the king grows mad; I'll tell thee, friend, [3793]
                       I am almost mad myself: I had a son, [3794]

                       The grief hath crazed my wits. What a night's this![3797]
                       I do beseech your grace.—[3798]

                       Noble philosopher, your company. [3799]
                       Edg. Tom's a-cold. [3780]

Kent. This way, my lord.
Lear. With him;[3801]
I will keep still with my philosopher. [3801]
Kent. Good my lord, soothe him; let him take the fellow. [3802]
Glou. Take him you on.
Kent. Sirrah, come on; go along with us.[3803]
Lear. Come, good Athenian.[3804]
Glou. No words, no words: hush.[3804]
Edg. Child Rowland to the dark tower came: [3805]
   His word was still 'Fie, foh, and fum,

                     Enter Cornwall and Edmund. [3807]
Corn. I will have my revenge ere I depart his house. [3808]
Edm. How, my lord, I may be censured, that nature thus gives way to loyalty, something fears me to think of.
Corn. I now perceive, it was not altogether your brother's evil disposition made him seek his death, but a provoking [3809] merit, set a-work by a reproveable badness in himself.[3809][3810]
Edm. How malicious is my fortune, that I must repent to be just! This is the letter he spoke of, which approves<sup>[3811]</sup> him an intelligent party to the advantages of France. O<sup>[3812]</sup> heavens! that this treason were not, or not I the detector![3813]
Corn. Go with me to the duchess.
Edm. If the matter of this paper be certain, you have mighty business in hand.
Corn. True or false, it hath made thee earl of Gloucester.
Seek out where thy father is, that he may be ready for our apprehension.
Edm. [Aside] If I find him comforting the king, it will [3814]

Glou. Here is better than the open air; take it thankfully.
I will piece out the comfort with what addition I

Kent. All the power of his wits have given way to his [3818] impatience: the gods reward your kindness!

                       Glou. By the kind gods, 'tis most ignobly done [3930]
:5
                       To pluck me by the beard. [3930]
                       Reg. So white, and such a traitor!
                       Glou. Naughty lady,[3931]
                       These hairs which thou dost ravish from my chin<sup>[3931]</sup>
                       Will quicken and accuse thee: I am your host: [3932]
                       With robbers' hands my hospitable favours<sup>[3933]</sup>
:0
                       You should not ruffle thus. What will you do?[3934]
                       Corn. Come, sir, what letters had you late from France? [3935]
                       Reg. Be simple answerer, for we know the truth. [3936]
                       Corn. And what confederacy have you with the traitors<sup>[3937]</sup>
                       Late footed in the kingdom?[3937][3938]
:5
                       Reg. To whose hands have you sent the lunatic king?[3939][3940]
                       Speak.[3939]
                       Glou. I have a letter guessingly set down, [3941]
                       Which came from one that's of a neutral heart
                       And not from one opposed.
                       Corn. Cunning.
                       Reg. And false.
                       Corn. Where hast thou sent the king?
                       Glou. To Dover.[3942]
0
                       Reg. Wherefore to Dover? Wast thou not charged at peril—[3943]
                       Corn. Wherefore to Dover? Let him first answer that. [3944]
                       Glou. I am tied to the stake, and I must stand the course. [3945]
                       Reg. Wherefore to Dover, sir?[3946]
                       Glou. Because I would not see thy cruel nails
5
                       Pluck out his poor old eyes, nor thy fierce sister
                       In his anointed flesh stick boarish fangs. [3947]
                       The sea, with such a storm as his bare head<sup>[3948]</sup>
                       In hell-black night endured, would have buoy'd up, [3949]
                       And quench'd the stelled fires:[3950][3951]
0
                       Yet, poor old heart, he holp the heavens to rain. [3950][3952]
                       If wolves had at thy gate howl'd that stern time, [3953]
                       Thou shouldst have said, 'Good porter, turn the key,' [3954]
                       All cruels else subscribed: but I shall see<sup>[3955]</sup>
                       The winged vengeance overtake such children.
5
                       Corn. See't shalt thou never. Fellows, hold the chair.
                       Upon these eyes of thine I'll set my foot. [3956]
                       Glou. He that will think to live till he be old, [3957]
                       Give me some help! O cruel! O you gods![3958]

0	Reg. One side will mock another; the other too. [3959]
	Corn. If you see vengeance—[3960]
	First Serv. Hold your hand, my lord: I have served you ever since I was a child; [3961] But better service have I never done you [3962] Than now to bid you hold. [3962]
	Reg. How now, you dog!
5	First Serv. If you did wear a beard upon your chin, [3963] I'ld shake it on this quarrel. What do you mean? [3963][3964]
	Corn. My villain! [They draw and
	First Serv. Nay, then, come on, and take the chance of anger. [3966]
	Reg. Give me thy sword. A peasant stand up thus!
	[Takes a sword and runs at him behind.[3967]
0	First Serv. O, I am slain! My lord, you have one eye left ^{[3968][3969]} To see some mischief on him. O! [Dies. [3968][3970]
	Corn. Lest it see more, prevent it. Out, vile jelly! ^[3971] Where is thy lustre now? ^[3972]
15	Glou. All dark and comfortless. Where's my son Edmund? ^[3973] Edmund, enkindle all the sparks of nature, ^{[3974][3975]} To quit this horrid act. ^[3974]
	Reg. Out, treacherous villain! ^[3976] [3977] Thou call'st on him that hates thee: it was he ^[3976] That made the overture of thy treasons to us; ^[3976] [3978] Who is too good to pity thee. ^[3976]
10	Glou. O my follies! Then Edgar was abused. ^{[3979][3980]} Kind gods, forgive me that, and prosper him! ^[3979]
	Reg. Go thrust him out at gates, and let him smell ^{[3979][3981][3982]} His way to Dover. [Exit one with Gloucester.] How is't, my lord? how look you? ^{[3979][3981][3983]}
15	Corn. I have received a hurt: follow me, lady. Turn out that eyeless villain: throw this slave ^[3984] Upon the dunghill. Regan, I bleed apace: ^{[3984][3985]} Untimely comes this hurt: give me your arm. [
	Exit Cornwall, led by Regan. ^{[3984][3986]}
	Sec. Serv. I'll never care what wickedness I do, [3987][3988] If this man come to good. [3987]
00	Third Serv. If she live long, [3987][3989][3990] And in the end meet the old course of death, [3987][3990] Women will all turn monsters. [3987][3990]
	Sec. Serv. Let's follow the old earl, and get the Bedlam ^{[3987][3991]} To lead him where he would: his roguish madness ^{[3987][3992]} Allows itself to any thing. ^[3987]
05	Third Serv. Go thou: I'll fetch some flax and whites of eggs ^{[3987][3993][3994]} To apply to his bleeding face. Now, heaven help him!
	[Exeunt severally.[3987][3994][3995]

ACT IV.

Scene I. The heath.[3996]

Enter Edgar. Edg. Yet better thus, and known to be contemn'd, [3997] Than still contemn'd and flatter'd. To be worst, [3998] The lowest and most dejected thing of fortune, [3999] Stands still in esperance, lives not in fear:[4000] The lamentable change is from the best; The worst returns to laughter. Welcome then,[4001][4002] Thou unsubstantial air that I embrace! [4002] The wretch that them hast blown unto the worst^[4002] Owes nothing to thy blasts. But who comes here?^{[4002][4003][4004]} Enter Gloucester, led by an Old Man. [4005] My father, poorly led? World, world, O world![4005][4006] But that thy strange mutations make us hate thee, [4007] Life would not yield to age. [4008] Old Man. O, my good lord, I have been your tenant, [4009] and your father's tenant, these fourscore years.[4009][4010] Glou. Away, get thee away; good friend, be gone: Thy comforts can do me no good at all; Thee they may hurt. Old Man. Alack, sir, you cannot see your way.[4011] Glou. I have no way and therefore want no eyes; I stumbled when I saw: full oft 'tis seen, Our means secure us, and our mere defects^[4012] Prove our commodities. Ah, dear son Edgar. [4013] The food of thy abused father's wrath! Might I but live to see thee in my touch, I'ld say I had eyes again! Old Man. How now! Who 's there?[4014] Edg. [Aside] O gods! Who is't can say 'I am at the worst'?[4015][4016] I am worse than e'er I was.[4017] Old Man. 'Tis poor mad Tom. Edg. [Aside] And worse I may be yet: the worst is not [4015] So long as we can say 'This is the worst.' [4018] Old Man. Fellow, where goest? Glou. Is it a beggar-man? Old Man. Madman and beggar too. Glou. He has some reason, else he could not beq.[4019] I' the last night's storm I such a fellow saw,[4020] Which made me think a man a worm: my son Came then into my mind, and yet my mind Was then scarce friends with him: I have heard more since. [4021] As flies to wanton boys, are we to the gods; [4022] They kill us for their sport. [4023]

Edg. [Aside] How should this be?^{[4015][4024][4025]}

Bad is the trade that must play fool to sorrow, [4024][4026] Angering itself and others. Bless thee, master! [4024][4027]

Old Man. Ay, my lord. Glou. Then, prithee, get thee gone: if for my sake^[4028] Thou wilt o'ertake us hence a mile or twain^[4029] I' the way toward Dover, do it for ancient love; [4030] And bring some covering for this naked soul, [4031] Who I'll entreat to lead me.[4032] Old Man. Alack. sir. he is mad. Glou. 'Tis the times' plague, when madmen lead the blind. [4033] Do as I bid thee, or rather do thy pleasure: [4034] Above the rest, be gone. Old Man. I'll bring him the best 'parel that I have. [4035][4036] Come on't what will. [Exit. Glou. Sirrah, naked fellow.—[4037] Edg. Poor Tom's a-cold. [Aside] I cannot daub it further. [4015][4038] Glou. Come hither, fellow. Edg. [Aside] And yet I must. Bless thy sweet eyes, they bleed. [4015][4039] Glou. Know'st thou the way to Dover? Edg. Both stile and gate, horse-way and foot-path. Poor^[4040] Tom hath been scared out of his good wits. Bless thee, good^{[4040][4041][4042]} man's son, from the foul fiend! Five fiends have been in poor^{[4040][4042][4043]} Tom at once; of lust, as Obidicut; Hobbididence, prince of [4043][4044]dumbness; Mahu, of stealing; Modo, of murder; Flibbertigibbet. [4043][4045] of mopping and mowing; who since possesses^{[4043][4046]} chambermaids and waiting-women. So, bless thee, master![4043][4047] Glou. Here, take this purse, thou whom the heavens' plagues^[4048] Have humbled to all strokes: that I am wretched^[4049] Makes thee the happier. Heavens, deal so still! [4049] Let the superfluous and lust-dieted man, [4050] That slaves your ordinance, that will not $see^{[4051]}$ Because he doth not feel, feel your power quickly; [4052] So distribution should undo excess^[4053] And each man have enough. Dost thou know Dover? Edg. Ay, master. Glou. There is a cliff whose high and bending head Looks fearfully in the confined deep: [4054] Bring me but to the very brim of it, And I'll repair the misery thou dost bear With something rich about me: from that place^[4055] I shall no leading need. [4055][4056] Edg. Give me thy arm: [4057] [Exeunt. [4057][4058] Poor Tom shall lead thee. Scene II. Before the Duke of Albany's palace.

Glou. Is that the naked fellow?

Enter Goneril and Edmund. [4059]

Gon. Welcome, my lord: I marvel our mild husband Not met us on the way.

Enter Oswald. [4060]

Now, where's your master?

Osw. Madam, within; but never man so changed. [4061]

I told him of the army that was landed; [4061]
He smiled at it: I told him you were coming; [4061]
His answer was, 'The worse:' of Gloucester's treachery<sup>[4061]</sup>
And of the loyal service of his son<sup>[4061]</sup>
When I inform'd him, then he call'd me sot^{[4061]}
And told me I had turn'd the wrong side out: [4061]
What most he should dislike seems pleasant to him; [4061][4062]
What like, offensive. [4061][4063]
Gon. [To Edm.] Then shall you go no further.
It is the cowish terror of his spirit, [4064]
That dares not undertake: he'll not feel wrongs,
Which tie him to an answer. Our wishes on the way<sup>[4065]</sup>
May prove effects. Back, Edmund, to my brother; [4065][4066]
Hasten his musters and conduct his powers:
I must change arms at home and give the distaff<sup>[4067]</sup>
Into my husband's hands. This trusty servant
Shall pass between us: ere long you are like to hear,[4068]
If you dare venture in your own behalf, [4069]
A mistress's command. Wear this; spare speech;
                                                            [Giving a favour. [4070]
Decline your head: this kiss, if it durst speak,
Would stretch thy spirits up into the air:
Conceive, and fare thee well. [4071]
Edm. Yours in the ranks of death.
Gon. My most dear Gloucester![4072]
                                                              [Exit Edmund. [4073]
O, the difference of man and man! [4072][4074][4075]
To thee a woman's services are due:[4075][4076]
My fool usurps my body. [4075]
Osw. Madam, here comes my lord.
                                                                              [Exit.
                             Enter Albany. [4077]
Gon. I have been worth the whistle. [4078]
Alb. O Goneril!<sup>[4079]</sup>
You are not worth the dust which the rude wind [4079][4080]
Blows in your face. I fear your disposition: [4081]
That nature which contemns its origin<sup>[4081][4082]</sup>
Cannot be border'd certain in itself;[4081][4083]
She that herself will sliver and disbranch<sup>[4081][4084]</sup>
From her material sap, perforce must wither [4081][4085]
And come to deadly use. [4081]
Gon. No more; the text is foolish.[4081][4086]
Alb. Wisdom and goodness to the vile seem vile: [4081]
Filths savour but themselves. What have you done?[4081][4087]
Tigers, not daughters, what have you perform'd?[4081]
A father, and a gracious aged man, [4081]
Whose reverence even the head-lugg'd bear would lick, [4081][4088]
Most barbarous, most degenerate! have you madded. [4081]
Could my good brother suffer you to do it?[4081]
A man, a prince, by him so benefited![4081][4089]
If that the heavens do not their visible spirits<sup>[4081]</sup>
Send quickly down to tame these vile offences, [4081][4090][4091]
It will come, [4081][4090][4092]
Humanity must perforce prey on itself, [4081][4093][4094]
Like monsters of the deep.[4081][4093]

                        Gon. Milk-liver'd man!
                        That bear'st a cheek for blows, a head for wrongs; [4095]
                        Who hast not in thy brows an eye discerning<sup>[4096][4097]</sup>
                        Thine honour from thy suffering; that not know'st<sup>[4096][4098][4099]</sup>
                        Fools do those villains pity who are punish'd [4098][4099][4100]
                        Ere they have done their mischief. Where's thy drum?[4098]
5
                        France spreads his banners in our noiseless land, [4098][4101]
                        With plumed helm thy state begins to threat, [4098][4102]
                        Whiles thou, a moral fool, sit'st still and criest<sup>[4098][4103]</sup>
                        'Alack, why does he so?'[4098]
                        Alb. See thyself, devil![4104]
                        Proper deformity seems not in the fiend<sup>[4104][4105]</sup>

                        So horrid as in woman. [4104]
                        Gon. O vain fool!
                        Alb. Thou changed and self-cover'd thing, for shame, [4106][4107]
                        Be-monster not thy feature. Were 't my fitness<sup>[4106][4108][4109]</sup>
                        To let these hands obey my blood, [4106][4109][4110]
                        They are apt enough to dislocate and tear<sup>[4106][4109][4111]</sup>
5
                        Thy flesh and bones: howe'er thou art a fiend, [4106][4112]
                        A woman's shape doth shield thee. [4106]
                        Gon. Marry, your manhood mew.[4106][4113]
                                                      Enter a Messenger.
                        Alb. What news?[4114]
0
                        Mess. O, my good lord, the Duke of Cornwall's dead,[4115][4116]
                        Slain by his servant, going to put out<sup>[4116]</sup>
                        The other eye of Gloucester.[4116]
                        Alb. Gloucester's eyes!
                        Mess. A servant that he bred, thrill'd with remorse, [4117]
                        Opposed against the act, bending his sword<sup>[4118]</sup>
                        To his great master; who thereat enraged<sup>[4118][4119]</sup>

                        But not without that harmful stroke which since<sup>[4121][4122]</sup>
                        Hath pluck'd him after.[4122]
                        Alb. This shows you are above, [4123][4124]
                        You justicers, that these our nether crimes [4123][4124][4125]

                        So speedily can venge. But, O poor Gloucester![4123]
                        Lost he his other eye?<sup>[4123]</sup>
                        Mess. Both, both, my lord.[4126]
                        This letter, madam, craves a speedy answer; [4126]
                        'Tis from your sister.<sup>[4126]</sup>
                        Gon. [Aside] One way I like this well; [4127]
                        But being widow, and my Gloucester with her,[4128]
:5
                        May all the building in my fancy pluck<sup>[4129]</sup>
                        Upon my hateful life: another way, [4130]
                                                                                            [Exit.[4130][4131]
                        The news is not so tart. I'll read, and answer.
                        Alb. Where was his son when they did take his eyes?[4132]
                        Mess. Come with my lady hither.
                        Alb. He is not here. [4133]
0
                        Mess. No, my good lord; I met him back again.
                        Alb. Knows he the wickedness?
                        Mess. Ay, my good lord; 'twas he inform'd against him,

And quit the house on purpose, that their punishment<sup>[4134]</sup>
Might have the freer course.
Alb. Gloucester, I live<sup>[4135][4136]</sup>
To thank thee for the love thou show'dst the king, [4135][4136][4137]
And to revenge thine eyes. Come hither, friend: [4135][4136][4138]
                                                                 [Exeunt.[4136][4139]
Tell me what more thou know'st.
           Scene III. The French camp near Dover. [4140]
                         Enter Kent and a Gentleman.
Kent. Why the King of France is so suddenly gone<sup>[4141]</sup> back know you the reason?[4141][4142]
Gent. Something he left imperfect in the state which<sup>[4143]</sup> since his coming forth is thought of, which imports to the [4143][4144] kingdom so much fear and danger that his personal return<sup>[4143][4145]</sup> was most required and necessary.[4143]
Kent. Who hath he left behind him general?<sup>[4146]</sup>
Gent. The Marshal of France, Monsieur La Far. [4147]
Kent. Did your letters pierce the queen to any demonstration<sup>[4148]</sup> of grief?<sup>[4148]</sup>
Gent. Ay, sir; she took them, read them in my presence, [4149]
And now and then an ample tear trill'd down
Her delicate cheek: it seem'd she was a queen<sup>[4150]</sup>
Over her passion, who most rebel-like<sup>[4150][4151]</sup>
Sought to be king o'er her.[4150]
Kent. O, then it moved her.
Gent. Not to a rage: patience and sorrow strove<sup>[4152]</sup>
Who should express her goodliest. You have seen<sup>[4153]</sup>
Sunshine and rain at once: her smiles and tears<sup>[4154]</sup>
Were like a better way: those happy smilets<sup>[4154]</sup>[4155]
That play'd on her ripe lip seem'd not to know<sup>[4156]</sup>
What guests were in her eyes; which parted thence
As pearls from diamonds dropp'd. In brief, [4157][4158]
Sorrow would be a rarity most beloved, [4157]
If all could so become it.[4157]
Kent. Made she no verbal question?[4159]
Gent. Faith, once or twice she heaved the name of 'father' [4160]
Pantingly forth, as if it press'd her heart;
Cried 'Sisters! sisters! Shame of ladies! sisters!<sup>[4161]</sup>
Kent! father! sisters! What, i' the storm? i' the night?[4161][4162]
Let pity not be believed!' There she shook<sup>[4163]</sup>
The holy water from her heavenly eyes,
And clamour moisten'd: then away she started<sup>[4164]</sup>
To deal with grief alone.
Kent. It is the stars, [4165][4166]
The stars above us, govern our conditions; [4166]
Else one self mate and mate could not beget<sup>[4167]</sup>
Such different issues. You spoke not with her since?<sup>[4168]</sup>
Gent. No.
Kent. Was this before the king return'd?
Gent. No, since.
Kent. Well, sir, the poor distressed Lear's i' the town; [4169]
Who sometime in his better tune remembers<sup>[4170]</sup>

What we are come about, and by no means<sup>[4171]</sup>
Will yield to see his daughter.[4171]
Gent. Why, good sir?
Kent. A sovereign shame so elbows him: his own unkindness<sup>[4172]</sup>
That stripp'd her from his benediction, turn'd her<sup>[4173]</sup>
To foreign casualties, gave her dear rights
To his dog-hearted daughters: these things sting<sup>[4174][4175]</sup>
His mind so venomously that burning shame [4174][4175]
Detains him from Cordelia.[4174][4176]
Gent. Alack, poor gentleman!
Kent. Of Albany's and Cornwall's powers you heard not?[4177]
Gent. 'Tis so; they are afoot. [4178]
Kent. Well, sir, I'll bring you to our master Lear,
And leave you to attend him: some dear cause
Will in concealment wrap me up awhile:
When I am known aright, you shall not grieve
Lending me this acquaintance. I pray you, go^{[4179]}
                                                             [Exeunt.[4179][4180]
Along with me.
                      Scene IV. The same. A tent.
       Enter, with drum and colours, Cordelia, Doctor, and Soldiers.
                                      [4181]
Cor. Alack, 'tis he: why, he was met even now
As mad as the vex'd sea; singing aloud; [4182]
Crown'd with rank fumiter and furrow-weeds,[4183]
With bur-docks, hemlock, nettles, cuckoo-flowers, [4184]
Darnel, and all the idle weeds that grow
In our sustaining corn. A century send forth;[4185]
Search every acre in the high-grown field,
And bring him to our eye. [Exit an Officer.] What can man's wisdom<sup>[4186][4187]</sup>
      [4188][4189]
In the restoring his bereaved sense?[4186][4188][4190]
He that helps him take all my outward worth. [4186][4191]
Doct. There is means, madam:[4192]
Our foster-nurse of nature is repose,
The which he lacks: that to provoke in him,[4193]
Are many simples operative, whose power
Will close the eye of anguish.
Cor. All blest secrets, [4194]
All you unpublish'd virtues of the earth, [4194]
Spring with my tears! be aidant and remediate<sup>[4195]</sup>
In the good man's distress! Seek, seek for him;[4196]
Lest his ungovern'd rage dissolve the life
That wants the means to lead it.
                          Enter a Messenger.[4197]
Mess. News, madam;[4198]
The British powers are marching hitherward. [4198]
Cor. 'Tis known before; our preparation stands
In expectation of them. O dear father,
It is thy business that I go about; [4199]
Therefore great France [4199]
My mourning and important tears hath pitied.[4200]
No blown ambition doth our arms incite, [4201]
But love, dear love, and our aged father's right: [4202]
                                                                   [Exeunt.[4203]
Soon may I hear and see him!

Scene V. Gloucester's castle.

Enter Regan and Oswald. [4204]
Reg. But are my brother's powers set forth?<sup>[4205]</sup>
Osw. Ay, madam. [4205]
Reg. Himself in person there?[4205][4206]
Osw. Madam, with much ado: [4207]
Your sister is the better soldier.[4207][4208]
Reg. Lord Edmund spake not with your lord at home?[4209]
Osw. No, madam.
Reg. What might import my sister's letter to him? [4210]
Osw. I know not, lady.
Reg. Faith, he is posted hence on serious matter.[4211]
It was great ignorance, Gloucester's eyes being out,
To let him live: where he arrives he moves
All hearts against us: Edmund, I think, is gone. [4212]
In pity of his misery, to dispatch<sup>[4213]</sup>
His nighted life; moreover, to descry<sup>[4213]</sup>
The strength o' the enemy. [4213][4214]
Osw. I must needs after him, madam, with my letter. [4215]
Reg. Our troops set forth to-morrow: stay with us:[4216]
The ways are dangerous.
Osw. I may not, madam:[4217]
My lady charged my duty in this business.[4217]
Reg. Why should she write to Edmund? Might not you<sup>[4218]</sup>
Transport her purposes by word? Belike. [4218][4219]
Something—I know not what: I'll love thee much, [4220]
Let me unseal the letter.
Osw. Madam. I had rather—[4221]
Reg. I know your lady does not love her husband;
I am sure of that: and at her late being here [4222]
She gave strange œillades and most speaking looks<sup>[4223]</sup>
To noble Edmund. I know you are of her bosom. [4224]
Osw. I, madam?[4225]
Reg. I speak in understanding: you are; I know't:[4226]
Therefore I do advise you, take this note:[4227]
My lord is dead; Edmund and I have talk'd;
And more convenient is he for my hand
Than for your lady's: you may gather more. [4228]
If you do find him, pray you, give him this; [4229]
And when your mistress hears thus much from you,
I pray, desire her call her wisdom to her.
So, fare you well.<sup>[4230]</sup>
If you do chance to hear of that blind traitor,
Preferment falls on him that cuts him off.
Osw. Would I could meet him, madam! I should show<sup>[4231]</sup>
What party I do follow.

Reg. Fare thee well.

Enter Gloucester, and Edgar dressed like a peasant. [4233]
Glou. When shall we come to the top of that same hill?[4234]
Edg. You do climb up it now: look, how we labour. [4235]
Glou. Methinks the ground is even.
Edg. Horrible steep. [4236][4237]
Hark, do you hear the sea?[4237][4238]
Glou. No, truly.
Edg. Why then your other senses grow imperfect
By your eyes' anguish.
Glou. So may it be indeed:
Methinks thy voice is alter'd, and thou speak'st<sup>[4239]</sup>
In better phrase and matter than thou didst. [4240]
Edg. You're much deceived: in nothing am I changed [4241]
But in my garments.
Glou. Methinks you're better spoken. [4242]
Edg. Come on, sir; here's the place: stand still. How fearful<sup>[4243]</sup>
And dizzy 'tis to cast one's eves so low![4244]
The crows and choughs that wing the midway air
Show scarce so gross as beetles: half way down
Hangs one that gathers samphire, dreadful trade!<sup>[4245]</sup>
Methinks he seems no bigger than his head:
The fishermen that walk upon the beach<sup>[4246]</sup>
Appear like mice; and yond tall anchoring bark<sup>[4247]</sup>
Diminish'd to her cock: her cock, a buov<sup>[4248]</sup>
Almost too small for sight: the murmuring surge
That on the unnumber'd idle pebbles chafes<sup>[4249]</sup>
Cannot be heard so high. I'll look no more, [4250]
Lest my brain turn and the deficient sight
Topple down headlong.
Glou. Set me where you stand.
Edg. Give me your hand: you are now within a foot[4251][4252]
Of the extreme verge: for all beneath the moon<sup>[4251][4253]</sup>
Would I not leap upright. [4251][4254]
Glou. Let go my hand.
Here, friend, 's another purse; in it a jewel
Well worth a poor man's taking: fairies and gods<sup>[4255]</sup>
Prosper it with thee! Go thou farther off; [4256]
Bid me farewell, and let me hear thee going.
Edg. Now fare you well good sir.[4257]
Glou. With all my heart.
Edg. Why I do trifle thus with his despair<sup>[4258]</sup>
Is done to cure it.[4258]
Glou. [Kneeling] O you mighty gods! [4259]
This world I do renounce, and in your sights
Shake patiently my great affliction off:
If I could bear it longer and not fall
To quarrel with your great opposeless wills,
My snuff and loathed part of nature should [4260]
Burn itself out. If Edgar live, O bless him! [4261]
Now, fellow, fare thee well.
                                                                 [He falls forward.
                                                                              [4262]
Edg. Gone, sir: farewell.[4263][4264]
And yet I know not how conceit may rob[4263][4265][4266]

:5	Yields to the theft: had he been where he thought [4263][4265] By this had thought been past. Alive or dead?[4263][4265][4268] Ho, you sir! friend! Hear you, sir! speak![4263][4269] Thus might he pass indeed: yet he revives.[4263][4270] What are you, sir?[4263]
	Glou. Away, and let me die.
,0	Edg. Hadst thou been aught but gossamer, feathers, air, [4271] So many fathom down precipitating, Thou'dst shiver'd like an egg: but thou dost breathe; [4272] Hast heavy substance; bleed'st not; speak'st; art sound. [4273] Ten masts at each make not the altitude [4274] Which thou hast perpendicularly fell: [4275] Thy life's a miracle. Speak yet again.
	Glou. But have I fall'n, or no? ^[4276]
	Edg. From the dread summit of this chalky bourn. ^[4277] Look up a-height; the shrill-gorged lark so far ^[4278] Cannot be seen or heard: do but look up. ^[4279]
60	Glou. Alack, I have no eyes. Is wretchedness deprived that benefit, To end itself by death? 'Twas yet some comfort, [4280] When misery could beguile the tyrant's rage And frustrate his proud will.
i5	Edg. Give me your arm: ^[4281] Up: so. How is't? Feel you your legs? You stand. ^[4282]
	Glou. Too well, too well.
	Edg. This is above all strangeness. Upon the crown o' the cliff, what thing was that [4283] Which parted from you?
	Glou. A poor unfortunate beggar. [4284]
0	Edg. As I stood here below, methought his eyes ^[4285] Were two full moons; he had a thousand noses, ^[4286] Horns whelk'd and waved like the enridged sea: ^[4287] It was some fiend; therefore, thou happy father, Think that the clearest gods, who make them honours ^[4288] Of men's impossibilities, have preserved thee.
'5	Glou. I do remember now: henceforth I'll bear Affliction till it do cry out itself 'Enough, enough,' and die. That thing you speak of, ^[4289] I took it for a man; often 'twould say ^[4290] 'The fiend, the fiend:' he led me to that place. ^[4291]
10	Edg. Bear free and patient thoughts. But who comes here?
	Enter Lear, fantastically dressed with wild flowers. [4292]
	The safer sense will ne'er accommodate $[4293][4294][4295]$ His master thus. $[4294]$
	Lear. No, they cannot touch me for coining; I am the $^{[4296]}$ king himself.
15	Edg. O thou side-piercing sight! ^[4297]
	Lear. Nature's above art in that respect. There's your ^[4298] press-money. That fellow handles his bow like a crow-keeper: ^[4299] draw me a clothier's yard. Look, look, a mouse! ^[4299] Peace, peace; this piece of toasted cheese will do 't. ^[4300]

                        Lear. Pass.
                        Glou. I know that voice.
                        Lear. Ha! Goneril, with a white beard! They flattered<sup>[4304]</sup> me like a dog, and told me I had white hairs in mv<sup>[4305]</sup>

                        Lear. Ay, every inch a king:[4312][4313]
                        When I do stare, see how the subject quakes. [4312][4314]
                        I pardon that man's life. What was thy cause?[4312][4315][4316]

                        And my heart breaks at it.[4343]
                        Lear. Read.
                        Glou. What, with the case of eyes?<sup>[4344]</sup>

Lear. O, ho, are you there with me? No eyes in your head, nor no money in your purse? Your eyes are in a[4345][4346] 45 heavy case, your purse in a light: yet you see how this [4345][4347] world goes.[4348] Glou. I see it feelingly. Lear. What, art mad? A man may see how this world^[4349] goes with no eyes. Look with thine ears: see how yond [4350][4351] justice rails upon yond simple thief. Hark, in thine ear:[4351][4352] 50 change places, and, handy-dandy, which is the justice, which [4353][4354] is the thief? Thou hast seen a farmer's dog bark at a [4353] beggar? Glou. Ay, sir.[4355] 55 Lear. And the creature run from the cur? There thou mightst behold the great image of authority: a dog's obeyed^[4356] in office. Thou rascal beadle, hold thy bloody hand![4357] Why dost thou lash that whore? Strip thine own back; [4357][4358] 60 Thou hotly lust'st to use her in that $kind^{[4357][4359]}$ For which thou whip'st her. The usurer hangs the cozener. [4357][4360] Through tatter'd clothes small vices do appear; [4361][4362] Robes and furr'd gowns hide all. Plate sin with gold, [4361][4363][4364] And the strong lance of justice hurtless breaks; [4361][4364] Arm it in rags, a pigmy's straw does pierce it. [4361][4364][4365] 65 None does offend, none, I say, none; I'll able 'em:[4361][4364][4366] Take that of me, my friend, who have the power^{[4361][4364]} To seal the accuser's lips. Get thee glass eyes, [4361][4364] And, like a scurvy politician, seem^[4361] 70 To see the things thou dost not. [4361] Now, now, now, now: pull off my boots: harder, harder: [4367][4368] so.[4368] Edg. O, matter and impertinency mix'd![4369][4370] Reason in madness![4369] Lear. If thou wilt weep my fortunes, take my eyes.[4371][4372] 75 I know thee well enough; thy name is Gloucester: [4371] Thou must be patient; we came crying hither: [4371] Thou know'st, the first time that we smell the air, [4371][4373]We wawl and cry. I will preach to thee: mark. [4371][4374] 80 Glou. Alack, alack the day![4371] Lear. When we are born, we cry that we are come^[4371] To this great stage of fools. [4371] Enter a Gentleman, with Attendants. [4379] Gent. O, here he is: lay hand upon him. Sir,[4371][4380] Your most dear daughter—[4371][4381] Lear. No rescue? What, a prisoner? I am even^{[4371][4382]} 90 The natural fool of fortune. Use me well;[4371] You shall have ransom. Let me have a surgeon; [4371][4383] I am cut to the brains.[4371][4384]Gent. You shall have any thing. [4371] Lear. No seconds? all myself?[4371]

	Gent. You are a royal one, and we obey you. ^[4371]
	Lear. Then there's life in't. Nay, if you get it, you ^{[4371][4389]} shall get it by running. Sa, sa, sa, sa. ^{[4371][4389]}	9][4390]

:05	Gent. A sight most pitiful in the meanest wretch, [4371] Past speaking of in a king! Thou hast one daughter, [4371][4] Who redeems nature from the general curse [4371] Which twain have brought her to. [4371][4393]	1392]
	Edg. Hail, gentle sir.
	Gent. Sir, speed you: what's your will?
	Edg. Do you hear aught, sir, of a battle toward?[4394]
10	Gent. Most sure and vulgar: every one hears that, [4395][4395] Which can distinguish sound. [4395][4397]	96]
	Edg. But, by your favour, [4398] How near's the other army? [4398][4399]
	Gent. Near and on speedy foot; the main descry ^[4400] Stands on the hourly thought.
	Edg. I thank you, sir: that's all. [4401]
15	Gent. Though that the queen on special cause is here, Her army is moved on.
	Edg. I thank you, sir.	[Exit Gent. [4402]
	Glou. You ever-gentle gods, take my breath from me; [4403] Let not my worser spirit tempt me again To die before you please!]
	Edg. Well pray you, father.[4404]
20	Glou. Now, good sir, what are you?
	Edg. A most poor man, made tame to fortune's blows; [4405] Who, by the art of known and feeling sorrows, [4406] Am pregnant to good pity. Give me your hand, I'll lead you to some biding.	5]

	Osw. A proclaim'd prize! Most happy! [4410][4411] That eyeless head of thine was first framed flesh [4410][4412] To raise my fortunes. Thou old unhappy traitor, [4410][4413] Briefly thyself remember: the sword is out [4410] That must destroy thee. [4410]	2]
:30	Glou. Now let thy friendly hand ^{[4410][4414]}
	Put strength enough to't.	[Edgar interposes.

	Osw. Wherefore, bold peasant, ^[4410] Darest thou support a publish'd traitor? Hence! ^{[4410][441} Lest that the infection of his fortune take ^{[4410][4417]}	[4410][4415] 6]
	Like hold on thee. Let go his arm. ^[4410]
:35	Edg. Chill not let go, zir, without vurther 'casion.[4418]
	Osw. Let go, slave, or thou diest!
40	Edg. Good gentleman, go your gait, and let poor volk [441] pass. An chud ha' been zwaggered out of my life, 'twould not ha' been zo long as 'tis by a vortnight. Nay, come not near th' old man; keep out, che vor ye, or I'se try whethe your costard or my ballow be the harder: chill be plain [44] with you.	_[[4420] _[4421] _[^{[4422}]
	Osw. Out, dunghill!	[They fight. ^[4424]
45	$\it Edg.$ Chill pick your teeth, zir: come; no matter vor [4425] your foins.	[Oswald falls. ^[4426]
	Osw. Slave, thou hast slain me. Villain, take my purse: If ever thou wilt thrive, bury my body; And give the letters which thou find'st about me ^[4427] To Edmund earl of Gloucester; seek him out ^[4428]
:50	Upon the British party. O, untimely death! [4428][4429][443 Death!	0] [Dies. ^{[4430][4431]}
	Edg. I know thee well: a serviceable villain, As duteous to the vices of thy mistress $[4432]$ As badness would desire.	•
	Glou. What, is he dead?
:55	Edg. Sit you down, father; rest you. [4433][4434][4435] Let's see these pockets: the letters that he speaks of [4433] May be my friends. He's dead; I am only sorry [4433][4437] He had no other deathsman. Let us see: [4433][4437]	[4438]
60	Leave, gentle wax; and, manners, blame us not: [4433][443] To know our enemies' minds, we'ld rip their hearts; [4440] Their papers, is more lawful. [4442]	[[4441]
	[Reads] 'Let our reciprocal vows be remembered. You ^[44] have many opportunities to cut him off: if your will want not, time and place will be fruitfully offered. There is ^[444]	[4444]

70	'Your—wife, so I would say—affectionate servant, [4	.449]
	O undistinguish'd space of woman's will! ^[4450] A plot upon her virtuous husband's life; And the exchange my brother! Here, in the sands, ^[4451]
;75	Thee I'll rake up, the post unsanctified ^[4452] Of murderous lechers; and in the mature time ^[4453] With this ungracious paper strike the sight Of the death-practised duke: for him 'tis well ^[4454] That of thy death and business I can tell. ^[4455]
:80	Glou. The king is mad: how stiff is my vile sense, [4456] That I stand up, and have ingenious feeling Of my huge sorrows! Better I were distract: So should my thoughts be sever'd from my griefs, [4457] And woes by wrong imaginations lose [4458]
	The knowledge of themselves. Edg. Give me your hand:[284, 285]	[Drum afar off. ^[4459]

Scene VII. A tent in the French camp. Lear on a bed asleep, soft music playing; Gentleman, and others attending.

Enter Cordelia, Kent, and Doctor.[4462]

Cor. O thou good Kent, how shall I live and work, [4463] To match thy goodness? My life will be too short, [4463][4464] And every measure fail me. [4463]

Kent. To be acknowledged, madam, is o'erpaid.^[4465] All my reports go with the modest truth, Nor more nor clipp'd, but so.

Cor. Be better suited:^[4466] These weeds are memories of those worser hours:^[4466] I prithee, put them off.^[4466]

Kent. Pardon me, dear madam; [4467] Yet to be known shortens my made intent: [4468] My boon I make it, that you know me not Till time and I think meet.

Cor. Then be't so, my good lord. [To the Doctor]
How does the king?[4469]

Doct. Madam, sleeps still. [4470][4471]

Cor. O you kind gods, [4472][4473]
Cure this great breach in his abused nature! [4473]
The untuned and jarring senses, O, wind up [4474]
Of this child-changed father!

Doct. So please your majesty[4470][4475][4476] That we may wake the king: he hath slept long.[4476][4477]

Cor. Be govern'd by your knowledge, and proceed I' the sway of your own will. Is he array'd?^[4478]

Gent. Ay, madam; in the heaviness of his sleep^[4479] We put fresh garments on him.

Doct. Be by, good madam, when we do awake him;^[4480] I doubt not of his temperance.^[4481]

Cor. Very well. [4482]

Doct. Please you, draw near. Louder the music there![4482]

Cor. O my dear father! Restoration hang^{[4483][4484]} Thy medicine on my lips, and let this kiss^{[4483][4485]} Repair those violent harms that my two sisters^[4483] Have in thy reverence made!^[4483]

Kent. Kind and dear princess![4486]

Cor. Had you not been their father, these white flakes^[4487]
Had challenged pity of them. Was this a face^[4488]
To be opposed against the warring winds?^[4489]
To stand against the deep dread-bolted thunder?^{[4490][4491]}
In the most terrible and nimble stroke^[4490]
Of quick, cross lightning? to watch—poor perdu!—^{[4490][4492]}
With this thin helm? Mine enemy's dog,^{[4490][4493][4494][4495]}
Though he had bit me, should have stood that night^[4494]
Against my fire; and wast thou fain, poor father,^[4494]
To hovel thee with swine and rogues forlorn,

:0
                       In short and musty straw? Alack, alack![4496]
                       'Tis wonder that thy life and wits at once<sup>[4497]</sup>
                       Had not concluded all. He wakes; speak to him.[4498]
                       Doct. Madam, do you; 'tis fittest.[4499]
                       Cor. How does my royal lord? How fares your majesty?[4500]
:5
                       Lear. You do me wrong to take me out o' the grave: [4501]
                       Thou art a soul in bliss; but I am bound
                       Upon a wheel of fire, that mine own tears
                       Do scald like molten lead.
                       Cor. Sir, do you know me?[4502]
                       Lear. You are a spirit, I know: when did you die?[4503]
                       Cor. Still, still, far wide!
0
                       Doct. He's scarce awake: let him alone awhile. [4504]
                       Lear. Where have I been? Where am I? Fair daylight?[4504]
                       I am mightily abused. I should e'en die with pity,[4505]
                       To see another thus. I know not what to say.[4506]
                       I will not swear these are my hands: let's see;
                       I feel this pin prick. Would I were assured<sup>[4507]</sup>
                       Of my condition![4507]
                       Cor. O, look upon me, sir, [4508][4509]
                       And hold your hands in benediction o'er me. [4508][4510]
                       No, sir, you must not kneel. [4508]
                       Lear. Pray, do not mock me:[4511]
0
                       I am a very foolish fond old man,
                       Fourscore and upward, not an hour more nor less;[4512]
                       And, to deal plainly, [4513]
                       I fear I am not in my perfect mind. [4514]
                       Methinks I should know you and know this man;
                       Yet I am doubtful; for I am mainly ignorant<sup>[4515]</sup>
5
                       What place this is, and all the skill I have Remembers not these garments, nor I know not<sup>[4516]</sup>
                       Where I did lodge last night. Do not laugh at me;[4517]
                       For, as I am a man, I think this lady
                       To be my child Cordelia.
                       Cor. And so I am. I am. [4518]
0
                       Lear. Be your tears wet? yes, faith. I pray, weep not:[4519]
                       If you have poison for me, I will drink it.
                       I know you do not love me; for your sisters
                       Have, as I do remember, done me wrong:[4520]
                       You have some cause, they have not.[4521]
                       Cor. No cause, no cause.
'5
                       Lear. Am I in France?
                       Kent. In your own kingdom, sir.
                       Lear. Do not abuse me. [4522]
                       Doct. Be comforted, good madam: the great rage, [4523]
                       You see, is kill'd in him: and yet it is danger^{[4523][4524][4525][4526]}
                       To make him even o'er the time he has lost. [4523][4525][4527]

                       Till further settling.[4523]
                       Cor. Will't please your highness walk?<sup>[4529]</sup>
                       Lear. You must bear with me. Pray you now, forget [4530]

[Exeunt all but Kent and Gentleman.[4531]

Gent. Holds it true, sir, that the Duke of Cornwall $^{[4532][4533][4534]}$ was so slain? $^{[4532][4533]}$

Kent. Most certain, sir. [4532][4533]

Gent. Who is conductor of his people?^{[4532][4533]}

Kent. As 'tis said, the bastard son of Gloucester. [4532][4533][4535]

Gent. They say Edgar, his banished son, is with the [4532][4533] Earl of Kent in Germany. [4532][4533][4536]

Kent. Report is changeable. 'Tis time to look about; [4532][4536][4537] the powers of the kingdom approach apace. [4532][4536][4537]

Gent. The arbitrement is like to be bloody. Fare you $^{[4532][4536][4537][4538]}$ well, sir. $[Exit.^{[4532][4536]}]$

Kent. My point and period will be throughly wrought, [4532] Or well or ill, as this day's battle's fought.

[Exit.^[4532][4540]

ACT V.

Scene I. The British camp near Dover.

Enter, with drum and colours, Edmund, Regan, Gentlemen, and Soldiers.[4541]

Edm. Know of the duke if his last purpose hold, Or whether since he is advised by aught To change the course: he's full of alteration^[4542] And self-reproving: bring his constant pleasure.

[To a Gentleman, who goes out.[4543]

Reg. Our sister's man is certainly miscarried.

Edm. 'Tis to be doubted, madam.

Reg. Now, sweet lord, You know the goodness I intend upon you: Tell me, but truly, but then speak the truth,^[4544] Do you not love my sister?

Edm. In honour'd love. [4545]

Reg. But have you never found my brother's way^[4546] To the forfended place?^[4546]

Edm. That thought abuses you. [4546][4547]

Reg. I am doubtful that you have been conjunct [4546][4547][4548] And bosom'd with her, as far as we call hers. [4546][4547][4548]

Edm. No, by mine honour, madam. [4546][4549]

Reg. I never shall endure her: dear my lord, [4550] Be not familiar with her. [4550]

Edm. Fear me not.—[4551][4552]She and the duke her husband![4551]

Enter, with drum and colours, Albany, Goneril, and Soldiers. [4553]

Gon. [Aside] I had rather lose the battle than that sister $^{[4554][4555]}$ Should loosen him and me. $^{[4554][4556]}$

Alb. Our very loving sister, well be-met.^[4557]
Sir, this I hear; the king is come to his daughter,^[4558]
With others whom the rigour of our state
Forced to cry out. Where I could not be honest,^[4559]
I never yet was valiant: for this business,^{[4559][4560]}

It toucheth us, as France invades our land, [4559]

Not bolds the king, with others, whom, I fear, [4559][4561]

Most just and heavy causes make oppose.[4559]

Edm. Sir, you speak nobly. [4559][4562]

Reg. Why is this reason'd?

Gon. Combine together 'gainst the enemy; For these domestic and particular broils^[4563]

Are not the question here. [4564]

Alb. Let's then determine $[^{4565}]$ With the ancient of war on our proceedings. $[^{4565}][^{4566}]$

Edm. I shall attend you presently at your tent.[4567]
Reg. Sister, you'll go with us?
Gon. No.
Reg. 'Tis most convenient; pray you, go with us. [4568]
Gon. [Aside] O, ho, I know the riddle.—I will go.
            As they are going out, enter Edgar disquised. [4569]
Edg. If e'er your grace had speech with man so poor, [4570]
Hear me one word.
Alb. I'll overtake you. Speak.
                                         [Exeunt all but Albany and Edgar. [4571]
Edg. Before you fight the battle, ope this letter.
If you have victory, let the trumpet sound
For him that brought it: wretched though I seem.<sup>[4572]</sup>
I can produce a champion that will prove
What is avouched there. If you miscarry,
Your business of the world hath so an end,
And machination ceases. Fortune love you![4573]
Alb. Stay till I have read the letter. [4574]
Edg. I was forbid it.[4575]
When time shall serve, let but the herald cry, [4575]
And I'll appear again. [4575]
Alb. Why, fare thee well: I will o'erlook thy paper.
                                                                      [Exit Edgar.
                           Re-enter Edmund. [4576]
Edm. The enemy's in view: draw up your powers. [4577]
Here is the guess of their true strength and forces<sup>[4578]</sup>
By diligent discovery; but your haste<sup>[4579][4580]</sup>
Is now urged on you.[4579]
                                                                        [Exit.[4581]
Alb. We will greet the time.
Edm. To both these sisters have I sworn my love; [4582]
Each jealous of the other, as the stung<sup>[4583][4584]</sup>
Are of the adder. Which of them shall I take? [4583]
Both? one? or neither? Neither can be enjoy'd, [4583][4585]
If both remain alive: to take the widow
Exasperates, makes mad her sister Goneril;
And hardly shall I carry out my side, [4586]
Her husband being alive. Now then we'll use
His countenance for the battle; which being done,
Let her who would be rid of him devise<sup>[4587]</sup>
His speedy taking off. As for the mercy<sup>[4588]</sup>
Which he intends to Lear and to Cordelia, [4589]
The battle done, and they within our power,
Shall never see his pardon; for my state<sup>[4590]</sup>
Stands on me to defend, not to debate.
                                                                              [Exit.

Alarum within. Enter, with drum and colours, Lear, Cordelia, and Soldiers, over the stage; and exeunt.

Enter Edgar and Gloucester. [4591]

Edg. Here, father, take the shadow of this tree^[4592] For your good host; pray that the right may thrive: If ever I return to you again,^[4593]

I'll bring you comfort.<sup>[4593]</sup>
Glou. Grace go with you, sir!
                                                                      [Exit Edgar.
              Alarum and retreat within. Re-enter Edgar. [4594]
Edg. Away, old man; give me thy hand; away!
King Lear hath lost, he and his daughter ta'en:
Give me thy hand; come on.
Glou. No farther, sir; a man may rot even here. [4595]
Edg. What, in ill thoughts again? Men must endure<sup>[4596]</sup>
Their going hence, even as their coming hither:
Ripeness is all: come on.
                                                                    [Exeunt.[4597]
Glou. And that's true too.
              Scene III. The British camp near Dover.
       Enter, in conquest, with drum and colours, Edmund; Lear and Cordelia, as prisoners; Captain, Soldiers, &c. [4598]
Edm. Some officers take them away: good guard,
Until their greater pleasures first be known<sup>[4599]</sup>
That are to censure them.
Cor. We are not the first [4600][4601]
Who with best meaning have incurr'd the worst. [4600]
For thee, oppressed king, am I cast down; [4600][4602]
Myself could else out-frown false fortune's frown. [4603]
Shall we not see these daughters and these sisters?
Lear. No, no, no, no! Come, let's away to prison:[4604]
We two alone will sing like birds i' the cage:
When thou dost ask me blessing, I'll kneel down
And ask of thee forgiveness: so we'll live,
And pray, and sing, and tell old tales, and laugh[4605]
At gilded butterflies, and hear poor rogues
Talk of court news; and we'll talk with them too, [4606]
Who loses and who wins, who's in, who's out: [4607]
And take upon's the mystery of things,
As if we were God's spies: and we'll wear out,
In a wall'd prison, packs and sects of great ones<sup>[4608]</sup>
That ebb and flow by the moon.
Edm. Take them away.
Lear. Upon such sacrifices, my Cordelia,
The gods themselves throw incense. Have I caught thee? [4609]
He that parts us shall bring a brand from heaven,
And fire us hence like foxes. Wipe thine eyes: [4610]
The good-years shall devour them, flesh and fell, [4611][4612]
Ere they shall make us weep: we'll see 'em starve first. [4612][4613]
Come.
                                                                [Exeunt Lear and
                                                                         Cordelia.
Edm. Come hither, captain; hark. [4615] guarded.[4613]
Take thou this note: go follow them to prison:[4616]
                                                                             [4614]
One step I have advanced thee; if thou dost^{[4617][4618]}
As this instructs thee, thou dost make thy way<sup>[4618]</sup>
To noble fortunes: know thou this, that men<sup>[4618]</sup>
Are as the time is: to be tender-minded [4618][4619]
Does not become a sword: thy great employment<sup>[4618][4620]</sup>
Will not bear question; either say thou'lt do 't,[4618][4621]
Or thrive by other means.<sup>[4618]</sup>
Capt. I'll do 't, my lord.

Edm. About it; and write happy when thou hast done. [4622]

Mark; I say, instantly, and carry it so^[4623]

Capt. I cannot draw a cart, nor eat dried oats; [4624] [Exit.[4624] Flourish. Enter Albany, Goneril, Regan, another Captain, and Soldiers.[4625] Alb. Sir, you have shown to-day your valiant strain, [4626] And fortune led you well: you have the captives [4627] That were the opposites of this day's strife: [4628] We do require them of you, so to use them^[4629] As we shall find their merits and our safety To send the old and miserable $kinq^{[4631][4632]}$ To some retention and appointed guard; [4631][4633] Whose age has charms in it, whose title more, [4634] To pluck the common bosom on his side. [4635] And turn our impress'd lances in our eyes Which do command them. With him I sent the queen:[4636] My reason all the same; and they are ready^{[4636][4637]} To-morrow or at further space to appear [4637][4638] Where you shall hold your session. At this $time^{[4637][4639][4640][4641]}$ We sweat and bleed: the friend hath lost his friend;[4640][4641]And the best quarrels, in the heat, are cursed^[4641] By those that feel their sharpness.[4641][4642] The question of Cordelia and her father [4641] I hold you but a subject of this war, [4643] Reg. That's as we list to grace him. Methinks our pleasure might have been demanded, [4644] Ere you had spoke so far. He led our powers, Bore the commission of my place and person; The which immediacy may well stand up^[4645] In his own grace he doth exalt himself^[4646] More than in your addition.[4646][4647] By me invested, he compeers the best. [4649] Gon. That were the most, if he should husband you. [4650] Reg. Jesters do oft prove prophets. That eye that told you so look'd but a-squint. [4652][4653] Reg. Lady, I am not well; else I should answer From a full-flowing stomach. General, Take thou my soldiers, prisoners, patrimony; Dispose of them, of me; the walls are thine: [4654] Witness the world, that I create thee here Gon. Mean you to enjoy him?[4655] Alb. The let-alone lies not in your good will. [4656] Edm. Nor in thine, lord. Alb. Half-blooded fellow, yes.

Reg. [To Edmund] Let the drum strike, and prove my title thine. [4657]
Alb. Stay yet; hear reason. Edmund, I arrest thee [4658]
On capital treason; and in thine attaint<sup>[4659]</sup>
This gilded serpent [pointing to Gon.]. For your claim, fair sister, [4660]
I bar it in the interest of my wife: [4661]
'Tis she is sub-contracted to this lord, [4662]
And I, her husband, contradict your bans.[4663]
If you will marry, make your loves to me; [4664]
My lady is bespoke.
Gon. An interlude! [4665]
Alb. Thou art arm'd, Gloucester: let the trumpet sound: [4665][4666]
If none appear to prove upon thy person<sup>[4667]</sup>
Thy heinous, manifest, and many treasons,
There is my pledge [throwing down a glove]: I'll prove it on thy heart, [4668]
Ere I taste bread, thou art in nothing less
Than I have here proclaim'd thee.
Reg. Sick, O, sick!
Gon. [Aside] If not, I'll ne'er trust medicine. [4670]
Edm. [Throwing down a glove] There's my exchange: what in the world he is[4668][4671]
That names me traitor, villain-like he lies:
Call by thy trumpet: he that dares approach, [4672]
On him, on you,—who not?—I will maintain<sup>[4673]</sup>
My truth and honour firmly.
Alb. A herald, ho!
Edm. A herald, ho, a herald![4674]
Alb. Trust to thy single virtue; for thy soldiers, [4675]
All levied in my name, have in my name<sup>[4676]</sup>
Took their discharge. [4676][4677]
Reg. My sickness grows upon me.
Alb. She is not well; convey her to my tent.
                                                                  [Exit Regan, led.
                            Enter a Herald.[4678]
Come hither, herald,—Let the trumpet sound,—[4679][4680]
And read out this.<sup>[4679]</sup>
Capt. Sound, trumpet!

Earl of Gloucester, that he is a manifold traitor, let him<sup>[4684]</sup> his defence.'

Edm. Sound!
                                                              [First trumpet.[4686]
Her. Again!

                                                        [Trumpet answers within.
      Enter Edgar, at the third sound, armed, with a trumpet before

                      Her. What are you?[4689]
                      Your name, your quality? and why you answer<sup>[4689][4690]</sup>
                      This present summons?[4689]
                      Edg. Know, my name is lost; [4691][4692][4693]
                      By treason's tooth bare-gnawn and canker-bit:[4692][4693]
                      Yet am I noble as the adversary [4692][4694]
                      I come to cope. [4692][4695]
25
                      Alb. Which is that adversary?
                      Edg. What's he that speaks for Edmund, Earl of Gloucester?
                      Edm. Himself: what say'st thou to him?
                      Edg. Draw thy sword,
                      That if my speech offend a noble heart, [4696]
                      Thy arm may do thee justice: here is mine. [4696][4697]
30
                      Behold, it is the privilege of mine honours, [4698]
                      My oath, and my profession: I protest,
                      Maugre thy strength, youth, place and eminence, [4699]
                      Despite thy victor sword and fire-new fortune.[4700]
                      Thy valour and thy heart, thou art a traitor, 35
                      False to thy gods, thy brother and thy father, [4701]
                      Conspirant 'gainst this high illustrious prince, [4702]
                      And from the extremest upward of thy head
                      To the descent and dust below thy foot. [4703]
                      A most toad-spotted traitor. Say thou 'No,'
                      This sword, this arm and my best spirits are bent^{[4704][4705]}
40
                      To prove upon thy heart, whereto I speak, [4704]
                      Thou liest.[4704]
                      Edm. In wisdom I should ask thy name, [4706]
                      But since thy outside looks so fair and warlike
                      And that thy tongue some say of breeding breathes, [4707]
45
                      What safe and nicely I might well delay<sup>[4708]</sup>
                      By rule of knighthood, I disdain and spurn: [4709]
                      Back do I toss these treasons to thy head; [4710]
                      With the hell-hated lie o'erwhelm thy heart; [4711]
                      Which for they yet glance by and scarcely bruise, [4712]
                      This sword of mine shall give them instant way,
50
                      Where they shall rest for ever. Trumpets, speak!
                                                             [Alarums. They fight. Edmund falls. [4713]
                      Alb. Save him, save him![4714]
                      Gon. This is practice, Gloucester:[4715][4716]
                      By the law of arms thou wast not bound to answer[4715][4717]
                      An unknown opposite; thou art not vanquish'd, [4715]
                      But cozen'd and beguiled.[4715]
55
                      Alb. Shut your mouth, dame, [4718][4719]
                      Or with this paper shall I stop it. Hold, sir; [4718][4720]
                      Thou worse than any name, read thine own evil. [4718][4721]
                      No tearing, lady; I perceive you know it. [4718][4722]
                      Gon. Say, if I do, the laws are mine, not thine:[4723]
                      Who can arraign me for't?[4723][4724]
60
                      Alb. Most monstrous![4725]
                      Know'st thou this paper?[4725]
                                                                                             [Exit.[4726]
                      Gon. Ask me not what I know.
                      Alb. Go after her: she's desperate; govern her. [4727]
                      Edm. What you have charged me with, that have I done; [4728]

65	And more, much more; the time will bring it out: 'Tis past, and so am I. But what art thou ^[4729] That hast this fortune on me? If thou'rt noble, ^{[4729][4730]} I do forgive thee. ^[4729]
	Edg. Let's exchange charity. ^[4731] I am no less in blood than thou art, Edmund;
70	If more, the more thou hast wrong'd me. ^[4732] My name is Edgar, and thy father's son. The gods are just, and of our pleasant vices ^[4733] Make instruments to plague us: ^{[4734][4735]}

75	Edm. Thou hast spoken right, 'tis true; [4737][4738] The wheel is come full circle; I am here. [4737][4739]
	Alb. Methought thy very gait did prophesy ^[4740] A royal nobleness: I must embrace thee: Let sorrow split my heart, if ever I ^[4741] Did hate thee or thy father! ^[4741]
	Edg. Worthy prince, I know't.[4742]
80	Alb. Where have you hid yourself? ^[4743] How have you known the miseries of your father? ^{[4743][4744]}
	Edg. By nursing them, my lord. List a brief tale; [4745] And when 'tis told, O, that my heart would burst! [4745][4746] The bloody proclamation to escape [4745][4746]
85	That follow'd me so near,—O, our lives' sweetness! [4745][4747] That we the pain of death would hourly die [4745][4748] Rather than die at once!—taught me to shift [4745] Into a madman's rags, to assume a semblance [4745]
90	That very dogs disdain'd: and in this habit ^{[4745][4749]} Met I my father with his bleeding rings, ^[4745] Their precious stones new lost; became his guide, ^[4750] Led him, begg'd for him, sayed him from despair.
	Led him, begg'd for him, saved him from despair; Never—O fault!—reveal'd myself unto him, [4751]
95	Until some half-hour past, when I was arm'd; [4752] Not sure, though hoping, of this good success, I ask'd his blessing, and from first to last
	Told him my pilgrimage: but his flaw'd heart,— $[4753][4754]$ Alack, too weak the conflict to support!— $[4754]$ 'Twixt two extremes of passion, joy and grief, $[4754][4755]$
	Burst smilingly. ^[4756]
:00	Edm. This speech of yours hath moved me, And shall perchance do good: but speak you on; You look as you had something more to say.
	Alb. If there be more, more woful, hold it in; ^[4757] For I am almost ready to dissolve, Hearing of this. ^[4758]
:05	Edg. This would have seem'd a period ^{[4759][4760][4761][4762]} To such as love not sorrow; but another, ^{[4759][4760][4762][4763][4764]} To amplify too much, would make much more, ^{[4759][4760][4762][4764][4765]} And top extremity. ^{[4759][4760]}
:10	Whilst I was big in clamour, came there in a man, [4759][4766] Who, having seen me in my worst estate, [4759][4767] Shunn'd my abhorr'd society; but then, finding [4759][4768]
	Who 'twas that so endured, with his strong arms ^[4759] [4769] He fasten'd on my neck, and bellow'd out ^[4759] [4770]
15	As he'ld burst heaven; threw him on my father; [4759][4771] Told the most piteous tale of Lear and him [4759][4772]

That ever ear received: which in recounting<sup>[4759]</sup>
His grief grew puissant, and the strings of life [4759][4773]
Began to crack: twice then the trumpets sounded.[4759][4774]
And there I left him tranced. [4759]
Alb. But who was this?[4759]
Edg. Kent, sir, the banish'd Kent; who in disguise<sup>[4759]</sup>
Follow'd his enemy king, and did him service<sup>[4759][4775]</sup>
Improper for a slave.<sup>[4759]</sup>
                Enter a Gentleman, with a bloody knife. [4776]
Gent. Help, help, O, help![4777][4778]
Edg. What kind of help?[4779]
Alb. Speak, man.
Edg. What means this bloody knife?[4779]
Gent. 'Tis hot, it smokes; [4780][4781]
It came even from the heart of—O, she's dead![4781][4782]
Alb. Who dead? speak, man. [4783]
Gent. Your lady, sir, your lady: and her sister
By her is poisoned; she hath confess'd it. [4784]
Edm. I was contracted to them both: all three
Now marry in an instant.
Edq. Here comes Kent. [4785]
Alb. Produce the bodies, be they alive or dead.
                                                             [Exit Gentleman.[4786]
This judgement of the heavens, that makes us tremble. [4787]
Touches us not with pity.
                                  Enter Kent.
                                 O, is this he?<sup>[4788][4789]</sup>
The time will not allow the compliment<sup>[4789][4790]</sup>
Which very manners urges. [4789][4791]
Kent. I am come<sup>[4792][4793]</sup>
To bid my king and master ave good night: [4793]
Is he not here?
Alb. Great thing of us forgot![4794][4795][4796]
Speak, Edmund, where's the king? and where's Cordelia?[4795]
See'st thou this object, Kent?[4795]
                         [The bodies of Goneril and Regan are brought in. [4797]
Kent. Alack, why thus?
Edm. Yet Edmund was beloved: [4798]
The one the other poison'd for my sake, [4798][4799]
And after slew herself.[4798][4800]
Alb. Even so. Cover their faces.[4794]
Edm. I pant for life: some good I mean to do, [4801]
Despite of mine own nature. Quickly send, [4801][4802]
Be brief in it, to the castle; for my writ<sup>[4801][4803]</sup>
Is on the life of Lear and on Cordelia:[4801][4804]
Nay, send in time. [4801]

                       She's dead as earth. Lend me a looking-glass;
                       If that her breath will mist or stain the stone, [4815][4816]
                       Why, then she lives. [4815][4817]
                       Kent. Is this the promised end?
                       Edg. Or image of that horror?
                       Alb. Fall and cease. [4794][4818]
65
                       Lear. This feather stirs; she lives. If it be so, [4819]
                       It is a chance which does redeem all sorrows<sup>[4819][4820]</sup>

                       Edg. 'Tis noble Kent, your friend.
70
                       Lear. A plague upon you, murderers, traitors all![4822][4823]
                       I might have saved her; now she's gone for ever![4822]
                       Cordelia, Cordelia! stay a little. Ha![4822][4824]
                       What is't thou say'st? Her voice was ever soft, [4822][4825]
                       Gentle and low, an excellent thing in woman.[4822][4826]
:75
                       I kill'd the slave that was a-hanging thee. [4822]
                       Capt. 'Tis true, my lords, he did. [4827]
                       Lear. Did I not, fellow?[4828]
                       I have seen the day, with my good biting falchion<sup>[4828][4829]</sup>
                       I would have made them skip: I am old now,[4828][4830]
                       And these same crosses spoil me. Who are you?[4828]
80
                       Mine eyes are not o' the best: I'll tell you straight.[4828][4831]
                       Kent. If fortune brag of two she loved and hated,[4832]
                       One of them we behold. [4833]
                       Lear. This is a dull sight. Are you not Kent?<sup>[4834]</sup>
                       Kent. The same, [4835]
                       Your servant Kent. Where is your servant Caius?[4835]
85
                       Lear. He's a good fellow, I can tell you that; [4836]
```

He'll strike, and quickly too: he's dead and rotten. [4837]
Kent. No, my good lord; I am the very man—[4838]
Lear. I'll see that straight.
Kent. That from your first of difference and decay<sup>[4839]</sup>
Have follow'd your sad steps.
Lear. You are welcome hither. [4840]
Kent. Nor no man else: all's cheerless, dark and deadly. [4841]
Your eldest daughters have fordone themselves. [4842]
And desperately are dead.
Lear. Ay, so I think. [4843]
Alb. He knows not what he says, and vain is it^{[4794][4844]}
That we present us to him.
Edg. Very bootless.
                            Enter a Captain.[4845]
Capt. Edmund is dead, my lord. [4846]
Alb. That's but a trifle here. [4847][4848]
You lords and noble friends, know our intent.[4847]
What comfort to this great decay may come<sup>[4847][4849]</sup>
Shall be applied: for us, we will resign, [4847]
During the life of this old majesty, [4847]
To him our absolute power: [To Edgar and Kent] you, to your rights; [4847]
      [4850]
With boot, and such addition as your honours<sup>[4847][4851]</sup>
Have more than merited. All friends shall taste<sup>[4847][4852]</sup>
The wages of their virtue, and all foes<sup>[4852]</sup>
The cup of their deservings. O, see, see![4852][4853]
Lear. And my poor fool is hang'd! No, no, no life![4854][4855]
Why should a dog, a horse, a rat, have life, [4854][4856]
And thou no breath at all? Thou'lt come no more, [4854][4857]
Never, never, never, never, never![4854][4858]
Pray you, undo this button: thank you, sir. [4854][4859][4860]
Do you see this? Look on her, look, her lips, [4860][4861]
                                                                        [Dies.[4860]
Look there, look there!
Edg. He faints. My lord, my lord![4862]
Kent. Break, heart; I prithee, break!
Edg. Look up, my lord. [4863]
Kent. Vex not his ghost: O, let him pass! he hates him<sup>[4864][4865]</sup>
That would upon the rack of this tough world [4864][4866]
Stretch him out longer.[4864]
Edg. He is gone indeed.[4867]
Kent. The wonder is he hath endured so long:
He but usurp'd his life. [4868]
Alb. Bear them from hence. Our present business<sup>[4869]</sup>
Is general woe. [To Kent and Edgar] Friends of my soul, you twain [4870]
Rule in this realm and the gored state sustain.[4871]
Kent. I have a journey, sir, shortly to go; [4872]
My master calls me, I must not say no. [4872][4873]
Alb. The weight of this sad time we must obey, [4872][4874]

NOTES.

NOTE I.

ACT I. Scene 1. The acts and scenes are marked throughout in the Folios, but not in the Quartos.

NOTE II.

I. 1. 25, 26. There is a curious example of careless printing here in the third Quarto, which reads:

'Bast. No my Lord.

Glo. My services to your Lordship. unrable friend.

Kent. I must loue you &c.'

NOTE III.

I. 1. 36. 'and tis our fast intent.' 'This,' says Warburton, 'is an interpolation of Mr Lewis Theobald, for want of knowing the meaning of the old reading in the Quarto of 1608, and first folio of 1623; where we find it—and 'tis our FIRST intent, which is as Shakespear wrote it.' Warburton's error was corrected by Johnson.

NOTE IV.

I. 1. 80-84. The reading given in the text is that of the Folios, except as otherwise stated in the foot note. The first Quarto, which is followed, except in the spelling of a word or two, by the rest, has:

'but now our ioy, Although the last, not least in our deere loue, What can you say to win a third, more opulent Then your sisters.'

Pope reads:

'Now our joy,
Although our last, not least; to whose young love,
The vines of France, and milk of Burgundy,
Strive to be int'rest: what say you to draw
A third, more opulent than your sisters? speak.'

Capell:

'Now, our joy, Although the last, not least in our dear love, What can you say, to win a third more opulent Than your two sisters?'

Malone first gave the passage exactly as it stands in our text.

NOTE V.

I. 1. 114. This and other anonymous conjectures are found in MS. in an imperfect copy of the second Quarto of 1608, now in the British Museum (C. 34. k. 17). Besides those which we have quoted there are many others made by the MS. corrector which agree either with the other Quartos or with the Folios.

NOTE VI.

 $I.\ 1.\ 220.\ Hanmer,\ adopting\ Rowe's\ alteration,\ reads\ the\ whole\ passage\ thus:$

'Sure th' offence Must be of such unnatural degree, As monsters it; or your fore-voucht affection Could not fall into taint; which to believe Of her must be a faith reason without A miracle should never plant in me.'

The next lines he also alters thus:

'Cor. I yet beseech your Majesty, (if so

I want that glib and oily art, to speak And purpose not, since what I well intend, I'll do't before I speak) that you make known &c.'

NOTE VII.

I. 4. 225-228. In this passage Rowe followed the Folios. Pope introduced some of the lines of the Quartos, making verse of them thus:

'Lear's shadow? I would learn, for by the marks Of sovereignty, of knowledge, and of reason, I should be false persuaded I had daughters. Your name, fair gentlewoman?'

Theobald and Hanmer followed Pope. So did Warburton, except that in the second line he read 'Of sovereignty of knowledge, &c.' Johnson and Capell followed the Folios. Steevens in his edition of 1773 read as in the text, but in 1778 recurred to the reading of Pope: except that he transferred 'Lear's shadow?' to the end of the previous line, and for 'learn' read 'learn that.' Mr Dyce, in his first edition, arranged lines 225-228 thus:

'Lear. I would learn that; for by the marks of sovereignty, Knowledge, and reason, I should be false persuaded I had daughters.'

In his second edition he reads:

'Lear. I would learn that; for, by the marks of sovereignty, Knowledge, and reason, I should be false-persuaded I had daughters.'

Mr Staunton reads 'I would ... reason' as prose, and the next line as verse. He suggests that "possibly the meaning may be restored by simply omitting the comma after sovereignty, 'by the marks of sovereignty knowledge and reason,' i.e. of supreme or sovereign knowledge, &c." But his later conjecture is that for 'Of sovereignty, of knowledge' we should read 'Of sovereignly knowledge.' Mr Keightley, adopting some of the readings of the Quartos, arranges the whole passage as follows:

'Lear. Does any here know me?—Why, this is not Lear. Does Lear walk thus? speak thus? Where are his eyes? Either his notion weakens, or his discernings Are lethargied.—Sleeping or waking?—Ha! Sure 'tis not so.—Who is it that can tell me Who I am?

Fool. Lear's shadow,—

Lear. I would learn that; for by The marks of sovereignty, knowledge, and reason, I should be false persuaded I had daughters.'

Becket proposes:

'Who is it that can tell me who I am? Lear's shadow? I would learn that; for by the marks Of sov'reignty, I should be false persuaded.— Of knowledge and of reason I had daughters.'

NOTE VIII.

I. 4. 338. In the imperfect copy of Q_2 in the British Museum 'attaskt for' was the original reading, but the first two letters of the word have been erased. In II. 1. 123, 'lest,' the original reading, has been altered to 'best.'

NOTE IX.

II. 1. 76. We take this opportunity of stating that we have not thought it worth while, either in this play or in Hamlet, to notice the few inaccuracies which occur in Steevens's reprints.

NOTE X.

II. 2. 40. Mr Dyce first suggested that 'Part' was intended as a stage-direction.

NOTE XI.

II. 2. 136-142. The first Quarto, followed substantially by the others, reads here:

'His fault is much, and the good King his Master Will checke him for't; your purposd low correction Is such, as basest and temnest wretches for pilfrings And most common trespasses are punisht with, The King must take it ill, that hee's so slightly valued In his Messenger, should have him thus restrained.'

The Folios have only the following lines:

'The King his Master, needs must take it ill That he so slightly valued in his Messenger, Should haue him thus restrained.'

In the last line the fourth Folio reads 'this' for 'thus.' Rowe followed the Folios. Pope first introduced the lines from the Quartos, and gave the arrangement adopted in our text. In the third and the last lines he introduced readings which we have given in the foot notes. The passage was first given in Capell's edition as it actually stands in our text.

NOTE XII.

II. 2. 163. The first Quarto here reads:

'Of my obscured course, and shall finde time From this enormious state, seeking to giue Losses their remedies, all weary &c.'

The other Quartos differ only in spelling. The first Folio, followed substantially by the rest, has:

'Of my obscured course. And shall finde time From this enormous State, seeking to giue Losses their remedies. All weary &c.'

Rowe reads:

'Of my obscured course. I shall find time For this enormous State, and seek to give Losses their Remedies. All weary &c.'

Pope followed him, but restored 'From' in the second line, and this reading was silently adopted by Theobald and Warburton, and by Hanmer in his margin. Johnson thinks the passage very obscure if not corrupt. Jennens prints it as follows:

[Reading parts of the letter.

'Of my obscured course—and shall find time From this enormous state—seeking to give Losses their remedies.—All weary &c.'

Steevens (1773) gives as his own conjecture what Jennens had already published.

Singer (ed. 1) read thus:

'Of my obscured course; and shall find time From this enormous state,—seeking,—to give Losses their remedies:—All weary &c.'

Dr Delius adopts nearly the same punctuation:

'Of my obscured course; and shall find time From this enormous state,—seeking to give Losses their remedies—All weary &c.'

He supposes that Kent overcome with drowsiness leaves his sentences unfinished. Mr Bailey (On the Received Text of Shakespeare's Dramatic Writings, &c. II. 91) proposes to read:

'and shall find balm For this enormous state, seeking to give Losses their remedies &c.'

NOTE XIII.

III. 1. 53-55. The first Folio, followed substantially by the rest, reads thus:

'That when we have found the King, in which your pain That way, Ile this: He that first lights on him, Holla the other.'

The Quartos thus:

'That when we have found the King, Ile this way, you that, he that first lights On him, hollow the other.'

Pope:

'That, when we have found the King, (in which you take That way, I this:) he that first lights on him, Hollow the other.'

Hanmer follows Pope, reading however 'for which' instead of 'in which' in the first line. Steevens, in his edition of 1773, reads with the Quartos, adopting the following strange punctuation, and dividing the lines thus:

'That when we have found the King. I'll this way, You that: he that first lights on him, Halloo the other.'

NOTE XIV.

III. 2. 2. Both Capell and Jennens agree in giving 'Your' as the reading of the Quartos in this line for 'You,' but Capell's own copies and all others that we have seen read 'You.'

NOTE XV.

III. 4. 112, 113. In the imperfect copy of the second Quarto in the British Museum, it is impossible to say whether the reading was & the pin-queues or the pin-queues, on account of an erasure by which it is made he pin-queues. Jennens quotes it as the pin-queues, and this is the reading of the copy in the Bodleian Library which we have called 'Bodl. 1.'

NOTE XVI.

III. 6. 101-114. Every editor from Theobald downwards, except Hanmer, has reprinted this speech from the Quartos. In deference to this consensus of authority we have retained it, though, as it seems to us, internal evidence is conclusive against the supposition that the lines were written by Shakespeare.

NOTE XVII.

IV. 1. 12. These conjectures of Hanmer's are derived from a letter of his to Warburton, still unpublished, which is now in the British Museum (Egerton, 1957).

NOTE XVIII.

IV. 6. 196-200. The first Quarto has in this passage:

'... water-pottes, I and laying Autumnes dust.

Gent. Good Sir.

Lear. I will dye brauely like a Bridegroome. What, I will bee iouiall: Come, come, I am a King my masters, know you that?'

The second Quarto omits 'Gent. Good Sir.'

The first Folio has:

'To vse his eyes for Garden water-pots. I wil die brauely, Like a smugge Bridegroome. What? I will be Iouiall: Come, come, I am a King, Masters, know you that?'

The second and following Folios put a full stop at 'King.'

Pope combines the readings of the Folios and second Ouarto thus:

'To use his eyes for garden-water-pots, And laying autumn's dust. I will die bravely, Like a smug bridegroom. What? I will be jovial: Come, come, I am a King. My masters know you that?'

He is followed by Theobald, Hanmer, Warburton and Johnson.

Capell altered the last line thus:

'Come, come;

I am a king, my masters; Know you that?'

The arrangement adopted in our text is that which Steevens gave in his edition of 1778. Jennens, from whom Steevens borrowed as usual without acknowledgement, had given in 1770 the same arrangement, omitting the word 'smug.' In his edition of 1793 Steevens reads 'Ay and for laying autumn's dust,' making 'Ay \dots sir' one line.

Mr Collier prints 'I will die bravely;' in a line by itself, adopting in the former line the arrangement of Steevens, and in what follows that of the Folios. Keightley reads 'Ay, and laying autumn's dust ... bravely' as one line.

NOTE XIX.

V. 1. 26. 'Not bolds the king' is usually interpreted as an elliptical phrase for 'Not as it emboldens the king.' This is however a very harsh construction, and the word 'bolds' occurs nowhere else in Shakespeare with this meaning, though we have, according to the most probable reading, 'dear'd,' for 'endear'd,' in Antony and Cleopatra, I. 4. 44. Possibly these words are corrupt and a line has dropped out before them. Albany ought to say something of this kind: 'I should be ready to resist any mere invader, but the presence in the invader's camp of the king and other Britons, who have just cause of enmity to us, dashes my courage.'

NOTE XX.

V. 3. 315. Capell reads 'rough' in his text, believing that he had the authority of the first Quarto for it; but in his own copy and that of the Duke of Devonshire, the reading is plainly 'tough,' though the 't' is broken.

THE TRAGEDY OF OTHELLO, THE MOOR OF VENICE.

ACT I.

Scene I. Venice. A street.

Enter Roderigo and Iago. [4877]

Rod. Tush, never tell me; I take it much unkindly [4878]
That thou, Iago, who hast had my purse<sup>[4879]</sup>
As if the strings were thine, shouldst know of this. [4880]
Iago. 'Sblood, but you will not hear me:[4881][4882][4883]
If ever I did dream of such a matter,[4882][4884]
Abhor me [4882][4884][4885]
Rod. Thou told'st me thou didst hold him in thy hate. [4886]
Iago. Despise me, if I do not. Three great ones of the city, [4887][4888][4889]
In personal suit to make me his lieutenant, [4888]
Off-capp'd to him: and, by the faith of man, [4888][4890]
I know my price, I am worth no worse a place: [4888][4891]
But he, as loving his own pride and purposes, [4888][4892]
Evades them, with a bombast circumstance<sup>[4888][4893]</sup>
Horribly stuff'd with epithets of war; [4888][4894]
And, in conclusion. [4888][4895][4896]
Nonsuits my mediators; for, 'Certes,' says he, [4896][4897]
'I have already chose my officer.' [4896][4898][4899]
And what was he?<sup>[4896]</sup>[4898]
Forsooth, a great arithmetician, [4896]
One Michael Cassio, a Florentine.[4900]
A fellow almost damn'd in a fair wife: [4900][4901]
That never set a squadron in the field,
Nor the division of a battle knows
More than a spinster; unless the bookish theoric. [4902]
Wherein the toged consuls can propose<sup>[4903]</sup>
As masterly as he: mere prattle without practice<sup>[4904]</sup>
Is all his soldiership. But he, sir, had the election: [4905]
And I, of whom his eyes had seen the proof
At Rhodes, at Cyprus and on other grounds<sup>[4906]</sup>
Christian and heathen, must be be-lee'd and calm'd<sup>[4907]</sup>
By debitor and creditor: this counter-caster, [4908]
He, in good time, must his lieutenant be,
And I—God bless the mark!—his Moorship's ancient. [4909]
Rod. By heaven, I rather would have been his hangman.
Iago. Why, there's no remedy; 'tis the curse of service, [4910]
Preferment goes by letter and affection, [4911]
And not by old gradation, where each second<sup>[4912]</sup>
Stood heir to the first. Now, sir, be judge yourself<sup>[4913]</sup>
Whether I in any just term am affined<sup>[4914]</sup>
To love the Moor.
Rod. I would not follow him then.
Iago. O, sir, content you;
I follow him to serve my turn upon him:
We cannot all be masters, nor all masters
Cannot be truly follow'd. You shall mark<sup>[4915]</sup>
Many a duteous and knee-crooking knave,
That doting on his own obsequious bondage
Wears out his time, much like his master's ass,
For nought but provender, and when he's old, cashier'd: [4916]
Whip me such honest knaves. Others there are [4917]

Who, trimm'd in forms and visages of duty, [4917][4918] Keep yet their hearts attending on themselves. [4917]

And throwing but shows of service on their lords<sup>[4917]</sup>
Do well thrive by them, and when they have lined their coats<sup>[4919][4920]</sup>
Do themselves homage: these fellows have some soul, [4919][4921]
And such a one do I profess myself. [4922]
For, sir,<sup>[4923]</sup>
It is as sure as you are Roderigo,
Were I the Moor, I would not be Iago:
In following him, I follow but myself;
Heaven is my judge, not I for love and duty, [4924]
But seeming so, for my peculiar end:[4924]
For when my outward action doth demonstrate<sup>[4925]</sup>
The native act and figure of my heart
In compliment extern, 'tis not long after<sup>[4926]</sup>
But I will wear my heart upon my sleeve
For daws to peck at: I am not what I am.[4927]
Rod. What a full fortune does the thick-lips owe. [4928]
If he can carry't thus![4929]
Iago. Call up her father. [4930]
Rouse him: make after him, poison his delight, [4930]
Proclaim him in the streets; incense her kinsmen, [4931]
And, though he in a fertile climate dwell, [4932]
Plague him with flies: though that his joy be joy,
Yet throw such changes of vexation on't<sup>[4933]</sup>
As it may lose some colour.
Rod. Here is her father's house; I'll call aloud.
Iago. Do; with like timorous accent and dire yell<sup>[4934]</sup>
As when, by night and negligence, the fire [4935]
Is spied in populous cities. [4936]
Rod. What, ho, Brabantio! Signior Brabantio, ho!
Iago. Awake! what, ho, Brabantio! thieves! thieves! thieves! [4937]
Look to your house, your daughter and your bags! [4938]
Thieves! thieves![4939]
                Brabantio appears above, at a window.[4940]
Bra. What is the reason of this terrible summons?[4941]
What is the matter there?<sup>[4941]</sup>
Rod. Signior, is all your family within?
Iago. Are your doors lock'd?[4942]
Bra. Why, wherefore ask you this?
Iago. 'Zounds, sir, you're robb'd; for shame, put on your gown; [4943]
Your heart is burst, you have lost half your soul; [4944]
Even now, now, very now, an old black ram<sup>[4945]</sup>
Is tupping your white ewe. Arise, arise;
Awake the snorting citizens with the bell,
Or else the devil will make a grandsire of you: [4946]
Arise, I say. [4946][4947]
Bra. What, have you lost your wits?
Rod. Most reverend signior, do you know my voice?
Bra. Not I: what are you?
Rod. My name is Roderigo.
Bra. The worser welcome: [4948]
I have charged thee not to haunt about my doors: [4949]
In honest plainness thou hast heard me say
My daughter is not for thee; and now, in madness, [4950]

                       Being full of supper and distempering draughts,
                       Upon malicious bravery, dost thou come<sup>[4951]</sup>
                       To start my quiet. [4952]
                       Rod. Sir. sir. sir.—[4953]
                       Bra. But thou must needs be sure
                       My spirit and my place have in them power<sup>[4954]</sup>
                       To make this bitter to thee.
05
                       Rod. Patience, good sir.[4955]
                       Bra. What tell'st thou me of robbing? this is Venice; [4956][4957]
                       My house is not a grange. [4956]
                       Rod. Most grave Brabantio,
                       In simple and pure soul I come to you.
                       Iago. 'Zounds, sir, you are one of those that will not [4958]
10 serve God, if the devil bid you. Because we come to do you service and you think we are ruffians, you'll have your<sup>[4959]</sup> daughter covered with a Barbary horse; you'll have your nephews neigh to you; you'll have coursers for cousins, and gennets for germans.[4960]
15
                       Bra. What profane wretch art thou?
                       Iago. I am one, sir, that comes to tell you your daughter [4961]
                       and the Moor are now making the beast with two backs. [4962]
                       Bra. Thou art a villain.
                       Iago. You are—a senator.[4963]
                       Bra. This thou shalt answer; I know thee, Roderigo. [4964]
20
                       Rod. Sir, I will answer any thing. But, I beseech you, [4965]
                       If't be your pleasure and most wise consent, [4966]
                       As partly I find it is, that your fair daughter, [4966]
                       At this odd-even and dull watch o' the night, [4966][4967]
                      Transported with no worse nor better guard^{[4966][4968]}
                       But with a knave of common hire, a gondolier.[4966][4969]
25
                      To the gross clasps of a lascivious Moor,—[4966]
                       If this be known to you, and your allowance, [4966][4970]
                       We then have done you bold and saucy wrongs; [4966][4971]
                       But if you know not this, my manners tell me<sup>[4966]</sup> 30
                       We have your wrong rebuke. Do not believe<sup>[4966]</sup>
                      That, from the sense of all civility, [4966]
                      I thus would play and trifle with your reverence: [4966]
                       Your daughter, if you have not given her leave, [4966]
                      I say again, hath made a gross revolt, [4966]
35
                       Tying her duty, beauty, wit and fortunes, [4966][4972]
                       In an extravagant and wheeling stranger [4966][4972][4973]
                       Of here and every where. Straight satisfy yourself:[4966][4974]
                       If she be in her chamber or your house, [4975]
                       Let loose on me the justice of the state
                       For thus deluding you. [4976]
                       Bra. Strike on the tinder, ho!
40
                       Give me a taper! call up all my people!
                       This accident is not unlike my dream:
                       Belief of it oppresses me already.
                                                                                       [Exit above.[4977]
                       Light, I say! light!
                       Iago. Farewell; for I must leave you:
45
                       It seems not meet, nor wholesome to my place, [4978]
                       To be produced—as, if I stay, I shall—[4979]
                       Against the Moor: for I do know, the state,
                       However this may gall him with some check, [4980]

50 55	Cannot with safety cast him; for he's embark'd ^[4981] With such loud reason to the Cyprus wars, ^[4982] Which even now stand in act, that, for their souls, ^[4983] Another of his fathom they have none ^[4984] To lead their business: in which regard, ^[4985] Though I do hate him as I do hell-pains, ^[4986] Yet for necessity of present life, I must show out a flag and sign of love, ^[4987]	19881
	Which is indeed but sign. That you shall surely find him, [4987][4 Lead to the Sagittary the raised search; [4989] And there will I be with him. So farewell.	[Exit.

60	Bra. It is too true an evil: gone she is; ^[4990] And what's to come of my despised time ^[4991] Is nought but bitterness. Now, Roderigo, ^[4992] Where didst thou see her? O unhappy girl! With the Moor, say'st thou? Who would be a father! ^[4993]
65	How didst thou know 'twas she? O, she deceives me ^[4994] Past thought! What said she to you? Get more tapers. ^[4995] Raise all my kindred. Are they married, think you? ^[4996]
	Rod. Truly, I think they are. [4997]
70	Bra. O heaven! How got she out? O treason of the blood! ^[4998] Fathers, from hence trust not your daughters' minds By what you see them act. Is there not charms ^[4999] By which the property of youth and maidhood ^[5000] May be abused? Have you not read, Roderigo, Of some such thing?
	Rod. Yes, sir, I have indeed. ^[5001]
75	Bra. Call up my brother. O, would you had had her! ^[5002] Some one way, some another. Do you know Where we may apprehend her and the Moor?
	Rod. I think I can discover him, if you please To get good guard and go along with me.
80	Bra. Pray you, lead on. At every house I'll call; ^[5003] I may command at most. Get weapons, ho! And raise some special officers of night. ^[5004] On, good Roderigo; I'll deserve your pains.	[Exeunt. ^[5005]
	Scene II. Another street.
	Enter Othello, Iago, and Attendants with torches. [500]	6]
1	Iago. Though in the trade of war I have slain men, Yet do I hold it very stuff o' the conscience ^[5007] To do no contrived murder: I lack iniquity ^[5008] Sometimes to do me service: nine or ten times ^[5009] I had thought to have yerk'd him here under the ribs. ^[5010]
	Oth. 'Tis better as it is. ^[5011]
0	Iago. Nay, but he prated And spoke such scurvy and provoking terms ^[5012] Against your honour,[8, 9] That, with the little godliness I have, ^[5013] I did full hard forbear him. But I pray you, sir, ^[5014] Are you fast married? Be assured of this, ^[5015]
	That the magnifico is much beloved, And hath in his effect a voice potential
5	As double as the duke's: he will divorce you, [5016] Or put upon you what restraint and grievance [5017]

The law, with all his might to enforce it on, [5018]
Will give him cable. [5019]
Oth. Let him do his spite:
My services, which I have done the signiory, [5020]
Shall out-tongue his complaints. 'Tis yet to know-
Which, when I know that boasting is an honour, [5021]
I shall promulgate—I fetch my life and being<sup>[5022]</sup>
From men of royal siege, and my demerits<sup>[5023]</sup>
May speak unbonneted to as proud a fortune<sup>[5024]</sup>
As this that I have reach'd: for know, Iago,
But that I love the gentle Desdemona,
I would not my unhoused free condition
Put into circumscription and confine
For the sea's worth. But, look! what lights come youd? [5025]
Iago. Those are the raised father and his friends: [5026]
You were best go in.
Oth. Not I; I must be found:
My parts, my title and my perfect soul, [5027]
Shall manifest me rightly. Is it they?<sup>[5028]</sup>
Iago. By Janus, I think no.
           Enter Cassio, and certain Officers with torches. [5029]
Oth. The servants of the duke, and my lieutenant. [5030]
The goodness of the night upon you, friends! [5031]
What is the news?<sup>[5032]</sup>
Cas. The duke does greet you, general,
And he requires your haste-post-haste appearance. [5033]
Even on the instant.
Oth. What is the matter, think you?<sup>[5034]</sup>
Cas. Something from Cyprus, as I may divine;
It is a business of some heat: the galleys
Have sent a dozen sequent messengers<sup>[5035]</sup>
This very night at one another's heels; [5036]
And many of the consuls, raised and met, [5037]
Are at the duke's already: you have been hotly call'd for; [5038]
When, being not at your lodging to be found,
The senate hath sent about three several quests<sup>[5039]</sup>
To search you out.
Oth. 'Tis well I am found by you.
I will but spend a word here in the house. [5040]
                                                                  [Exit.[5040][5041]
And go with you.
Cas. Ancient, what makes he here?
Iago. Faith, he to-night hath boarded a land carack: [5042]
If it prove lawful prize, he's made for ever.
Cas. I do not understand.
Iago. He's married.
Cas. To who?
                           Re-enter Othello. [5043]
Iago. Marry, to—Come, captain, will you go?
Oth. Have with you. [5044]
Cas. Here comes another troop to seek for you.
Iago. It is Brabantio: general, be advised: [5045]
He comes to bad intent.

Oth. Holla! stand there! [5046]
Rod. Signior, it is the Moor.
Bra. Down with him, thief!
                                                   [They draw on both sides.[5047]
Iago. You, Roderigo! come, sir, I am for you.
Oth. Keep up your bright swords, for the dew will rust them. [5048][5049]
Good signior, you shall more command with years<sup>[5048]</sup>
Than with your weapons. [5048]
Bra. O thou foul thief, where hast thou stow'd my daughter?<sup>[5050]</sup>
Damn'd as thou art, thou hast enchanted her; [5051]
For I'll refer me to all things of sense, [5052]
If she in chains of magic were not bound, [5053]
Whether a maid so tender, fair and happy,
So opposite to marriage that she shunn'd
The wealthy curled darlings of our nation, [5054]
Would ever have, to incur a general mock, [5055]
Run from her guardage to the sooty bosom<sup>[5056]</sup>
Of such a thing as thou, to fear, not to delight. [5057]
Judge me the world, if 'tis not gross in sense<sup>[5058][5059]</sup>
That thou hast practised on her with foul charms, [5058]
Abused her delicate youth with drugs or minerals<sup>[5058][5060]</sup>
That weaken motion: I'll have 't disputed on: [5058][5061]
'Tis probable, and palpable to thinking. [5058][5062]
I therefore apprehend and do attach thee<sup>[5058]</sup>
For an abuser of the world, a practiser<sup>[5063]</sup>
Of arts inhibited and out of warrant.[5064]
Lay hold upon him: if he do resist,
Subdue him at his peril.
Oth. Hold your hands, [5065]
Both you of my inclining and the rest:
Were it my cue to fight, I should have known it [5066]
Without a prompter. Where will you that I go<sup>[5067]</sup>
To answer this your charge?<sup>[5068]</sup>
Bra. To prison, till fit time<sup>[5069]</sup>
Of law and course of direct session<sup>[5069]</sup>
Call thee to answer. [5070]
Oth. What if I do obey?
How may the duke be therewith satisfied,
Whose messengers are here about my side,
Upon some present business of the state
To bring me to him?<sup>[5071]</sup>
First Off. 'Tis true, most worthy signior:
The duke's in council, and your noble self,
I am sure, is sent for.[5072]
Bra. How! the duke in council!
In this time of the night! Bring him away: [5073]
Mine's not an idle cause: the duke himself,
Or any of my brothers of the state,
Cannot but feel this wrong as 'twere their own;
For if such actions may have passage free,

Scene III. A council-chamber.

[Exeunt.[5074]

Bond-slaves and pagans shall our statesmen be.

Duke. There is no composition in these news^[5076] That gives them credit. First Sen. Indeed they are disproportion'd: [5077] My letters say a hundred and seven galleys. [5078] Duke. And mine, a hundred and forty. Sec. Sen. And mine, two hundred: [5079] But though they jump not on a just account,— As in these cases, where the aim reports, [5080] 'Tis oft with difference,—yet do they all confirm^[5081] A Turkish fleet, and bearing up to Cyprus. Duke. Nay, it is possible enough to judgement: I do not so secure me in the error, [5082] But the main article I do approve^[5083] In fearful sense. Sailor. [Within] What, ho! what, ho! what, ho! [5084] First Off. A messenger from the galleys. Enter Sailor. [5085] Duke. Now. what's the business? Sail. The Turkish preparation makes for Rhodes; So was I bid report here to the state^[5086] By Signior Angelo. [5086][5087] Duke. How say you by this change? First Sen. This cannot be, [5088] By no assay of reason: 'tis a pageant^[5088] To keep us in false gaze. When we consider The importancy of Cyprus to the Turk, And let ourselves again but understand That as it more concerns the Turk than Rhodes, So may he with more facile question bear it, [5089] For that it stands not in such warlike brace, [5090] But altogether lacks the abilities^{[5090][5091]} That Rhodes is dress'd in: if we make thought of this, [5090][5092] We must not think the Turk is so unskilful^[5090] To leave that latest which concerns him first, [5090] Neglecting an attempt of ease and gain, [5090][5093] To wake and wage a danger profitless. [5090][5093] Duke. Nay, in all confidence, he's not for Rhodes. [5094] First Off. Here is more news. Enter a Messenger. [5095] Mess. The Ottomites, reverend and gracious, Steering with due course toward the isle of Rhodes, Have there injointed them with an after fleet. [5096] First Sen. Ay, so I thought. How many, as you guess?^[5097] Mess. Of thirty sail: and now they do re-stem^[5098] Their backward course, bearing with frank appearance Their purposes toward Cyprus. Signior Montano, [5099] Your trusty and most valiant servitor, With his free duty recommends you thus, [5100] And prays you to believe him. [5101] Duke. 'Tis certain then for Cyprus. Marcus Luccicos, is not he in town?^[5102] First Sen. He's now in Florence.

Duke. Write from us to him; post-post-haste dispatch. [5103] First Sen. Here comes Brabantio and the valiant Moor. Enter Brabantio, Othello, Iago, Roderigo, and Officers. [5104] Duke. Valiant Othello, we must straight employ you^[5105] Against the general enemy Ottoman. [To Brabantio] I did not see you; welcome, gentle signior; [5106] We lack'd your counsel and your help to-night. [5107] Bra. So did I yours. Good your grace, pardon me; Neither my place nor aught I heard of business^[5108] Hath raised me from my bed, nor doth the general care^[5109] Take hold on me; for my particular grief^[5110] Is of so flood-gate and o'erbearing nature That it engluts and swallows other sorrows, [5111] And it is still itself. [5112] Duke. Why, what's the matter? Bra. My daughter! O, my daughter! All. Dead? Bra. Ay, to me; [5113] She is abused, stol'n from me and corrupted By spells and medicines bought of mountebanks; For nature so preposterously to err, [5114] Being not deficient, blind, or lame of sense.^[5115] Sans witchcraft could not.[5116] Duke. Whoe'er he be that in this foul proceeding Hath thus beguiled your daughter of herself And you of her, the bloody book of law You shall yourself read in the bitter letter After your own sense, yea, though our proper son^[5117] Stood in your action. Bra. Humbly I thank your grace. Here is the man, this Moor; whom now, it seems, Your special mandate for the state-affairs Hath hither brought. All. We are very sorry for't. [5118] Duke. [To Othello] What in your own part can you say to this? [5119] Bra. Nothing, but this is so. Oth. Most potent, grave, and reverend signiors, My very noble and approved good masters, That I have ta'en away this old man's daughter, It is most true; true, I have married her: The very head and front of my offending Hath this extent, no more. Rude am I in my speech, [5120] And little blest with the soft phrase of peace; [5121] For since these arms of mine had seven years' pith, Till now some nine moons wasted, they have $used^{[5122]}$ Their dearest action in the tented field; And little of this great world can I speak, More than pertains to feats of broil and battle: [5123] And therefore little shall I grace my cause In speaking for myself. Yet, by your gracious patience, [5124] I will a round unvarnish'd tale deliver^[5125] Of my whole course of love; what drugs, what charms, [5126] What conjuration and what mighty magic— For such proceeding I am charged withal—[5127] I won his daughter. [5128] Bra. A maiden never bold; [5129]

15	Of spirit so still and quiet that her motion ^[5129] Blush'd at herself; and she—in spite of nature, ^[5130] Of years, of country, credit, every thing— To fall in love with what she fear'd to look on! ^[5131] It is a judgement maim'd and most imperfect ^[5132]
00	That will confess perfection so could err ^[5133] Against all rules of nature; and must be driven To find out practices of cunning hell, Why this should be. I therefore vouch again, That with some mixtures powerful o'er the blood,
05	Or with some dram conjured to this effect, He wrought upon her.
	Duke. To vouch this, is no proof, ^[5134] Without more certain and more overt test ^[5135] Than these thin habits and poor likelihoods ^[5136] Of modern seeming do prefer against him. ^[5137]
10	First Sen. But, Othello, speak: ^[5138] Did you by indirect and forced courses Subdue and poison this young maid's affections? Or came it by request, and such fair question As soul to soul affordeth?
15	Oth. I do beseech you, ^[5139] Send for the lady to the Sagittary, ^[5140] And let her speak of me before her father: If you do find me foul in her report, The trust, the office I do hold of you, ^[5141] Not only take away, but let your sentence
	Even fall upon my life. ^[5142]
20	Duke. Fetch Desdemona hither.
	Oth. Ancient, conduct them; you best know the place.
	[Exeunt Iago and Attendants. ^[5143]
	And till she come, as truly as to heaven ^[5144] I do confess the vices of my blood, ^[5145] So justly to your grave ears I'll present
25	And till she come, as truly as to heaven ^[5144] I do confess the vices of my blood, ^[5145] So justly to your grave ears I'll present How I did thrive in this fair lady's love And she in mine.
25	And till she come, as truly as to heaven ^[5144] I do confess the vices of my blood, ^[5145] So justly to your grave ears I'll present How I did thrive in this fair lady's love And she in mine. Duke. Say it, Othello.
25	And till she come, as truly as to heaven ^[5144] I do confess the vices of my blood, ^[5145] So justly to your grave ears I'll present How I did thrive in this fair lady's love And she in mine. Duke. Say it, Othello. Oth. Her father loved me, oft invited me,

This to hear ^[5158] [5162] Would Desdemona seriously incline:

Took once a pliant hour, and found good means To draw from her a prayer of earnest heart That I would all my pilgrimage dilate, Whereof by parcels she had something heard, [5165] 55 But not intentively: I did consent, [5166] And often did beguile her of her tears When I did speak of some distressful stroke^[5167] That my youth suffer'd. My story being done, [5168] She gave me for my pains a world of sighs: [5169] 60 She swore, in faith, 'twas strange, 'twas passing strange; [5170] 'Twas pitiful, 'twas wondrous pitiful: She wish'd she had not heard it, yet she wish'd That heaven had made her such a man: she thank'd me, [5171] And bade me, if I had a friend that loved her, 65 I should but teach him how to tell my story, And that would woo her. Upon this hint I spake: [5172] She loved me for the dangers I had pass'd, [5173] And I loved her that she did pity them. This only is the witchcraft I have used. 70 Here comes the lady; let her witness it. Enter Desdemona, Iago, and Attendants. [5174] Duke. I think this tale would win my daughter too. [5175] Good Brabantio, [5176] Take up this mangled matter at the best: [5176] Men do their broken weapons rather use Than their bare hands. 75 Bra. I pray you, hear her speak: If she confess that she was half the wooer, Destruction on my head, if my bad blame^[5177] Light on the man! Come hither, gentle mistress: Do you perceive in all this noble company^[5178] Where most you owe obedience? 80 Des. My noble father, [5179] I do perceive here a divided duty: To you I am bound for life and education; [5180] My life and education both do learn me How to respect you; you are the lord of duty, [5181] 85 I am hitherto your daughter: but here's my husband, [5180] And so much duty as my mother show'd^[5182] To you, preferring you before her father, So much I challenge that I may profess^[5183] Due to the Moor my lord. Bra. God be with you! I have done. [5184] 90 Please it your grace, on to the state-affairs: I had rather to adopt a child than get it. [5185] Come hither, Moor: I here do give thee that with all my heart, Which, but thou hast already, with all my heart^[5186] 95 I would keep from thee. For your sake, jewel, [5187] I am glad at soul I have no other child:[5180][5188] For thy escape would teach me tyranny, To hang clogs on them. I have done, my lord. [5189] Duke. Let me speak like yourself, and lay a sentence^[5190] 00 Which, as a grise or step, may help these lovers^[5191] Into your favour.[5192] When remedies are past, the griefs are ended[5193]By seeing the worst, which late on hopes depended.^[5194] To mourn a mischief that is past and gone 05 Is the next way to draw new mischief on.^[5195] What cannot be preserved when fortune takes, Patience her injury a mockery makes. [5196] The robb'd that smiles steals something from the thief; [5197]

He robs himself that spends a bootless grief. 10 Bra. So let the Turk of Cyprus us beguile; [5198] We lose it not so long as we can smile.^[5199] He bears the sentence well, that nothing bears^[5200] But the free comfort which from thence he hears; [5200] But he bears both the sentence and the sorrow.^[5201] That, to pay grief, must of poor patience borrow. 115 These sentences, to sugar or to gall, Being strong on both sides, are equivocal: But words are words; I never yet did hear That the bruised heart was pierced through the ear. [5202] 20 I humbly beseech you, proceed to the affairs of state. [5203] Duke. The Turk with a most mighty preparation makes^[5204] for Cyprus. Othello, the fortitude of the place is best known to you; and though we have there a substitute of [5205] most allowed sufficiency, yet opinion, a sovereign mistress^[5206] of effects, throws a more safer voice on you: you must therefore^[5207] 25 be content to slubber the gloss of your new fortunes^[5208] with this more stubborn and boisterous expedition.^[5209] Oth. The tyrant custom, most grave senators, [5210] Hath made the flinty and steel couch of war^[5211] My thrice-driven bed of down: I do agnize :30 A natural and prompt alacrity^[5212] I find in hardness; and do undertake^[5213] These present wars against the Ottomites. [5214] Most humbly therefore bending to your state, 35 I crave fit disposition for my wife, Due reference of place and exhibition, [5215] With such accommodation and besort^[5216] As levels with her breeding. Duke. If you please, [5217] Be 't at her father's. [5217] Bra. I'll not have it so. [5218] Oth. Nor I. 40 Des. Nor I, I would not there reside, [5219] To put my father in impatient thoughts By being in his eye. Most gracious duke, To my unfolding lend your prosperous ear, [5220] And let me find a charter in your voice^[5221] 45 To assist my simpleness. [5222] Duke. What would you, Desdemona?[5223] Des. That I did love the Moor to live with him, [5224] My downright violence and storm of fortunes^[5225] May trumpet to the world: my heart's subdued^[5226] 50 Even to the very quality of my lord: [5227] I saw Othello's visage in his mind, And to his honours and his valiant parts Did I my soul and fortunes consecrate. So that, dear lords, if I be left behind, [5228] A moth of peace, and he go to the war, 55 The rites for which I love him are bereft me, [5229] And I a heavy interim shall support By his dear absence. Let me go with him. Oth. Let her have your voices.[5230] 60 Vouch with me, heaven, I therefore beg it not, [5231] To please the palate of my appetite; Nor to comply with heat—the young affects^{[5232][5233]} In me defunct—and proper satisfaction; [5232][5234]

But to be free and bounteous to her mind: [5234][5235] 65 And heaven defend your good souls, that you think^[5236] I will your serious and great business scant^[5237] For she is with me. No, when light-wing'd toys^[5238] Of feather'd Cupid seel with wanton dullness^[5239] My speculative and officed instruments. [5240] 70 That my disports corrupt and taint my business, Let housewives make a skillet of my helm, [5241] And all indign and base adversities Make head against my estimation!^[5242] Duke. Be it as you shall privately determine, :75 Either for her stay or going: the affair cries haste, [5243] And speed must answer 't; you must hence to-night. [5244] Des. To-night, my lord?^[5245] Duke. This night. Oth. With all my heart. Duke. At nine i' the morning here we'll meet again. [5246] Othello, leave some officer behind, 80 And he shall our commission bring to you; With such things else of quality and respect^[5247] As doth import you. Oth. So please your grace, my ancient; [5248] A man he is of honesty and trust: To his conveyance I assign my wife, 85 With what else needful your good grace shall think^[5249] To be sent after me. Duke. Let it be so. Good night to every one. [To Brab.] And, noble signior, [5250] If virtue no delighted beauty lack, [5251] Your son-in-law is far more fair than black. 90 First Sen. Adieu, brave Moor; use Desdemona well. [5252] Bra. Look to her, Moor, if thou hast eyes to see: [5253] She has deceived her father, and may thee. [Exeunt Duke, Senators, Officers, &c. [5254] Oth. My life upon her faith! Honest Iago, My Desdemona must I leave to thee: 95 I prithee, let thy wife attend on her; And bring them after in the best advantage. [5255] Come, Desdemona; I have but an hour Of love, of worldly matters and direction, [5256] To spend with thee: we must obey the time. [Exeunt Othello and Desdemona. [5257] 00 Rod. Iago![5258] Iago. What say'st thou, noble heart? Rod. What will I do, thinkest thou? [5259] Iago. Why, go to bed and sleep. Rod. I will incontinently drown myself. 0.5 Iago. If thou dost, I shall never love thee after. Why, [5260] thou silly gentleman! [5261] Rod. It is silliness to live when to live is torment; and [5262] then have we a prescription to die when death is our physician.^[5263]

10 Iago. O villanous! I have looked upon the world for [5264] four times seven years; and since I could distinguish betwixt^[5265] a benefit and an injury, I never found man that knew^[5266] how to love himself. Ere I would say I would drown myself for the love of a guinea-hen, I would change my humanity^[5267] with a baboon. 15 Rod. What should I do? I confess it is my shame to be so fond; but it is not in my virtue to amend it. Iago. Virtue! a fig! 'tis in ourselves that we are thus or thus. Our bodies are gardens; to the which our wills^[5268] are gardeners: so that if we will plant nettles or sow lettuce, 20 set hyssop and weed up thyme, supply it with one^[5269] gender of herbs or distract it with many, either to have [5270] it sterile with idleness or manured with industry, why, the power and corrigible authority of this lies in our wills. If^[5271] the balance of our lives had not one scale of reason to poise^[5272] 25 another of sensuality, the blood and baseness of our natures would conduct us to most preposterous conclusions: but we have reason to cool our raging motions, our carnal stings, [5273] our unbitted lusts; whereof I take this, that you call love. [5274] 30 to be a sect or scion.^[5275] Rod. It cannot be. Iago. It is merely a lust of the blood and a permission^[5276] of the will. Come, be a man: drown thyself! drown cats and blind puppies. I have professed me thy friend, and I^[5277] confess me knit to thy deserving with cables of perdurable 35 toughness: I could never better stead thee than now. Put^[5278] money in thy purse; follow thou the wars; defeat thy favour^[5279] with an usurped beard; I say, put money in thy purse. It cannot be that Desdemona should long continue her love^[5280] 40 to the Moor—put money in thy purse—nor he his to her: it^[5281] was a violent commencement, and thou shalt see an answerable [5282][5283] sequestration; put but money in thy purse. These^{[5283][5284]} Moors are changeable in their wills:—fill thy purse with money. The food that to him now is as luscious as locusts, [5285] 45 shall be to him shortly as bitter as coloquintida. She^{[5286][5287]} must change for youth: when she is sated with his body, [5287] she will find the error of her choice: she must have change, [5288][5289] she must: therefore put money in thy purse. If thou wilt^[5289] needs damn thyself, do it a more delicate way than drowning. Make all the money thou canst: if sanctimony and a 50 frail vow betwixt an erring barbarian and a supersubtle [5290] Venetian be not too hard for my wits and all the tribe of hell, thou shalt enjoy her; therefore make money. A pox of drowning thyself! it is clean out of the way: seek thou^[5291] rather to be hanged in compassing thy joy than to be 55 drowned and go without her. Rod. Wilt thou be fast to my hopes, if I depend on [5292] the issue?[5292] Iago. Thou art sure of me: go, make money: I have 60 told thee often, and I re-tell thee again and again, I hate [5293] the Moor: my cause is hearted; thine hath no less reason. [5294] Let us be conjunctive in our revenge against him: if thou^[5295] canst cuckold him, thou dost thyself a pleasure, me a sport. [5296] There are many events in the womb of time, which will be delivered. Traverse; go; provide thy money. We will 65 have more of this to-morrow. Adieu. Rod. Where shall we meet i' the morning? Iago. At my lodging. Rod. I'll be with thee betimes.

I have 't. It is engender'd. Hell and night^[5312]

Must bring this monstrous birth to the world's light.

[Exit.[5313]

ACT II.

Scene I. A sea-port in Cyprus. An open place near the quay.

Enter Montano and two Gentlemen. [5314]

Mon. What from the cape can you discern at sea?

First Gent. Nothing at all: it is a high-wrought flood; [5315] I cannot, 'twixt the heaven and the main, [5316] Descry a sail. [5317]

Mon. Methinks the wind hath spoke aloud at land; [5317][5318] A fuller blast ne'er shook our battlements: [5317]

If it hath ruffian'd so upon the sea, [5317][5319]

What ribs of oak, when mountains melt on them, [5317][5320]

Can hold the mortise? What shall we hear of this? [5317][5321]

Sec. Gent. A segregation of the Turkish fleet:^[5322]
For do but stand upon the foaming shore, ^[5323]
The chidden billow seems to pelt the clouds; ^[5324]
The wind-shaked surge, with high and monstrous mane, ^[5325]
Seems to cast water on the burning bear,
And quench the guards of the ever-fixed pole: ^[5326]
I never did like molestation view
On the enchafed flood.

Mon. If that the Turkish fleet^[5327] Be not enshelter'd and embay'd, they are drown'd;^[5328] It is impossible to bear it out.

Enter a third Gentleman. [5329]

Third Gent. News, lads! our wars are done. [5330][5331][5332] The desperate tempest hath so bang'd the Turks, [5333] That their designment halts: a noble ship of Venice [5334][5335] Hath seen a grievous wreck and sufferance [5334][5336] On most part of their fleet. [5337]

Mon. How! is this true?

Third Gent. The ship is here put in, [5338][5339][5340] A Veronesa; Michael Cassio, [5338][5340] Lieutenant to the warlike Moor Othello, [5341] Is come on shore: the Moor himself at sea, [5342] And is in full commission here for Cyprus.

Mon. I am glad on't; 'tis a worthy governor. [5343]

Third Gent. But this same Cassio, though he speak of comfort Touching the Turkish loss, yet he looks sadly And prays the Moor be safe; for they were parted^[5344] With foul and violent tempest.

Mon. Pray heavens he be; [5345]
For I have served him, and the man commands
Like a full soldier. Let's to the seaside, ho! [5346]
As well to see the vessel that's come in
As to throw out our eyes for brave Othello,
Even till we make the main and the aerial blue [5347][5348]
An indistinct regard. [5347][5349]

Third Gent. Come, let's do so; For every minute is expectancy Of more arrivance.

Enter Cassio.[5350]
Cas. Thanks, you the valiant of this warlike isle, [5351]
That so approve the Moor! O, let the heavens<sup>[5352]</sup>
Give him defence against the elements, [5353]
For I have lost him on a dangerous sea. [5354]
Mon. Is he well shipp'd?
Cas. His bark is stoutly timber'd, and his pilot<sup>[5355]</sup>
Of very expert and approved allowance; [5356]
Therefore my hopes, not surfeited to death, [5357][5358]
Stand in bold cure. [5358]
                                              [A crv within: 'A sail, a sail, a sail!'
                      Enter a fourth Gentleman. [5359]
Cas. What noise?[5360]
Fourth Gent. The town is empty; on the brow o' the sea [5361]
Stand ranks of people, and they cry 'A sail!' [5362]
Cas. My hopes do shape him for the governor.
                                                               [Guns heard. [5363]
Sec. Gent. They do discharge their shot of courtesy: [5364]
Our friends at least. [5365]
Cas. I pray you, sir, go forth,
And give us truth who 'tis that is arrived.
Sec. Gent. I shall.
                                                                       [Exit.[5366]
Mon. But, good lieutenant, is your general wived?
Cas. Most fortunately: he hath achieved a maid
That paragons description and wild fame;
One that excels the quirks of blazoning pens, [5367]
And in the essential vesture of creation<sup>[5368]</sup>
Does tire the ingener.
                        Re-enter second Gentleman.
                       How now! who has put in?[5369]
Sec. Gent. 'Tis one Iago, ancient to the general. [5366]
Cas. He has had most favourable and happy speed: [5370]
Tempests themselves, high seas, and howling winds, [5371]
The gutter'd rocks, and congregated sands, [5372]
Traitors ensteep'd to clog the guiltless keel. [5373]
As having sense of beauty, do omit
Their mortal natures, letting go safely by [5374]
The divine Desdemona.
Mon. What is she?
Cas. She that I spake of, our great captain's captain, [5375]
Left in the conduct of the bold Iago;
Whose footing here anticipates our thoughts
A se'nnight's speed. Great Jove, Othello guard, [5376]
And swell his sail with thine own powerful breath,
That he may bless this bay with his tall ship,
Make love's quick pants in Desdemona's arms, [5377]

Enter Desdemona, Emilia, Iago, Roderigo, and Attendants. [5379]

Give renew'd fire to our extincted spirits, [5378]

And bring all Cyprus comfort.

The riches of the ship is come on shore! [5380] Ye men of Cyprus, let her have your knees. [5381] Hail to thee, lady! and the grace of heaven,[5382] Before, behind thee, and on every hand, Enwheel thee round! Des. I thank you, valiant Cassio. What tidings can you tell me of my lord?^[5383] Cas. He is not yet arrived: nor know I aught^[5384] But that he's well and will be shortly here. Des. O, but I fear—How lost you company? [5385] Cas. The great contention of the sea and skies^[5386] Parted our fellowship—But, hark! a sail. [A cry within: 'A sail, a sail!' Guns heard. [5387] Sec. Gent. They give their greeting to the citadel: [5388] This likewise is a friend. Cas. See for the news. [Exit Gentleman. Good ancient, you are welcome. [To Emilia] Welcome, [5389] mistress:[5390] Let it not gall your patience, good Iago, That I extend my manners; 'tis my breeding That gives me this bold show of courtesy. [Kissing her.[5391] 00 Iago. Sir, would she give you so much of her lips^[5392] As of her tongue she oft bestows on me. [5393] You'ld have enough.[5394] Desd. Alas, she has no speech. Iago. In faith, too much: [5395] I find it still when I have list to sleep: [5396] Marry, before your ladyship, I grant, 05 She puts her tongue a little in her heart^[5397] And chides with thinking. Emil. You have little cause to say so. [5398] Iago. Come on, come on; you are pictures out of doors, [5399][5400] 10 Bells in your parlours, wild-cats in your kitchens. [5399] Saints in your injuries, devils being offended, [5399] Players in your housewifery, and housewives in your beds. [5399][5401] Des. O, fie upon thee, slanderer![5402] Iago. Nay, it is true, or else I am a Turk: 15 You rise to play, and go to bed to work. Emil. You shall not write my praise. Iago. No, let me not. Des. What wouldst thou write of me, if thou shouldst praise me?^[5403] Iago. O gentle lady, do not put me to't; For I am nothing if not critical. 20 Des. Come on, assay—There's one gone to the harbour?[5404] Iago. Ay, madam. Des. I am not merry; but I do beguile The thing I am by seeming otherwise. Come, how wouldst thou praise me? 25 Iago. I am about it; but indeed my invention^{[5405][5406]} Comes from my pate as birdlime does from frize: [5405][5407]

30	It plucks out brains and all: but my Muse labours, [5405][5408] And thus she is deliver'd. [5405][5409] If she be fair and wise, fairness and wit, [5410] The one's for use, the other useth it. [5410][5411]
	Des. Well praised! How if she be black and witty? ^[5412]
	Iago. If she be black, and thereto have a wit, [5410] She'll find a white that shall her blackness fit. [5410][5413]
	Des. Worse and worse.
35	Emil. How if fair and foolish? ^[5414]
	Iago. She never yet was foolish that was fair; [5410][5415] For even her folly help'd her to an heir. [5410][5415][5416]
40	Des. These are old fond paradoxes to make fools laugh $[5417][5418]$ i' the alehouse. What miserable praise hast thou for her $[5417]$ that's foul and foolish? $[5414][5417]$
	Iago. There's none so foul, and foolish thereunto, [5410] But does foul pranks which fair and wise ones do. [5410][5419]
45	Des. O heavy ignorance! thou praisest the worst best. ^[5420] But what praise couldst thou bestow on a deserving woman indeed, one that in the authority of her merit did justly ^{[5421][5422]} put on the vouch of very malice itself? ^{[5421][5423]}
50 55	Iago. She that was ever fair and never proud, [5410] Had tongue at will and yet was never loud, [5410] Never lack'd gold and yet went never gay, [5410] Fled from her wish and yet said 'Now I may; [5410] She that, being anger'd, her revenge being nigh, [5410][5424] Bade her wrong stay and her displeasure fly; [5410] She that in wisdom never was so frail [5410] To change the cod's head for the salmon's tail; [5410]
55	She that could think and ne'er disclose her mind, [5410][5425] See suitors following and not look behind; [5410][5426] She was a wight, if ever such wight were, —[5410][5427][5428]
	Des. To do what? ^[5428]
	Iago. To suckle fools and chronicle small beer. ^[5410]
60	Des. O most lame and impotent conclusion! Do not learn ^[5429] of him, Emilia, though he be thy husband. How say you, ^[5429] Cassio? is he not a most profane and liberal counsellor? ^{[5429][5430]}
	Cas. He speaks home, madam: you may relish him ^[5431] more in the soldier than in the scholar. ^{[5431][5432]}
65	Iago. [Aside] He takes her by the palm: ay, well said, [5433] whisper: with as little a web as this will I ensnare as great [5434] a fly as Cassio. Ay, smile upon her, do; I will gyve thee [5435] in thine own courtship. You say true; 'tis so, indeed: if [5436]
70	such tricks as these strip you out of your lieutenantry, it ^[5437] had been better you had not kissed your three fingers so ^[5438] oft, which now again you are most apt to play the sir in. ^[5439] Very good; well kissed! an excellent courtesy! 'tis so, ^[5440] indeed. Yet again your fingers to your lips? would they ^[5441]
75	were clyster-pipes for your sake! [Trumpet within.] The ^[5442] Moor! I know his trumpet.
	Cas. 'Tis truly so.
	Des. Let's meet him and receive him.

Oth. O my fair warrior!

Des. My dear Othello!

Oth. It gives me wonder great as my content 80

To see you here before me. O my soul's joy! [5444]

If after every tempest come such calms, [5445]

May the winds blow till they have waken'd death![5446]

And let the labouring bark climb hills of seas

Olympus-high and duck again as low

As hell's from heaven! If it were now to die, [5447]

But that our loves and comforts should increase. [5448]

Even as our days do grow!

Oth. Amen to that, sweet powers![5449]

I cannot speak enough of this content; It stops me here; it is too much of joy:

And this, and this, the greatest discords be

That e'er our hearts shall make!

[Kissing her.[5450]

Iago. [Aside] O, you are well tuned now! [5451][5452]

But I'll set down the pegs that make this music.[5452][5453]

As honest as I am.[5452]

Oth. Come, let us to the castle. [5454]

News, friends; our wars are done, the Turks are drown'd. [5455]

How does my old acquaintance of this isle? [5456]

Honey, you shall be well desired in Cyprus;

I have found great love amongst them. O my sweet.^[5457]

I prattle out of fashion, and I dote

In mine own comforts. I prithee, good Iago, [5458]

Go to the bay, and disembark my coffers: [5459]

Bring thou the master to the citadel;

He is a good one, and his worthiness

Does challenge much respect. Come, Desdemona,

Once more well met at Cyprus.

hither. If thou be'st valiant—as, they say, base men being^{[5462][5463]} in love have then a nobility in their natures more than is [5463] native to them—list me. The lieutenant to-night watches^{[5463][5464]} on the court of guard. First, I must tell thee this: Desdemona^[5465] is directly in love with him.

Rod. With him! why, 'tis not possible.

Iago. Lay thy finger thus, and let thy soul be instructed. [5466]

Mark me with what violence she first loved the Moor, but^[5467]

for bragging and telling her fantastical lies: and will she^[5468]

love him still for prating? let not thy discreet heart $think^{[5468][5469]}$

it. Her eye must be fed; and what delight shall she have [5470] to look on the devil? When the blood is made dull with the act of sport, there should be, again to inflame it and to give [5471]satiety a fresh appetite, loveliness in favour, sympathy in [5472]

years, manners and beauties; all which the Moor is defective in: now, for want of these required conveniences, her delicate tenderness will find itself abused, begin to heave

the gorge, disrelish and abhor the Moor; very nature $will^{[5473]}$ instruct her in it and compel her to some second choice. [5474] Now, sir, this granted—as it is a most pregnant and unforced^[5475] position—who stands so eminently in the degree of this fortune^[5476] as Cassio does? a knave very voluble; no further conscionable^[5477] than in putting on the mere form of civil and humane^[5478] seeming, for the better compassing of his salt and most^{[5478][5479][5480]} hidden loose affection? why, none: a slipper and [5479][5481][5482]subtle knave; a finder out of occasions; that has an eye can^{[5482][5483]} stamp and counterfeit advantages, though true advantage^[5484] never present itself: a devilish knave! Besides, the knave^{[5484][5485]} is handsome, young, and hath all those requisites in him that folly and green minds look after: a pestilent complete^[5486] knave; and the woman hath found him already. [5487] Rod. I cannot believe that in her; she's full of most^[5488] blest condition. [5489][5490] Iago. Blest fig's-end! the wine she drinks is made of [5489][5491] grapes: if she had been blest, she would never have loved^[5489] the Moor: blest pudding! Didst thou not see her paddle^{[5489][5492]} with the palm of his hand? didst not mark that?^[5493] Rod. Yes, that I did; but that was but courtesy. [5494] Iago. Lechery, by this hand; an index and obscure prologue^[5495] to the history of lust and foul thoughts. They met so near with their lips that their breaths embraced together. Villanous thoughts, Roderigo! when these mutualities so^[5496] marshal the way, hard at hand comes the master and main^[5497] exercise, the incorporate conclusion: pish! But, sir, be you^[5498] ruled by me: I have brought you from Venice. Watch you to-night; for the command, I'll lay't upon you: Cassio^[5499] knows you not: I'll not be far from you: do you find some occasion to anger Cassio, either by speaking too loud or tainting his discipline, or from what other course you^[5500] please, which the time shall more favourably minister. Rod. Well. Iago. Sir, he is rash and very sudden in choler, and [5501] haply may strike at you: provoke him, that he may; for [5502] even out of that will I cause these of Cyprus to mutiny; [5503] whose qualification shall come into no true taste again but^[5504] by the displanting of Cassio. So shall you have a shorter^[5505] journey to your desires by the means I shall then have to prefer them, and the impediment most profitably removed, [5506] without the which there were no expectation of our prosperity.^[5507] Rod. I will do this, if I can bring it to any opportunity. [5508] Iago. I warrant thee. Meet me by and by at the citadel: I must fetch his necessaries ashore. Farewell. [Exit.[5509] Rod. Adieu. Iago. That Cassio loves her, I do well believe it; [5510] That she loves him, 'tis apt and of great credit: The Moor, howbeit that I endure him not, Is of a constant, loving, noble nature; [5511] And I dare think he'll prove to Desdemona A most dear husband. Now, I do love her too, [5512] Not out of absolute lust, though peradventure I stand accountant for as great a sin, But partly led to diet my revenge, [5513] For that I do suspect the lusty Moor^[5514] Hath leap'd into my seat: the thought whereof^[5515] Doth like a poisonous mineral gnaw my inwards; And nothing can or shall content my soul^[5516]

Enter Othello, Desdemona, Cassio, and Attendants. [5532]

Oth. Good Michael, look you to the guard to-night: Let's teach ourselves that honourable stop. [5533] Not to outsport discretion.

Cas. Iago hath direction what to do: [5534] But notwithstanding with my personal eye Will I look to't.[5535]

Oth. Iago is most honest.

Michael, good night: to-morrow with your earliest^[5536] Let me have speech with you. Come, my dear love. [5537] The purchase made, the fruits are to ensue; That profit's yet to come 'tween me and you. [5538] Good night.

Enter IAGO.

Cas. Welcome, Iago; we must to the watch.

Iago. Not this hour, lieutenant; 'tis not yet ten o' the [5540] clock. Our general cast us thus early for the love of his^[5540] Desdemona; who let us not therefore blame: he hath not yet^[5541] made wanton the night with her, and she is sport for Jove.

Cas. She's a most exquisite lady. [5542]

lago. And, I'll warrant her, full of game.

Cas. Indeed she's a most fresh and delicate creature. [5543]

Iago. What an eye she has! methinks it sounds a parley^{[5544][5545]} to provocation.[5544][5546]

Cas. An inviting eye; and yet methinks right modest. [5547]

Iago. And when she speaks, is it not an alarum to love? [5547][5548]
Cas. She is indeed perfection.
lago. Well, happiness to their sheets! Come, lieutenant,
I have a stoup of wine; and here without are a brace of [5549]
Cyprus gallants that would fain have a measure to the [5550] health of black Othello. [5551]
Cas. Not to-night, good Iago: I have very poor and unhappy brains for drinking: I could well wish courtesy would invent some other custom of entertainment.
Iago. O, they are our friends; but one cup: I'll drink for you.
Cas. I have drunk but one cup to-night, and that was<sup>[5552]</sup> craftily qualified too, and behold what innovation it makes<sup>[5553]</sup> here: I am unfortunate in the infirmity and dare not task<sup>[554]</sup> my weakness with any more.
Iago. What, man! 'tis a night of revels: the gallants desire it.
Cas. Where are they?
Iago. Here at the door; I pray you, call them in.
Cas. I'll do't; but it dislikes me.
                                                                             [Exit.
lago. If I can fasten but one cup upon him,
With that which he hath drunk to-night already,
He'll be as full of quarrel and offence
As my young mistress' dog. Now my sick fool Roderigo, [5555]
Whom love hath turn'd almost the wrong side out, [5556]
To Desdemona hath to-night caroused
Potations pottle-deep; and he's to watch:
Three lads of Cyprus, noble swelling spirits, [5557]
That hold their honours in a wary distance, [5558]
The very elements of this warlike isle,
Have I to-night fluster'd with flowing cups,
And they watch too. Now, 'mongst this flock of drunkards. [5559]
Am I to put our Cassio in some action<sup>[5560]</sup>
That may offend the isle. But here they come: [5561]
If consequence do but approve my dream, [5562]
My boat sails freely, both with wind and stream.
       Re-enter Cassio; with him Montano and Gentlemen; Servants following with wine. [5563]
Cas. 'Fore God, they have given me a rouse already. [5564]
Mon. Good faith, a little one; not past a pint, as I am<sup>[5565]</sup> a soldier.[5565]
Iago. Some wine, ho!
[Sings] And let me the canakin clink, clink;[5566][5567][5568]
            And let me the canakin clink: [5567][5569]
              A soldier's a man: [5567][5570]
              A life's but a span; [5567][5570][5571]
            Why then let a soldier drink. [5567]
Some wine, boys![5572]
Cas. 'Fore God, an excellent song. [5573]
Iago. I learned it in England, where indeed they are most potent in potting: your Dane, your German, and your swag-bellied Hollander,—Drink, ho!—are nothing to vour English.[5574]

5 Iago. Why, he drinks you with facility your Dane dead drunk; he sweats not to overthrow your Almain; he gives^[5576] your Hollander a vomit ere the next pottle can be filled. Cas. To the health of our general! Mon. I am for it, lieutenant, and I'll do you justice. [5577] 0 Iago. O sweet England! [Sings] King Stephen was a worthy peer, [5578] His breeches cost him but a crown: [5567] He held them sixpence all too dear, [5567][5579] With that he call'd the tailor lown. [5567] 5 He was a wight of high renown, [5567] And thou art but of low degree: [5567] 'Tis pride that pulls the country down; [5567] Then take thine auld cloak about thee. [5567][5580] Some wine, ho! 10 Cas. Why, this is a more exquisite song than the other. [5581] Iago. Will you hear't again? Cas. No; for I hold him to be unworthy of his place^[5582] that does those things. Well: God's above all; and [5583] there be souls must be saved, and there be souls must^{[5584][5585]} not be saved.[5585] 15 Iago. It's true, good lieutenant. [5586] Cas. For mine own part—no offence to the general, nor any man of quality—I hope to be saved. Iago. And so do I too, lieutenant. [5587] 00 Cas. Ay, but, by your leave, not before me; the lieutenant is to be saved before the ancient. Let's have no [5588] more of this; let's to our affairs. God forgive us our sins! [5589] Gentlemen, let's look to our business. Do not think, gentlemen, I am drunk: this is my ancient: this is my right 05 hand, and this is my left. I am not drunk now; I can^[5590] stand well enough, and speak well enough. [5591] All. Excellent well. [5592] Cas. Why, very well then; you must not think then^[5593] [Exit.[5594] that I am drunk. 10 Mon. To the platform, masters; come, let's set the watch. [5595] Iago. You see this fellow that is gone before; He is a soldier fit to stand by Cæsar^[5596] And give direction: and do but see his vice; 'Tis to his virtue a just equinox, [5597] The one as long as the other: 'tis pity of him. 15 I fear the trust Othello puts him in [5598] On some odd time of his infirmity Will shake this island. [5599] Mon. But is he often thus? Iago. 'Tis evermore the prologue to his sleep:^[5600] 20 He'll watch the horologe a double set, [5601] If drink rock not his cradle. Mon. It were well^[5602] The general were put in mind of it. [5603] Perhaps he sees it not, or his good nature Prizes the virtue that appears in Cassio^[5604]

	From her propriety. What is the matter, masters? ^[5636] Honest Iago, that look'st dead with grieving, ^[5637]
	Speak, who began this? on thy love, I charge thee. [5638]
70	Iago. I do not know: friends all but now, even now, [5639] In quarter, and in terms like bride and groom
	Devesting them for bed; and then, but now, ^[5640] As if some planet had unwitted men, ^[5641]
	Swords out, and tilting one at other's breast, [5642]
	In opposition bloody. I cannot speak ^[5643]
75	Any beginning to this peevish odds;
	And would in action glorious I had lost
	Those legs that brought me to a part of it! ^[5644]
	Oth. How comes it, Michael, you are thus forgot? ^[5645]
	Cas. I pray you, pardon me; I cannot speak.
80	Oth. Worthy Montano, you were wont be civil;[5646][5647]
	The gravity and stillness of your youth The world hath noted, and your name is great
	In mouths of wisest censure: what's the matter, [5648]
	That you unlace your reputation thus, [5649]
85	And spend your rich opinion for the name
	Of a night-brawler? give me answer to it. [5650]
	Mon. Worthy Othello, I am hurt to danger:
	Your officer, Iago, can inform you— While I spare speech, which something now offends me— ^[5651]
90	Of all that I do know: nor know I aught
	By me that's said or done amiss this night; ^[5652] Unless self-charity be sometimes a vice, ^[5653]
	And to defend ourselves it be a sin
	When violence assails us.
	Oth. Now, by heaven,
95	My blood begins my safer guides to rule,
	And passion, having my best judgement collied, [5654]
	Assays to lead the way: if I once stir, ^[5655] Or do but lift this arm, the best of you Shall sink in my rebuke. Give me to know
00	How this foul rout began, who set it on,
	And he that is approved in this offence, [5656]
	Though he had twinn'd with me, both at a birth,
	Shall lose me. What! in a town of war, ^[5657] Yet wild, the people's hearts brimful of fear,
05	To manage private and domestic quarrel, [5658]
	In night, and on the court and guard of safety! ^[5659]
	'Tis monstrous. Iago, who began't? ^[5660]
	Mon. If partially affined, or leagued in office, [5661]
	Thou dost deliver more or less than truth,
	Thou art no soldier. ^[5662]
10	Iago. Touch me not so near:
	I had rather have this tongue cut from my mouth ^[5663] Than it should do offence to Michael Cassio;
	Yet, I persuade myself, to speak the truth ^[5664]
	Shall nothing wrong him. Thus it is, general. [5665]
15	Montano and myself being in speech,
	There comes a fellow crying out for help,
	And Cassio following him with determined sword, [5666]
	To execute upon him. Sir, this gentleman Steps in to Cassio and entreats his pause: ^[5667]
20	Myself the crying fellow did pursue,
	Lest by his clamour—as it so fell out—
	The town might fall in fright: he, swift of foot,
	Outran my purpose; and I return'd the rather ^[5668]

25	And Cassio high in oath; which till to-night ^[5669]
	I ne'er might say before. When I came back— ^[5670] For this was brief—I found them close together,
	At blow and thrust; even as again they were When you yourself did part them.
30	More of this matter cannot I report: ^[5671] But men are men; the best sometimes forget:
	Though Cassio did some little wrong to him,
	As men in rage strike those that wish them best, [5672] Yet surely Cassio, I believe, received
35	From him that fled some strange indignity, Which patience could not pass.
	Oth. I know, Iago, Thy honesty and love doth mince this matter,
	Making it light to Cassio. Cassio, I love thee; But never more be officer of mine.
	Re-enter Desdemona, attended. [5673]
40	Look, if my gentle love be not raised up! I'll make thee an example.
	Des. What's the matter? ^[5674]
	Oth. All's well now, sweeting; come away to bed. [5675][56	76]
	Sir, for your hurts, myself will be your surgeon: ^[5675] Lead him off.	[To Montano, who is
4 5	Iago, look with care about the town, And silence those whom this vile brawl distracted. [5678]	led off. ^[5675] [5677]

a quarrel, but nothing wherefore. O God, that men should^[5695] put an enemy in their mouths to steal away their brains! that we should, with joy, pleasance, revel and applause, [5696] 80 transform ourselves into beasts! Iago. Why, but you are now well enough: how came vou thus recovered? Cas. It hath pleased the devil drunkenness to give place to the devil wrath: one unperfectness shows me another, to make me frankly despise myself. 85 Iago. Come, you are too severe a moraler: as the time, the place, and the condition of this country stands, I could^[5697] heartily wish this had not befallen; but since it is as it is, [5698] mend it for your own good. Cas. I will ask him for my place again; he shall tell me 90 I am a drunkard! Had I as many mouths as Hydra, such an answer would stop them all. To be now a sensible man, [5699] by and by a fool, and presently a beast! O strange! Every [5700] inordinate cup is unblest, and the ingredient is a devil. [5701] 95 Iago. Come, come, good wine is a good familiar creature, [5702] if it be well used: exclaim no more against it. And, good lieutenant, I think you think I love you. Cas. I have well approved it, sir. I drunk! Iago. You or any man living may be drunk at some time, [5703] 00 man. I'll tell you what you shall do. Our general's wife^[5704] is now the general. I may say so in this respect, for that he hath devoted and given up himself to the contemplation, [5705] mark and denotement of her parts and graces: confess^[5706] yourself freely to her; importune her help to put you in [5707] 0.5 your place again: she is of so free, so kind, so apt, so blessed^[5708] a disposition, she holds it a vice in her goodness not to do^[5709] more than she is requested: this broken joint between you^[5710] and her husband entreat her to splinter; and, my fortunes against any lay worth naming, this crack of your love shall 10 grow stronger than it was before. [5711] Cas. You advise me well. Iago. I protest, in the sincerity of love and honest^[5712] kindness. Cas. I think it freely; and betimes in the morning I^[5713] 15 will be seech the virtuous Desdemona to undertake for me:[5713] I am desperate of my fortunes if they check me here. [5714] Iago. You are in the right. Good night, lieutenant; I^[5715] must to the watch.^[5715] [Exit.[5716] Cas. Good night, honest Iago. 20 Iago. And what's he then that says I play the villain?^[5717] When this advice is free I give and honest, Probal to thinking, and indeed the course^[5718] To win the Moor again? For 'tis most easy^[5719] The inclining Desdemona to subdue^[5720] 25 In any honest suit. She's framed as fruitful^[5720] As the free elements. And then for her To win the Moor, were't to renounce his baptism, [5721] All seals and symbols of redeemed sin, His soul is so enfetter'd to her love, That she may make, unmake, do what she list, 30 Even as her appetite shall play the god With his weak function. How am I then a villain[5722]To counsel Cassio to this parallel course, [5723]

Directly to his good? Divinity of hell!^{[5723][5724]} 35 When devils will the blackest sins put on, [5725] They do suggest at first with heavenly shows, As I do now: for whiles this honest fool^[5726] Plies Desdemona to repair his fortunes, [5727] And she for him pleads strongly to the Moor, 40 I'll pour this pestilence into his ear, That she repeals him for her body's lust; [5728] And by how much she strives to do him good, She shall undo her credit with the Moor. So will I turn her virtue into pitch; And out of her own goodness make the net 45 That shall enmesh them all. Enter Roderigo. [5729] How now, Roderigo! Rod. I do follow here in the chase, not like a hound that [5730] hunts, but one that fills up the cry. My money is almost spent; I have been to-night exceedingly well cudgelled; [5731] 50 and I think the issue will be, I shall have so much experience^[5732] for my pains; and so, with no money at all and a^[5733] little more wit, return again to Venice. [5733] Iago. How poor are they that have not patience! What wound did ever heal but by degrees? 55 Thou know'st we work by wit and not by witchcraft. [5734] And wit depends on dilatory time. Does't not go well? Cassio hath beaten thee, [5735] And thou by that small hurt hast cashier'd Cassio: [5736] Though other things grow fair against the sun. [5737] 60 Yet fruits that blossom first will first be ripe: [5738] Content thyself awhile. By the mass, 'tis morning; [5739] Pleasure and action make the hours seem short. [5740] Retire thee; go where thou art billeted: Away, I say; thou shalt know more hereafter: 65 Nay, get thee gone. [Exit Rod.] Two things are to be done: [5741] My wife must move for Cassio to her mistress; I'll set her on;^{[5742][5743][5744][5745]} Myself the while to draw the Moor apart, [5743][5745][5746]And bring him jump when he may Cassio find^[5747] 70 Soliciting his wife: ay, that's the way; Dull not device by coldness and delay. [Exit. [5748]

ACT III.

Scene I. Before the castle.

Enter Cassio and some Musicians. [5749]

Cas. Masters, play here; I will content your pains;^[5750] Something that's brief; and bid 'Good morrow, general.'

[Music.

Enter Clown. [5751]

Clo. Why, masters, have your instruments been in^[5752] Naples, that they speak i' the nose thus?^[5753]

First Mus. How, sir, how![5754]

Clo. Are these, I pray you, wind-instruments?^[5755]

First Mus. Ay, marry, are they, sir. [5754]

Clo. O, thereby hangs a tail. [5756]

First Mus. Whereby hangs a tale, sir?[5757]

Clo. Marry, sir, by many a wind-instrument that I know. But, masters, here's money for you: and the general so^[5758] likes your music, that he desires you, for love's sake, to^[5759] make no more noise with it.^[5760]

First Mus. Well, sir, we will not.

Clo. If you have any music that may not be heard, to 't again: but, as they say, to hear music the general does not greatly care.

First Mus. We have none such, sir. [5761]

Clo. Then put up your pipes in your bag, for I'll away: [5762] go; vanish into air; away! [Exeunt Musicians.

Cas. Dost thou hear, my honest friend?^[5764]

Clo. No, I hear not your honest friend; I hear you. [5765]

Cas. Prithee, keep up thy quillets. There's a poor piece of gold for thee: if the gentlewoman that attends the general's wife be stirring, tell her there's one Cassio entreats^[5766] her a little favour of speech: wilt thou do this?^[5767]

Clo. She is stirring, sir: if she will stir hither, I shall seem to notify unto her. [5768]

Cas. Do, good my friend.

[Exit Clown. [5769]

Enter Iago. [5770]

In happy time, Iago.

Iago. You have not been a-bed, then?^{[5771][5772]}

Cas. Why, no; the day had broke^[5773]
Before we parted. I have made bold, Iago,^{[5772][5773][5774]}
To send in to your wife: my suit to her^{[5773][5775]}
Is, that she will to virtuous Desdemona^{[5773][5776]}
Procure me some access.

Iago. I'll send her to you presently;^[5777] And I'll devise a mean to draw the Moor

Out of the way, that your converse and business May be more free. Cas. I humbly thank you for't. [Exit Iago.] I never knew^{[5778][5779]} A Florentine more kind and honest. [5779][5780] Enter Emilia. Emil. Good morrow, good lieutenant: I am sorry For your displeasure; but all will sure be well. [5781] The general and his wife are talking of it, And she speaks for you stoutly: the Moor replies, That he you hurt is of great fame in Cyprus And great affinity, and that in wholesome wisdom^[5782] He might not but refuse you; but he protests he loves you, [5783] And needs no other suitor but his likings^[5784] To take the safest occasion by the front^[5785] To bring you in again. Cas. Yet, I beseech you, If you think fit, or that it may be done, Give me advantage of some brief discourse With Desdemona alone. Emil. Pray you, come in: [5786] I will bestow you where you shall have time To speak your bosom freely. [Exeunt.[5787] Cas. I am much bound to you. Scene II. A room in the castle. [5788] Enter Othello, Iago, and Gentlemen. Oth. These letters give, Iago, to the pilot; And by him do my duties to the senate: [5789] That done, I will be walking on the works: [5790] Repair there to me. Iago. Well, my good lord, I'll do't. [5791] Oth. This fortification, gentlemen, shall we see't? [Exeunt.[5792] Gent. We'll wait upon your lordship. Scene III. The garden of the castle. [5793] Enter Desdemona, Cassio, and Emilia. Des. Be thou assured, good Cassio, I will do All my abilities in thy behalf. Emil. Good madam, do: I warrant it grieves my husband^[5794] As if the case were his. [5795] Des. O, that's an honest fellow. Do not doubt, Cassio, [5796] But I will have my lord and you again As friendly as you were. Cas. Bounteous madam, [5797] Whatever shall become of Michael Cassio, He's never any thing but your true servant. Des. I know't: I thank you. You do love my lord: [5798]

Cas. Ay, but, lady,
That policy may either last so long, [5801]
Or feed upon such nice and waterish diet,
Or breed itself so out of circumstance, [5802]

Than in a politic distance.

You have known him long; and be you well assured^[5799]

He shall in strangeness stand no farther off^[5800]

That, I being absent and my place supplied,
My general will forget my love and service. [5803]
Des. Do not doubt that; before Emilia here
I give thee warrant of thy place: assure thee, [5804]
If I do vow a friendship, I'll perform it
To the last article: my lord shall never rest; [5805]
I'll watch him tame and talk him out of patience;
His bed shall seem a school, his board a shrift;
I'll intermingle every thing he does
With Cassio's suit: therefore be merry, Cassio;
For thy solicitor shall rather die
Than give thy cause away. [5806]
                Enter Othello and Iago, at a distance. [5807]
Emil. Madam, here comes my lord.
Cas. Madam, I'll take my leave.
Des. Nay, stay and hear me speak. [5808]
Cas. Madam, not now: I am very ill at ease, [5809]
Unfit for mine own purposes.[5810]
                                                              [Exit Cassio.[5811]
Des. Well, do your discretion.
Iago. Ha! I like not that.
Oth. What dost thou say?
Iago. Nothing, my lord: or if—I know not what. [5812]
Oth. Was not that Cassio parted from my wife?
Iago. Cassio, my lord! No, sure, I cannot think it,[5813]
That he would steal away so guilty-like, [5814]
Seeing you coming.
Oth. I do believe 'twas he. [5815][5816]
Des. How now, my lord! [5816][5817]
I have been talking with a suitor here,
A man that languishes in your displeasure.
Oth. Who is't you mean?
Des. Why, your lieutenant, Cassio. Good my lord, [5818]
If I have any grace or power to move you,
His present reconciliation take; [5819]
For if he be not one that truly loves you,
That errs in ignorance and not in cunning,
I have no judgement in an honest face:
I prithee, call him back.
Oth. Went he hence now?[5820]
Des. Ay, sooth; so humbled, [5820][5821]
That he hath left part of his grief with me, [5822]
To suffer with him. Good love, call him back. [5823]
Oth. Not now, sweet Desdemona; some other time. [5824]
Des. But shall't be shortly?
Oth. The sooner, sweet, for you. [5825]
Des. Shall't be to-night at supper?
Oth. No, not to-night. [5826]
Des. To-morrow dinner then?
Oth. I shall not dine at home;

0	I meet the captains at the citadel.
15	Des. Why then to-morrow night; or Tuesday morn; ^[5827] On Tuesday noon, or night; on Wednesday morn: ^[5828] I prithee, name the time; but let it not ^[5829] Exceed three days: in faith, he's penitent; ^[5830] And yet his trespass, in our common reason—
	Save that, they say, the wars must make examples ^[5831] Out of their best—is not almost a fault ^[5832] To incur a private check. When shall he come? Tell me, Othello: I wonder in my soul,
'0	What you would ask me, that I should deny, [5833] Or stand so mammering on. What! Michael Cassio, [5834] That came a-wooing with you, and so many a time [5835] When I have spoke of you dispraisingly
5	Hath ta'en your part; to have so much to do To bring him in! Trust me, I could do much—[5836]
	Oth. Prithee, no more: let him come when he will; I will deny thee nothing.
	Des. Why, this is not a boon; 'Tis as I should entreat you wear your gloves, ^[5837]
10	Or feed on nourishing dishes, or keep you warm, [5838]
10	Or sue to you to do a peculiar profit ^[5839] To your own person: nay, when I have a suit ^[5840]
	Wherein I mean to touch your love indeed,
	It shall be full of poise and difficult weight, [5841] And fearful to be granted.
15	Oth. I will deny thee nothing: Whereon, I do beseech thee, grant me this, To leave me but a little to myself.
	Des. Shall I deny you? no: farewell, my lord.
	Oth. Farewell, my Desdemona: I'll come to thee straight. [5842]
0	Des. Emilia, come. Be as your fancies teach you; ^[5843] Whate'er you be, I am obedient.
	[Exeunt Desdemona and Emilia. ^[5844]
	Oth. Excellent wretch! Perdition catch my soul, [5845] But I do love thee! and when I love thee not, Chaos is come again.
	Iago. My noble lord,— ^[5846]
	Oth. What dost thou say, Iago?
15	Iago. Did Michael Cassio, when you woo'd my lady, [5847][5848] Know of your love? [5847]
	Oth. He did, from first to last: why dost thou ask? ^[5849]
	Iago. But for a satisfaction of my thought; [5850] No further harm.
	Oth. Why of thy thought, Iago?
00	Iago. I did not think he had been acquainted with her. [5851]
	Oth. O, yes, and went between us very oft. ^[5852]
	Iago. Indeed!
	Oth. Indeed! ay, indeed: discern'st thou aught in that? ^[5853] Is he not honest?
05	Iago. Honest, my lord!

	Oth. Honest! ay, honest. ^[5854]
	Iago. My lord, for aught I know.
	Oth. What dost thou think?
	Iago. Think, my lord!
10	Oth. Think, my lord! By heaven, he echoes me, [5855] As if there were some monster in his thought [5856] Too hideous to be shown. Thou dost mean something: [5857] I heard thee say even now, thou likedst not that, [5858]
15	When Cassio left my wife: what didst not like? And when I told thee he was of my counsel In my whole course of wooing, thou criedst 'Indeed!'[5859] And didst contract and purse thy brow together, As if thou then hadst shut up in thy brain
20	Some horrible conceit: if thou dost love me, ^[5860] Show me thy thought.
	Iago. My lord, you know I love you.
25	Oth. I think thou dost; And for I know thou'rt full of love and honesty ^[5861] And weigh'st thy words before thou givest them breath, ^[5862] Therefore these stops of thine fright me the more: ^[5863] For such things in a false disloyal knave Are tricks of custom; but in a man that's just They're close delations, working from the heart, ^[5864] That passion cannot rule.
	Iago. For Michael Cassio, I dare be sworn I think that he is honest. ^[5865]
	Oth. I think so too.
30	Iago. Men should be what they seem; ^[5866] Or those that be not, would they might seem none! ^[5867]
	Oth. Certain, men should be what they seem. ^[5868]
	Iago. Why then I think Cassio's an honest man. ^[5869]
35	Oth. Nay, yet there's more in this: I prithee, speak to me as to thy thinkings, ^[5870] As thou dost ruminate, and give thy worst of thoughts ^[5871] The worst of words. ^[5872]
40	Iago. Good my lord, pardon me: Though I am bound to every act of duty, [5873] I am not bound to that all slaves are free to. [5874] Utter my thoughts? Why, say they are vile and false; [5875] As where's that palace whereinto foul things Sometimes intrude not? who has a breast so pure, [5876]
45	But some uncleanly apprehensions ^[5877] Keep leets and law-days, and in session sit ^[5878] With meditations lawful?
	Oth. Thou dost conspire against thy friend, Iago, If thou but think'st him wrong'd and makest his ear ^[5879] A stranger to thy thoughts.
50	Iago. I do beseech you—[5880] Though I perchance am vicious in my guess, [5880][5881] As, I confess, it is my nature's plague To spy into abuses, and oft my jealousy [5882][5883] Shapes faults that are not—that your wisdom yet, [5883][5884] From one that so imperfectly conceits, [5885]
55	Would take no notice, nor build yourself a trouble ^[5886] Out of his scattering and unsure observance. ^[5887]

	Nor for my manhood, honesty, or wisdom, [5888] To let you know my thoughts.
	Oth. What dost thou mean? ^[5889]
60	Iago. Good name in man and woman, dear my lord, [5890] Is the immediate jewel of their souls: [5891] Who steals my purse steals trash; 'tis something, nothing; [5892] 'Twas mine, 'tis his, and has been slave to thousands; But he that filches from me my good name Robs me of that which not enriches him [5893]
65	And makes me poor indeed.
	Oth. By heaven, I'll know thy thoughts. [5894]
	Iago. You cannot, if my heart were in your hand; Nor shall not, whilst 'tis in my custody.
	Oth. Ha!
70	Iago. O, beware, my lord, of jealousy; ^[5895] It is the green-eyed monster, which doth mock ^{[5896][5897]} The meat it feeds on: that cuckold lives in bliss ^{[5897][5898]} Who, certain of his fate, loves not his wronger; ^[5899] But, O, what damned minutes tells he o'er Who dotes, yet doubts, suspects, yet strongly loves! ^[5900]
75	Oth. O misery!
	Iago. Poor and content is rich, and rich enough; But riches fineless is as poor as winter ^[5901] To him that ever fears he shall be poor: Good heaven, the souls of all my tribe defend ^[5902] From jealousy!
80	Oth. Why, why is this? ^[5903] Think'st thou I'ld make a life of jealousy, To follow still the changes of the moon With fresh suspicions? No; to be once in doubt
85	Is once to be resolved: exchange me for a goat, [5904] When I shall turn the business of my soul To such exsufflicate and blown surmises, [5905] Matching thy inference. 'Tis not to make me jealous [5906] To say my wife is fair, feeds well, loves company,
90	Is free of speech, sings, plays and dances well; ^[5907] Where virtue is, these are more virtuous: ^[5908] Nor from mine own weak merits will I draw The smallest fear or doubt of her revolt;
95	For she had eyes, and chose me. No, Iago; [5909] I'll see before I doubt; when I doubt, prove; And on the proof, there is no more but this, Away at once with love or jealousy! [5910]
	Iago. I am glad of it; for now I shall have reason ^{[5911][5912]} To show the love and duty that I bear you
:00	With franker spirit: therefore, as I am bound, ^[5911] Receive it from me. I speak not yet of proof. ^[5913] Look to your wife; observe her well with Cassio; Wear your eye thus, not jealous nor secure: ^[5914]
:05	I would not have your free and noble nature Out of self-bounty be abused; look to't: I know our country disposition well; In Venice they do let heaven see the pranks ^[5915] They dare not show their husbands; their best conscience ^[5916] Is not to leave't undone, but keep't unknown. ^[5917]
	Oth. Dost thou say so? ^[5918]
10	Iago. She did deceive her father, marrying you;

And when she seem'd to shake and fear your looks,
                       She loved them most.
                       Oth. And so she did.
                       Iago. Why, go to then; [5919]
                       She that so young could give out such a seeming,
                       To seel her father's eyes up close as oak—[5920]
15
                       He thought 'twas witchcraft—but I am much to blame; [5911][5921]
                       I humbly do beseech you of your pardon
                       For too much loving you.
                       Oth. I am bound to thee for ever.[5911][5922]
                       Iago. I see this hath a little dash'd your spirits.
                       Oth. Not a jot, not a jot.
                       Iago. I'faith, I fear it has.[5923]
                       I hope you will consider what is spoke 20
                       Comes from my love; but I do see you're moved: [5924]
                       I am to pray you not to strain my speech
                       To grosser issues nor to larger reach
                       Than to suspicion.
                       Oth. I will not.
25
                       Iago. Should you do so, my lord,
                       My speech should fall into such vile success<sup>[5925]</sup>
                       As my thoughts aim not at. Cassio's my worthy friend—[5926]
                       My lord, I see you're moved.[5927]
                       Oth. No. not much moved:
                       I do not think but Desdemona's honest. [5928]
30
                       Iago. Long live she so! and long live you to think so!<sup>[5929]</sup>
                       Oth. And yet, how nature erring from itself—[5930]
                       Iago. Ay, there's the point: as—to be bold with you—[5931]
                       Not to affect many proposed matches
                       Of her own clime, complexion and degree,
:35
                       Whereto we see in all things nature tends—[5932]
                       Foh! one may smell in such a will most rank, [5933]
                       Foul disproportion, thoughts unnatural. [5934]
                       But pardon me: I do not in position<sup>[5935]</sup>
                       Distinctly speak of her; though I may fear<sup>[5936]</sup>
40
                       Her will, recoiling to her better judgement,
                       May fall to match you with her country forms, [5937]
                       And happily repent.
                       Oth. Farewell, farewell: [5938]
                       If more thou dost perceive, let me know more;
                       Set on thy wife to observe: leave me, Iago. [5939]
45
                       Iago. [Going] My lord, I take my leave. [5940]
                       Oth. Why did I marry? This honest creature doubtless<sup>[5941]</sup>
                       Sees and knows more, much more, than he unfolds.
                       Iago. [Returning] My lord, I would I might entreat your honour [5942][5943]
                       To scan this thing no further; leave it to time: [5943][5944]
50
                       Though it be fit that Cassio have his place, [5945]
                       For sure he fills it up with great ability,
                       Yet, if you please to hold him off awhile, [5946]
                       You shall by that perceive him and his means:
                       Note if your lady strain his entertainment<sup>[5947]</sup>
                       With any strong or vehement importunity;
55
                       Much will be seen in that. In the mean time,
                       Let me be thought too busy in my fears—
                       As worthy cause I have to fear I am-

60 Oth. Fear not my government. [Exit.[5948] Iago. I once more take my leave. Oth. This fellow's of exceeding honesty, [5949] And knows all qualities, with a learned spirit, [5950][5951] Of human dealings. If I do prove her haggard, [5951][5952] Though that her jesses were my dear heart-strings, 65 I'ld whistle her off and let her down the wind^[5953] To prey at fortune. Haply, for I am black^{[5911][5954]} And have not those soft parts of conversation That chamberers have, or for I am declined :70 Into the vale of years,—yet that's not much—^[5955] She's gone; I am abused, and my relief^[5956] Must be to loathe her. O curse of marriage, [5957] That we can call these delicate creatures ours, And not their appetites! I had rather be a toad, :75 And live upon the vapour of a dungeon, [5958] Than keep a corner in the thing I love^[5959] For others' uses. Yet, 'tis the plague of great ones; [5960] Prerogatived are they less than the base; [5961] 'Tis destiny unshunnable, like death: [5962] Even then this forked plague is fated to us 80 When we do quicken. Desdemona comes: Re-enter Desdemona and Emilia. [5963] If she be false, O, then heaven mocks itself!^[5964] I'll not believe 't. [5965] Des. How now, my dear Othello! Your dinner, and the generous islanders^[5966] 85 By you invited, do attend your presence. Oth. I am to blame. Des. Why do you speak so faintly?[5967][5968] Are you not well?[5968] Oth. I have a pain upon my forehead here. [5969] Des. Faith, that's with watching; 'twill away again: [5970] 90 Let me but bind it hard, within this hour^[5971] It will be well. Oth. Your napkin is too little; [He puts the handkerchief from him; and she drops it. [5972] Let it alone. Come, I'll go in with you. Des. I am very sorry that you are not well. [Exeunt Othello and Desdemona. [5973] Emil. I am glad I have found this napkin: [5974] This was her first remembrance from the Moor: 95 My wayward husband hath a hundred times Woo'd me to steal it; but she so loves the token, [5975] For he conjured her she should ever keep it, That she reserves it evermore about her To kiss and talk to. I'll have the work ta'en out, [5976][5977][5978] 00 And give 't Iago: what he will do with $it^{[5976][5978][5979]}$ Heaven knows, not I:[5976] I nothing but to please his fantasy. Re-enter IAGO. [5980]

Iago. How now! what do you here alone?

And hold her free, I do beseech your honour.

05	Emil. Do not you chide; I have a thing for you. ^[5981]
	Iago. A thing for me? it is a common thing—[5981][5982]
	Emil. Ha!
	Iago. To have a foolish wife. ^[5983]
	Emil. O, is that all? What will you give me now For that same handkerchief?
10	Iago. What handkerchief? ^[5984]
	Emil. What handkerchief! ^[5984] Why, that the Moor first gave to Desdemona; That which so often you did bid me steal.
	Iago. Hast stol'n it from her? ^[5985]
:15	Emil. No, faith; she let it drop by negligence, [5986] And, to the advantage, I being here took 't up. [5987] Look, here it is. [5988]
	Iago. A good wench; give it me.
	Emil. What will you do with 't, that you have been so earnest $[5989][5990]$ To have me filch it? $[5989]$
	Iago. [Snatching it] Why, what's that to you? ^[5991]
320	Emil. If 't be not for some purpose of import, ^[5992] Give 't me again: poor lady, she'll run mad ^[5993] When she shall lack it.
(25)	Iago. Be not acknown on 't; I have use for it. [5994][5995] Go, leave me. [Exit Emilia. [5994] And let him find it. Trifles light as air Are to the jealous confirmations strong	l
30	As proofs of holy writ: this may do something. ^[5997] The Moor already changes with my poison: ^[5998] Dangerous conceits are in their natures poisons, ^[5999] Which at the first are scarce found to distaste, But with a little act upon the blood ^[6000] Burn like the mines of sulphur. I did say so: ^[6001] Look, where he comes!
	Re-enter Othello. [6002]
35	Not poppy, nor mandragora, Nor all the drowsy syrups of the world, [6003] Shall ever medicine thee to that sweet sleep Which thou owedst yesterday.
	Oth. Ha! ha! false to me?[6004]
	Iago. Why, how now, general! no more of that.
40	Oth. Avaunt! be gone! thou hast set me on the rack: ^[6005] I swear 'tis better to be much abused Than but to know 't a little.
	Iago. How now, my lord! ^[6006]
345	Oth. What sense had I of her stol'n hours of lust? ^[6007] I saw 't not, thought it not, it harm'd not me: ^[6008] I slept the next night well, was free and merry; ^[6009] I found not Cassio's kisses on her lips: He that is robb'd, not wanting what is stol'n, Let him not know 't and he's not robb'd at all.
	Iago. I am sorry to hear this.

Oth. I had been happy, if the general camp, 50 Pioners and all, had tasted her sweet body, [6010] So I had nothing known. O, now for ever Farewell the tranguil mind! farewell content! Farewell the plumed troop and the big $wars^{[6011]}$ That make ambition virtue! O, farewell, [6012] Farewell the neighing steed and the shrill trump, 55 The spirit-stirring drum, the ear-piercing fife, [6013] The royal banner and all quality, Pride, pomp and circumstance of glorious war! And, O you mortal engines, whose rude throats^[6014] 60 The immortal Jove's dread clamours counterfeit, [6015] Farewell! Othello's occupation's gone! Iago. Is't possible, my lord?^[6016] Oth. Villain, be sure thou prove my love a whore; [6017] Be sure of it; give me the ocular proof; [6018] 65 Or, by the worth of man's eternal soul, [6019] Thou hadst been better have been born a dog^[6020] Than answer my waked wrath![6021] Iago. Is't come to this? Oth. Make me to see 't; or at the least so prove it, That the probation bear no hinge nor loop 70 To hang a doubt on; or woe upon thy life! Iago. My noble lord,—[6022] Oth. If thou dost slander her and torture me, Never pray more; abandon all remorse; On horror's head horrors accumulate; [6023] 75 Do deeds to make heaven weep, all earth amazed; For nothing canst thou to damnation add^[6024] Greater than that [6024] Iago. O grace! O heaven defend me!^[6025] Are you a man? have you a soul or sense? God be wi' you; take mine office. O wretched fool, [6026] 80 That livest to make thine honesty a vice! [6027] O monstrous world! Take note, take note, O world, [6028] To be direct and honest is not safe. I thank you for this profit, and from hence I'll love no friend sith love breeds such offence. [6029] 85 Oth. Nay, stay: thou shouldst be honest. [6030] Iago. I should be wise; for honesty's a fool, And loses that it works for. [6031] Oth. By the world. [6032] I think my wife be honest, and think she is not; [6032][6033] I think that thou art just, and think thou art not:[6032] I'll have some proof. Her name, that was as $fresh^{[6032][6034]}$ 90 As Dian's visage, is now begrimed and black^[6032] As mine own face. If there be cords, or knives, [6032] Poison, or fire, or suffocating streams, [6032][6035] I'll not endure it. Would I were satisfied! [6032] lago. I see, sir, you are eaten up with passion: [6032][6036] 95 I do repent me that I put it to you. You would be satisfied? Oth. Would! nay, I will. [6037] Iago. And may: but, how? how satisfied, my lord? Would you, the supervisor, grossly gape on? [6038] Behold her topp'd?[6039]

00	Oth. Death and damnation! O!
	Iago. It were a tedious difficulty, I think, To bring them to that prospect: damn them then, ^[6040] If ever mortal eyes do see them bolster ^[6041] More than their own! What then? how then? ^[6042]
05	What shall I say? Where's satisfaction? ^[6043] It is impossible you should see this,
	Were they as prime as goats, as hot as monkeys, [6044] As salt as wolves in pride, and fools as gross As ignorance made drunk. But yet, I say,
10	If imputation and strong circumstances, Which lead directly to the door of truth, Will give you satisfaction, you may have 't.[6045]
	Oth. Give me a living reason she's disloyal. [6046]
	Iago. I do not like the office:
15	But sith I am enter'd in this cause so far, [5911][6047] Prick'd to 't by foolish honesty and love, I will go on. I lay with Cassio lately, [6048]
	And being troubled with a raging tooth, ^[6049] I could not sleep. ^[6049]
20	There are a kind of men so loose of soul, [6049] That in their sleeps will mutter their affairs: [6049][6050] One of this kind is Cassio: [6049] In sleep I heard him say 'Sweet Desdemona,
25	Let us be wary, let us hide our loves; [6051] And then, sir, would he gripe and wring my hand,
	Cry 'O sweet creature!' and then kiss me hard, ^[6052]
	As if he pluck'd up kisses by the roots, That grew upon my lips: then laid his leg ^{[6053][6054]}
	Over my thigh, and sigh'd and kiss'd, and then ^{[6053][6055]}
30	Cried 'Cursed fate that gave thee to the Moor!'[6053][6055]
	Oth. O monstrous! monstrous!
	Iago. Nay, this was but his dream. ^[6056]
	Oth. But this denoted a foregone conclusion: ^[6057] 'Tis a shrewd doubt, though it be but a dream. ^[6058]
	Iago. And this may help to thicken other proofs ^[6058] That do demonstrate thinly.
35	Oth. I'll tear her all to pieces.
	Iago. Nay, but be wise: yet we see nothing done; [6059] She may be honest yet. Tell me but this; Have you not sometimes seen a handkerchief [6060] Spotted with strawberries in your wife's hand? [6061] [6062]
40	Oth. I gave her such a one; 'twas my first gift.
	Iago. I know not that: but such a handkerchief—[6060] I am sure it was your wife's—did I to-day ^[5911] [6061] See Cassio wipe his beard with.
	Oth. If it be that,—[6063]
45	Iago. If it be that, or any that was hers, [6064] It speaks against her with the other proofs.
	Oth. O, that the slave had forty thousand lives! One is too poor, too weak for my revenge. Now do I see 'tis true. Look here, Iago; [6065]
50	All my fond love thus do I blow to heaven: 'Tis gone. [6066]
	Arise, black vengeance, from thy hollow cell! ^[6067] Yield up, O love, thy crown and hearted throne ^[6068]

For 'tis of aspics' tongues! Iago. Yet be content. [6069] :55 Oth. O, blood, blood! [6070] Iago. Patience, I say; your mind perhaps may change. [6071] Oth. Never, Iago. Like to the Pontic sea.[6072][6073]Whose icy current and compulsive course^{[6072][6074]} Ne'er feels retiring ebb, but keeps due on [6072][6075] :60 To the Propontic and the Hellespont; [6072] Even so my bloody thoughts, with violent pace, [6072] Shall ne'er look back, ne'er ebb to humble love, [6072][6076] Till that a capable and wide revenge [6072] Swallow them up. Now, by yond marble heaven, [6072][6077] [Kneels.[6078] In the due reverence of a sacred vow 65 I here engage my words. [Kneels.[6079] Iago. Do not rise yet. Witness, you ever-burning lights above, [6080] You elements that clip us round about, [6081] Witness that here Iago doth give up :70 The execution of his wit, hands, heart, [6082] To wrong'd Othello's service! Let him command, And to obey shall be in me remorse. [6083][6084] [They rise.[6084] What bloody business ever. [6085] Oth. I greet thy love, Not with vain thanks, but with acceptance bounteous. :75 And will upon the instant put thee to 't: Within these three days let me hear thee say That Cassio's not alive. Iago. My friend is dead; 'tis done at your request:^[6086][6087] But let her live. [6086] Oth. Damn her, lewd minx! O, damn her! [6088] .80 Come, go with me apart; I will withdraw, To furnish me with some swift means of death For the fair devil. Now art thou my lieutenant. [6089] [Exeunt. Iago. I am your own for ever. Scene IV. Before the castle. Enter Desdemona, Emilia, and Clown. [6090] Des. Do you know, sirrah, where Lieutenant Cassio lies?[6091] Clo. I dare not say he lies any where. Des. Why, man? Clo. He's a soldier; and for one to say a soldier lies, is [6092] stabbing. Des. Go to: where lodges he? [6093] Clo. To tell you where he lodges, is to tell you where [6094] I lie.[6094] Des. Can any thing be made of this? [6094] Clo. I know not where he lodges; and for me to devise a lodging, and say he lies here or he lies there, were to lie^[6095] in mine own throat. [6096] Des. Can you inquire him out and be edified by report?[6097]

To tyrannous hate! Swell, bosom, with thy fraught,

```
Clo. I will catechize the world for him; that is, make questions and by them answer.[6098]
Des. Seek him, bid him come hither: tell him I have moved my lord on his behalf and hope all will be well. [6099]
Clo. To do this is within the compass of man's wit, and [6100]
                                                                      [Exit.[6101]
therefore I will attempt the doing it.
Des. Where should I lose that handkerchief, Emilia?[6102]
Emil. I know not, madam.
Des. Believe me, I had rather have lost my purse<sup>[6103]</sup>
Full of crusadoes: and, but my noble Moor
Is true of mind and made of no such baseness
As jealous creatures are, it were enough<sup>[6104]</sup>
To put him to ill thinking. [6104]
Emil. Is he not jealous?
Des. Who, he? I think the sun where he was born
Drew all such humours from him.
Emil. Look, where he comes.
Des. I will not leave him now till Cassio<sup>[6105]</sup>
Be call'd to him. [6105]
                            Enter Othello. [6106]
                  How is't with you, my lord?[6107]
Oth. Well, my good lady. [Aside] O, hardness to dissemble! [6108]
How do you, Desdemona?
Des. Well, my good lord. [6109]
Oth. Give me your hand: this hand is moist, my lady. [6110]
Des. It yet has felt no age nor known no sorrow. [6111]
Oth. This argues fruitfulness and liberal heart:
Hot, hot, and moist: this hand of yours requires<sup>[6112]</sup>
A sequester from liberty, fasting and prayer. [6113]
Much castigation, exercise devout: [6114]
For here's a young and sweating devil here, [6115]
That commonly rebels. 'Tis a good hand,
A frank one.[6116]
Des. You may, indeed, say so;
For 'twas that hand that gave away my heart.
Oth. A liberal hand: the hearts of old gave hands; [6117]
But our new heraldry is hands, not hearts.
Des. I cannot speak of this. Come now, your promise. [6118]
Oth. What promise, chuck?
Des. I have sent to bid Cassio come speak with you.
Oth. I have a salt and sorry rheum offends me; [6119]
Lend me thy handkerchief.[6120]
Des. Here, my lord.
Oth. That which I gave you.
Des. I have it not about me.
Oth. Not?[6121]

Des. No, indeed, my lord. [6122]
                       Oth. That's a fault. That handkerchief [6120][6123]
                       Did an Egyptian to my mother give;
                       She was a charmer, and could almost read
                       The thoughts of people: she told her, while she kept it
                       'Twould make her amiable and subdue my father<sup>[6124]</sup>
                       Entirely to her love, but if she lost it<sup>[6125]</sup>
                       Or made a gift of it, my father's eye
                       Should hold her loathed and his spirits should hunt<sup>[6126]</sup>
                       After new fancies: she dying gave it me,
                       And bid me, when my fate would have me wive, [6127]
                       To give it her. I did so: and take heed on't;
                       Make it a darling like your precious eye;
                       To lose't or give't away were such perdition<sup>[6128]</sup>
                       As nothing else could match.
                       Des. Is't possible?
                       Oth. 'Tis true: there's magic in the web of it:
                       A sibyl, that had number'd in the world<sup>[6129]</sup>
                       The sun to course two hundred compasses, [6130]
                       In her prophetic fury sew'd the work; [6131]
                       The worms were hallow'd that did breed the silk; [6132]
                       And it was dyed in mummy which the skilful<sup>[6133]</sup>
                       Conserved of maidens' hearts.
                       Des. Indeed! is't true?[6134]
                       Oth. Most veritable; therefore look to't well.
                       Des. Then would to God that I had never seen't![6135]
                       Oth. Ha! wherefore?
                       Des. Why do you speak so startingly and rash?[6136]
                       Oth. Is't lost? is't gone? speak, is it out o' the way?[6137]
                       Des. Heaven bless us![6138]
                       Oth. Say you?
                       Des. It is not lost; but what an if it were?[6139]
                       Oth. How![6140]
                       Des. I say, it is not lost.
                       Oth. Fetch't, let me see it.[6141]
                       Des. Why, so I can, sir, but I will not now.[6142]
                       This is a trick to put me from my suit:
                       Pray you, let Cassio be received again. [6143]
                       \it Oth. Fetch me the handkerchief: my mind misgives. ^{[6144][6145][6146]}
                       Des. Come, come;[6147]
                       You'll never meet a more sufficient man. [6147][6148]
                       Oth. The handkerchief! [6145]
                       Des. I pray, talk me of Cassio. [6149]
                       Oth. The handkerchief! [6149]
                       Des. A man that all his time
                       Hath founded his good fortunes on your love, [6150]
                       Shared dangers with you,—[6151][6152]

Des. In sooth, you are to blame. [6151][6153] [Exit.^[6151][6154] Oth. Away! Emil. Is not this man jealous?[6151][6155]00 Des. I ne'er saw this before. Sure there's some wonder in this handkerchief: [6156] I am most unhappy in the loss of it. [6157] Emil. 'Tis not a year or two shows us a man: 05 They are all but stomachs and we all but food; [6158] They eat us hungerly, and when they are full^[6159] They belch us. Look you, Cassio and my husband. Enter Cassio and Iago. [6160] Iago. There is no other way; 'tis she must do't:^[6161] And, lo, the happiness! go and importune her. 10 Des. How now, good Cassio! what's the news with you? Cas. Madam, my former suit: I do beseech you That by your virtuous means I may again^[6162] Exist, and be a member of his love Whom I with all the office of my heart^[6163] Entirely honour: I would not be delay'd. [6164] 15 If my offence be of such mortal kind That nor my service past nor present sorrows^[6165] Nor purposed merit in futurity Can ransom me into his love again. But to know so must be my benefit; 20 So shall I clothe me in a forced content And shut myself up in some other course^[6166] To fortune's alms. [6167] Des. Alas, thrice-gentle Cassio! My advocation is not now in tune; My lord is not my lord, nor should I know him 25 Were he in favour as in humour alter'd. So help me every spirit sanctified, As I have spoken for you all my best And stood within the blank of his displeasure^[6168] For my free speech! You must awhile be patient: 30 What I can do I will; and more I will Than for myself I dare: let that suffice you. Iago. Is my lord angry? Emil. He went hence but now. And certainly in strange unquietness. Iago. Can he be angry? I have seen the cannon, 35 When it hath blown his ranks into the air. And, like the devil, from his very arm Puff'd his own brother; and can he be angry?[6169] Something of moment then: I will go meet him: 40 There's matter in't indeed if he be angry. Des. I prithee, do so. [Exit Iago.[6170] Something sure of state, Either from Venice or some unhatch'd practice^[6171] Made demonstrable here in Cyprus to him, [6172] Hath puddled his clear spirit; and in such cases^[6173] Men's natures wrangle with inferior things, 45 Though great ones are their object. 'Tis even so; [6174][6175] For let our finger ache, and it indues^{[6174][6176]} Our other healthful members even to that sense^{[6174][6177]} Of pain: nay, we must think men are not gods, [6174] Nor of them look for such observancy^[6178] 50 As fits the bridal. Beshrew me much, Emilia,

I was, unhandsome warrior as I am,[6179] Arraigning his unkindness with my soul; But now I find I had suborn'd the witness, 55 And he's indicted falsely. [6180] $\it Emil.$ Pray heaven it be state-matters, as you think, [6181][6182]And no conception nor no jealous toy^{[6181][6183][6184]} Concerning you. [6181] Des. Alas the day, I never gave him cause! 60 Emil. But jealous souls will not be answer'd so; [6184] They are not ever jealous for the cause, [6185] But jealous for they are jealous: 'tis a monster^[6186][6187] Begot upon itself, born on itself. [6188] Des. Heaven keep that monster from Othello's mind![6189] 65 Emil. Lady, amen. Des. I will go seek him. Cassio, walk hereabout: [6190] If I do find him fit, I'll move your suit, And seek to effect it to my uttermost. [6191] Cas. I humbly thank your ladyship. [Exeunt Desdemona and Emilia. Enter Bianca. [6192] Bian. Save you, friend Cassio! 70 Cas. What make you from home? [6193] How is it with you, my most fair Bianca?[6194] I'faith, sweet love, I was coming to your house. [6195] Bian. And I was going to your lodging, Cassio. What, keep a week away? seven days and nights? 75 Eight score eight hours? and lovers' absent hours, [6196] More tedious than the dial eight score times? O weary reckoning![6197] Cas. Pardon me, Bianca: I have this while with leaden thoughts been press'd; [6198] But I shall in a more continuate time^[6199] 80 Strike off this score of absence. Sweet Bianca, [6200] [Giving her Desdemona's handkerchief. Take me this work out. Bian. O Cassio, whence came this?[6201] This is some token from a newer friend: [6202] To the felt absence now I feel a cause:[6202] Is't come to this? Well, well. Cas. Go to, woman![6203] 85 Throw your vile guesses in the devil's teeth, [6204] From whence you have them. You are jealous now^[6186] That this is from some mistress, some remembrance: No, by my faith, Bianca. Bian. Why, whose is it?[6205] Cas. I know not, sweet: I found it in my chamber. [6206] 90 I like the work well: ere it be demanded— As like enough it will—I'ld have it copied:[6207] Take it, and do't; and leave me for this time. Bian. Leave you! wherefore? Cas. I do attend here on the general;

And think it no addition, nor my wish, To have him see me woman'd.

Bian. Why, I pray you?[6208]

Cas. Not that I love you not. [6208]

Bian. But that you do not love me. [6209]
I pray you, bring me on the way a little;
And say if I shall see you soon at night. [6210]

Cas. 'Tis but a little way that I can bring you; For I attend here: but I'll see you soon.

Bian. 'Tis very good; I must be circumstanced.

[Exeunt.[6211]

ACT IV.

Scene I. Cyprus. Before the castle.

Enter Othello and Iago. [6212]

Iago. Will you think so?
Oth. Think so, Iago! [6213]
Iago. What. [6214]
To kiss in private?[6214]
Oth. An unauthorized kiss. [6215]
Iago. Or to be naked with her friend in bed<sup>[6216]</sup>[6217]
An hour or more, not meaning any harm?
Oth. Naked in bed, Iago, and not mean harm! [6217]
It is hypocrisy against the devil:
They that mean virtuously and yet do so,
The devil their virtue tempts and they tempt heaven. [6218]
Iago. So they do nothing, 'tis a venial slip: [6219]
But if I give my wife a handkerchief—[6220][6221]
Oth. What then?
Iago. Why, then, 'tis hers, my lord; and being hers, [6222]
She may, I think, bestow 't on any man.
Oth. She is protectress of her honour too: [6223]
May she give that?
Iago. Her honour is an essence that's not seen;
They have it very oft that have it not:
But for the handkerchief—[6221]
Oth. By heaven, I would most gladly have forgot it:
Thou said'st-O, it comes o'er my memory,
As doth the raven o'er the infected house, [6224]
Boding to all—he had my handkerchief. [6225]
Iago. Ay, what of that?
Oth. That's not so good now.
Iago. What, [6226]
If I had said I had seen him do you wrong?<sup>[6226][6227]</sup>
Or heard him say—as knaves be such abroad, [6228]
Who having, by their own importunate suit,
Or voluntary dotage of some mistress, [6229]
Convinced or supplied them, cannot choose<sup>[6230]</sup>
But they must blab—[6231]
Oth. Hath he said any thing?
Iago. He hath, my lord; but be you well assured,
No more than he'll unswear.
Oth. What hath he said?
Iago. Faith, that he did—I know not what he did. [6232]
Oth. What? what? [6233]
Iago. Lie-
```

Oth. With her?

Iago. With her, on her; what you will. [6234]
Oth. Lie with her! lie on her!—We say lie on her, when [6235]
they belie her.—Lie with her! 'Zounds, that's fulsome![6235][6236]
Handker chief-confessions-handker chief!-To\ confess,\ and \ ^{[6237][6238][6239]} be hanged for his labour; first, to be hanged, and then to [6238][6239] confess. I tremble at it. Nature would not invest herself in [6238][6239] such shadowing passion without some instruction. It is not^{[6239][6240]} words that shakes me thus. Pish! Noses, ears and lips.[6239][6241]
Is't possible?—Confess?—Handkerchief?—O devil!
                                                     [Falls in a trance. [6239][6242]
Iago. Work on, [6243]
My medicine, work! Thus credulous fools are caught; [6243][6244]
And many worthy and chaste dames even thus, [6243]
All guiltless, meet reproach. What, ho! my lord! [6243]
My lord, I say! Othello![6243][6245]
                                Enter Cassio.
                         How now, Cassio!
Cas. What's the matter?
Iago. My lord is fall'n into an epilepsy: [6246]
This is his second fit; he had one vesterday. [6247]
Cas. Rub him about the temples.
Iago. No, forbear; [6248]
The lethargy must have his quiet course: [6249]
If not, he foams at mouth, and by and by Breaks out to savage madness. Look, he stirs:[6250]
Do you withdraw yourself a little while,
He will recover straight: when he is gone,
                                                               [Exit Cassio.[6251]
I would on great occasion speak with you.
How is it, general? have you not hurt your head?<sup>[6252]</sup>
Oth. Dost thou mock me?
Iago. I mock you! no, by heaven. [6253]
Would you would bear your fortune like a man! [6254]
Oth. A horned man's a monster and a beast.
Iago. There's many a beast then in a populous city,
And many a civil monster.
Oth. Did he confess it?
Iago. Good sir, be a man; [6255]
Think every bearded fellow that's but yoked<sup>[6256]</sup>
May draw with you: there's millions now alive<sup>[6257]</sup>
That nightly lie in those unproper beds<sup>[6258]</sup>
Which they dare swear peculiar: your case is better. [6259]
O, 'tis the spite of hell, the fiend's arch-mock, [6260]
To lip a wanton in a secure couch,
And to suppose her chaste! No, let me know; [6261][6262]
And knowing what I am, I know what she shall be. [6261][6263]
Oth. O, thou art wise; 'tis certain. [6261]
Iago. Stand you awhile apart;[6261][6264]
Confine yourself but in a patient list.
Whilst you were here o'erwhelmed with your grief—[6265]
A passion most unsuiting such a man—[6266]
Cassio came hither: I shifted him away,
And laid good 'scuse upon your ecstasy;<sup>[6267]</sup>

Bade him anon return and here speak with me; [6268]

10	The which he promised. Do but encave yourself, ^[6269] And mark the fleers, the gibes and notable scorns, ^[6270] That dwell in every region of his face; For I will make him tell the tale anew, Where, how, how oft, how long ago and when
:5	He hath and is again to cope your wife: ^[6271] I say, but mark his gesture. Marry, patience; Or I shall say you are all in all in spleen, ^[6272] And nothing of a man.
	Oth. Dost thou hear, Iago? ^[6273] I will be found most cunning in my patience; ^[6274] But—dost thou hear?—most bloody.
0	Iago. That's not amiss; [6275] But yet keep time in all. Will you withdraw?
		[Othello retires. ^[6276]
	Now will I question Cassio of Bianca, A housewife that by selling her desires 15	Buys herself bread and clothes: it is a creature ^[6277] That dotes on Cassio; as 'tis the strumpet's plague To beguile many and be beguiled by one. He, when he hears of her, cannot refrain ^[6278] From the excess of laughter. Here he comes.
	Re-enter Cassio. [6279]
	As he shall smile, Othello shall go mad; [6280]
00	And his unbookish jealousy must construe ^[6281] Poor Cassio's smiles, gestures and light behaviour, ^[6282] Quite in the wrong. How do you now, lieutenant? ^[6283]
	Cas. The worser that you give me the addition $^{[6284]}$ Whose want even kills me.
05	lago. Ply Desdemona well, and you are sure on 't. Now, if this suit lay in Bianca's power, [6285] How quickly should you speed!
	Cas. Alas, poor caitiff! ^[6286]
	Oth. Look, how he laughs already! [6287]
	Iago. I never knew a woman love man so. [6288]
10	Cas. Alas, poor rogue! I think, i' faith, she loves me. [6289]
	Oth. Now he denies it faintly and laughs it out. [6287][6290]
	Iago. Do you hear, Cassio?
	Oth. Now he importunes him ^{[6287][6291]} To tell it o'er: go to; well said, well said. ^[6292]
15	Iago. She gives it out that you shall marry her: Do you intend it?
	Cas. Ha, ha, ha!
	Oth. Do you triumph, Roman? do you triumph?[6287][6293
20	Cas. I marry her! what, a customer! I prithee, bear some charity to my wit; do not think it so unwholesome. Ha, ha, ha![6294]
	11a, 11a, 11a:-
	Oth. So, so, so: they laugh that win. [6287][6296]

Iago. I am a very villain else. [6298]

                       Oth. Have you scored me? Well. [6287][6299]
                       Cas. This is the monkey's own giving out: she is persuaded<sup>[6300]</sup> not out of my promise. [6300]

                       Oth. Iago beckons me; now he begins the story. [6287][6301]
                       Cas. She was here even now; she haunts me in every 30 place. I was the other day talking on the sea-bank with [6302] certain Venetians; and thither comes the bauble, and, by [6303][6304]
                       this hand, she falls me thus about my neck—[6304][6305]
                       Oth. Crying 'O dear Cassio!' as it were: his gesture [6287][6306] 35 imports it.
                       Cas. So hangs and lolls and weeps upon me; so hales [6307][6308]
                       and pulls me: ha, ha, ha![6307]
                       Oth. Now he tells how she plucked him to my<sup>[6287][6309]</sup> shall throw it to.<sup>[6309][6311]</sup> 40

                       Cas. Well, I must leave her company.
                       Iago. Before me! look, where she comes. [6312]
                       Cas. Tis such another fitchew! marry, a perfumed one.
                                                    Enter Bianca. [6313]
                       What do you mean by this haunting of me?
45
                       Bian. Let the devil and his dam haunt you! What did now? I was a fine fool to take it. I must take out the work?[6315]

                       A likely piece of work, that you should find it in your chamber, and not know who left it there! This is some<sup>[6316]</sup> 50 minx's token, and I must take out the work? There; give it your hobby-horse: wheresoever you had it, I'll take out[6317]
                       no work on t. [6318]
                       Cas. How now, my sweet Bianca! how now! how now! [6319]
                       Oth. By heaven, that should be my handkerchief! [6287][6314]
55
                       Bian. An you'll come to supper to-night, you may; an [6320] you will not, come when you are next prepared for.
                                                                                                    [Exit.
                       Iago. After her, after her.
                       Cas. Faith, I must; she'll rail i' the street else. [6321]
                       Iago. Will you sup there? [6322]
60
                       Cas. Faith, I intend so. [6323]
                       Iago. Well, I may chance to see you; for I would very fain speak with you.
                       Cas. Prithee, come; will you?
                       Iago. Go to; say no more.
                                                                                       [Exit Cassio, [6324]
65
                       Oth. [Advancing] How shall I murder him, Iago? [6325] lago. Did you perceive how he laughed at his vice?
                       Oth. O Iago![6326]

	lago. And did you see the handkerchief?[0314]
	Oth. Was that mine?
70	Iago. Yours, by this hand: and to see how he prizes the ^[6327] foolish woman your wife! she gave it him, and he hath given ^[6327] it his whore. ^[6327]
	Oth. I would have him nine years a-killing. A fine ^{[6327][6328]} woman! a fair woman! a sweet woman! ^[6328]
75	Iago. Nay, you must forget that. ^[6329]
80	Oth. Ay, let her rot, and perish, and be damned to-night; [6330] for she shall not live: no, my heart is turned to stone; I [6331] strike it, and it hurts my hand. O, the world hath not a [6332] sweeter creature: she might lie by an emperor's side, and command him tasks.
	Iago. Nay, that's not your way.
85	Oth. Hang her! I do but say what she is: so delicate ^[6333] with her needle: an admirable musician: O, she will sing the savageness out of a bear: of so high and plenteous wit ^[6334] and invention:— ^[6335]
	Iago. She's the worse for all this.
	Oth. O, a thousand thousand times: and then, of $so^{[6336][6337][6338]}$ gentle a condition! $[6337][6339]$
	Iago. Ay, too gentle.
90	Oth. Nay, that's certain: but yet the pity of it, Iago! ^[6340] O Iago, the pity of it, Iago! ^[6341]
	Iago. If you are so fond over her iniquity, give her patent ^[6342] to offend; for, if it touch not you, it comes near nobody. ^[6343]
	Oth. I will chop her into messes: cuckold me!
95	Iago. O, 'tis foul in her.
	Oth. With mine officer!
	Iago. That's fouler.
:00	Oth. Get me some poison, Iago; this night. I'll not ^[6344] expostulate with her, lest her body and beauty unprovide ^[6345] my mind again: this night, Iago.
	Iago. Do it not with poison, strangle her in her bed, [6346] even the bed she hath contaminated. [6347]
	Oth. Good, good: the justice of it pleases: very good. [6348]
:05	Iago. And for Cassio, let me be his undertaker: you ^[6349] shall hear more by midnight. ^[6349]
	Oth. Excellent good. [A trumpet within.] What trumpet is that same?[6350]
	Iago. Something from Venice, sure. 'Tis Lodovico ^[6351] [6352] Come from the duke: and, see, your wife is with him. ^[6351]
	Enter Lodovico, Desdemona, and Attendants. [6353]
	Lod. God save the worthy general!
	Oth. With all my heart, sir.[6354]
10	Lod. The duke and senators of Venice greet you.

Oth. I kiss the instrument of their pleasures.

[Opens the letter, and reads. [6356]

Des. And what's the news, good cousin Lodovico?

Iago. I am very glad to see you, signior; [6357][6358] Welcome to Cyprus. [6357]

Iago. Lives, sir.

Des. Cousin, there's fall'n between him and my lord An unkind breach: but you shall make all well.

Lod. I thank you. How does Lieutenant Cassio? [6359]

Oth. Are you sure of that?

Des. My lord?^[6360]

Oth. [Reads] 'This fail you not to do, as you will—'[6361]

Lod. He did not call; he's busy in the paper. Is there division 'twixt my lord and Cassio?^[6362]

Des. A most unhappy one: I would do much To atone them, for the love I bear to Cassio.^[6363]

Oth. Fire and brimstone!

Des. My lord?[6360]

Oth. Are you wise?

Des. What, is he angry?

Lod. May be the letter moved him;

For, as I think, they do command him home,

Deputing Cassio in his government.

Des. By my troth, I am glad on 't. [6364]

Oth. Indeed!

Oth. Devil!

Des. My lord?[6360]

Oth. I am glad to see you mad.

Des. Why, sweet Othello?[6365]

Des. I have not deserved this.

Lod. My lord, this would not be believed in Venice,

Make her amends; she weeps.

Oth. O devil, devil!

If that the earth could teem with woman's tears, [6367]

Each drop she falls would prove a crocodile.

Though I should swear I saw 't: 'tis very much:

Out of my sight!

Des. I will not stay to offend you.

[Going.[6368]

[Striking her.[6366]

Lod. Truly, an obedient lady: [6369] I do beseech your lordship, call her back.

Oth. Mistress!

Des. My lord?

Oth. What would you with her, sir?

Oth. Ay; you did wish that I would make her turn: Sir, she can turn and turn, and yet go on, And turn again; and she can weep, sir, weep; 50 And she's obedient, as you say, obedient. [6370] Very obedient. Proceed you in your tears. [6371] Concerning this, sir,—O well-painted passion!— I am commanded home. Get you away; [6372] I'll send for you anon. Sir, I obey the mandate, And will return to Venice. Hence, avaunt! 55 [Exit Desdemona. [6373] Cassio shall have my place. And, sir, to-night, I do entreat that we may sup together: You are welcome, sir, to Cyprus. Goats and monkeys! [6374] [Exit. Lod. Is this the noble Moor whom our full senate^[6375] 60 Call all in all sufficient? This the nature [6376] Whom passion could not shake? whose solid virtue^[6377] The shot of accident nor dart of chance^[6378] Could neither graze nor pierce?[6379] lago. He is much changed. Lod. Are his wits safe? is he not light of brain?[6380] Iago. He's that he is: I may not breathe my censure [6381][6382] 65 What he might be: if what he might he is not, [6382][6383] I would to heaven he were! Lod. What, strike his wife! Iago. Faith, that was not so well; yet would I knew That stroke would prove the worst! Lod. Is it his use?[6384] 70 Or did the letters work upon his blood, And new create this fault?[6385] Iago. Alas. alas! It is not honesty in me to speak What I have seen and known. You shall observe him, [6386] And his own courses will denote him so :75 That I may save my speech: do but go after, [6387] And mark how he continues. [Exeunt.[6388] Lod. I am sorry that I am deceived in him. Scene II. A room in the castle. [6389] Enter Othello and Emilia. Oth. You have seen nothing, then? [6390][6391] Emil. Nor ever heard, nor ever did suspect. [6390] Oth. Yes, you have seen Cassio and she together. [6390][6392] Emil. But then I saw no harm, and then I heard Each syllable that breath made up between them. [6393] Oth. What, did they never whisper? Emil. Never, my lord. Oth. Nor send you out o' the way?[6394] Emil. Never. [6395]

Lod. Who, I, my lord?

Oth. To fetch her fan, her gloves, her mask, nor nothing? [6396]
Emil. Never, my lord.
Oth. That's strange.
Emil. I durst, my lord, to wager she is honest,
Lay down my soul at stake: if you think other,
Remove your thought; it doth abuse your bosom.
If any wretch have put this in your head, [6397]
Let heaven requite it with the serpent's curse![6398]
For if she be not honest, chaste and true,
There's no man happy; the purest of their wives<sup>[6399]</sup>
Is foul as slander.
Oth. Bid her come hither: go.
                                                               [Exit Emilia [6400]
She says enough: yet she's a simple bawd
That cannot say as much. This is a subtle whore, [6401]
A closet lock and key of villanous secrets: [6402]
And yet she'll kneel and pray; I have seen her do't.
                     Enter Desdemona with Emilia. [6403]
Des. My lord, what is your will?
Oth. Pray, chuck, come hither. [6404]
Des. What is your pleasure?
Oth. Let me see your eyes; [6405]
Look in my face. [6405]
Des. What horrible fancy's this?
Oth. [To Emilia] Some of your function, mistress; [6406]
Leave procreants alone and shut the door:
Cough, or cry hem, if any body come:
                                                               [Exit Emilia. [6407]
Your mystery, your mystery: nay, dispatch.
Des. Upon my knees, what doth your speech import?[6408]
I understand a fury in your words,
But not the words. [6409][6410]
Oth. Why, what art thou? [6410]
Des. Your wife, my lord; your true and loyal wife. [6410]
\it Oth. Come, swear it, damn thyself; [6410][6411]
Lest, being like one of heaven, the devils themselves<sup>[6411][6412]</sup>
Should fear to seize thee: therefore be double-damn'd:[6411][6413]
Swear thou art honest.[6411]
Des. Heaven doth truly know it.
Oth. Heaven truly knows that thou art false as hell. [6414]
Des. To whom, my lord? with whom? how am I false?[6415]
Oth. O Desdemona! Away! away! away! [6416]
Des. Alas the heavy day! Why do you weep?[6417]
Am I the motive of these tears, my lord?[6418]
If haply you my father do suspect<sup>[6419]</sup>
An instrument of this your calling back,
Lay not your blame on me: if you have lost him, [6420][6421]
Why, I have lost him too. [6421]
Oth. Had it pleased heaven [6422]
To try me with affliction; had they rain'd<sup>[6423]</sup>
All kinds of sores and shames on my bare head, [6424]
Steep'd me in poverty to the very lips,

Given to captivity me and my utmost hopes,^[6425] I should have found in some place of my soul [6426] A drop of patience: but, alas, to make me^[6427] A fixed figure for the time of scorn^[6428] To point his slow unmoving finger at! [6428] Yet could I bear that too; well, very well: But there, where I have garner'd up my heart, Where either I must live or bear no life, The fountain from the which my current runs, [6429] Or else dries up; to be discarded thence! Or keep it as a cistern for foul toads^[6430] To knot and gender in! Turn thy complexion there, [6431][6432] Patience, thou young and rose-lipp'd cherubin, [6431][6433] Ay, there, look grim as hell![6431][6434]Des. I hope my noble lord esteems me honest. [6435] Oth. O, ay; as summer flies are in the shambles, [6436] That quicken even with blowing. O thou weed. [6437][6438] Who art so lovely fair and smell'st so sweet^{[6437][6439]} That the sense aches at thee, would thou hadst ne'er been born! [6437][6440] Des. Alas, what ignorant sin have I committed? Oth. Was this fair paper, this most goodly book, Made to write 'whore' upon? What committed![6441] Committed! O thou public commoner! [6442] I should make very forges of my cheeks, [6442][6443] That would to cinders burn up modesty, [6442] Did I but speak thy deeds. What committed! [6442][6444] Heaven stops the nose at it, and the moon winks; The bawdy wind, that kisses all it meets, Is hush'd within the hollow mine of earth,[6445] And will not hear it. What committed! [6446] Impudent strumpet! [6447] Des. By heaven, you do me wrong. Oth. Are not you a strumpet? Des. No, as I am a Christian: If to preserve this vessel for my lord From any other foul unlawful touch^[6448] Be not to be a strumpet, I am none. Oth. What, not a whore? Des. No, as I shall be saved. Oth. Is't possible? Des. O, heaven forgive us! Oth. I cry you mercy then: [6449] I took you for that cunning whore of Venice That married with Othello. [Raising his voice] You, mistress. [6450] That have the office opposite to Saint Peter, And keep the gate of hell! Re-enter Emilia. You, you, ay, you![6451] We have done our course; there's money for your pains: [6452] I pray you, turn the key, and keep our counsel. [Exit. Emil. Alas, what does this gentleman conceive? How do you, madam? how do you, my good lady? Des. Faith, half asleep.

Emil. Good madam, what's the matter with my lord?[6453]

00	Des. With who? ^[6454]
	Emil. Why, with my lord, madam. [6455]
	Des. Who is thy lord?
	Emil. He that is yours, sweet lady. ^[6456]
05	Des. I have none: do not talk to me, Emilia; [6457] I cannot weep, nor answer have I none [6458] But what should go by water. Prithee, to-night [6459] Lay on my bed my wedding sheets: remember; [6460] And call thy husband hither.
	Emil. Here's a change indeed!	[Exit. ^[6461]
10	Des. 'Tis meet I should be used so, very meet. [6462] How have I been behaved, that he might stick The small'st opinion on my least misuse?
	Re-enter Emilia with Iago.[6463]
	Iago. What is your pleasure, madam? How is't with you?[6464]
	Des. I cannot tell. Those that do teach young babes ^[6465] Do it with gentle means and easy tasks: He might have chid me so; for, in good faith, ^[6466] I am a child to chiding.
15	Iago. What's the matter, lady? ^[6467]
	Emil. Alas, Iago, my lord hath so bewhored her, Thrown such despite and heavy terms upon her, As true hearts cannot bear. [6468]
	Des. Am I that name, Iago?
	Iago. What name, fair lady?
20	Des. Such as she says my lord did say I was. [6469]
	Emil. He call'd her whore: a beggar in his drink Could not have laid such terms upon his callat. [6470]
	Iago. Why did he so?
	Des. I do not know; I am sure I am none such.[6471]
25	Iago. Do not weep, do not weep. Alas the day!
	Emil. Hath she forsook so many noble matches, [6472] Her father and her country and her friends, [6473] To be call'd whore? would it not make one weep?
	Des. It is my wretched fortune.
	Iago. Beshrew him for't! ^[6474] [6475] How comes this trick upon him? ^[6474]
30	Des. Nay, heaven doth know.
	Emil. I will be hang'd, if some eternal villain, Some busy and insinuating rogue, Some cogging, cozening slave, to get some office, Have not devised this slander; I'll be hang'd else. ^[6476]
35	Iago. Fie, there is no such man; it is impossible.
	Des. If any such there be, heaven pardon him![6477]
	Emil. A halter pardon him! and hell gnaw his bones! ^[6478] Why should he call her whore? who keeps her company? ^[6478] What place? what time? what form? what likelihood? ^[6478]

40	The Moor's abused by some most villanous knave, [6479] Some base notorious knave, some scurvy fellow. O heaven, that such companions thou'ldst unfold, [6480] And put in every honest hand a whip To lash the rascals naked through the world [6481] Even from the east to the west!
45	Iago. Speak within door. ^[6482]
	Emil. O, fie upon them! Some such squire he was ^[6483] That turn'd your wit the seamy side without, And made you to suspect me with the Moor.
	Iago. You are a fool; go to.
50	Des. O good Iago, [6484] What shall I do to win my lord again? Good friend, go to him; for, by this light of heaven, [6485] I know not how I lost him. Here I kneel: [6486][6487] If e'er my will did trespass 'gainst his love [6487]
55	Either in discourse of thought or actual deed, [6487][6488] Or that mine eyes, mine ears, or any sense, [6487] Delighted them in any other form, [6487][6489] Or that I do not yet, and ever did, [6487] And ever will, though he do shake me off [6487]
60	To beggarly divorcement, love him dearly, [6487] Comfort forswear me! Unkindness may do much; [6487][6490 And his unkindness may defeat my life, [6487] But never taint my love. I cannot say 'whore': [6487][6491] It doth abhor me now I speak the word; [6487][6492]]
65	To do the act that might the addition earn ^[6487] Not the world's mass of vanity could make me. ^[6487]
	Iago. I pray you, be content; 'tis but his humour: The business of the state does him offence, And he does chide with you. [6493]
	Des. If 'twere no other,—
70	Iago. 'Tis but so, I warrant. Hark, how these instruments summon to supper! ^[6495] The messengers of Venice stay the meat: ^[6496] Go in, and weep not; all things shall be well.	[Trumpets within. [6494]
	[Exeunt Desdemo.	na and Emilia. ^[6497]
	Enter Roderigo.
	How now, Roderigo! ^[6498]
	Rod. I do not find that thou dealest justly with me. [6499]
75	Iago. What in the contrary?
80	Rod. Every day thou daffest me with some device, [6500][650 Iago; and rather, as it seems to me now, keepest from me ^[6] all conveniency than suppliest me with the least advantage of hope. I will indeed no longer endure it; nor am I yet ^[6501] persuaded to put up in peace what already I have foolishly suffered. [6501]	[502][6501] [6501][6503][6504] [[6504]
	Iago. Will you hear me, Roderigo?
	Rod. Faith, I have heard too much; for your words ^[6505] [650 and performances are no kin together. ^[6506] [6507]	6]
85	Iago. You charge me most unjustly.
	Rod. With nought but truth. I have wasted myself ^[6508] out of my means. The jewels you have had from me to ^[6509] deliver to Desdemona would half have corrupted a votarist:[6510] you have told me she hath received them and returned [6511] 90 me expectations and comforts of sudden respect^[6512] and acquaintance; but I find none. [6513] Iago. Well; go to; very well. [6514] Rod. Very well! go to! I cannot go to, man; nor 'tis^[6515] not very well: by this hand, I say 'tis very scurvy, and [6516] 95 begin to find myself fopped in it. [6517] Iago. Very well. Rod. I tell you 'tis not very well. I will make myself^[6518] known to Desdemona: if she will return me my jewels, I will give over my suit and repent my unlawful solicitation; 00 if not, assure yourself I will seek satisfaction of you. [6519] Iago. You have said now. [6520] Rod. Ay, and said nothing but what I protest intendment^{[6521][6522]} of doing.[6522] Iago. Why, now I see there's mettle in thee; and even 0.5 from this instant do build on thee a better opinion than [6523] ever before. Give me thy hand, Roderigo: thou hast taken against me a most just exception; but yet, I protest, I^[6524] have dealt most directly in thy affair. [6525] Rod. It hath not appeared. 10 lago. I grant indeed it hath not appeared, and your suspicion is not without wit and judgement. But, Roderigo, if thou hast that in thee indeed, which I have greater reason^[6526] to believe now than ever, I mean purpose, courage and valour, this night show it: if thou the next night following 15 enjoy not Desdemona, take me from this world^[6527] with treachery and devise engines for my life. Rod. Well, what is it? is it within reason and compass?[6528] Iago. Sir, there is especial commission come from [6529][6530] Venice to depute Cassio in Othello's place. [6530] 20 Rod. Is that true? why then Othello and Desdemona^[6530] return again to Venice. [6530] Iago. O, no; he goes into Mauritania, and takes away[6530][6531] with him the fair Desdemona, unless his abode be lingered^[6530] here by some accident: wherein none can be so determinate^{[6530][6532]} 25 as the removing of Cassio.[6530] Rod. How do you mean, removing of him?^{[6530][6533]} Iago. Why, by making him uncapable of Othello's [6530][6534] place; knocking out his brains. [6530] Rod. And that you would have me to do?^[6535] 30 Iago. Ay, if you dare do yourself a profit and a right. [6536] He sups to-night with a harlotry, and thither will I go to him: [6537] he knows not yet of his honourable fortune. If you will watch his going thence, which I will fashion to fall out between twelve and one, you may take him at your pleasure: 35 I will be near to second your attempt, and he shall fall between us. Come, stand not amazed at it, but go along with me; I will show you such a necessity in his death that you shall think yourself bound to put it on him. It is now high [6538] supper-time, and the night grows to waste: about it. [6539]

Iago. And you shall be satisfied.

[Exeunt.[6540]

Scene III. Another room in the castle.

Enter Othello, Lodovico, Desdemona, Emilia, and Attendants. [6541]

Lod. I do beseech you, sir, trouble yourself no further. [6542]

Oth. O. pardon me: 'twill do me good to walk. [6543]

Lod. Madam, good night; I humbly thank your ladyship.

Des. Your honour is most welcome.

Oth. Will you walk, sir?^[6544] O,—Desdemona,—^[6544][6545]

Des. My lord?[6546]

Oth. Get you to bed on the instant; I will be returned [6547][6548] forthwith: dismiss your attendant there: look it be done. [6548][6549]

Des. I will, my lord.

[Exeunt Othello, Lodovico, and Attendants. [6550]

Emil. How goes it now? he looks gentler than he did.

Des. He says he will return incontinent: He hath commanded me to go to bed,^[6551] And bade me to dismiss you.

Emil. Dismiss me![6552]

Des. It was his bidding; therefore, good Emilia, Give me my nightly wearing, and adieu: We must not now displease him.

Emil. I would you had never seen him! [6553]

Des. So would not I: my love doth so approve him, That even his stubbornness, his checks, his frowns,—[6554] Prithee, unpin me,—have grace and favour in them.^[6555]

Emil. I have laid those sheets you bade me on the bed. [6556]

Des. All's one. Good faith, how foolish are our minds! [6557] If I do die before thee, prithee, shroud me[6558] In one of those same sheets. [6559]

Emil. Come, come, you talk.

Des. My mother had a maid call'd Barbara:^[6560]
She was in love; and he she loved proved mad^[6561][6562]
And did forsake her: she had a song of 'willow; '[6561][6563][6564]
An old thing 'twas, but it express'd her fortune,
And she died singing it: that song to-night
Will not go from my mind; I have much to do^[6565][6566][6567]
But to go hang my head all at one side^[6566][6568][6569]
And sing it like poor Barbara. Prithee, dispatch.^[6566][6568][6570]

Emil. Shall I go fetch your night-gown?[6566][6571]

Des. No, unpin me here.^[6566] This Lodovico is a proper man.^[6566]

Emil. A very handsome man. [6566]

Des. He speaks well. [6566][6572]

Emil. I know a lady in Venice would have walked [6566] barefoot to Palestine for a touch of his nether lip. [6566][6573]
Des. [Singing] The poor soul sat sighing by a sycamore tree, [6566][6574]
        Sing all a green willow; [6566]
    Her hand on her bosom, her head on her knee, [6566]
        Sing willow, willow, willow: [6566]
    The fresh streams ran by her, and murmur'd her moans; [6566]
        Sing willow, willow; [6566][6575]
    Her salt tears fell from her, and soften'd the stones;—[6566][6576]
Lay by these:—[6566][6577][6578]
    [Singing] Sing willow, willow, willow; [6566][6577]
Prithee, hie thee; he'll come anon:—[6566][6577]
    [Singing] Sing all a green willow must be my garland. [6566]
        Let nobody blame him; his scorn I approve,—[6566]
Nay, that's not next. Hark! who is't that knocks?[6566][6579]
Emil. It's the wind. [6580]
Des. [Singing] I call'd my love false love; but what said he then?<sup>[6581][6582]</sup>
        Sing willow, willow: [6575][6581]
If I court moe women, you'll couch with moe men. [6581][6583]
So get thee gone; good night. Mine eyes do itch; [6584][6585]
Doth that bode weeping?[6585][6586]
Emil. 'Tis neither here nor there.
Des. I have heard it said so. O, these men, these men! [6587]
Dost thou in conscience think,—tell me, Emilia,—[6587]
That there be women do abuse their husbands<sup>[6587]</sup>
In such gross kind?[6587][6588]
Emil. There be some such, no question.
Des. Wouldst thou do such a deed for all the world?[6589]
Emil. Why, would not you?
Des. No, by this heavenly light!
Emil. Nor I neither by this heavenly light; I might[6590][6591] do't as well i' the dark.[6590][6592]
Des. Wouldst thou do such a deed for all the world?<sup>[6593]</sup>
Emil. The world's a huge thing: it is a great price<sup>[6594][6595]</sup>
For a small vice. [6594]
Des. In troth, I think thou wouldst not. [6596]
Emil. In troth, I think I should; and undo 't when I<sup>[6597]</sup> had done. Marry, I would not do such a thing for a joint-ring, [6598] nor for measures of lawn, nor for gowns, petticoats, [6599] nor caps, nor any petty exhibition; but, for the whole world,—why,[6600] who would not make her husband a cuckold to [6601] make him a monarch? I should venture purgatory for 't. [6602]
Des. Beshrew me, if I would do such a wrong [6603][6604]
For the whole world. [6603]
Emil. Why, the wrong is but a wrong i' the world; and having the world for your labour, 'tis a wrong in your own world, and you might quickly make it right.
Des. I do not think there is any such woman.
Emil. Yes, a dozen; and as many to the vantage as would store the world they played for.
But I do think it is their husbands' faults<sup>[6605]</sup>

If wives do fall: say that they slack their duties [6605]And pour our treasures into foreign laps, [6605] Or else break out in peevish jealousies, [6605] Throwing restraint upon us, or say they strike us, [6605][6606] Or scant our former having in despite, [6605] Why, we have galls, and though we have some grace, [6605] Yet have we some revenge. Let husbands know^[6605] Their wives have sense like them: they see and smell^[6605] And have their palates both for sweet and sour, [6605] As husbands have. What is it that they do^[6605] When they change us for others? Is it sport?[6605] I think it is: and doth affection breed it? [6605] I think it doth: is't frailty that thus errs?[6605] It is so too: and have not we affections, [6605] Desires for sport, and frailty, as men have?[6605][6607] Then let them use us well: else let them know, [6605][6608] The ills we do, their ills instruct us so. [6605][6609] Des. Good night, good night: heaven me such uses send, [6610] Not to pick bad from bad, but by bad mend!

ACT V.

Scene I. Cyprus. A street. [6611]

Enter Iago and Roderigo. Iago. Here, stand behind this bulk; straight will he come: [6612] Wear thy good rapier bare, and put it home: Quick, quick; fear nothing; I'll be at thy elbow: It makes us, or it mars us; think on that, [6613] And fix most firm thy resolution. [6614] Rod. Be near at hand; I may miscarry in 't. Iago. Here, at thy hand: be bold, and take thy stand. [Retires.[6615] Rod. I have no great devotion to the deed; [6616] And yet he hath given me satisfying reasons: [6617] 'Tis but a man gone. Forth, my sword: he dies. [6618] Iago. I have rubb'd this young quat almost to the sense, [6619] And he grows angry. Now, whether he kill Cassio. [6620] Or Cassio him, or each do kill the other, Every way makes my gain: live Roderigo, [6621] He calls me to a restitution large Of gold and jewels that I bobb'd from him, [6622] As gifts to Desdemona: It must not be: if Cassio do remain, He hath a daily beauty in his life^[6623] That makes me ugly; and besides, the Moor May unfold me to him; there stand I in much peril: [6624] No, he must die. Be't so. I hear him coming. [6625] Enter Cassio. Rod. I know his gait; 'tis he. Villain, thou diest! [Makes a pass at Cassio. [6626] Cas. That thrust had been mine enemy indeed, [6627] But that my coat is better than thou know'st:[6628] I will make proof of thine. [Draws, and wounds Roderigo. Rod. O. I am slain! [Iago from behind wounds Cassio in the leg, and exit. [6629] Cas. I am maim'd for ever. Help, ho! murder! murder! [Falls [6630] Enter Othello.[6631] Oth. The voice of Cassio: Iago keeps his word. [6632] Rod. O, villain that I am! Oth. It is even so. [6633] Cas. O, help, ho! light! a surgeon! Oth. 'Tis he. O brave Iago, honest and just,

That hast such noble sense of thy friend's wrong! Thou teachest me. Minion, your dear lies dead, And your unblest fate hies: strumpet, I come!^[6634]

Thy bed lust-stain'd shall with lust's blood be spotted.

Forth of my heart those charms, thine eyes, are blotted; [6635]

Enter Lodovico and Gratiano. [6636] Cas. What, ho! no watch? no passage? murder! murder![6637] Gra. 'Tis some mischance; the cry is very direful. [6638] Cas. O, help! Lod. Hark! Rod. O wretched villain! Lod. Two or three groan: it is a heavy night: [6639] These may be counterfeits: let's think't unsafe To come in to the cry without more help. [6640] Rod. Nobody come? then shall I bleed to death. [6641] Lod. Hark![6642] Re-enter IAGO, with a light. [6643] Gra. Here's one comes in his shirt, with light and weapons. [6644] Iago. Who's there? whose noise is this that cries on murder?[6645] Lod. We do not know. Iago. Did not you hear a cry? [6646] Cas. Here, here! for heaven's sake, help me! [6647] Iago. What's the matter? Gra. This is Othello's ancient, as I take it. Lod. The same indeed; a very valiant fellow. Iago. What are you here that cry so grievously? Cas. Iago? O, I am spoil'd, undone by villains![6648] Give me some help. Iago. O me, lieutenant! what villains have done this?[6649] Cas. I think that one of them is hereabout, [6650] And cannot make away. Iago. O treacherous villains! What are you there? come in and give some help. [To Lodovico and Gratiano.[6651] Rod. O, help me here! [6652]Cas. That's one of them. Iago. O murderous slave! O villain! [Stabs Roderigo.[6653] Rod. O damn'd Iago! O inhuman dog![6654] Iago. Kill men i' the dark! Where be these bloody thieves?[6655] How silent is this town! Ho! murder! murder! What may you be? are you of good or evil? Lod. As you shall prove us, praise us. Iago. Signior Lodovico?^[6656]

Lod. He, sir.

Iago. I cry you mercy. Here's Cassio hurt by villains.

.0	Gra. Cassio! ^[6657]
	Iago. How is't, brother? ^[6658]
	Cas. My leg is cut in two.
	Iago. Marry, heaven forbid!Light, gentlemen: I'll bind it with my shirt.
	Enter Bianca.
	Bian. What is the matter, ho? who is't that cried?[6659]
'5	Iago. Who is't that cried! ^[6660]
	Bian. O my dear Cassio! my sweet Cassio! O Cassio, [6661] Cassio, Cassio! [6661]
	Iago. O notable strumpet! Cassio, may you suspect Who they should be that have thus mangled you? ^[6662]
; 0	Cas. No.
	Gra. I am sorry to find you thus: I have been to seek you. [6663]
	Iago. Lend me a garter. So. O, for a chair, [6664] To bear him easily hence! [6664]
	Bian. Alas, he faints! O Cassio, Cassio, Cassio!
15	Iago. Gentlemen all, I do suspect this trash To be a party in this injury. [6665][6666] Patience awhile, good Cassio. Come, come; [6665][6667] Lend me a light. Know we this face or no? [6665][6668] Alas, my friend and my dear countryman Roderigo? no:—yes, sure: O heaven! Roderigo. [6669]
	Gra. What, of Venice? ^[6670]
	Iago. Even he, sir: did you know him?
	Gra. Know him! ay. ^[6671]
	Iago. Signior Gratiano? I cry you gentle pardon; [6672] These bloody accidents must excuse my manners, That so neglected you.
15	Gra. I am glad to see you.
	Iago. How do you, Cassio? O, a chair, a chair!
	Gra. Roderigo! ^[6673]
00	Iago. He, he, 'tis he. [A chair brought in.] O, that's well said; the chair: [6674] Some good man bear him carefully from hence; I'll fetch the general's surgeon. [To Bianca] For you, mistress, [6675] Save you your labour. He that lies slain here, Cassio, [6676] Was my dear friend: what malice was between you? [6677]
	Cas. None in the world; nor do I know the man. [6678]
05	Iago. [To Bian.] What, look you pale? O, bear him out o' the air. Stay you, good gentlemen. Look you pale, mistress? ^[6680] Do you perceive the gastness of her eye? ^[6681] Nay, if you stare, we shall hear more anon. ^[6682] Behold her well; I pray you, look upon her: Do you see, gentlemen? nay, guiltiness will speak, ^[6683]
10	Though tongues were out of use. [6683]
	Enter Emilia. [6684]

Iago. Cassio hath here been set on in the dark [6686]
                      By Roderigo, and fellows that are 'scaped:
                      He's almost slain, and Roderigo dead. [6687]
15
                      Emil. Alas, good gentleman! alas, good Cassio!
                      Iago. This is the fruit of whoring. Prithee, Emilia, [6688]
                      Go know of Cassio where he supp'd to-night.
                      What, do you shake at that?
                      Bian. He supp'd at my house; but I therefore shake not. [6689]
20
                      Iago. O, did he so? I charge you, go with me.
                      Emil. Fie, fie upon thee, strumpet! [6690]
                      Bian. I am no strumpet; but of life as honest
                      As you that thus abuse me.
                      Emil. As I! foh! fie upon thee! [6691]
                      Iago. Kind gentlemen, let's go see poor Cassio dress'd. [6692]
25
                      Come, mistress, you must tell's another tale. [6693]
                      Emilia, run you to the citadel, [6694]
                      And tell my lord and lady what hath happ'd! [6695]
                      Will you go on? I pray. [Aside] This is the night [6696]
                      That either makes me or fordoes me quite.
                                                                                         [Exeunt. [6697]
                Scene II. A bedchamber in the castle: Desdemona in bed asleep; a light burning.[6698]
                                                      Enter Othello.
                      Oth. It is the cause, it is the cause, my soul:
                      Let me not name it to you, you chaste stars!
                      It is the cause. Yet I'll not shed her blood, [6699]
                      Nor scar that whiter skin of hers than snow
                      And smooth as monumental alabaster. [6700]
                      Yet she must die, else she'll betray more men.<sup>[6701]</sup>
                      Put out the light, and then put out the light: [6702]
                      If I quench thee, thou flaming minister,
                      I can again thy former light restore,
                      Should I repent me: but once put out thy light, [6703]
                      Thou cunning'st pattern of excelling nature, [6704]
                      I know not where is that Promethean heat<sup>[6705]</sup>
                      That can thy light relume. When I have pluck'd the rose, [6706]
                      I cannot give it vital growth again,
                      It must needs wither: I'll smell it on the tree.
                                                                                     [Kissing her. [6707]
                      Ah, balmy breath, that dost almost persuade<sup>[6708]</sup>
                      Justice to break her sword! One more, one more:[6709]
                      Be thus when thou art dead, and I will kill thee,
                      And love thee after: one more, and this the last: [6710]
                      So sweet was ne'er so fatal. I must weep,
                      But they are cruel tears: this sorrow's heavenly;[6711]
                      It strikes where it doth love. She wakes. [6712]
                      Des. Who's there? Othello?
                      Oth. Ay, Desdemona. [6713]
                      Des. Will you come to bed, my lord?
                      Oth. Have you pray'd to-night, Desdemona?[6714]
                      Des. Ay, my lord.
                      Oth. If you bethink yourself of any crime

Solicit for it straight.
Des. Alas, my lord, what may you mean by that?[6715]
Oth. Well, do it, and be brief; I will walk by:
I would not kill thy unprepared spirit;
No; heaven forfend! I would not kill thy soul. [6716]
Des. Talk you of killing?[6717]
Oth. Av. I do. [6717]
Des. Then heaven have mercy on me![6717]
Oth. Amen, with all my heart![6717]
Des. If you say so, I hope you will not kill me. [6718]
Oth. Hum!
Des. And yet I fear you; for you are fatal then<sup>[6719]</sup>
When your eyes roll so: why I should fear I know not, [6720]
Since guiltiness I know not; but yet I feel I fear. [6721]
Oth. Think on thy sins.
Des. They are loves I bear to you. [6722]
Oth. Ay, and for that thou diest. [6723]
Des. That death's unnatural that kills for loving. [6724]
Alas, why gnaw you so your nether lip?[6725]
Some bloody passion shakes your very frame:
These are portents; but yet I hope, I hope, [6726]
They do not point on me.
Oth. Peace, and be still!
Des. I will so. What's the matter?[6727]
Oth. That handkerchief which I so loved and gave thee<sup>[6728][6729]</sup>
Thou gavest to Cassio. [6730]
Des. No, by my life and soul! [6728]
Send for the man, and ask him. [6728]
Oth. Sweet soul, take heed, [6731]
Take heed of perjury; thou art on thy death-bed. [6731][6732]
Des. Ay, but not yet to die.
Oth. Yes, presently:[6733]
Therefore confess thee freely of thy sin;
For to deny each article with oath
Cannot remove nor choke the strong conception<sup>[6734]</sup>
That I do groan withal. Thou art to die.
Des. Then Lord have mercy on me![6735]
Oth. I say, amen.
Des. And have you mercy too! I never did<sup>[6736]</sup>
Offend you in my life; never loved Cassio<sup>[6736]</sup>
But with such general warranty of heaven
As I might love: I never gave him token.
Oth. By heaven, I saw my handkerchief in 's hand. [6729][6737]
O perjured woman! thou dost stone my heart, [6738]
And makest me call what I intend to do<sup>[6739]</sup>
A murder, which I thought a sacrifice:
I saw the handkerchief. [6729]

Des. He found it then;
                       I never gave it him: send for him hither;
                       Let him confess a truth.
                       Oth. He hath confess'd. [6740]
                       Des. What, my lord?
                       Oth. That he hath used thee. [6741]
                       Des. How? unlawfully?
                       Oth. Ay.
                       Des. He will not say so.
                       Oth. No. his mouth is stopp'd:
                       Honest Iago hath ta'en order for't. [6742]
                       Des. O, my fear interprets! what, is he dead?[6743]
                       Oth. Had all his hairs been lives, my great revenge [6744]
                       Had stomach for them all. [6744][6745]
                       Des. Alas, he is betray'd, and I undone![6746]
                       Oth. Out, strumpet! weep'st thou for him to my face?[6747]
                       Des. O, banish me, my lord, but kill me not!
                       Oth. Down, strumpet!
                       Des. Kill me to-morrow; let me live to-night!
                       Oth. Nav. if you strive.—[6748]
                       Des. But half an hour!
                       Oth. Being done, there is no pause. [6749][6750]
                       Des. But while I say one prayer! [6750]
                       Oth. It is too late. [He stifles her. [6751]
                       Emil. [Within] My lord, my lord! what, ho! my lord, my lord! [6752]
                       Oth. What noise is this? Not dead? not yet quite dead? [6753]
                       I that am cruel am yet merciful;
                      I would not have thee linger in thy pain: [6754]
                       So. so. [6754][6755]
                       Emil. [Within] What, ho! my lord, my lord!
                       Oth. Who's there?
                       Emil. [Within] O, good my lord, I would speak a word with vou! [6756][6757]
                       Oth. Yes: 'tis Emilia. By and by. She's dead.
                       'Tis like she comes to speak of Cassio's death.
                      The noise was here. Ha! no more moving?[6758][6759]
                       Still as the grave. Shall she come in? were 't good?<sup>[6759]</sup>
                       I think she stirs again. No. What's best to do?[6760]
                      If she come in, she'll sure speak to my wife:
00
                       My wife! my wife! what wife? I have no wife. [6761]
                       O, insupportable! O heavy hour!
                       Methinks it should be now a huge eclipse
                       Of sun and moon, and that the affrighted globe
                       Should yawn at alteration. [6762]
                       Emil. [ Within] I do beseech you<sup>[6756][6763][6764]</sup>
                       That I may speak with you, O, good my lord![6763][6765]
05
                       Oth. I had forgot thee: O, come in, Emilia. [6766]
                       Soft; by and by. Let me the curtains draw.

Where art thou? [Unlocks the door. Enter Emilia. [6768] What's the matter with thee now? Emil. O, my good lord, yonder's foul murders done![6769] Oth. What, now?[6770] 10 Emil. But now, my lord. Oth. It is the very error of the moon; She comes more nearer earth than she was wont^[6771] And makes men mad. Emil. Cassio, my lord, hath kill'd a young Venetian^{[6772][6773]} 15 Call'd Roderigo. [6772] Oth. Roderigo kill'd![6774] And Cassio kill'd!^[6774] Emil. No, Cassio is not kill'd. Oth. Not Cassio kill'd! then murder's out of tune, And sweet revenge grows harsh. Des. O, falsely, falsely murder'd! 20 Emil. Alas, what cry is that? [6775] Oth. That! what? Emil. Out, and alas! that was my lady's voice. [6776] Help! help, ho! help! O lady, speak again! Sweet Desdemona! O sweet mistress, speak! 25 Des. A guiltless death I die. Emil. O, who hath done this deed?^[6777] Des. Nobody; I myself. Farewell: [Dies.[6778] Commend me to my kind lord: O, farewell! Oth. Why, how should she be murder'd?[6779] Emil. Alas, who knows? 30 Oth. You heard her say herself, it was not I.[6780] Emil. She said so: I must needs report the truth. [6781] Oth. She's like a liar gone to burning hell: [6782] 'Twas I that kill'd her. Emil. O, the more angel she, [6783] And you the blacker devil![6783] 35 Oth. She turn'd to folly and she was a whore. Emil. Thou dost belie her and thou art a devil. Oth. She was false as water. Emil. Thou art rash as fire, to say^{[6784][6785]} That she was false: O, she was heavenly true![6784] Oth. Cassio did top her; ask thy husband else. [6786] O, I were damn'd beneath all depth in hell, 40 But that I did proceed upon just grounds To this extremity. Thy husband knew it all. [6787] Emil. My husband![6788]

Oth. Thy husband.

45	Emil. That she was false to wedlock?
	Oth. Ay, with Cassio. Nay, had she been true, [6789] If heaven would make me such another world Of one entire and perfect chrysolite, I'ld not have sold her for it.
	Emil. My husband!
50	Oth. Ay, 'twas he that told me first: ^[6790] An honest man he is, and hates the slime That sticks on filthy deeds. ^[6791]
	Emil. My husband!
	Oth. What needs this iteration, woman? I say thy husband. [6792]
	Emil. O mistress, villany hath made mocks with love! ^{[6793][6794]} My husband say that she was false! ^{[6793][6795]}
55	Oth. He, woman; [6793][6796] I say thy husband: dost understand the word? [6793][6796] My friend, thy husband, honest, honest Iago. [6793]
60	Emil. If he say so, may his pernicious soul ^[6797] Rot half a grain a day! he lies to the heart: ^[6798] She was too fond of her most filthy bargain.
	Oth. Ha! ^[6799]
	Emil. Do thy worst: This deed of thine is no more worthy heaven Than thou wast worthy her.
	Oth. Peace, you were best. [6800]
6570	Emil. Thou hast not half that power to do me harm ^[6801] As I have to be hurt. O gull! O dolt! ^[6802] As ignorant as dirt! thou hast done a deed— ^[6803] I care not for thy sword; I'll make thee known, ^[6804] Though I lost twenty lives. Help! help, ho! help! ^[6805] The Moor hath kill'd my mistress! Murder! murder!
	Enter Montano, Gratiano, Iago, and others. [6806]
	Mon. What is the matter? How now, general! ^[6807]
	Emil. O, are you come, Iago? you have done well, That men must lay their murders on your neck. ^[6808]
	Gra. What is the matter? ^[6809]
75	Emil. Disprove this villain, if thou be'st a man: ^[6810] He says thou told'st him that his wife was false: I know thou didst not, thou'rt not such a villain. ^[6811] Speak, for my heart is full.
80	Iago. I told him what I thought, and told no more ^[6812] Than what he found himself was apt and true. ^[6813]
	Emil. But did you ever tell him she was false? ^[6814]
	Iago. I did.
85	Emil. You told a lie, an odious, damned lie; Upon my soul, a lie, a wicked lie! She false with Cassio! Did you say with Cassio? ^{[6815][6816]}
	Iago. With Cassio, mistress. Go to, charm your tongue. [6815][6817]
	Emil. I will not charm my tongue; I am bound to speak: $[6815][6817][6818]$ My mistress here lies murder'd in her bed,— $[6819][6820]$

	All. O heavens forfend![6819][6821]
90	Emil. And your reports have set the murder on.[6819][6821]	[6822]
	Oth. Nay, stare not, masters: it is true indeed.[6819][6821][6	5823]
	Gra. 'Tis a strange truth. ^[6819] [6821]
	Mon. O monstrous act![6819][6821]
95	Emil. Villany, villany! [6819][6821] I think upon't: I think: I smell't: O villany! [6819][6821][6824] I thought so then: I'll kill myself for grief: $[6819][6821]$ O villany, villany! $[6819][6821]$
	Iago. What, are you mad? I charge you, get you home. [682]	5]
:00	Emil. Good gentlemen, let me have leave to speak: 'Tis proper I obey him, but not now. Perchance, Iago, I will ne'er go home. [6826]
	Oth. O! O! O!	[Falling on the bed.
	Emil. Nay, lay thee down and roar; For thou hast kill'd the sweetest innocent That e'er did lift up eye.	[6827]
:05	Oth. [Rising] O, she was foul! ^[6828] I scarce did know you, uncle: there lies your niece, Whose breath indeed these hands have newly stopp'd: I know this act shows horrible and grim. ^[6829]
:10	Gra. Poor Desdemona! I am glad thy father's dead: ^[6830] Thy match was mortal to him, and pure grief Shore his old thread in twain: did he live now, ^[6831] This sight would make him do a desperate turn, Yea, curse his better angel from his side, And fall to reprobation. ^[6832]
:15	Oth. 'Tis pitiful; but yet Iago knows That she with Cassio hath the act of shame ^[6833] A thousand times committed; Cassio confess'd it: And she did gratify his amorous works With that recognizance and pledge of love ^[6834]
20	Which I first gave her; I saw it in his hand: It was a handkerchief, an antique token ^{[6835][6836]} My father gave my mother.
	Emil. O heaven! O heavenly powers![6837]
	Iago.'Zounds! hold your peace.
25	Emil. 'Twill out, 'twill out. I peace! [6838][6839] No, I will speak as liberal as the north: [6839][6840] Let heaven and men and devils, let them all, [6841] All, all, cry shame against me, yet I'll speak.
	Iago. Be wise, and get you home. ^[6842]
	Emil. I will not.
	[Iago	offers to stab Emilia.
	Gra. Fie! ^[6843] Your sword upon a woman! ^[6843] [6844]
:30	Emil. O thou dull Moor! that handkerchief thou speak'st of I found by fortune and did give my husband; For often with a solemn earnestness, More than indeed belong'd to such a trifle, He begg'd of me to steal it. [6846]	_[[6835][6845]

Iago. Villanous whore!
                       Emil. She give it Cassio! no, alas, I found it,
                       And I did give't my husband. [6847]
                       Iago. Filth, thou liest!
                       Emil. By heaven, I do not, I do not, gentlemen.
35
                       O murderous coxcomb! what should such a fool
                       Do with so good a wife?
                       Oth. Are there no stones in heaven<sup>[6848]</sup>
                       But what serve for the thunder? Precious villain!
                                           [He runs at Iago: Iago, from behind, stabs Emilia, and exit.
                       Gra. The woman falls; sure, he hath kill'd his wife. [6850]
40
                       Emil. Ay, ay: O, lay me by my mistress' side. [6851]
                       Gra. He's gone, but his wife's kill'd.
                       Mon. 'Tis a notorious villain. Take you this weapon, [6852]
                       Which I have here recover'd from the Moor: [6853]
                       Come, guard the door without; let him not pass, [6854]
                       But kill him rather. I'll after that same villain, 45
                       For 'tis a damned slave.
                                                               [Exeunt all but Othello and Emilia. [6855]
                       Oth. I am not valiant neither,
                       But every puny whipster gets my sword.
                       But why should honour outlive honesty?
                       Let it go all.
                       Emil. What did thy song bode, lady?<sup>[6856]</sup>
:50
                       Hark, canst thou hear me? I will play the swan, [6856]
                       And die in music. [Singing] Willow, willow, willow. [6856][6857]
                       Moor, she was chaste; she loved thee, cruel Moor;
                       So come my soul to bliss, as I speak true;
                                                                                              [Dies.[6858]
                       So speaking as I think, I die, I die.
55
                       Oth. I have another weapon in this chamber;
                       It is a sword of Spain, the ice-brook's temper.—[6859]
                       O, here it is. Uncle, I must come forth.
                       Gra.[Within] If thou attempt it, it will cost thee dear: [6860]
                       Thou hast no weapon, and perforce must suffer.
60
                       Oth. Look in upon me then, and speak with me, [6861]
                       Or, naked as I am, I will assault thee.
                                                  Re-enter Gratiano. [6862]
                       Gra. What is the matter?
                       Oth. Behold, I have a weapon; [6863]
                       A better never did itself sustain
                       Upon a soldier's thigh: I have seen the day [6864]
65
                       That with this little arm and this good sword
                       I have made my way through more impediments<sup>[6865]</sup>
                       Than twenty times your stop: but, O vain boast![6866]
                       Who can control his fate? 'tis not so now.
                       Be not afraid, though you do see me weapon'd; [6867]
70
                       Here is my journey's end, here is my butt<sup>[6867]</sup>
                       And very sea-mark of my utmost sail. [6867][6868]
                       Do you go back dismay'd? 'tis a lost fear: [6867]
                       Man but a rush against Othello's breast, [6867]
                       And he retires. Where should Othello go?[6867]
                       Now, how dost thou look now? O ill-starr'd wench! [6867][6869]
:75
                       Pale as thy smock! when we shall meet at compt, [6870]

:80	This look of thine will hurl my soul from heaven, And fiends will snatch at it. Cold, cold, my girl! Even like thy chastity. O cursed slave! [6871][6872] Whip me, ye devils, [6871][6873] From the possession of this heavenly sight! Blow me about in winds! roast me in sulphur! [6874] Wash me in steep-down gulfs of liquid fire! [6875] O Desdemona! Desdemona! dead! [6876] Oh! Oh! Oh! [6876]
	Enter Lodovico, Montano, Cassio carried in a chair, a with Iago, prisoner. [6877]	and Officers
	Lod. Where is this rash and most unfortunate man? ^[6878]
	Oth. That's he that was Othello: here I am. [6879]
	Lod. Where is that viper? bring the villain forth. [6880]
.90	Oth. I look down towards his feet; but that's a fable. If that thou be'st a devil, I cannot kill thee.	[Wounds Iago. ^[6881]
	Lod. Wrench his sword from him.
	Iago. I bleed, sir, but not kill'd. ^[6882]
	Oth. I am not sorry neither: I'ld have thee live; For, in my sense, 'tis happiness to die.
95	Lod. O thou Othello, that wert once so good, [6883] Fall'n in the practice of a damned slave, [6884] What shall be said to thee? [6885]
	Oth. Why, any thing: An honourable murderer, if you will; For nought did I in hate, but all in honour. ^[6886]
00	Lod. This wretch hath part confess'd his villany: Did you and he consent in Cassio's death?
	Oth. Ay.
	Cas. Dear general, I never gave you cause. [6887]
05	Oth. I do believe it, and I ask your pardon. [6888] Will you, I pray, demand that demi-devil [6889] Why he hath thus ensnared my soul and body? [6890]
	Iago. Demand me nothing; what you know, you know:From this time forth I never will speak word.
	Lod. What, not to pray?
	Gra. Torments will ope your lips.
	Oth. Well, thou dost best.
10	Lod. Sir, you shall understand what hath befall'n, [6891] Which, as I think, you know not. Here is a letter [6892] Found in the pocket of the slain Roderigo, And here another: the one of them imports [6893] The death of Cassio to be undertook [6894] By Roderigo. [6894]
15	Oth. O villain! ^[6895]
	Cas. Most heathenish and most gross!
320	Lod. Now here's another discontented paper, Found in his pocket too; and this, it seems, Roderigo meant to have sent this damned villain; But that, belike, Iago in the interim ^[6896] Came in and satisfied him.
	Samo in ana samonoa ililii.

Oth. O the pernicious caitiff! [6897]
                       How came you, Cassio, by that handkerchief<sup>[6898]</sup>
                       That was my wife's?[6899]
                       Cas. I found it in my chamber:
                       And he himself confess'd but even now [6900]
25
                       That there he dropp'd it for a special purpose
                       Which wrought to his desire.
                       Oth. O fool! fool! fool!
                       Cas. There is besides in Roderigo's letter,
                       How he upbraids Iago, that he made him<sup>[6901]</sup>
                       Brave me upon the watch; whereon it came 30
                       That I was cast: and even but now he spake<sup>[6902]</sup>
                       After long seeming dead, Iago hurt him,
                       Iago set him on.
                       Lod. You must forsake this room, and go with us:
                       Your power and your command is taken off,
                       And Cassio rules in Cyprus. For this slave, [6903]
35
                       If there be any cunning cruelty
                       That can torment him much and hold him long,
                       It shall be his. You shall close prisoner rest,
                       Till that the nature of your fault be known
                       To the Venetian state. Come, bring away. [6904]
40
                       Oth. Soft you; a word or two before you go. [6905]
                       I have done the state some service, and they know't. [6906]
                       No more of that. I pray you, in your letters,
                       When you shall these unlucky deeds relate,
45
                       Speak of me as I am; nothing extenuate, [6907]
                       Nor set down aught in malice: then must you speak<sup>[6908]</sup>
                       Of one that loved not wisely but too well;
                       Of one not easily jealous but, being wrought, [6909]
                       Perplex'd in the extreme; of one whose hand, [6910]
50
                       Like the base Indian, threw a pearl away<sup>[6911]</sup>
                       Richer than all his tribe; of one whose subdued eyes, [6912]
                       Albeit unused to the melting mood,
                       Drop tears as fast as the Arabian trees<sup>[6913]</sup>
                       Their medicinal gum. Set you down this: [6914]
                       And say besides, that in Aleppo once,
555
                       Where a malignant and a turban'd Turk<sup>[6915]</sup>
                       Beat a Venetian and traduced the state, [6916]
                       I took by the throat the circumcised dog<sup>[6917]</sup>
                       And smote him, thus.
                                                                                     [Stabs himself. [6918]
                       Lod. O bloody period!
60
                       Gra. All that's spoke is marr'd. [6919]
                       Oth. I kiss'd thee ere I kill'd thee: no way but this, [6920]
                       Killing myself, to die upon a kiss.
                                                                        [Falls on the bed, and dies.[6921]
                       Cas. This did I fear, but thought he had no weapon;
                       For he was great of heart.
                       Lod. [To Iago] O Spartan dog,[6922]
                       More fell than anguish, hunger, or the sea!
65
                       Look on the tragic loading of this bed; [6923]
                       This is thy work: the object poisons sight; [6924]
                       Let it be hid. Gratiano, keep the house,
                       And seize upon the fortunes of the Moor, [6925]
70
                       For they succeed on you. To you, lord governor, [6926]
                       Remains the censure of this hellish villain, [6927]
                       The time, the place, the torture: O, enforce it!
                       Myself will straight aboard, and to the state
                                                                                            [Exeunt. [6928]
                       This heavy act with heavy heart relate.

NOTES.

NOTE I.

I. 1. 16. The punctuation in the text was first given by Steevens (1773). Most editors following Capell, including Steevens in his later editions, have supposed 'for, certes' to be part of Othello's speech. Mr Collier, omitting the comma, gives 'For certes' as the commencement of Othello's words. There is no comma in either Quartos or Folios, and the printing leaves it uncertain where the quotation is meant to begin.

NOTE II.

I. 1. 20, 21. Theobald marks 'Certes ... officer,' and 'the Florentine's ... wife' with inverted commas, to indicate that they are Iago's report of Othello's speeches, and supposes Iago to be the 'fellow almost damn'd in a fair wife.' 'The Poet means,' he adds, 'Iago had so beautiful a Wife, that she was his Heaven on Earth; that he idoliz'd her; and forgot to think of Happiness in an Afterstate, as placing all his Views of Bliss in the single Enjoyment of her. In this sense, Beauty, when it can so seduce and ingross a Man's Thoughts, may be said almost to damn him.' Warburton's explanation agrees substantially with that of Theobald.

NOTE III.

I. 3. 370-374. The reading in the text is that of the second and third Quartos. The first Quarto has:

'Iag. Go to, farewell:—doe you heare Roderigo?

Rod. what say you?

Iag. No more of drowning, doe you heare?

Rod. I am chang'd.

Exit Roderigo.

Iag. Goe to, farewell, put money enough in your purse: Thus doe I euer make my foole my purse:'

Thus doe I eder make my loole my purse:

The first Folio, followed substantially by the rest, reads:

Rod. Ile sell all my Land.

Exit.

Iago. Thus do I euer make my Foole, my purse:'

'Iago. Go too, farewell. Do you heare, Rodorigo?

Rowe and Pope follow the Folios.

Theobald has:

'Iago. Go to, farewel. Do you hear, Rodorigo?

Rod. What say you?

Iago. No more of drowning, do you hear.

Rod. I am chang'd; I'll go sell all my land.

[Exit.

Manet Iago.

Iago. Go to, farewel, put mony enough in your purse—Thus, &c.'

Hanmer:

'Iago. Go to, farewel. Do you hear, Rodorigo? No more of drowning.

Rod. I'll sell all my land.

[Exit.

Scene XI.

Manet Iago.

Iago. Thus,' &c.

Warburton follows Theobald, and so does Johnson, except that he transfers 'Exit Rodorigo' to follow the first line of Iago's speech, and makes Scene XI. begin with the next. Capell reduces the whole to the following:

'Iag. Go to, farewel.

Rod. I'll sell all my land.

[Exit.

Iag. Thus, '&c.

NOTE IV.

III. 3. 116. In the Devonshire copy of the first Quarto there is a marginal stage direction in a 17th century hand opposite this line, 'With admiring action.' Some other stage directions and readings quoted in our foot-notes as 'Anon. MS.' are from the same source. More than one hand seems to have been employed, and there are other notes of a much later date in pencil.

NOTE V.

III. 3. 153. Johnson attributes the reading 'improbably' to what he calls 'the old Quarto.' We have not found it in any copies.

NOTE VI.

III. 3. 172. In the Devonshire copy of the first Quarto, which formerly belonged to Steevens, and which was the original of his reprint, the word 'loues' is partially obliterated by being changed with a pen to 'hates', but being still obscure 'hates', is written in the margin opposite in the same hand as the stage direction mentioned in note IV. Capell's copy has distinctly 'loues', and that this was originally the reading of the Devonshire copy is evident from the traces of the letters which still remain. Two lines above, opposite 'make,' a late hand has written in pencil 'muck' (which is Becket's conjecture) in the Devonshire copy. We have no means of ascertaining whether this note was written before or after the publication of Becket's work.

NOTE VII.

III. 3. 405. Capell prints the words: 'What then? how then? Where's satisfaction?' in italics, to indicate that Iago is repeating what Othello had said.

NOTE VIII.

IV. 1. 207, 208. The first Folio reads as follows:

'Iago. I warrant something from Venice, 'Tis Lodouico this, comes from the Duke. See, your wife's with him.'

The other Folios have substantially the same reading, except that the second has 'Lodovico, this, comes, &c.,' and the third and fourth 'Lodovico, this comes, &c.'

Hanmer has:

'Iago. I warrant you 'tis something come from Venice. Oh! it is Lodovico from the Duke: And see, your wife is with him.'

We have given in our text the reading of the Quartos with Theobald's punctuation.

NOTE IX.

IV. 2. 55, 56. The first Quarto has:

'A fixed figure, for the time of scorne, To point his slow vnmouing fingers at—oh, oh,'

The second and third have the same except that they substitute 'finger' for fingers. The first Folio, which is followed substantially by the rest, has:

'The fixed Figure for the time of Scorne, To point his slow, and mouing finger at.'

Rowe:

'A fixed Figure for the hand of Scorn To point his slow and moving Finger at—.'

He is followed by Pope, Theobald, and Hanmer.

Warburton also follows Rowe, except that he reads 'unmoving' for 'and moving.'

Johnson, Capell and Jennens adopt Warburton's reading.

Capell puts 'O! O!' in a separate line.

Steevens reads with the second and third Quartos, followed by Malone, Rann and the $\it Variorum$ Editors.

Malone conjectures:

'A fixed figure for the scorn of time To point his slow unmoving finger at,—'

Mason proposes 'slowly moving' for 'slow unmoving': a conjecture which has been also made by Mr Collier's MS. corrector and adopted by Mr Collier in his second edition.

Becket conjectures:

'A fixed figure and in scorn, for time To point his slow-unmoving finger at.'

Jackson:

'A fix'd figure, for the type of scorn To point his low unmoving finger at.'

Mr Knight, in his 'Stratford' Edition, and Mr Staunton adopt Hunter's conjecture:

'The fixed figure of the time, for scorn To point his slow and moving finger at,—'

Mr Grant White, in his Shakespeare's Scholar, expressed his approval of this conjecture, changing however, 'and moving' to 'unmoving' in the second line. In his edition he follows, as we do, the second Quarto. 'The time of scorn' (he says) is a phrase like 'the day of sorrow,' 'the hour of joy,' or 'the age of progress.'

Dr Cartwright reads:

'A fixed figure for the time of scorn To point his cold unmoving finger at.'

Mr Bailey conjectures:

'A fixed figure for the time, in scorn To point his sly and mocking finger at.'

Mr Bullock proposes to read:

'A fixed figure for the rhymer's scorn, To point his foul unmoving finger at.'

NOTE X.

IV. 2. 183. Mr Collier says that the Devonshire copy of F_1 has the following: 'I have heard too much: And hell gnaw his bones Performances....' The mistake was discovered and corrected in other copies. This accounts for the 'and' which the corrected copies still retain instead of 'for.'

NOTE XI.

IV. 3. 46-48. In this passage we have followed Capell's arrangement of the text. The second Quarto has:

```
'Sing willow, &c. (Lay by these.)
Willow, willow.
(Prethee hie thee, he'll come anon.)'

The third Quarto has the same arrangement, but misprints 'fling-willow, &c.'

The first Folio reads:

```
'Sing Willough, &c. (Lay by these).
Willough, Willough. (Prythee high thee: he'll come anon).'

The second, third, and fourth Folios have 'Lady by these,' a misprint which was corrected by Rowe in his first, but repeated in his second edition. Pope, Theobald, Hanmer, and Warburton omitted the words altogether.

NOTE XII.

V. 2. 7. Rowe, in his first edition, printed the line thus:

'Put out the Light, and then put out the Light,'

and, in his second,

'Put out the Light, and then put out the Light,' in which he was followed by Pope, except that the latter put a semicolon at the end of the line. Theobald, punctuating thus,

'Put out the light, and, then, put out the light;'

supposes that the only light in the room is that which Othello carries in his hand, and which at first he intends to extinguish, but, changing his mind, sets down to go and kiss Desdemona. He observes, 'The Players, in all the Companies wherever I have seen this Tragedy perform'd, commit an Absurdity here, in making Othello put out the candle, which, 'tis evident, never was the Poet's intention.'

Hanmer prints:

'Put out the light: and then—put out thy light.'

Opposite line 13 he adds this stage direction, 'Sets down the Candle, not putting it out.' Warburton has:

'Put out the light, and then—Put out the light?—'

His punctuation is adopted by Johnson.

Capell reads:

'Put out the light, and then—Put out the light!'

and adds after the next line, as a stage direction, 'Setting down the Taper.'

Mr Goldwin Smith, regarding the line in question as a stage-direction which has crept into the text, suggests to us that the passage ought to be printed as follows:

'Yet she must die, else she'll betray more men.'

[Takes off his sword and then puts out the light.

'If I quench thee, thou flaming minister, &c.'

or thus:

'.....alabaster.'

[Takes off his sword.

'Yet she must die, else she'll betray more men.'

[Puts out the light.

'If I quench thee, thou flaming minister, &c.'

NOTE XIII.

V. 2. 86. Mr Singer, in his second edition, has here invented a reading of the first Quarto, from a misinterpretation of Steevens's note. He says, 'After this speech of Othello, the elder Quarto adds an invocation from Desdemona, consisting only of "God! God!" Steevens's words, which Mr Singer adopted in his first edition, were 'consisting only of the sacred name thrice repeated.'

NOTE XIV.

V. 2. 243. Mr Collier in his Notes and Emendations and in the appendix to Coleridge's Lectures gives 'now' as the insertion of his MS. corrector. In the note on this passage in his second edition of Shakespeare, he says: 'Here in this line is omitted in the Folio, 1623, but inserted in the corr. fo. 1632.'

NOTE XV.

 $V.\ 2.\ 284,\ 285.$ The reading given in the text is that of the Quartos, substantially. The first has literatim thus:

'O Desdemona, Desdemona, dead, O, o. o.'

The second and third:

'O Desdemona, Desdemona; dead, O, o, o.'

The first Folio:

'Oh Desdemon! dead Desdemon: dead. Oh, oh!'

The second:

'Oh Desdemon! dead Desdemon: dead. dead. Oh, oh!'

The third:

'Oh Desdemona! dead Desdemona: dead, dead. Oh, oh!'

This is followed substantially by the fourth Folio and Rowe.

Pope reads:

'Oh Desdemona! Desdemona! dead, dead! Oh! Oh!'

This is adopted by Theobald, Hanmer, Warburton and Johnson.

Capell reads:

'O Desdemone! dead, Desdemone? dead? dead?

0, 0, 0!

Steevens (1773) has:

'Oh Desdemona! Desdemona! dead! Dead! oh! oh! oh!'

This reading is followed by Steevens himself in his later editions, Malone, Rann, the Variorum editors, Singer and Harness. Mr Knight reads substantially with the first Folio: Mr Collier follows the Quartos.

Mr Dyce reads:

'O Desdemon! dead, Desdemon! dead! O!'

 \mbox{Mr} Staunton adopts the reading of the first Folio, putting a comma after the first 'dead.' \mbox{Mr} Grant White follows \mbox{Mr} Dyce.

NOTE XVI.

V. 2. 350. In his note on this passage Theobald says, 'I have restor'd, Judian, from the Elder Quarto, as the genuine and more eligible reading.' All the Quartos we have seen read 'Indian.' He adds, 'I am satisfied, in his Judian, he is alluding to Herod; who, in a Fit of blind Jealousie, threw away such a Jewel of a Wife as Mariamne was to him.' This interpretation was suggested by Warburton.

'Indian' is read by the Quarto of 1695, Rowe, Pope, Capell, Jennens, Rann, Knight, Collier, Dyce, Singer (ed. 2), Delius, Staunton, Cowden Clarke, Hudson and Grant White.

'Judian' or 'Judean' is read by Theobald, Hanmer, Warburton, Johnson, Steevens, the Variorum editors, Harness and Singer (ed. 1).

CAMBRIDGE: PRINTED AT THE UNIVERSITY PRESS.

Transcriber's Notes:

Incorporated p. xix addenda to text.

Retained line wrapping in plays to retain prose line numbering.

Converted linenotes to footnotes with anchors at line ends.

Retained incorrect line numbers, e.g. there are often more than 5 lines (or occasionally less than 5) between increments of 5.

Assigned anchors to linenotes without line references.

Silently corrected simple spelling, grammar, and typographical errors.

Retained anachronistic and non-standard spellings as printed.

 END OF THE PROJECT GUTENBERG EBOOK THE WORKS OF WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE [CAMBRIDGE EDITION] [VOL. 8 OF 9] ***

Updated editions will replace the previous one—the old editions will be renamed.

Creating the works from print editions not protected by U.S. copyright law means that no one owns a United States copyright in these works, so the Foundation (and you!) can copy and distribute it in the United States without permission and without paying copyright royalties. Special rules, set forth in the General Terms of Use part of this license, apply to copying and distributing Project Gutenberg™ electronic works to protect the PROJECT GUTENBERG™ concept and trademark. Project Gutenberg is a registered trademark, and may not be used if you charge for an eBook, except by following the terms of the trademark license, including paying royalties for use of the Project Gutenberg trademark. If you do not charge anything for copies of this eBook, complying with the trademark license is very easy. You may use this eBook for nearly any purpose such as creation of derivative works, reports, performances and research. Project Gutenberg eBooks may be modified and printed and given away—you may do practically ANYTHING in the United States with eBooks not protected by U.S. copyright law. Redistribution is subject to the trademark license, especially commercial redistribution.

START: FULL LICENSE THE FULL PROJECT GUTENBERG LICENSE PLEASE READ THIS BEFORE YOU DISTRIBUTE OR USE THIS WORK

To protect the Project GutenbergTM mission of promoting the free distribution of electronic works, by using or distributing this work (or any other work associated in any way with the phrase "Project Gutenberg"), you agree to comply with all the terms of the Full Project GutenbergTM License available with this file or online at www.gutenberg.org/license.

Section 1. General Terms of Use and Redistributing Project Gutenberg $^{\scriptscriptstyle \mathsf{TM}}$ electronic works

- 1.A. By reading or using any part of this Project GutenbergTM electronic work, you indicate that you have read, understand, agree to and accept all the terms of this license and intellectual property (trademark/copyright) agreement. If you do not agree to abide by all the terms of this agreement, you must cease using and return or destroy all copies of Project GutenbergTM electronic works in your possession. If you paid a fee for obtaining a copy of or access to a Project GutenbergTM electronic work and you do not agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement, you may obtain a refund from the person or entity to whom you paid the fee as set forth in paragraph 1.E.8.
- 1.B. "Project Gutenberg" is a registered trademark. It may only be used on or associated in any way with an electronic work by people who agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement. There are a few things that you can do with most Project Gutenberg^{TM} electronic works even without complying with the full terms of this agreement. See paragraph 1.C below. There are a lot of things you can do with Project Gutenberg^{TM} electronic works if you follow the terms of this agreement and help preserve free future access to Project Gutenberg^{TM} electronic works. See paragraph 1.E below.
- 1.C. The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation ("the Foundation" or PGLAF), owns a compilation copyright in the collection of Project Gutenberg $^{\text{\tiny TM}}$ electronic works. Nearly all the individual works in the collection are in the public domain in the United States. If an individual work is unprotected by copyright law in the United States and you are located in the United States, we do not claim a right to prevent you from copying, distributing, performing, displaying or creating derivative works based on the work as long as all references to Project Gutenberg are removed. Of course, we hope that you will support the Project GutenbergTM mission of promoting free access to electronic works by freely sharing Project GutenbergTM works in compliance with the terms of this agreement for keeping the Project GutenbergTM name associated with the work. You can easily comply with the terms of this agreement by keeping this work in the same format with its attached full Project GutenbergTM License when you share it without charge with others.

- 1.D. The copyright laws of the place where you are located also govern what you can do with this work. Copyright laws in most countries are in a constant state of change. If you are outside the United States, check the laws of your country in addition to the terms of this agreement before downloading, copying, displaying, performing, distributing or creating derivative works based on this work or any other Project GutenbergTM work. The Foundation makes no representations concerning the copyright status of any work in any country other than the United States.
- 1.E. Unless you have removed all references to Project Gutenberg:
- 1.E.1. The following sentence, with active links to, or other immediate access to, the full Project GutenbergTM License must appear prominently whenever any copy of a Project GutenbergTM work (any work on which the phrase "Project Gutenberg" appears, or with which the phrase "Project Gutenberg" is associated) is accessed, displayed, performed, viewed, copied or distributed:

This eBook is for the use of anyone anywhere in the United States and most other parts of the world at no cost and with almost no restrictions whatsoever. You may copy it, give it away or re-use it under the terms of the Project Gutenberg License included with this eBook or online at www.gutenberg.org. If you are not located in the United States, you will have to check the laws of the country where you are located before using this eBook.

- 1.E.2. If an individual Project Gutenberg[™] electronic work is derived from texts not protected by U.S. copyright law (does not contain a notice indicating that it is posted with permission of the copyright holder), the work can be copied and distributed to anyone in the United States without paying any fees or charges. If you are redistributing or providing access to a work with the phrase "Project Gutenberg" associated with or appearing on the work, you must comply either with the requirements of paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 or obtain permission for the use of the work and the Project Gutenberg[™] trademark as set forth in paragraphs 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.
- 1.E.3. If an individual Project GutenbergTM electronic work is posted with the permission of the copyright holder, your use and distribution must comply with both paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 and any additional terms imposed by the copyright holder. Additional terms will be linked to the Project GutenbergTM License for all works posted with the permission of the copyright holder found at the beginning of this work.
- 1.E.4. Do not unlink or detach or remove the full Project GutenbergTM License terms from this work, or any files containing a part of this work or any other work associated with Project GutenbergTM.
- 1.E.5. Do not copy, display, perform, distribute or redistribute this electronic work, or any part of this electronic work, without prominently displaying the sentence set forth in paragraph 1.E.1 with active links or immediate access to the full terms of the Project Gutenberg $^{\text{\tiny TM}}$ License.
- 1.E.6. You may convert to and distribute this work in any binary, compressed, marked up, nonproprietary or proprietary form, including any word processing or hypertext form. However, if you provide access to or distribute copies of a Project GutenbergTM work in a format other than "Plain Vanilla ASCII" or other format used in the official version posted on the official Project GutenbergTM website (www.gutenberg.org), you must, at no additional cost, fee or expense to the user, provide a copy, a means of exporting a copy, or a means of obtaining a copy upon request, of the work in its original "Plain Vanilla ASCII" or other form. Any alternate format must include the full Project GutenbergTM License as specified in paragraph 1.E.1.
- 1.E.7. Do not charge a fee for access to, viewing, displaying, performing, copying or distributing any Project Gutenberg^m works unless you comply with paragraph 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.
- 1.E.8. You may charge a reasonable fee for copies of or providing access to or distributing Project GutenbergTM electronic works provided that:
- You pay a royalty fee of 20% of the gross profits you derive from the use of Project Gutenberg™ works calculated using the method you already use to calculate your applicable taxes. The fee is owed to the owner of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark, but he has agreed to donate royalties under this paragraph to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation. Royalty payments must be paid within 60 days following each date on which you prepare (or are legally required to prepare) your periodic tax returns. Royalty payments should be clearly marked as such and sent to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive

Foundation at the address specified in Section 4, "Information about donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation."

- You provide a full refund of any money paid by a user who notifies you in writing (or by email) within 30 days of receipt that s/he does not agree to the terms of the full Project Gutenberg™ License. You must require such a user to return or destroy all copies of the works possessed in a physical medium and discontinue all use of and all access to other copies of Project Gutenberg™ works.
- You provide, in accordance with paragraph 1.F.3, a full refund of any money paid for a work or a replacement copy, if a defect in the electronic work is discovered and reported to you within 90 days of receipt of the work.
- You comply with all other terms of this agreement for free distribution of Project Gutenberg $^{\scriptscriptstyle{\text{TM}}}$ works.
- 1.E.9. If you wish to charge a fee or distribute a Project GutenbergTM electronic work or group of works on different terms than are set forth in this agreement, you must obtain permission in writing from the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the manager of the Project GutenbergTM trademark. Contact the Foundation as set forth in Section 3 below.

1.F.

- 1.F.1. Project Gutenberg volunteers and employees expend considerable effort to identify, do copyright research on, transcribe and proofread works not protected by U.S. copyright law in creating the Project GutenbergTM collection. Despite these efforts, Project GutenbergTM electronic works, and the medium on which they may be stored, may contain "Defects," such as, but not limited to, incomplete, inaccurate or corrupt data, transcription errors, a copyright or other intellectual property infringement, a defective or damaged disk or other medium, a computer virus, or computer codes that damage or cannot be read by your equipment.
- 1.F.2. LIMITED WARRANTY, DISCLAIMER OF DAMAGES Except for the "Right of Replacement or Refund" described in paragraph 1.F.3, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the owner of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark, and any other party distributing a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work under this agreement, disclaim all liability to you for damages, costs and expenses, including legal fees. YOU AGREE THAT YOU HAVE NO REMEDIES FOR NEGLIGENCE, STRICT LIABILITY, BREACH OF WARRANTY OR BREACH OF CONTRACT EXCEPT THOSE PROVIDED IN PARAGRAPH 1.F.3. YOU AGREE THAT THE FOUNDATION, THE TRADEMARK OWNER, AND ANY DISTRIBUTOR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT WILL NOT BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR ACTUAL, DIRECT, INDIRECT, CONSEQUENTIAL, PUNITIVE OR INCIDENTAL DAMAGES EVEN IF YOU GIVE NOTICE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGE.
- 1.F.3. LIMITED RIGHT OF REPLACEMENT OR REFUND If you discover a defect in this electronic work within 90 days of receiving it, you can receive a refund of the money (if any) you paid for it by sending a written explanation to the person you received the work from. If you received the work on a physical medium, you must return the medium with your written explanation. The person or entity that provided you with the defective work may elect to provide a replacement copy in lieu of a refund. If you received the work electronically, the person or entity providing it to you may choose to give you a second opportunity to receive the work electronically in lieu of a refund. If the second copy is also defective, you may demand a refund in writing without further opportunities to fix the problem.
- 1.F.4. Except for the limited right of replacement or refund set forth in paragraph 1.F.3, this work is provided to you 'AS-IS', WITH NO OTHER WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR ANY PURPOSE.
- 1.F.5. Some states do not allow disclaimers of certain implied warranties or the exclusion or limitation of certain types of damages. If any disclaimer or limitation set forth in this agreement violates the law of the state applicable to this agreement, the agreement shall be interpreted to make the maximum disclaimer or limitation permitted by the applicable state law. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this agreement shall not void the remaining provisions.
- 1.F.6. INDEMNITY You agree to indemnify and hold the Foundation, the trademark owner, any agent or employee of the Foundation, anyone providing copies of Project GutenbergTM electronic works in accordance with this agreement, and any volunteers associated with the production, promotion and distribution of Project GutenbergTM electronic works, harmless from all liability, costs and expenses, including legal fees, that arise directly or indirectly from any of the following which you do or cause to occur: (a) distribution of this or any Project GutenbergTM work, (b) alteration, modification, or additions or deletions to any Project GutenbergTM work, and (c) any Defect you cause.

Section 2. Information about the Mission of Project Gutenberg™

Project Gutenberg $^{\text{\tiny TM}}$ is synonymous with the free distribution of electronic works in formats readable by the widest variety of computers including obsolete, old, middle-aged and new computers. It exists because of the efforts of hundreds of volunteers and donations from people in all walks of life.

Volunteers and financial support to provide volunteers with the assistance they need are critical to reaching Project Gutenberg^{TM}'s goals and ensuring that the Project Gutenberg^{TM} collection will remain freely available for generations to come. In 2001, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation was created to provide a secure and permanent future for Project Gutenberg^{TM} and future generations. To learn more about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation and how your efforts and donations can help, see Sections 3 and 4 and the Foundation information page at www.gutenberg.org.

Section 3. Information about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) educational corporation organized under the laws of the state of Mississippi and granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service. The Foundation's EIN or federal tax identification number is 64-6221541. Contributions to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation are tax deductible to the full extent permitted by U.S. federal laws and your state's laws.

The Foundation's business office is located at 809 North 1500 West, Salt Lake City, UT 84116, (801) 596-1887. Email contact links and up to date contact information can be found at the Foundation's website and official page at www.gutenberg.org/contact

Section 4. Information about Donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

Project GutenbergTM depends upon and cannot survive without widespread public support and donations to carry out its mission of increasing the number of public domain and licensed works that can be freely distributed in machine-readable form accessible by the widest array of equipment including outdated equipment. Many small donations ($1 to $5,000) are particularly important to maintaining tax exempt status with the IRS.

The Foundation is committed to complying with the laws regulating charities and charitable donations in all 50 states of the United States. Compliance requirements are not uniform and it takes a considerable effort, much paperwork and many fees to meet and keep up with these requirements. We do not solicit donations in locations where we have not received written confirmation of compliance. To SEND DONATIONS or determine the status of compliance for any particular state visit www.gutenberg.org/donate.

While we cannot and do not solicit contributions from states where we have not met the solicitation requirements, we know of no prohibition against accepting unsolicited donations from donors in such states who approach us with offers to donate.

International donations are gratefully accepted, but we cannot make any statements concerning tax treatment of donations received from outside the United States. U.S. laws alone swamp our small staff.

Please check the Project Gutenberg web pages for current donation methods and addresses. Donations are accepted in a number of other ways including checks, online payments and credit card donations. To donate, please visit: www.gutenberg.org/donate

Section 5. General Information About Project Gutenberg™ electronic works

Professor Michael S. Hart was the originator of the Project GutenbergTM concept of a library of electronic works that could be freely shared with anyone. For forty years, he produced and distributed Project GutenbergTM eBooks with only a loose network of volunteer support.

Project Gutenberg^m eBooks are often created from several printed editions, all of which are confirmed as not protected by copyright in the U.S. unless a copyright notice is included. Thus, we do not necessarily keep eBooks in compliance with any particular paper edition.

Most people start at our website which has the main PG search facility: www.qutenberg.org.

This website includes information about Project Gutenberg $^{\text{TM}}$, including how to make donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, how to help produce our new eBooks, and how to subscribe to our email newsletter to hear about new eBooks.
